ACT NO. V OF 1898*

[22nd. March 1898.]

AN ACT TO CONSOLIDATE AND AMEND THE LAW RELATING TO CRIMINAL PROCEDURE.

Whereas it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to Criminal Procedure ;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Object of the Code :—The object of the Code is to provide a machinery for the punishment of offenders against the Criminal law. 13 B. 590 (F. B.) 16 B. 580 ; 43 M. L. J. 710 ; 12 C. 536.

PART I.*

CHAPTER I.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 ; and it shall come into force on the first day of July 1898.

* For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gazette of India, 1897, Pt. V. P. 363 ; for Report of the Select Committee, see ibid, 1898, Pt. V. P. 19 ; and for Proceedings in Council, see ibid, 1897. Pt. VI. pp. 238 and 254 ; and ibid, 1898, pp. 22, 101 and 175.

This Act has been declared under s. 3 of the Santhal Parganas Settlement Regulation (III of 1872) as amended by the Santhal Parganas Justice and Laws Regulation, 1899 (III of 1899), to be in force (with modifications) in the Santhal Parganas ; as to the modification, see the Santhal Parganas Justice Regulation, 1893 (V. Of 1893), s. 4, as amended by the Santhal Parganas Justice and Laws Regulation 1899 (III of 1899).

It has been extended, under s. 3 of the Angul Laws Regulation, 1913 (III of 1913), to the District of Angul.

It has been declared in force in Upper Burma (except the Shan States) as to which see further subject to certain modifications by the Burma Laws Act, 1898 (XIII of 1898), as to the modification see the Upper Burma Criminal Justice Regulation 1892 (V of 1892), as amended by Act XIII of 1898.

It has been declared in force in Arakan Hill District, by s. 2 of the Arakan Hill District Laws Regulation, 1916 (I of 1916).

It has been declared in force in the Chittagong Hill-tracts (with a reservation as to cases tried by certain persons) by s. 4 of the Chittagong Hill-tracts Regulation, 1900 (I of 1900).

It has been declared in force in British Baluchistan by s. 3 of the British Baluchistan Laws Regulation, 1913 (II of 1913).

It has ceased to be in force, by notification under s. 2 of the Assam Frontier Tracts Regulation, 1880 (II of 1880), in the following places, namely :—

The Garo Hills, the Khasi and Jaintia Hills, the Naga Hills, the North Cachar Sub-division of the Cachar District, the Mikir Hill-tracts in the Nowgong District, the Dibrugarh Frontier Tracts in the Lakhimpur District, and the Lushai Hills—see Assam Gazette, 1898 Pt. II, p. 788.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India ; but, in the absence of any specific provision to the contrary, nothing herein contained shall affect any special or local law now in force, or any special jurisdiction or power conferred, or any special form of procedure prescribed, by any other law for the time being in force, or shall apply to—

- (a) the Commissioners of Police in the towns of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, or the police in the towns of Calcutta and Bombay ;
- (b) heads of villages in the Presidency of Fort St. George ; or
- (c) village police-officers in the Presidency of Bombay :

Provided that the Local Government may, if it think fit*, by notification in the official Gazette, extend any of the provisions of this Code, with any necessary modifications, to such excepted persons.

Extent.—This Act except s. 528 does not apply to village headmen and, therefore, they are not bound to follow the procedure prescribed by s. 476. 2 Weir 1. Sections 480 and 482 have no application to village Munsiffs. 15 M. 131. This Act does not extend to Chittagong Hill Tracts (27 C. 654), Hyderabad State Railway (25 C. 20 P. C.), North Cachar Hills (26 C. 874), Mayurbhanja (8 C. 985), the Civil Station of Rajkot (10 B. 168) and the Tributary Mehal of Keonjhar (16 C. 667). Many native states have adopted the provisions of this code within their own territories although it does not apply to them. 12 M. 39. The Bombay High Court has got power to exercise original Criminal Jurisdiction over Muscat. 24 B. 471. An offence committed in High Seas should be tried under this Code. 7 B. H. C. R. 89 ; 21 C. 782 ; 16 C. 238 ; 1 B. L. R. O. C. 1.

British India.—As regards the definition of British India, vide s. 3 of the General Clauses Act, X of 1897. The following places are within the territory of British India, viz :—(1) Ajmer and Merwara (9 B. 244) ; Andaman and Nicobar Islands (9 B. 244), Island of Perin (10 B. 258) and Aden (13 M. 353).

Withdrawal of Criminal Procedure Code.—It is quite conceivable that, notwithstanding the withdrawal of the operation of the Code of Criminal Procedure Code from a certain district the High Court might continue to exercise appellate and revisional powers over that district. 26 C. 874=3 C. W. N. 564.

As to its application in (1) certain districts on the Sindh Frontier see the Sindh Frontier Regulation, 1872 (V of 1872), s. II, and the Sindh Frontier Regulation, 1892 (III of 1892) (2) the Andaman and Nicobar Islands, see Regulation III of 1876. s. 13 as amended by Regulation I of 1884, s. 3.

It has been declared in force, by notification under s. 3 (a) of the Scheduled District Act 1874 (XIV of 1874), in the Scheduled Districts in Ganjam and Vizagapatam—see Fort St. George Gazette, 1898, Pt. I. p. 306, and Gazette of India, 1898, Pt. I p. 869 ; and by notification under the same section and section 5A in the following other Scheduled Districts namely :—

The Districts of Hazaribagh, Lahardaga (now the Ranchi District—see Calcutta Gazette, 1899, Pt. I. p. 44), Manbhum and Palamau and in Pargana Dhalbhum and the Kolhan in the Singbhum District—see Calcutta Gazette, 1898, Pt. I. p. 714, and Gazette of India, 1899, Pt. I. p. 779 ; and in the Pargana of Manipur—see Gazette of India, 1899, Pt. I. p. 419. The powers of the Local Government were at the same time conferred on the Agent, Governor General, Central India, and also those of a High Court for the purposes of the Code.

It was extended to the Shan States, by the Shan States Laws and Criminal Justice Order, 1895, as amended by notification No. 29, dated 19th December, 1908.

The Code with certain modification has been declared, by notification under the proviso to s. 3 (2) of the Kachin Hill-tribes Regulation, 1895 (I of 1895), to be applicable to members of a hill tribe in a hill tract ; and under the proviso to s. 3. (2) of the Chin Hills Regulation, 1896 (V of 1896), as amended by s. 5 of Regulation II of 1910, it has been declared to be applicable to Chins in the Chin Hills with certain modifications—see Burma Gazette, 1912, Pt. I. pp. 227 and 228.—Vide Government Edition of 1923 p. 29.

* The words "with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council" were omitted by s. 2 and Sch. I of the Devolution Act, 1920 (XXXVIII of 1920).

Special law.—This expression refers to statutory enactment and not to local family law. 37 M. L. J. 361. But prosecution under Calcutta Municipal Act is to be proceeded under this Code. 31 C. W. N. 503=45 C. L. J. 469. Code does not override Evidence Act which is special law unless so provided. A. I. R. 1933 All. 440=55 A. 463.

Local law.—This Code has no application in a prosecution under local law. Vide 12 C. 536 ; 12 Cr. L. J. 568 ; 31 C. 557.

2. [Repeal of enactments, notifications, etc. under the repealed Acts. Pending cases.] Repealed by the Repealing and Amending Act, 1914 (X of 1914).

Notes.—The repeal of a statute which repealed another statute does not revive the latter statute. 2 C. W. N. 11 ; 25 C. W. N. 333. The law relating to procedure has no retrospective effect 2 B. 148 ; 2 C. 225 ; 20 M. 481 ; 25 C. 333 ; 3 Bom. L. R. 584.

3. (1) In every enactment passed before this Code comes into force, in which reference is made to, or to any chapter or section of, the Code of Criminal Procedure, Act XXV of 1861 or Act X of 1872, or to any other enactment hereby repealed, such reference shall, so far as may be practicable, be taken to be made to this Code or to its corresponding chapter or section.

(2) In every enactment passed before this Code comes into force, the expressions "Officer exercising ('or having') the powers (or 'the full powers') of a Magistrate," "Subordinate Magistrate first class," and "Subordinate Magistrate, second class," shall respectively be deemed to mean "Magistrate of the first class," "Magistrate of the second class," and "Magistrate of the third class;" the expression "Magistrate of a division of a district" shall be deemed to mean "Subdivisional Magistrate," the expression "Magistrate of the district" shall be deemed to mean "District Magistrate," the expression "Magistrate of Police" shall be deemed to mean "Presidency Magistrate;" and the expression "Joint Sessions Judge" shall mean "Additional Sessions Judge."

Notes—Vide 12 M. 94 (F. B.)=1 Weir 875 ; 25 C. 637.

A report of a Circle Inspector to the Superintendent of police cannot be considered a complaint. 96 Ind. Cas. 211.

Clause (i).—The present amendment has narrowed the definition. Vide Statement of Objects and Reasons. Where a prisoner pleaded that he was a British-born subject and that he ought, therefore to be tried before the High Court, and where the evidence showed that the prisoner was the legitimate grand-son of a person said to have been a sergeant in the service of the King or of the East India Company and there was no sufficient evidence to establish a valid marriage between that grand-father and a native Christian woman, through whom the prisoner traced his descent, and there were also doubts about the nationality of the said grand-father, held, that there was no evidence to show that the prisoner was a British-born subject. 2 Weir 11=6 M. H. C. R. 7. A man is not an European British subject by his birth in Europe. 14 Ind. Cas. 197 ; 6 P. R. 1912 Cr. A prisoner can waive his right to be tried as an European British subject. Vide 11 Ind. Cas. 620 ; 14 Ind. Cas. 197. After waiver the right cannot be claimed again. 76 Ind. Cas. 695=45 M. L. J. 800.

Clause (j).—Before the amendment by Act XII of 1923 the Courts of the Judicial Commissioner of Sind and Nagpur were ousted from exercising revisional jurisdiction when the prisoner claimed to be tried as an European British subject. 12 C. 561 ; 7 N. L. R. 93=11 Ind. Cas. 620=12 Cr. L. J. 436. Under the present law, such revisional jurisdiction can be exercised by the Judicial Commissioner of Nagpur. See also 91 Ind. Cas. 99=A. I. R. 1926 Sind. 38 (F. B.) see also A. I. R. 1933 Pesh. 6. The High Court exercising original criminal jurisdiction is not a Court of Session within the meaning of this section. 51 C. 980=29 C. W. N. 384=84 Ind. Cas. 929=26 Cr. L. J. 385. The High Court of Patna has only to deal with appeals under s. 417 against an order of acquittal. It has no power to deal with an application under s. 439 for setting aside acquittal for which the proper forum is the Commissioner of Bhagalpur. A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 449.

Clause (k).—An investigation in a case under s. 145 is an enquiry. 28 C. 709=5 C. W. N. 749 ; 13 C. W. N. 420=9 C. R. L. J. 278=1 Ind. Cas. 336. But this section is not exhaustive. 46 C. 854 ; 38 C. 68. A preliminary enquiry is an enquiry. 32 M. 218 ; see also 1897 P. R. 3 ; see also 45 A. 700=21 A. L. J. 619. As regards the meaning of the expression "trial" vide 27 M. 510 ; 25 C. 863 ; 32 M. 320 ; 15 C. 608 ; 3 C. 754. A proceeding under s. 107 Cr. Pro. Code is a trial. 45 M. 511 (F. B.) ; 27 M. 510. As regards when proceedings are enquiry, vide A. I. R. 1932 Oudh 298=9 O. W. N. 782.

Clause (l).—The definition of the term 'investigation' is not exhaustive. 4 Bom. L. R. 271=26 B. 533 ; see also 46 C. 854. Investigation includes all the proceedings under the Code of Criminal Procedure for the collection of evidence conducted inter alia by Police Officer. A. I. R. 1933 Sind. 240.

Clause (m).—An enquiry conducted by a Magistrate into the truth of allegations against a subordinate official, contained in a petition presented to a Deputy Commissioner is a judicial proceeding. 28 A. 89=2 A. L. J. 717=2 Cr. L. J. 454. proceedings in execution are judicial proceedings. 10 N. L. R. 177 ; see also 1 P. R. 1910 Cr.=161 P. L. R. 910=5 Ind. Cas. 257=11 Cr. L. J. 90 ; 37 C. 642 (F. B.) ; 10 C. L. J. 450. 10 C. W. N. 55. A proceeding under s. 318 of Cr. Pro. Code of 1861 was held to be a judicial proceeding. So also a proceeding under Ch. XLI of the Code of 1872. 5 A. 224=A. W. N. 1882, 240. An enquiry under the Legal Practitioner's Act or under s. 8 of the Reformatory School Act is a judicial proceeding. 6 M. 252; 32; M. L. J. 402; 9 A. L. J. 156; 14 B. 181. A proceeding in which the Income-tax Collector hears objection to assessment is also a judicial proceeding.

Clause (n).—An offence under s. 9 of Act I of 1878 is a noncognizable offence. 27 C. 144; see also 24 C. 691.

Clause (o).—This definition is wider than the definition given in s. 40 of the Indian Penal Code. It is the same as that given in s. 3 (37) of the General Clauses Act (X of 1897). 26 M. 67. It includes an Act, in respect to which a complaint may be made under s. 20 of the Cattle Trespass Act. 29 M. 517=5 Cr. L. J. 68; see also 52 M. L. J. 251=28 Cr. L. J. 301. s. 41, Bombay District Police Act, does not make the use of a house as a brothel an offence. 6 S. L. R. 254=19 Ind. Cas. 1008=14 Cr. L. J. 320; see also 37 C. 287. Travelling without ticket in a train is not an offence. 20 A. 95; 11 C. W. N. 100. A mere neglect to maintain one's wife and children is not an offence. 4 M. 234=24 M. 600; 27 C. 131; 4 C. W. N. 201; 4 C. W. N. 253; 33 B. 22; 7 W. R. 10; 1885 P. R. 13; 16 M. 234.

Clause (p).—This section has no application so far as the police of Calcutta and Bombay is concerned 31 C. 557. A person who is not physically present may also be present. 42 M. 446=20 Cr. L. J. 422=25 M. L. T. 274=36 M. L. J. 252. In the absence of a sub-Inspector, the Head constable in charge of a police station can investigate a cognizable case. 2 Pat. 379=4 P. L. T. 521=24 Cr. L. J. 375. In Madras under Judicial Notification No. 3, dated the 31st. January, 1883, the Madras Government has directed that the senior constable present at any such station shall be deemed to be the officer in charge of the police station for the time being, during the absence of the officer in charge as defined in the said section. 9 M. L. T. 414=9 Ind. Cas. 1067=12 Cr. L. J. 190=10 Ind. Cas. 667=1911 M. W. N. 231.

Clause (r).—Now the word "pleader" includes "mukhtears", who were not allowed to practise in Criminal Courts as a matter of right, but could do so with the permission of the Court. 30 A. 66 F. B.; 38 C. 488. But a Magistrate cannot withhold permission to a mukhtear by a general order. 7 C. W. N. 524; see also 15 C. W. N. 409=38 C. 488=13 C. L. J. 635; see also 9 Ind. Cas. 711=12 Cr. L. Clause (s).—This clause has no application to the police in Calcutta and Bombay. 31 C. 557.

Clause (t).—It is improper to appoint a convicting Magistrate as a public prosecutor. 8 B. H. C. Cr. 126. A pleader appointed by a brother of a murdered man to support conviction of an accused on appeal is not a public prosecutor. 29 P. R. 1886 Cr. See also 11 B. H. C. R. 102. A defect in the appointment of a public prosecutor is an irregularity. 35 P. R. 1887 Cr. Legal Remembrances is ex officio Public Prosecutor, no vakalatnama is necessary. 37 C. W. Clause (u).—In case of abatement of summons case offence, is summons case. A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 199=131 Ind. Cas. 472=33 Bom. L. R. 353.

5. (1) All offences under the Indian Penal Code shall be investigated, inquired into, tried and otherwise dealt with according to the provisions herein after contained.

(2) All offences under any other law shall be investigated inquired into, tried and otherwise dealt with according to the same provisions, but subject to any enactment for the time being in force regulating the manner or place of investigating, inquiring into, trying or otherwise dealing with such offences.

Notes.—A contempt against High Court does not fall under this section. 10C. 109 (P. C.); 17 C. W. N. 1253. This Act has no application where the special Act regulates the manner or place of investigation 23C. L. J. 621=3 Lab. 359; 44 M. L. J. 231=72 Ind. Case 175. Where the special Act is silent as regards procedure this Act is applicable. 31 B. 438 ; see also 37 C. L. J. 298=71 Ind. Cas. 611 ; 41 C. 694=18 C. W. N. 486; 30 C. W. N. 598; 31 C. W. N. 506; 9 C. W. N. 18; 43 C. L. J. 231. A rule framed under an Act is not an enactment : 25 C. W. N. 661. Foreigners Ordinance (III of 1914) is a law and an inquiry into an offence under it must be dealt with according to the provisions of that ordinance. 10 P. R. 1916 Cr.=15 P. W. R. Cr. 1916.

PART II.

Constitution and Powers of Criminal Courts and Offices.

CHAPTER II.

OF THE CONSTITUTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS AND OFFICES.

A.—Classes of Criminal Courts.

*5. Besides the High Courts and the Courts constituted under any law other than this Code for the time being in force, there shall be five classes of Criminal Courts in British India, namely :—

- I.—Courts of Session :
- II.—Presidency Magistrates :
- III.—Magistrates of the first class :
- IV.—Magistrates of the second class :
- V.—Magistrates of the third class.

Notes.—A magistrate is a Court only where he is exercising judicial functions 36 C. 433. The terms, District Magistrate and Magistrate of the first class do not include a Presidency Magistrate. 32 M. 303. The terms "Deputy Magistrate" and "General Deputy Magistrate" are unknown in this Code. 23 M. L. J. 67.=13 Cr. L. J. 850. A District Magistrate's Court is only a Court of Magistrate of the First class, and subordinate to the court of the Sessions Judge for the purpose of S. 195 (3) 25 N. L. R. 1=116 Ind. Cas. 77. Section 6 is not inconsistent with the idea that Magistrates may sometimes act in execution and administrative capacity and not as Courts. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 1108=52 M. 69=55 M. I. J. 621. The High Court exercising Original Criminal Jurisdiction is not a Court of Session with the hearing of the Code 51 C. 980=29 C. W. N. 384. The Municipal Magistrate appointed under s. 531 Calcutta Municipal Act is a Court of inferior Criminal Jurisdiction with the hearing of s. 6 Criminal Procedure Code. 29 C. W. N. 898=52 C. 962.

B.—Territorial Divisions.

†7. (1) Every province (excluding the presidency towns) shall be a sessions division, or shall consist of sessions divisions :
Sessions divisions and districts. and every sessions division shall for the purposes of this Code, be a district or consist of districts.

(2) The Local Governments may alter the limits or ‡ the number of such division and districts.

(3) The sessions divisions and districts existing when this Code comes into force shall be sessions divisions and districts respectively, unless and until they are so altered.

* In places where the Frontier Crimes Regulation, 1901 is in force, cases may be tried by a Council of Elders. See the Frontier Crimes Regulation, 1901 (III of 1901), s. 11.

† As to Courts of Session in Upper Burma, see Upper Burma Criminal Justice Regulation, 1892 (V of 1892), Schedule, art. 11.

‡ The words "with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council" were omitted by s. 2 and Sch. I of the Devolution Act, 1920 (XXXVIII of 1920).

Presidency-towns to be deemed districts. (4) Every presidency-town shall for the purposes of this Code, be deemed to be a district.

Clause (1)—“District”. means district for purposes of criminal administration. 54 M. 943=A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 697 (F. B.) object of s. 7 (1) is to lay down rule governing relation between Sessions division and Districts. Ibid. It is not competent for one District Magistrate to transfer a case to another District Magistrate, on the ground that the boundaries fixed by Government vest the jurisdiction over the offence in the latter. 19 Cr. L. J. 671.

Clause (2)—A Local Government cannot create a Sessions Division. 10 B. 274. Local Government can alter number and limits both of divisions and districts. 54 M. 943=A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 697 (F. B.)

8. (1) The Local Government may divide any district outside the presidency-towns into sub-divisions, or make any portion of any such district a subdivision, and may alter the limits of any subdivision.

Power to divide districts into sub-divisions. (2) All existing subdivisions which are now usually put under the charge of a Magistrate shall be deemed to have been made under this Code.

Existing sub-divisions maintained.

C.—Courts and Offices outside the Presidency-towns.

9. (1) The Local Government shall establish a Court of session for every sessions division, and appoint a Judge of such Court.

(2) The Local Government may, by general or special order in the official Gazette, direct at what place or places the Court of Session shall hold its sitting; but, until such order is made, the Courts of Session shall hold their sittings as heretofore.

(3) The Local Government may also appoint Additional Sessions Judges and Assistant Sessions Judges to exercise jurisdiction in one or more such Courts.

(4) A sessions Judge of one Sessions division may be appointed by the Local Government to be also an Additional Sessions Judge of another division, and in such case he may sit for the disposal of cases at such place or places in either division as the Local Government may direct.

(5) All Courts of Session existing when this Code comes into force shall be deemed to have been established under this Act.

D—Courts of Presidency Magistrates.

18. (1) The Local Government shall, from time to time, appoint a sufficient number of persons (hereinafter called Presidency Magistrates) to be Magistrates for each of the presidency-towns, and shall appoint one of such persons to be Chief Presidency Magistrate for each such town.

(2) The powers of a Presidency Magistrate under this Code shall be exercised by the Chief Presidency Magistrate, or by a salaried Presidency Magistrate, or by any other Presidency Magistrate empowered by the Local Government to sit singly, or by any Bench of Presidency Magistrates.

* [(3) A Presidency Magistrate, may be appointed under this section for such term as the Local Government may, by general or special order, direct.]

* [(4) The Local Government may appoint any person to be an additional Chief Presidency Magistrate, and such Additional Chief Presidency Magistrate shall have all or any of the powers of a Chief Presidency Magistrate under this Code or under any other law for the time being in force as the Local Government may direct.]

Notes.—This section confers full powers of a Presidency Magistrate on a Bench of Honorary Presidency Magistrates. 7 Bom. L. R. 833=2 Cr. L. J. 770. As regards powers of Additional Chief Presidency Magistrate, Vide, A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 405.

* Sub-sections (3) and (4) were added by s. 3 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923).

19. Any two or more of such person may (subject to the rules made by the Chief Presidency Magistrate under the powers hereinafter conferred) sit together as a Bench.

20. Every Presidency Magistrate shall exercise jurisdiction in all places within the presidency-town for which he is appointed, and within the limits of the port of such town and of any navigable river or channel leading thereto, as such limits are defined under the law for the time being in force for the regulation of ports and port-duse.

Notes.—Presidency Magistrate has jurisdiction to try offences committed at any place within the limits of town. 97 Ind. Cas. 973=27 Cr. L. J. 1213=28 Bom. L. R. 1066. He has also jurisdiction under s. 84 of the Calcutta Port Act to try offence committed outside the limits of Calcutta but within the limits of the port. 47 C. 147=24 C. W. N. 79=20 Cr. L. J. 782.

21. (1) Every Chief Presidency Magistrate shall exercise within the local limits of his jurisdiction all the powers conferred on him by this Code or which by any law or rule in force immediately before this Code comes into force are required to be exercised by any Senior or Chief Presidency Magistrate, and may, from time to time, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, make rules consistent with this Code to regulate—

- (a) the conduct and distribution of business and the practice in the Courts of the Magistrates of the town ;
- (b) the times and places at which Benches of Magistrates shall sit ;
- (c) the constitution of such Benches :
- (d) the mode of settling differences of opinion which may arise between Magistrates in session ; and
- (e) any other matter which could be dealt with by a District Magistrate under his general powers of control over the Magistrates subordinate to him.

(2) The Local Government may, for the purposes of this Code, declare what Presidency Magistrates, * [including Additional Chief Presidency Magistrates] are subordinate to the Chief Presidency Magistrate, and may define the extent of their subordination.

Notes.—Rule 8 of the Rules framed by the Chief Presidency Magistrate under this section is held to be not inconsistent with the provisions of the Code so far as it directed that, in a Bench composed of two members, the decision of the Chairman should prevail. 8 C. W. N. 862. Additional Chief Presidency Magistrate is subordinate to the Chief Presidency Magistrate. 28 C. W. N. 903. 25. In virtue of their respective offices, the Governor-General, Governors, Lieutenant-Governors and Chief Commissioners, the Ordinary members of the Council of the Governor-General, *[and the Judges of the High Courts] are Justices of the Peace within and for the whole of British India, Sessions Judges and District Magistrates are Justices of the Peace within and for the whole of the territories administered by the Local Government under which they are serving, and the Presidency Magistrates are Justices of the Peace within and for the towns of which they are respectively Magistrates.

F.—Suspension and Removal.

26. All Judges of Criminal Courts other than the High Courts established by Royal Charter, and all Magistrates, may be suspended or removed from office by the Local Government :

Provided that such Judges and Magistrates as now are liable to be suspended or removed from office by the Governor General in Council only shall not be suspended or removed from office by any other authority.

Notes.—The power of suspending a second class Magistrate is given only to Local Government and the Collector and District Magistrate cannot exercise that power and if he suspends him, he nevertheless continues to be a Magistrate. But in such a case he may report to the High Court for orders under s. 438. 30 Bom. L. R. 1050=29 Cr. L. J. 1063.

POWERS OF COURTS.

A.—Description of Offences cognizable by each Court.

Offences under Penal Code. 28. Subject to the other provisions of this Code any offence under the Indian Penal Code may be tried—

- (a) by the High Court, or
- (b) by the Court of Session, or
- (c) by any other Court by which such offence is shown in the eighth column of the second schedule to be triable.

Illustration.

A is committed to the Sessions Court on a charge of culpable homicide. He may be convicted of voluntarily causing hurt, an offence triable by a Magistrate.

Notes—Third class Magistrates have no jurisdiction to try offences punishable under s. 20 of Act VI of 1878. 2 Weir 23. This section, subject to the provision of this Code, empowers the High Court and the Court of Sessions to try any offence under the Penal Code. 8 A. 665=A. W. N. 1886, 254. The object of the legislature is to exclude offences of great gravity from the provisions of s. 250 of the Criminal Procedure Code. The words "triable by a Magistrate" in that section mean triable under section 28 of the Code by a Magistrate, 139 P. L. R. 1902. Section 28 is controlled by s. 30 and has reference to column 8 of Schedule 2. 27 Cr. L. J. 728=A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 374=95 Ind Cas. 56. Assistant Commissioners the Local Government may, notwithstanding anything contained in section 29, invest the District Magistrate or any Magistrate of the first class with power to try as a Magistrate all offences not punishable with death.

Notes.—A District Magistrate empowered under this section may try all offences not punishable with death. 3 P. R. 1891 Cr. See also 1 P. R. 1893 (F. B.) Cr. A Magistrate of the first class, who is holding an enquiry in a case of dacoity has jurisdiction either to commit the accused to the Court of Sessions or to discharge him. He has no authority to make over the case to a District Magistrate, who is a Deputy Commissioner especially empowered under section 30, to try such cases. 7 C. W. N. 457. A first class Magistrate simply described in the heading of his judgment as invested with powers under s. 30 but not purporting to act under such powers cannot exercise those powers in passing the sentence. 17 P. W. R. 1908 Cr. The powers conferred on a Deputy Commissioner under this section cannot be exercised by him in a summary trial. Col. Dig. Cr. 42 of 1876. As a general rule, the cases which District Magistrates should refrain from trying under their higher powers are those in which a sentence more severe than a District Magistrate can inflict under s. 34, Criminal Procedure Code, 1882, appears to be called for, if the offence charged be established and secondly those cases in which the issues are so complex or the difficulty of ascertaining the true facts or of correctly applying the law to them so considerable, as to make a trial before a Sessions Judge with the aid of assessors clearly more appropriate than a trial before a District Magistrate. L. B. R. (1893-1900) 219. A District Magistrate who is empowered under this section and convicts an accused for an offence under s. 42 I. P. Code, can pass a sentence of 1 year and nine months, i. e., $\frac{3}{4}$ of seven years, in default of payment of fine. His power is not limited to awarding one fourth of the punishment which, under s. 34, he is competent to inflict without confirmation. 35 P. R. 1885 Cr. When a Deputy Commissioner tries a case exclusively triable by the Court of Sessions, under powers conferred upon him by s. 30 of the Code, he does so as a Magistrate, and if he tenders a conditional pardon to one of the accused, he is precluded from trying the case himself. 10 C. Sentences which High Courts and Sessions Judges may pass. 31. (1) A High Court may pass any sentence authorized by law.

(2) A Sessions Judge or additional Sessions Judge may pass any sentence authorised by law; but any sentence of death passed by any such Judge shall be subject to confirmation by the High Court.

(3) An Assistant Sessions Judge may pass any sentence authorised by law, except a sentence of death or of transportation for a term exceeding seven years, or of imprisonment for a term exceeding seven years.

Notes.—Section 59 I. P. Code does not authorise the substitution of transportation for the imprisonment to which a Court can sentence an offender in default of payment of fine. 5 M. 28; see also 1880. P. R. 17.

(2) The Court of any Magistrate may pass any lawful sentence, combining any of the sentences which it is authorized by law to pass.*

Notes.—A Magistrate whose powers are limited by this section has no power to pass an enhanced sentence under section 75, L. B. R. (1893—1900) 78. Although s. 395 enables a Magistrate in certain cases to impose a sentence of imprisonment in lieu of a sentence of whipping yet it is expressly provided that nothing in section 395 shall be deemed to authorise a Court to inflict imprisonment for a term exceeding that which a Court is competent to inflict under s. 32. 2 Weir. 449. Magistrates when deciding on the question of sentence are justified in taking into consideration the conduct of the accused person in his own defence. Sanwaldas v. Emperor, A. I. R. 1923 Sind. 253. An appellate Court's power of varying a sentence must be measured by the powers of the court of first instance. A conviction of 3 months simple imprisonment by a second class Magistrate cannot be varied into a fine of Rs. 400. 45 A. 594=76 Ind. Cas. 1032. But any fine could be imposed in lieu of confiscation under s. 12 of the Opium Act as s. 12 is not affected by s. 32. 2 Pat. L. T. 63=1 Pat L. R. Cr. 32=23 Cr. L. J. 747=69 Ind. Cas. 635. Sentence to be passed by a Magistrate under s. 21 of the Emergency Powers ordinance (2 of 1932) is also limited by s. 32. A. I. R. 1933 Bom. 58 (S. B.)=44 Bom. L. R. 1676=34 Cr. L. J. 162. Proviso as to certain cases.

Provided that—

- (a) the term is not in excess of the Magistrate's powers under this Code ;
- (b) in any case decided by a Magistrate where imprisonment has been awarded as part of the substantive sentence, the period of imprisonment awarded in default of payment of the fine shall not exceed one fourth of the period of imprisonment which such Magistrate is competent to inflict as punishment for the offence otherwise than as imprisonment in default of payment of the fine.

(2) The imprisonment awarded under this section may be in addition to a substantive sentence of imprisonment for the maximum term awardable by the Magistrate under section 32.

Notes.—The effect of this section read with s. 65 of the Penal Code is to limit the maximum imprisonment which a District Magistrate with higher powers may inflict to one-fourth of seven years. L. B. R. (1893—1900) 281. Para 2 does not apply where the substantive sentence is one of fine only. L. B. R. (1872—1892) 486. In summary trials, imprisonment for four months in default of fine cannot be awarded. 3 Lah. L. J. 346=22 Cr. L. J. 145=59 Ind. Cas. 349.

34. The Court of a Magistrate, specially empowered under section 30, may pass any sentence authorized by law, except a sentence of death or of transportation for a term exceeding seven years or of imprisonment for a term exceeding seven years.

* The words "whipping (if specially empowered)" in sub-section (1) and sub-section (3) of section 32 were repealed by the Whipping Act 1909 (IV of 1909).

Notes.—In every appeal, and a fortiori in every reference under this section, it is obviously the duty of the Session Judge to carefully weigh the evidence himself and not to rely only upon the weight attached to it by the Court whose order is appealed against or is referred to for confirmation. L. B. R. (1872—1892) 516.

Sentences which Courts and Magistrates may pass upon European British subjects.

*34A. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 31, 32 and 34—

- (a) no Court of Session shall pass on any European British subject any sentence other than a sentence of death, penal servitude, or imprisonment with or without fine, or of fine, and
- (b) no District Magistrate or other Magistrate of the first class shall pass on any European British subject any sentence other than imprisonment which may extend to two years, or fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or both.

Maximum term of punishment.

Provided as follows:—

- (a) in no case shall such person be sentenced to imprisonment for a longer period than fourteen years:
- (b) if the case is tried by a Magistrate (other than a Magistrate acting under section 34), the aggregate punishment shall not exceed twice the amount of punishment which he is, in the exercise of his ordinary jurisdiction, competent to inflict.
- (3) For the purpose of appeal, ‡[the aggregate of consecutive] sentences passed under this section in case of convictions for several offences at one trial shall be deemed to be a single sentence. §

Notes.—This section does not empower a District Magistrate or any other Magistrate to pass an aggregate sentence, instead of separate sentences, upon an accused person convicted at one trial of two or more distinct offences. 14 P. order made with the previous sanction of the Local Government, has directed him to communicate information.

(2) In this section—

- (i) "village" includes village-lands ; and
- (ii) the expression "proclaimed offender" includes any person proclaimed as an offender by any Court or authority established or continued by the Governor General in Council in any part of India, in respect of any act which, if committed in British India, would be punishable under any of the following sections of the Indian Penal Code, namely 302, 304, 382, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 402, 435, 436, 449, 450, 457, 458, 459 and 460.

(3) Subject to rules in this behalf to be made by the Local Government, the District Magistrate *[or Sub-divisional Magistrate] may from time to time appoint one or more persons *[with his or their consent]† [to perform the duties of a village-headman under this section whether a village-headman has or has not been appointed for that village under any other law.]

Appointment of village headmen by District Magistrate or Sub-divisional Magistrate in certain cases for purposes of this section.

Notes.—When information, as to the commission of a murder is conveyed to the nearest Magistrate or police-officer by one of the parties bound to give such information under s. 45 of the Cr. Pro. Code, it is not reasonable that every other person, who may possibly be bound to give information, should be prosecuted for not having done so, and convicted of an offence under s. 176 of the Penal Code. 20 C. 316. The owner or occupier of a house within a village is not an owner or occupier of land within the meaning of this section. 12 M. 92=1 Wier 102 ; 30 Bom. L. R. 1570. An order passed by a District Magistrate under the rules framed by Government under s. 45 (3) is an executive order, and not subject to the revisional powers of the High Court. A. W. N. 1907, 168=5 Cr. L. J. 476=29 A. 563. The obligation ceases when the police is informed by a Chaukidar. 23 Cr. L. J. 162. Village Chaukidar need not communicate rumours, but only such information as he possesses of his own knowledge. 5 P. L. T. 505=26 Cr. L. J. 972=81 Ind. Cas. 620. Report by Police Officer is not a "police report" in the technical sense, but must contain facts constituting offence. 51 C. 408=25 Cr. L. J. 732. Where a person fell from a tree and died two days later, his death is not unnatural in the sense of the section, especially as the death did not occur immediately. 23 Cr. L. J. 345=66 Ind. Cas. 1001.

Clause (c)—The information required to be given is the commission of an offence. 9 Cr. L. J. 224=5 M. L. T. 257. In cases of bailable offence no information need be given. 32 M. 258 ; 30 P. R. 1887.

Clause (d)—In cases of sudden and unnatural death the village headman is to give information. 23 W. R. 60 ; see also 11 C. 619 ; 20 P. R. 1887. Death caused by fall from a tree is not unnatural within the meaning of this section. 23 Cr. L. J. 345.

Sub-section (3)—An order under this sub-section is not subject to revision. 29 A. 563.

CHAPTER V.

OF ARREST, ESCAPE AND RETAKING.

A.—Arrest generally.

46. (1) In making an arrest the police-officer or other person making the same shall actually touch or confine the body of the person to be arrested, unless there be a submission to the custody by word or action.

* These words were inserted by s. 9 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923.)

† These words were substituted for the words "to be village-headmen for the purposes of this section in any village for which there is no such headmen appointed under any other law" by ibid.

(2) If such person forcibly resists the endeavour to arrest him, or attempts to evade the arrest, such police-officer or other person may use all means necessary to effect the arrest.

(3) Nothing in this section gives a right to cause the death of a person who is not accused of an offence punishable with death or with transportation for life.

Notes.—The Punjab Frontier Crimes Regulation makes no alteration in the general principle of the law, that in making an arrest, no more force is to be used than is necessary, and that death should not be caused, unless the arrest can not be effected without causing it. 32 P.R. 1894 Cr. The person making the arrest must have the warrant in his possession. 5 A. 318. Arrest can be effected either by actual contact or submission. 17 Cr. L. J. 87=9 S. L. R. 141. In cases of illegal arrest the right of private defence can be exercised. 16 C. W. N. 549. An arrest by a mere oral declaration without the actual touch of the process-server is not a legal arrest within the meaning of s. 46 (1) of the Criminal Procedure Code. Har Mohan Lal v. Emperor, 113 Ind. Cas. 288=30 Cr. L. J. 128. Shot over the head of suspect is justified by s. 46. A. I. R. 1933 Sind. 193=34 Cr. L. J. 751. Person stating that he has committed an offence and, making statement to police, submits to police custody under s. 46 (1) and is in police custody within s. 27. Evidence Act. 14 P. L. T. 82=34 Cr. L. J. 349; see also 25 C. W. N. 788. Police officer not notifying substance of the warrant under s. 80 can justify his arrest under s. 46 (2). 33 C. W. N. 284=30 Cr. L. J. 703. A trial proceeded by a police investigation in which they have failed to observe Chapter V is not bad in its entirety. 26 Cr. L. J. 492=3 Bur. L. J. 265.

Clause (3).—An Exercise officer cannot fire at a opium smuggler while pursuing him. 21 Cr. L. J. 97.

47. If any person acting under a warrant of arrest, or any police-officer having authority to arrest, has reason to believe that the person to be arrested has entered into, or is within, any place, the person residing in, or being in charge of, such place, shall, on demand of such person acting as aforesaid or, such police-officer, allow him free ingress thereto, and afford all reasonable facilities for a search therein.

Notes.—Under this section the house-holder is obliged to give the police facilities in discharging their duties. 41 C. 350=18 C. W. N. 896=15 Cr. L. J. 745.

48. If ingress to such place cannot be obtained under section 47 it shall be lawful in any case for a person acting under a warrant and in any case in which a warrant may issue, but cannot be obtained without affording the person to be arrested an opportunity of escape, for a police-officer to enter such place and search therein, and in order to effect an entrance into such place, to break open any outer or inner door or window of any house or place, whether that of the person to be arrested or of any other person if after notification of his authority and purpose, and demand of admittance duly made, he cannot otherwise obtain admittance.

Provided that, if any such place is an apartment in the actual occupancy of a woman (not being the person to be arrested), who, according to custom, does not appear in public, such person or police-officer shall, before entering such apartment, give notice to such woman that she is at liberty to withdraw and shall afford her every reasonable facility for withdrawing, and may then break open the apartment and enter it.

49. Any police-officer or other person authorized to make an arrest may break open any outer or inner door or window of any house or place in order to liberate himself or any other person who, having lawfully entered for the purpose of making an arrest, is detained therein.

No unnecessary restraint. 50. The person arrested shall not be subjected to more restraint than is necessary to prevent his escape.*

Notes.—A magis rate is incompetent to require bail for the personal appearance of an absentee accused person at a future date, where he has been permitted to appear by agent under s. 182. Col. Dig. Cr. 9 of 1873.

51. Whenever a person is arrested by a police-officer under a warrant which does not provide for the taking of bail, Search of arrested persons. or under a warrant which provides for the taking of bail but the person arrested cannot furnish bail, and whenever a person is arrested without warrant, or by a private person under a warrant, and cannot legally be admitted to bail, or, is unable to furnish bail, the officer making the arrest or, when the arrest is made by a private person, the police-officer to whom he makes over the person arrested, may search such person, and place in safe custody all articles, other than necessary wearing-apparel found upon him.†

Notes.—Medical examination of an arrested person may not be held without his consent. 35 C. W. N. 1212=33 Cr. L. J. 11. Money may also be kept in safe custody. A. I. R. 1934 Bom. 104.

52. Whenever it is necessary to cause a woman to be searched, the search shall be made by another women, with strict regard to decency.

53. The officer or other person making any arrest under this Code may take from the person arrested any offensive weapons which he has about his person, and shall deliver all weapons so taken to the Court or officer before which or whom the officer or person making the arrest is required by this Code to produce the person arrested.

B.—Arrest without warrant.

54. (1) Any police-officer may, without an order from a Magistrate and without a warrant, arrest—

- first*, any person who has been concerned in any cognizable offence or against whom a reasonable complaint has been made, or credible information has been received, or a reasonable suspicion exists of his having been so concerned;
- secondly*, any person having in his possession without lawful excuse, the burden of proving which excuse shall lie on such person, any implement of house breaking;
- thirdly*, any person who has been proclaimed as an offender either under this Code or by order of the Local Government;
- fourthly*, any person in whose possession anything is found which may reasonably be suspected to be stolen property;† [and] who may reasonably be suspected of having committed an offence with reference such things;
- fifthly*, any person who obstructs a police-officer while in the execution of his duty, or who has escaped, or attempts to escape, from lawful custody;
- sixthly*, any person reasonably suspected of being a deserter from Her Majesty's "Army, Navy or Air Force"§||

† As to disposal of such property, see s. 523 infra.

seventhly, any person who has been concerned in, or against whom a reasonable complaint has been made or credible information has been received or a reasonable suspicion exists of his having been concerned in, any act committed at any place out of British India, which, if committed in British India, would have been punishable as an offence, and for which he is, under any law relating to extradition or under the Fugitive Offenders Act, 1881,* or otherwise, liable to be apprehended or detained in custody in British India ;

eighthly, any released convict committing a breach of any rule made under section 565, sub-section (3) ; and

†ninthly, any person for whose arrest a requisition has been received from another police-officer, provided that the requisition specifies the person to be arrested and the offence or other cause for which the arrest is to be made and it appears therefrom that the person might lawfully be arrested without a warrant by the officer who issued the requisition,]

(2) This section applies also to the police in the town‡ of Calcutta.†

Notes.—Under sub-section (1) a constable is empowered to make an arrest without warrant, when he had credible information that the person had committed a cognizable offence. 11 A. L. J. 957=15 Cr. L. Arrest of vagabonds, habitual robbers, etc. 55. (1) Any officer in charge of a police station may, in like manner, arrest or cause to be arrested—

(a) any person found taking precautions to conceal his presence within the limits of such station, under circumstances which afford reason to believe that he is taking such precautions with a view to committing a cognizable offence ; or

(b) any person within the limits of such station who has no ostensible means of subsistence, or who cannot give a satisfactory account of himself ; or

* 44 & 45 Vict. c. 69.

† This clause was added by s. 10 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923).

‡ The letter "S" and the word "and Bombay," repealed by Bom. Act. IV of 1902 have been omitted.

- (c) any person who is by repute an habitual robber, house-breaker or thief, or an habitual receiver of stolen property knowing it to be stolen, or who by repute habitually commits extortion or in order to the committing of extortion habitually puts or attempts to put persons in fear or injury.

(2) This section applies also to the police in the town* of Calcutta.*

Notes.—This section is intended for the suppression of habitual bad characters whom an officer in charge of a police station suddenly finds within his jurisdiction, or about whom he has good cause to fear that they will commit serious harm before there is time to apply to the nearest Magistrate empowered to deal with the case under s. 112, Cr. Pro. Code. 14 A. 45=A. W. N. 1891, 179. This section applies to the police in the Presidency town of Calcutta. 31 C. 557; 7 C. W. N. 661. A habitual gambler cannot be arrested under this section. 3 L. B. R. 94; 3 Cr. L. J. 20. In order to justify a police to arrest under this section it must be found that the person arrested is a habitual robber or house-braker. 47 M. 442=46 M. L. J. 447=25 Cr. L. J. 563. See also 35 A. 407; 27 Cr. L. J. 628. The powers given under this section are exceptional powers and should be used very carefully. 14 A. 45. For cases of illegal arrest, vide 41 A. 483=17 A. L. J. 458=20 Cr. L. J. 381; 1883 A. W. N. 223. A person arrested under this section should be allowed bail. 14 A. 45. Section 55 is independent of Chapter 8 and may be used as a preliminary to proceedings thereunder. 124 Ind. Cas. 638=31 Cr. L. J. 717. Police-officer arresting a man in order to take proceedings under s. 110 must specify one of the clauses mentioned in s. 55. 20 S. L. R. 85=27 Cr. L. J. 628.

56. (1) When any officer in charge of a police-station +[or any police-officer making an investigation under Chapter XIV] requires any officer subordinate to him to arrest without a warrant (otherwise than in his presence) any person who may lawfully be arrested without a warrant, he shall deliver to the officer required to make the arrest an order in writing, specifying the person to be arrested and the offence or other cause for which the arrest is to be made. +[The officer so required shall, before making the arrest, notify to the person to be arrested the substance of the order and, if so required by such person, shall show him the order.]

(2) This section applies also to the police in the town* of Calcutta.*

Notes.—The above section was held inapplicable where an arrest for dacoity was made without warrant by a subordinate police-officer, in the presence of a head constable who authorised him to make the arrest. 1 W. R. Cr. 20 (1); 11 W. R. Cr. 20 (2). A Chaukidar is a subordinate police-officer. 26 Cr. L. J. 795; 10 C. W. N. 287. Section 80 is not applicable while a police-officer is acting under this section. 27 C. 320. Where a constable holding a command certificate arrests without notifying substance, arrest is not illegal if he could have independently arrested him under s. 54 without warrant. 5 Pat. 533=27 Cr. L. J. 1310=98 Ind. Cas. 254. Where requisition of arrest is made by police-officer specifying s. 55 it is sufficient compliance with s. 56. A. I. R. 1934 All. 879. Endorsement of names of constable making arrest is not necessary. Ibid.

57. (1) When any person who in the presence of a police-officer has committed or has been accused of committing a non-cognizable offence refuses, on demand of such officer, to give his name and residence or gives a name or residence which such officer has reason to believe to be false, he may be arrested by such officer in order that his name or residence may be ascertained.

(2) When the true name and residence of such person have been ascertained, he shall be released on his executing a bond, with or without sureties, to appear before a Magistrate if so required :

* The letter "s" and the words "and Bombay" were repealed by s. 2 (1) and Sch. A of the City of Bombay Police Act, 1902 (Bom. Act IV of 1902).

+ These words were inserted by s. 11 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923).

Provided that, if such person is not resident in British India, the bond shall be secured by a surety or sureties resident in British India.

(3) Should the true name and residence of such person not be ascertained within twenty-four hours from the time of arrest or should he fail to execute the bond, or, if so required, to furnish sufficient sureties, he shall forthwith be forwarded to the nearest Magistrate having jurisdiction.

Notes.—Arrest and detention by a police constable is justified when the accused refuses to give his name and address. 5 Bom. L. R. 597. But such detention is not legal when his name and address are known to one of two arresting police-officers. 46 M. 605=24 Cr. L. J. 599.

58. A police-officer may, for the purpose of arresting without warrant any person whom he is authorized to arrest under this Chapter pursue such person into any place in British India.

Notes.—British Government has no jurisdiction to arrest at the Gwalior Railway Station a person who has committed an offence in British India not relating to Railway administration. 1 Lah. 406=21 Cr. L. J. 303.

59* [(1) Any private person may arrest any person who in his view commits a non-bailable and cognizable offence, or any proclaimed offender, and, without unnecessary delay shall make over any person so arrested to a police-officer, or, in the absence of a police-officer, take such person or cause him to be taken in custody to the nearest police-station'.

(2) If there is reason to believe that such person comes under the provisions of section 54, a police-officer shall re-arrest him.

(3) If there is reason to believe that he has committed a non-cognizable offence, and he refuses on the demand of a police officer to give his name and residence or gives a name or residence which such officer has reason to believe to be false, he shall be dealt with under the provisions of section 57. If there is no sufficient reason to believe that he has committed any offence, he shall be at once released.

Notes.—A Chaukidar cannot properly be regarded as a Police Officer within the terms of s. 59 Criminal Procedure Code. 17 C. W. N. 978=14 Cr. L. J. 494=20 Ind. Cas. 750=41 C. 17; see also 27 C. 366; 3 A. 60. An individual is authorised to arrest for the preservation of peace. 44 M. 913. A private person can arrest only where cognizable offences or abetment of the same are committed in his presence. 11 M. 480; see also 26 Cr. L. J. 1462=7 P. L. T. 65; 1 P. L. T. 60=5 P. L. J. 129; 35 C. 361; 23 A. 266; 23 Cr. L. J. 3. The person arresting an accused under this section need not personally take such offender to the police-station. This section will be complied with if he forwards him to the police-station. Vide 23 A. 226; 29 A. 575; 11 M. 480; 8 P. L. T. 204. Persons preventing arrest will be liable if their intention was to prevent arrest or if pursuers were lawfully empowered to arrest. 64 Ind. Cas. 371=23 Cr. L. J. 3. "In his view" must not be interpreted too strictly. If one person stood at the foot of tree and receives toddy from the others at the top, theft is committed "in the view" of persons arresting them. A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 384=81 Ind. Cas. 312; see also 14 P. L. T. 464=1933 Cr. C. 1079. Amendment of s. 59 makes it impossible to raise the argument that Chaukidar not being police-officer has no power to receive custody of person arrested under s. 59 by private individual and to take him to police-station. A. I. R. 1932 Pat. 214=13 P. L. T. 321. It is doubtful whether s. 59 is the only defence to person responsible for arrest. 60 C. 955=A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 708.

60. A police-officer making an arrest without warrant shall, without unnecessary delay and subject to the provisions herein contained as to bail, take or send the person arrested before a Magistrate having jurisdiction in the case, or before the officer in charge of a police-station.

* This sub-section was substituted by s. 12 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923).

Notes.—The provision of this section is complied with when the matter is reported to a Magistrate. 5 B. H. C. R. 99.

61. No police-officer shall detain in custody a person arrested without warrant for a longer period than under all the circumstances of the case is reasonable and such period shall not, in the absence of a special order of a Magistrate under section 167, exceed twenty-four hours exclusive of the time necessary for the journey from the place of arrest to the Magistrate's Court.

Notes.—This section is not applicable to the Police of Calcutta. 52 C. 67=29 C. W. N. 300; 44 C. L. J. 134; 97 Ind. Cas. 945. The object of this section is to bring the offender before the magistrate, as soon as practicable. Vide 28 C. W. N. 490; 25 Cr. L. J. 1203; 51 C. 402; 36 C. 166; 11 M. 98. Provisions of ss. 61 and 167 must be strictly complied with. 32 P. L. R. 493=32 Cr. L. J. 913.

62. Officers in charge of police-stations, shall report to the District Magistrate, or, if he so directs, to the Sub-divisional Magistrate, the cases of all persons arrested without warrant, within the limits of their respective stations, whether such persons have been admitted to bail or otherwise.

Discharge of person apprehended.

order of a Magistrate.

63. No person who has been arrested by a police-officer shall be discharged except on his own bond, or on bail, or under the special order of a Magistrate.

Offence committed in Magistrate's presence.

64. When any offence committed in the presence of a Magistrate within the local limits of his jurisdiction, he may himself arrest or order any person to arrest the offender, and may thereupon, subject to the provisions herein contained as to bail, commit the offender to custody.

Power, on escape, to pursue and retake.

Provisions of sections 47, 48 and 49 to apply to arrest under section 66.

65. Any Magistrate may at any time arrest or direct the arrest, in his presence, within the local limits of his jurisdiction, of any person for whose arrest he is competent at the time and in the circumstances to issue a warrant.

66. If a person in lawful custody escapes or is rescued, the person from whose custody he escaped or was rescued may immediately pursue and arrest him in any place in British India.

67. The provisions 47, 48 and 49 shall apply to arrest under section 66, although the person making any such arrest is not acting under a warrant and is not a police-officer having authority to arrest.

CHAPTER VI.

OF PROCESSES TO COMPEL APPEARANCE.

A.—Summons.

68. (1) Every summons* issued by a Court under this Code, shall be in writing in duplicate, signed and sealed by the presiding officer of such Court, or by such other officer as the High Court may, from time to time, by rule direct.

(2) Such summons shall be served by a police-officer, or, subject to such rules as the Local Government may prescribe in this behalf, by an officer of the Court issuing it or other public servant.

* For forms, see Sch. V. Forms I and XXXI, infra.

(3) This section applies also to the police in the towns of Calcutta and Bombay.

Notes.—Summons issued to an assessor must be under this section. 1 C. W. N. xvi. Verbal prayer to issue summons against accused is sufficient. 33 C. W. N. 446 = 56 C. 1013. The law of service of summons in criminal cases is on the same lines as the rules for the service of a summons in a civil case. 20 Cr. L. J. 816 = 53 Ind. Cas. 720. The procedure of issuing summons for offences under the Motor Act without specifying any details is not justified by law. 29 Cr. L. J. 357. Issue of summons without giving particulars of offence is not justified. A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 207. The validity of a summons depends upon the observance of formalities mentioned in this section. 5 A. 7; see also 7 M. H. C. R. App. 43; 2 Weir 38. 1 Weir 100. A summons must be sealed. 37 M. L. J. 588 = 21 Cr. L. J. 800.

69. (1) The summons shall, if practicable, be served personally on the person summoned, by delivering or tendering to him one of the duplicates of the summons.

(2) Every person on whom a summons is so served shall, if so required by the serving officer, sign a receipt therefor on the back of the other duplicate.

(3) Service of a summons on an incorporated company or other body corporate may be effected by serving it on the secretary, local manager or other principal officer of the corporation or by registered post letter addressed to the chief officer of the corporation in British India. In such case the service shall be deemed to have been effected when the letter would arrive in ordinary course of post.

Notes.—Service of summons is effected by delivering copy of the original to the person summoned. 5 B. H. C. R. 20; 40 A. 557; 6 A. W. N. 93. A mere tender of summons is sufficient to effect service. 40 A. 577 = 19 Cr. L. J. 746. Personal service may be made either by delivery or by tender; in the later case there must be real tender of a document understood by the person to be served and who have wavered actual delivery. Person getting away from serving officer and remaining in his house is intentionally preventing service. 29 Cr. L. J. 263 = 26 A. L. J. 107. Leaving copy of summons with durwan was held insufficient service. 35 C. W. N. 868 = 33 Cr. L. J. 264.

70. Where the person summoned cannot by the exercise of due diligence be found, the summons may be served by leaving one of the duplicates, for him with some adult male member of his family, or, in a presidency-town, with his servant residing with him and the person with whom the summons is so left shall, if so required by the serving officer, sign a receipt therefor on the back of the other duplicate.

Notes.—Service of summons on the mother of the accused is not proper service. 26 Cr. L. J. 1370. A summons can be left with a servant. 2 C. L. J. 48 (note). But such service on a juror is not proper. 1889 A. W. N. 13.

71. If service in the manner mentioned in section 69 and 70 cannot by the exercise of due diligence be effected, the serving officer shall affix one of the duplicates of the summons to some conspicuous part of the house or homestead in which the person summoned ordinarily resides; and thereupon the summons shall be deemed to have been duly served.

Notes.—Service under this section can be made only when provisions laid down in it are strictly complied with. Vide 43 C. L. J. 113 = 31 C. W. N. 148; 23 Cr. L. J. 739 = 69 Ind. Cas. 627. The procedure which is provided by s. 71 cannot be made use of unless service in the manner mentioned in both ss. 69 and 70 can be effected by the exercise of due diligence. 43 C. L. J. 113 = 27 Cr. L. J. 715.

72. (1) Where the person summoned is in the active service of the Government or of a Railway Company, the Court issuing the summons shall ordinarily send it in duplicate to the head of the office in which such person is employed; and such head shall thereupon cause the summons to be served in manner provided by section 67, and shall return it to the Court under his signature with the endorsement required by that section.

(2) Such signature shall be evidence of due service.

Notes.—This procedure is to be applied only in cases of summons issued by a Court of Justice. 18 Cr. L. J. 733=40 Ind. Cas. 733. A summons to a Sub-Inspector of the Railway Police should be served through the Superintendent of the Railway Police of that district. 6 P. L. T. 215=26 Cr. L. J. 965.

73. When a Court desires that a summons issued by it shall be served at any place outside the local limits of its jurisdiction, it shall ordinarily send such summons in duplicate to a Magistrate within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the person summoned resides or is to be there served.

74. (1) When a summons issued by a Court is served outside the local limits of its jurisdiction, and in any case where the officer who has served a summons is not present at the hearing of the case, an affidavit, purporting to be made before a Magistrate, that such summons has been served and a duplicate of the summons purporting to be endorsed (in manner provided by section 69 or section 70) by the person to whom it was delivered or tendered or with whom it was left, shall be admissible in evidence, and the statements made therein shall be deemed to be correct unless and until the contrary is proved.

(2) The affidavit mentioned in this section may be attached to the duplicate of the summons and returned to the Court.

B—Warrant of Arrest.

75. (1) Every warrant of arrest issued by a Court under this Code shall be in writing signed by the presiding officer, or in the case of a Bench of Magistrates by any member of such Bench; and shall bear the seal of the Court.

(2) Every such warrant shall remain in force until it is cancelled by the Court which issued it or until it is executed.

Notes.—The seal of the Court is essential to the validity of a warrant, and its absence makes the warrant void and an arrest made in execution of such warrant is not legal. 19 C. W. N. 224=16 Cr. L. J. 336=28 Ind. Cas. 672; see also 9 B. H. C. R. 154; 18 B. 636. The warrant must also be signed. 6 M. 396; 2 P. L. J. 487=18 Cr. L. J. 526. Signing by initial is a mere irregularity. 3 P. L. J. 493; 8 A. 293; 5 C. W. N. 447; but see 23 C. 896. A signature by stamp is not sufficient. 6 M. 396. A warrant must rightly describe the accused person. 18 B. 636; see also 9 B. H. C. R. 154; 28 C. 399. The offence must be specified in the warrant. 15 W. R. 4. The name of the person, who is to execute the warrant must be mentioned in the warrant. 14 Cr. L. J. 42; 16 P. R. 1913 Cr.; 16 P. R. 1904. Resistance to a warrant not signed by presiding Magistrate is no offence. 18 Cr. L. J. 526=2 Pat. L. J. 487. It is gross negligence for a Magistrate not to sign his name in full on the warrant, but it is mere irregularity. 5 Pat. L. W. 117=19 Cr. L. J. 747. Warrant can be served even after its returnable date unless cancelled or is executed. 7 Pat. 478=29 Cr. L. J. 1007. Where complaint under s. 124A did not set out the alleged speech, but the sanction order alone contained an abstract, and the Magistrate issued non-bailable warrants and refused bail: Held, Magistrate did not direct his mind to the question of proper complaint, and order refusing bail is illegal. 30 Cr. L. J. 1129=A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 284. Where there are two magistrates at subdivisional head-quarters with residential powers in matter of taking cognizance of offences of complaints and of issue of warrants under s. 204, in the absence of one the other is presiding officer. 33 Cr. L. J. 706.

Sub-section (2).—A warrant of arrest remains in force until it is cancelled by the Court which issued it and until it is executed even though it bears a returnable date. Emperor v. Brinda. 7 Pat. 478=42 Ind. Cas. 223=A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 466.

76. (1) Any Court issuing a warrant for the arrest of any person may in its discretion direct by endorsement on the warrant that, if such person executes a bond with sufficient sureties for his attendance before the Court at a specified time and thereafter until otherwise directed by the Court, the officer to whom the warrant is directed shall take such security and shall release such person from custody,

(2) The endorsement* shall state—

(a) the number of sureties ;

(b) the amount in which they and the person for whose arrest the warrant is issued, are to be respectively bound and ;

(c) the time at which he is to attend before the Court.

(3) Whenever security is taken under this section, the officer to whom the warrant is directed shall forward the bond to the Court.
Recognizance to be forwarded.

Notes.—A warrant on which there is an endorsement for bail to be taken for the appearance of the accused on a certain date, does not lapse on the expiry of that date. 13 C. W. N. 1091. Where a technical offence is committed a bailable warrant should issue in non-bailable cases. (1911) M. W. N. 452.

77. (1) A warrant of arrest shall ordinarily be directed to one or more police-officers, and, when issued by a Presidency Magistrate shall always be so directed: but any other Court issuing such a warrant may, if its immediate execution is necessary and no police officer is immediately available, direct it to any other person or persons ; and such person or persons shall execute the same.

(2) When a warrant is directed to more officers or persons than one, it may be executed by all or by any one or more, of them.

Notes.—Sections 77 and 83 of the Criminal Procedure Code are directory and not mandatory, and a substantial compliance with their provisions is sufficient. 1 P. R. 1896 Cr. A warrant issued by the Presidency Magistrate, must always be directed to a police-officer. 8 W. R. 74. Under circumstances mentioned in this section, it may be directed to an unofficial person. 13 W. R. 27. The name and designation of the police-officer need not be mentioned. 3 P. L. J. 493=19 Cr. L. J. 747 ; 26 Cr. L. J. 845 ; 33 Cr. L. J. 706=A. I. R. 1932 Pat. 171, but see 24 Cr. L. J. 14. Unless a warrant is immediately necessary and no police is available, endorsement on the warrant in favour of a forest officer does not empower the latter to arrest. 51 M. 873=29 Cr. L. J. 541. Where warrant was addressed to "Bailiff of Court" execution by Naib Nazir without endorsement by bailiff is illegal. 22 Cr. L. J. 145=3 L. L. J. 346.

78. (1) A District Magistrate or Sub-divisional Magistrate may direct a warrant to any landholder, farmer or manager of land within his district or sub-division for the arrest or any escaped convict, proclaimed offender or person who has been accused of a non-bailable offence, and who has eluded pursuit.

(2) Such landholder, farmer or manager shall acknowledge in writing the receipt of the warrant, and shall execute it if the person for whose arrest it was issued is in, or enters on, his land or farm or the land under his charge.

* For forms see Sch. V. Form II, infra.

(3) When the person against whom such warrant is issued is arrested, he shall be made over with the warrant to the nearest police officer, who shall cause him to be taken before a Magistrate having jurisdiction in the case, unless security is taken under section 76.

79. A warrant directed to any police officer may also be executed by any other police-officer whose name is endorsed upon the warrant by the officer to whom it is directed or endorsed.

Notes.—The endorsement of a warrant must be made by the police-officer to whom it is addressed and it must be by name. 27 C. 457 ; 4 C. W. N. 85 ; see also 22 Cr. L. J. 145 ; 3 Pat. L. J. 493. As regards execution of warrants by other officers in cases of offences under special Acts, vide 10 Cr. L. J. 3 ; 37 C. 122 ; 21 Cr. L. J. 9. This section has no application to Forest Officers. Pasupattia v. Emperor, 51 M. 873=109 Ind. Cas. 365. It is immaterial whether the endorsement is an warrant or separate piece of paper. 32 Cr. L. J. 916=25 S. L. R. 117.

80. The police-officer or other person executing a warrant of arrest shall notify the substance thereof to the person to be arrested, and, if so required shall show him the warrant.

Notes.—An opportunity of reading the warrant should be given. 26 C. 748 ; see also 3 P. L. J. 493=19 Cr. L. J. 747 ; 23 C. 890 ; 10 C. 18 ; 13 Bom. L. R. 168 ; 37 C. 122. In an arrest under section 56 of the Code of Criminal Procedure this section has no application. 27 C. 220 ; 4 C. W. N. 311. It cannot be said that no arrest can be lawfully made without compliance with the provisions of section 80 Cr. Pro. Code, because a police-officer may be able to justify his action under s. 46 (2) Cr. Pro. Code. 33 C. W. N. 284=30 Cr. L. J. 703. Mention of fact of notification of warrant by police-officer for his report is not necessary. 13 P. L. T. 135=33 Cr. L. J. 706.

81. The police-officer or other person executing a warrant of arrest shall (subject to the provisions of section 76 as to security) without unnecessary delay bring the person arrested before the Court before which he is required by law to produce such person.

Where warrant may be executed. 82. A warrant of arrest may be executed at any place in British India.

83. (1) When a warrant is to be executed outside the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court issuing the same, such Court may, instead of directing such warrant to a police-officer forward the same by post or otherwise to any Magistrate or District Superintendent of Police or the Commissioner of Police in a Presidency-town within the local limits of whose jurisdiction it is to be executed.

* (2) The Magistrate or District Superintendent or Commissioner to whom such warrant is so forwarded shall endorse his name thereon and, if practicable, cause it to be executed in manner hereinbefore provided within the local limits of his jurisdiction.

Notes.—This section is applicable to warrants issued under the provisions of Act XIII of 1859. A. W. N. 1897, 220. Political agent of a Native State cannot be directed by High Court to produce a person in custody in the Native State as he is not in the vicarious custody of the said person. 27 A. L. J. 520=A. I. R. 1929 A. 347=30 Cr. L. J. 1083.

* Sub-section (2) of this section so far as it applies to the police in the Town of Bombay, has been repealed by the City of Bombay Police Act, 1902 (Bom. Act. IV of 1902)—see s. 2 (1) of that Act.

84. (1) When a warrant directed to a police-officer is to be executed beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court issuing the same, he shall ordinarily take it for endorsement either to a Magistrate or to a police-officer not below the rank of an officer in charge of a station, within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the warrant is to be executed.

(2) Such Magistrate or police-officer shall endorse his name thereon and such endorsement shall be sufficient authority to the police officer to whom the warrant is directed to execute the same within such limits, and the local police shall, if so required, assist such officer in executing such warrant.

(3) Whenever there is reason to believe that the delay occasioned by obtaining the endorsement of the Magistrate or police-officer within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the warrant is to be executed will prevent such execution, the police-officer to whom it is directed may execute the same without such endorsement in any place beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court which issued it.

(1) This section applies also to the police in the town* of Calcutta.*

† 85. When a warrant of arrest is executed outside the district in which it was issued, the person arrested shall, unless the Court which issued the warrant is within twenty miles of the place of arrest or is nearer than the Magistrate or District Superintendent of Police or the Commissioner of Police in a Presidency-town within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the arrest was made, or unless security is taken under section 76, be taken before such Magistrate or Commissioner or District Superintendent..

‡ 86. (i) Such Magistrate or District Superintendent, or Commissioner shall, if the person arrested appears to be the person intended by the Court which issued the warrant, direct his removal in custody to such Court:

Procedure on arrest of person against whom warrant issued. Procedure by Magistrate before whom person arrested is brought.

Provided that, if the offence is bailable, and such person is ready and willing to give bail to the satisfaction of such Magistrate, District Superintendent or Commissioner, or a direction has been endorsed under section 76 on the warrant and such person is ready and willing to give the security required by such direction, the Magistrate, District Superintendent or Commissioner shall take such bail or security.† as the case may be, and forward the bond to the Court which issued the warrant.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prevent a police-officer from taking security under section 76.

C.—Proclamation and Attachment.

87. (1) If any Court has reason to believe (whether after taking evidence or not) that any person against whom a warrant has been issued by it has absconded or is concealing himself so that such warrant cannot be executed, such Court may publish a written proclamation requiring him to appear at a specified place and at a specified time not less than thirty days from the date of publishing such proclamation.

* The letter "s" and the words "and Bombay" were repealed by s. 2 (1) and Sch. A of the City of Bombay Police Act, 1902 (Bom. Act IV of 1902).

† Sections 85 and 86, so far as they apply to the police in the Town of Bombay, have been repealed by the City of Bombay Police Act, 1902 (Bom. Act IV of 1902) see s. 2 (1) of that Act.

‡ See Sch. V., Form III, infra.

§ See Sch. V., Forms IV., and V infra.

(2) The proclamation shall be published as follows :—

- (a) it shall be publicly read in some conspicuous place of the town or village in which such person ordinarily resides ;
- (b) it shall be affixed to some conspicuous part of the house or homestead in which such person ordinarily resides or to some conspicuous place of such town or village ; and
- (c) a copy thereof shall be affixed to some conspicuous part of the Court-house.

(3) A statement in writing by the Court issuing the proclamation to the effect that the proclamation was duly published on a specified day shall be conclusive evidence that the requirements of this section have been complied with, and that the proclamation was published on such day.

Scope of sections 87-89.—Sections 87-89 of the Criminal Procedure Code form a complete Code by themselves and the remedies provided therein are exclusively subjected, of course, to the right of appeal or revision by the High Court. Dewa Sing v. Fazal dad, 111 Ind. Cas. 508=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 562=10 Lah. 338.

Notes—A proclamation issued under this section against an absconding person, should give thirty days' time for his appearance from the date of the proclamation. Where this is not done, the proceedings are liable to be set aside. 17 M. L. J. 438=6 Cr. L. J. 332 ; see also 27 A. 572=A. W. N. 1905, 102=2 A. L. J. 348=2 Cr. L. J. 247 ; 19 M. 3 ; 1919 P. R. 32 ; 19 W. R. 19. In proceeding under the Provisions of ss. 87 and 88 of the Criminal Procedure Code the Magistrate ought to take particular care to preserve the proclamation, and the record must be so clear as to satisfy the Court that all the legal formalities were duly observed. 14 Bom. L. R. 163=14 Ind. Cas. 757=13 Cr. L. J. 293=1 Bom. Cr. C. 104. A person against whom a warrant of arrest has been issued and who absconds, should be dealt with under the Criminal Procedure Code and not under s. 172 I. P. Code. 7 N. W. P. 302. Where the property of an absconder had been attached and sold, and had vested in a third person (the purchaser) held, that the sale could not be set aside on the ground of irregularity in the proclamation, as the property had vested in a person who was not a party to the proceedings in which the proclamation was made. 22 A. 216=A. W. N. 1900, 28. The section prescribes certain rules with regard to time and place. In respect of these matters, the section is imperative and the neglect of the rule with regard to time is no more excusable than would be the neglect of the rule requiring publication in two places. 5 M. L. J. 215. Proceedings by way of attachment must cease on death of the absconder. In the Punjab only the interest of the absconder can be attached and on his death land must be released in favour of his heirs. 26 Cr. L. J. 1148=7 L. L. J. 540. Proclamations must be published in the place where the accused resided and 30 days from date of proclamation must be allowed for appearance. 35 Ind. Cas. 974=17 Cr. L. J. 414 ; see 2 Lah. L. J. 82=21 Cr. L. J. 210. Substituted service is bad in the absence of reasonable difference under ss. 69 and 70. 6 N. L. J. 63=23 Cr. L. J. 739. If a person files petition against order issuing warrant and takes steps to get order of superior Court for remaining on bail he cannot be regarded as an absconder nor can section 87 be applied to his case. 23 Cr. L. J. 454.

88. (1) The Court issuing a proclamation under section 87 may at any time order the attachment of any property, movable or immovable, or both, belonging to the proclaimed person.

(2) Such order shall authorize the attachment of any property belonging to such person within the district in which it is made ; and it shall authorize the attachment of any property belonging to such person without such district when endorsed by the District Magistrate or Chief Presidency Magistrate within whose district such property is situate.

(3) If the property ordered to be attached is a debt or other movable property, the attachment under this section shall be made—

- (a) by seizure ; or
- (b) by the appointment of a receiver ; or

- (c) by an order in writing prohibiting the delivery of such property to the proclaimed person or to any one on his behalf ; or
- (d) by all or any two of such methods, as the Court thinks fit.
- (4) If the property ordered to be attached is immovable, the attachment under the section shall, in the case of land paying revenue to Government, be made through the Collector of the district in which the land is situate, and in all other cases —
- (e) by taking possession ; or
- (f) by the appointment of a receiver ; or
- (g) by an order in writing prohibiting the payment of rent or delivery of property to the proclaimed person or to any one on his behalf ; or
- (h) by all or any two of such methods, as the Court thinks fit.
- (5) If the property ordered to be attached consists of live-stock or is of a perishable nature the Court may, if it thinks it expedient, order immediate sale thereof and in such case the proceeds of the sale shall abide the order of the Court.
- (6) The powers, duties and liabilities of a receiver appointed under this section shall be the same as those of a receiver appointed under Chapter XXXVI of the Code of Civil Procedure*
- † [(6A) If any claim is preferred to, or objection made to the attachment of, any property attached under this section within six months from the date of such attachment, by any person other than the proclaimed person, on the ground that the claimant or objector has an interest in such property, and that such interest is not liable to attachment under this section, the claim or objection shall be inquired into, and may be allowed or disallowed in whole or in part :
Provided that any claim preferred or objection made within the period allowed by this sub-section may, in the event of the death of the claimant or objector, be continued by his legal representative].
- +[(6B.) Claims or objections under sub-section (6A) may be preferred or made in the Court by which the order of attachment is issued or, if the claim or objection is in respect of property attached under an order endorsed by a District Magistrate or Chief Presidency Magistrate in accordance with the provisions of sub-section 2, in the Court of such Magistrate].
- *[(6C) Every such claim or objection shall be inquired into by the Court in which it is preferred or made :
Provided that, if it is preferred or made in the Court of a District Magistrate or Chief Presidency Magistrate, such Magistrate may make it over for disposal to any Magistrate of the first or second class or to any Presidency Magistrate, as the case may be, subordinate to him].
- †(6D) Any person whose claim or objection has been disallowed in whole or in part by an order under sub-section (6A) may, within a period of one year from the date of such order, institute a suit to establish the right which he claims in respect of the property in dispute, but subject to the result of such suit, if any, the order shall be conclusive].
- †(6E) If the proclaimed person appears within the time specified in the proclamation, the Court shall make an order releasing the property from the attachment.
- (7) If the proclaimed person does not appear within the time specified in the proclamation, the property under attachment shall be at the disposal of Government, but it shall not be sold until the expiration of six months from the date of the attachment † [and until any claim preferred or objection made under sub-section (6A) has been disposed of under that sub-section], unless it is subject to speedy and natural decay, or the Court considers that the sale would be for the benefit of the owner, in either of which cases the Court may cause it to be sold whenever it thinks fit.

Notes.—This section is not intended to apply to an undivided member of a Hindu joint-family, for his interest cannot be seized being unascertained. 2 Weir. 43 See also 33 Cr. L. J. 622=55 M. 1041; 18 Cr. L. J. 1037=2 P. L. W. 179; but see 39 M. 831=17 Cr. L. J. 296. The attachment of property under this section is intended to enforce the attendance required by a proclamation issued under s. 87. 6 C. P. L. R. 38 Cr. To lay a foundation for the issue of a proclamation under s. 87 with an accompanying order of attachment under s. 88, it is necessary to comply strictly with the provisions of the law relating to the issue of a warrant in a case where a summons is the ordinary mode of enforcing attendance. 5 N. L. R. 125. Ss. 89 and 89 Cr. P. Code debar an absconder from suing for recovery of his property. 71 Cr. L. J. 475=1 Pat. L. T. 451; see also 25 Bom. L. R. 228=A. I. R. 1923 Bom. 198. In this section Government is more than in position of attaching decree-holder. It is like a receiver in possession. It is entitled to be made a party to a suit on mortgage of the property. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 1017. Attachment of property situate in another District, without an order being endorsed by the District Magistrate of that district is illegal. 31 Cr. L. J. 494=11 P. L. T. 402=A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 347. An order under s. 88 is a proceeding within the meaning of s. 435 and is subject to the revisional jurisdiction of the High Court. 25 Cr. L. J. 82=76 Ind. Cas. 18. The doctrine of lis pendens applies to sales through civil courts including revenue sales and sales under s. 88. 31 Bom. L. R. 345=A. I. R. 1929 Bom. 200=116 Ind. Cas. 271. It is only after attachment all the right title and interest of the absconder vest in the Government. Words "at the disposal" do not imply that from the moment of non-appearance property vest in Government. 31 Bom. L. R. 345=A. I. R. 1929 Bom. 200. Doors of house are but part of furniture and movables. A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 387. There is nothing in the language of s. 88 to restrict the meaning of the word "property" and it includes the rights and interests of persons, who, as members of an undivided family, are jointly entitled to the property of the family. 2 Weir. 43 (Foot-notes). The provisions of the Criminal Procedure Code do not bar the right of civil suit for recovery of property sold under the provisions of ss. 88 and 89 on the ground that the proclamation and sale were absolute nullities on account of material irregularities. (A. W. N. 1904, 159.)

89. If, within two years from the date of the attachment, any person whose property is or has been at the disposal of Government, under sub-section (7) of sec. 88, appears voluntarily or is apprehended and brought before the Court by whose order the property was attached or the Court to which such Court is subordinate, and proves to the satisfaction of such Court that he did not abscond or conceal himself for the purpose of avoiding execution of the warrant, and that he had not such notice of the proclamation as to enable him to attend within the time specified therein, such property, or, if the same has been sold, the nett proceeds of the sale or, if part only thereof has been sold, the nett proceeds of the sale and the residue of the property, shall, after satisfying thereout all costs incurred in consequence of the attachment, be delivered to him.

Notes.—The provisions of the Cr. Pro. Code do not bar the right of civil suit for the recovery of property sold under the provisions of ss. 88 and 89, on the ground that the proclamation and sale were absolute nullities on account of material irregularity. A. W. N. 1904, 159; see also 17 Cr. L. J. 414. Section 89 applies where validity of attachment proceedings is challenged. Applicant can show that he was not absconding and that there was no publication or only a defective one containing no date. 42 Ind. Cas. 595=18 Cr. L. J. 979=39 P. R. 1917 Cr. Applicant under s. 89 cannot contest legality of the proclamation though High Court can consider it in revision. 54 Ind. Cas. 994=21 Cr. L. J. 210. It is only the nett proceeds and not property that can be restored. 24 Cr. L. J. 573. Petition must be filed and necessary facts proved within 2 years. 8 L. L. J. 608=27 Cr. L. J. 1025. A proclaimed person can maintain suit to recover property though it has been sold without following the procedure prescribed. 10 Lah. 338=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 562. Under this section, it must be proved that the accused person had not absconded and the proof must be given within two years. 15 Bom. L. R. 75.

D.—Other Rules regarding Processes.

90. A Court may, in any case in which it is empowered by this Code to issue a summons for the appearance of any person other than a juror or assessor, issue, after recording its reasons in writing, a warrant* for his arrest—

(a) if, either before the issue of such summons, or after the issue of the same but before the time fixed for his appearance, the Court sees reason to believe that he has absconded or will not obey the summons; or

(b) if at such time he feels to appear and the summons is proved to have been duly served in time to admit of his appearing in accordance therewith and no reasonable excuse is offered for such failure.

Notes.—Summons should be issued ordinarily. Where the accused does not appear on the service of summons a warrant may be issued. But the Magistrate must record in writing the reason for issuing warrant. 51 C. 1=27 C. W. N. 857; 1918 P. L. R. 50; 38 M. 1088; 5 N. L. R. 125; 15 C. W. N. 1001; 4 B. L. R. App. 1; 14 W. R. 20. But omission of the Magistrate to record the reason for the issue of the warrant in the first instance amounted to mere irregularity and not to an illegality. 18 A. L. J. 1149=59 Ind. Cas. 415.

91. When any person for whose appearance or arrest the officer presiding in any Court is empowered to issue a summons or warrant, is present in such Court, such officer may require such person to execute a bond, with or without sureties, for his appearance in such Court.

Notes.—A bond to produce a witness may be taken from a Muktear. A. W. N. 1901, 35. Surety bond taken by Police officer for production of a person before the police is void ab initio. 25 Cr. L. J. 712. Surety's liability to produce accused to answer one charge does not extend to producing the accused to answer other charges. 25 Cr. L. J. 131=A. I. R. 1924. Lah. 622. Where sureties are affirmed, it is the duty of the Court to accept them, unless they are not proper persons. 20 A. L. J. 760=23 Cr. L. J. 494=68 Ind. Cas. 35. Magistrate may demand a bond for appearance and the accused must obey the terms of the bond and appear and answer the charge even though he is ultimately found not guilty. 17 A. L. J. 503=20 Cr. L. J. 384.

92. When any person who is bound by any bond taken under this Code to appear before a Court, does not so appear, the officer presiding in such Court may issue a warrant directing that such person be arrested and produced before him.

Notes.—This section refers to a case where a person is bound by a bond to appear in Court. 17 Cr. L. J. 132.

Provisions of this Chapter generally applicable to summonses and warrants of arrest.

93. The provisions contained in this Chapter relating to a summons and warrant, and their issue, service and execution, shall, so far as may be, apply to every summons and every warrant of arrest issued under this Code.

CHAPTER VII.

OF PROCESSES TO COMPEL THE PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS AND OTHER MOVABLE PROPERTY AND FOR THE DISCOVERY OF PERSONS WRONGFULLY CONFINED.

A.—Summons to produce.

94. (1) Whenever any Court, or in any place beyond the limits of the towns of Calcutta and Bombay, any officer in charge of a police-station, considers that the production of any document or other things is necessary or desirable for the purposes of any investigation, inquiry, trial or other proceeding under this Code by or before such Court or officer, such Court may issue a summons, or such officer, a written order, to the person in whose possession or power such document or thing is believed to be, requiring him to attend and produce it, or to produce it, at the time and place stated in the summons or order.

(2) Any person required under this section merely to produce a document or other thing shall be deemed to have complied with the requisition if he causes such document or thing to be produced instead of attending personally to produce the same.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the Indian Evidence Act, 1872,* sections 123 and 124, or to apply to a letter, postcard, telegram or other document or any parcel or thing in the custody of the Postal or Telegraph authorities.

Notes.—Inspection of an accused's books cannot be ordered. 5 Bom. L. R. 928. The Court and Magistrate are convertible terms. 39 C. 953 P. C. Documents mean relevant documents. 5 Bom. L. R. 980; 19 C. 52; 15 C. 109; 47 C. 647; 4 P. L. W. 65; but see 16 Cr. L. J. 225=36 P. R. 1914. This section contemplates the issue of a summons or warrant. 12 C. W. N. 1075; 47 C. 164. In a murder case the accused has a right to a copy of the statement made by the witnesses at the inquest. This section empowers the Magistrate to call for its production by the police. 85 Ind. Cas. 42=26 Cr. L. J. 426=20 M. L. W. 745. Discretion of the Court under s. 94 should be exercised judicially. A. I. R. 1934 Bom. 74. Production of thing can be ordered only if such thing is necessary for inquiry and trial, A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 142.

95. (1) If any document, parcel or thing in such custody is, in the opinion of any District Magistrate, Chief Presidency Magistrate, High Court or Court of Session, wanted for the purpose of any investigation, inquiry, trial or other proceedings under this Code, such Magistrate or Court may require the Postal or Telegraph authorities as the case may be to deliver such document, parcel or thing to such person as such Magistrate or Court directs.

(2) If any such document, parcel or thing is, in the opinion of any other Magistrate, or of any Commissioner of Police or District Superintendent of Police, wanted for any such purpose, he may require the Postal or Telegraph Department, as the case may be, to cause search to be made for and to detain such document, parcel or thing pending the orders of any such District Magistrate, Chief Presidency Magistrate, or Court.

B.—Search-warrants.

96. (1) Where any Court has reason to believe that a person to whom a summons or order under section 94 or a requisition under section 95, sub-section (1), has been issued, or might be addressed, will not or would not produce the document or thing as required by such summons or requisition.

or where such document or thing is not known to the Court to be in the possession of any person, or where the Court considers that the purposes of any inquiry trial or other proceeding under this Code will be served by a general search or inspection, it may issue a search warrant; and the person to whom such warrant is directed, may search or inspect in accordance therewith and the provisions hereinafter contained.

(2) Nothing herein contained shall authorize any Magistrate other than a District Magistrate or Chief Presidency Magistrate to grant a warrant to search for a document, parcel or other thing in the custody of the Postal or Telegraph authorities.

* Act I of 1872.

Notes.—The first para of this section requires as a condition precedent to the issue of a search-warrant, that the Court must have reason to believe that the person against whom the warrant is issued is not likely to produce the document or thing in his possession, as required by the summons or order under s. 91 or requisition under s. 95 (1) served upon him. 5 Bom. L. R. 1032. Under the provisions of this section, it is lawful for a Magistrate to issue a warrant for the search and production of anything before him, when he considers that such production is necessary for the purposes of investigation or inquiry under the Code. 13 M. 18=2 Weir 44; 33 C. W. N. 369. An accused may be asked to produce documents in his possession. 43 Ind. Cas. 793; 5 Ind. Cas. 17. The issue of a search-warrant on suspicion as to the nature of a person's business, and the assurance given by the police that a general search is necessary, is illegal Ghai & Co. v. Emperor A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 837; see also 18 Cr. L. J. 837=6 L.W. 287; 17 Cr. L.J. 60. Once articles are brought before the Court in execution of a search-warrant, inspection thereof may be allowed to the complainant. 33 C. W. N. 369=30 Cr. L. J. 369. Clause (3) of section 96 does not relate back to s. 94. A. I. R. 1934 Bom. 104. Search-warrant can be issued for purposes of enquiry being made or about to be made but enquiry must be under Criminal Procedure Code. A. I. R. 1934 Bom 104. In case of search by police, reasonable facilities are to be given at their bidding. L. R. 3A. 117 Cr. Search warrant can be issued where offences are disclosed as having been committed by the accused after cognizance of those offences by the Magistrate. 33 C. W. N. 369=30 Cr. L. J. 369. Search-warrants should not be issued to enable complainants to fish for evidence and should be for seizure of documents believed to exist and clearly specified in the warrant. 17 Cr. L. J. 543; see also 22 C. W. N. 719. Very great particularity is required by law where search warrants are authorized 53 C. 718=30 C. W. N. 713. An order cannot be made to further a police investigation, which may or may not result in an enquiry but the section refers to an enquiry now being made or about to be made. There is a difference between an investigation that is being made and an enquiry about to be made. 24 C. W. N. 405=21 Cr. L. J. 573. A magistrate has power to issue a search warrant for the production of copies of the infringing book for making an order under s. 10 of the Copy right Act. 47 C. 164=21 Cr. L. J. 391. On the application of an officer specially appointed to detect munition scandals, Magistrate issued a search warrant. Held that there was no enquiry and there were no materials before the Magistrate on which he could decide and that the search-warrant was illegal. 47 C. 597=24 C. W. N. 403=21 Cr. L. J. 313.

97. The Court may, if it thinks fit, specify in the warrant the particular place or part thereof to which only the search or inspection shall extend; and the person charged with the execution of warrant shall then search or inspect only the place or part so specified.

98. (1) If a District Magistrate, Sub-divisional Magistrate, Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class, upon information and after such inquiry as he thinks necessary, has reason to believe that any place is used for the deposit or sale of stolen property, or for the deposit or sale or manufacture of forged documents, false seals or counterfeit stamps or coin or instruments or materials for counterfeiting coin or stamps or for forging, or that any forged documents, false seals or counterfeit stamps or coin, or instruments or materials used for counterfeiting coin or stamp or for forging, are kept or deposited in any place, "or, if a District Magistrate, Sub-Divisional Magistrate or a Presidency Magistrate, upon information and after such inquiry as he thinks necessary, has reason to believe that any place is used for the deposit, sale, manufacture or production of any obscene object such as is referred to in section 292 of the Indian Penal Code or that any such obscene objects are kept or deposited in any place"* he may by his warrant† authorise any police-officer above the rank of a constable—

(a) to enter, with such assistance as may be required, such place, and

(b) to search the same in manner specified in the warrant, and

- (c) to take possession of any property, documents, seals, stamps or coins therein found which he reasonably suspects to be stolen, unlawfully obtained, forged, false or counterfeit, and also of any such instruments and materials "or of such obscene objects"* as aforesaid, and
 - (d) to convey such property, documents, seals, stamps, coins, instruments or materials "or of such obscene objects"* before a Magistrate, or to guard the same on the spot until the offender is taken before a Magistrate, or otherwise to dispose thereof in some place of safety, and
 - (e) to take into custody and carry before a Magistrate every person found in such place who appears to have been privy to the deposit, sale or manufacture or keeping of any such property, documents, seals, stamps, coins, instruments or materials "or of such obscene objects"* knowing or having reasonable cause to suspect the said property to have been stolen or otherwise unlawfully obtained, or the said documents, seals, stamps, coins, instruments or materials to have been forged, falsified or counterfeited, or the said instruments or materials to have been or to be intended to be used for counterfeiting coin or stamps or for forging "or the said obscene objects to have been or to be intended to be sold, let to hire, distributed, publicly exhibited, circulated, imported or exported."*
- (2) The provisions of this section with respect to—
- (a) counterfeit coin,
 - (b) coin suspected to be counterfeit, and
 - (c) instruments or materials for counterfeiting coin,
- shall, so far as they can be made applicable, apply respectively to—
- (a) pieces of metal made in contravention of the Metal Tokens Act, 1889 or brought into British India in contravention of any notification for the time being in force under section 19 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878,
 - (b) pieces of metal suspected to have been so made or to have been so brought into British India or to be intended to be issued in contravention of the former of those Acts, and
 - (c) instruments or materials for making pieces of metal in contravention of that Act.

Notes.—A search is illegal in the absence of any search warrant. 15 C. W. N. 343; 38 C. 304. But where a house is suspected to contain stolen property, it can be searched even without search warrant. 42 A. 67. A special warrant cannot be endorsed to any other police-officer of similar rank. The only person who can execute such a warrant is the officer who is named in the warrant. 53 B. 367=31 Bom. L. R. 158=30 Cr. L. J. 595.

99. When, in the execution of a search-warrant at any place beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court which issued the same, any of the things for which search is made, are found, such things, together with the list of the same prepared under the provisions hereinafter contained, shall be immediately taken before the Court issuing the warrant, unless such place is nearer to the Magistrate having jurisdiction therein than to such Court, in which case the list and things shall be immediately taken before such Magistrate; and, unless there be good cause to the contrary, such Magistrate shall make an order authorizing them to be taken to such Court.

Power to declare certain publications forfeited, and to issue search-warrants for the same.

Power to impound document, etc., produced.

104. Any Court may, if it thinks fit, impound any document or things produced before it under this Code.

Magistrate may direct search in his presence.

105. Any Magistrate may direct a search to be made in his presence of any place for the search of which he is competent to issue a search warrant.

Notes—Search can be held by the District Magistrates. 16 C. W. N. 165=16 C. C. L. J. 231 P.C.

CHAPTER VIII.*

OF SECURITY FOR KEEPING THE PEACE AND FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.

A. Security for keeping the Peace on Conviction.

106. (1) Whenever any person accused of † [any offence punishable under Chapter VIII of the Indian Penal Code other than an offence punishable under section 143, section 149, section 153A, or section 154 thereof, or of] assault or other offence involving a breach of the peace or of abetting the same,‡ or any person accused of committing criminal intimidation, is convicted of such offence before a High Court, a Court of Session or the Court of a Presidency Magistrate, a District Magistrate, a Sub-divisional Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class.

and such Court is of opinion that it is necessary to require such person to execute a bond for keeping the peace, such Court may, at the time of passing sentence on such person, order him to execute a bond§ for a sum proportionate to his means, with or without sureties, for keeping the peace during such period, not exceeding three years, as it thinks fit to fix.

(2) If the conviction is set aside on appeal or otherwise, the bond so executed shall become void.

(3) An order under this section may also be made by an Appellate Court § [including a Court hearing appeals under section 407] or by the High Court when exercising its powers of revision.

Notes.—The object of this chapter is prevention of crimes. 6 Bom. L. R. 34 ; see also 82 Ind. Cas. 154=25 Cr. L. J. 1226. Proceedings under Chapter VIII are not in the form of a trial nor is the person who is proceeded against an accused. 50 C. 985=81 Ind. Cas. 906. "Breach of peace" implies some offence against the public. 24 Cr. L. J. 491 ; 8 O. L. J. 318 ; 22 Cr. L. J. 709. An order is not illegal even though there was technically no breach of public peace by the accused. 19 Cr. L. J. 929=47 Ind. Cas. 445. The provisions of Chapter VIII are not intended to furnish but to prevent crime and the security demanded should be reasonable. 17 S. L. R. 160=26 Cr. L. J. 176. An order under this section can be passed against a person who has been convicted of house trespass if he committed it with the object of causing hurt. 7 C. W. N. 25. The object of this section is partially served even when an accused is on bail for a long time. 1924 Sind. 120=17 S. L. R. 160. The amendment of this section by the new Code has made an order under that section impossible where the only section under which the accused are convicted is a section of the Indian Penal Code read with section 149. 2 Pat. 870. The word "involve" in this section connotes the inclusion not only of a necessary but also of a probable feature, circumstances, antecedent condition or consequence. 75 Ind. Cas. 983. The expression "other offence" in the section refers ejusdem generis with the offences against public tranquility and of assault mentioned in the section. 20 L. W. 481=81 Ind. Cas. 920=47 M. 846=47 M. L. J. 232. "Offences involving a breach of the peace" refer to offences in which breach of the peace is an ingredient. 29 M. 190 ; 30 C. 93 ; 47 M. 846 ; 35 C. 315 ; 81 Ind. Cas. 920 ; (1929) M. W. N. 583 ; 51 A 504 ; 20 Cr. L. J. 543 ; 28 Cr. L. J. 88 ; 27 Cr. L. J. 1112 ;

26 Cr. L. J. 1457 ; 20 C. W. N. 197. The appellate Court can take security. 30 Bom. L. R. 373=29 Cr. L. J. 509. Where incidents forming offence under s. 379 fall under s. 106, order under section 106 can also be passed. 32 Cr. L. J. 739=12 P. L. T. 556. "Breach of peace" does not necessarily mean breach of public peace. 34 Cr. L. J. 859=1933 A. L. J. 345. Offences of assault or causing hurt involve breach of peace and order under s. 106 can be passed without separate finding as to breach of peace. 1933 A. L. J. 1345=A. I. R. 1933. All. 609. Clause dealing with 'offences involving a breach of peace' includes cases of evident intention to commit breach of peace. 59 C. 659=35 C. W. N. 1150. In an offence under the Penal Code s. 324, accused can be put on security under s. 106. 33 P. L. R. 588=33 Cr. L. J. 746. But where an accused is convicted under s. 149 I. P. Code, an order under s. 106 is illegal. 33 Cr. L. J. 576=A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 489. Merely committing offence for which person could have been convicted under s. 352 I. P. Code, is not sufficient for order under s. 106. 33 Cr. L. J. 193=8 O. W. N. 1286. What constitutes breach of peace, vide 32 Cr. L. J. 739=A. I. R. 1931 Pat. 337. It is sufficient if the judge has recorded his opinion that it is necessary to require the convicted persons to execute a bond for keeping the peace. 24 Cr. L. J. 455=44 M. L. J. 485. Proceedings under this section are to be after notice to the parties. 27 Cr. L. J. 1112. Where the Magistrate has exercised his discretion in the matter the High Court will not interfere in revision with the order. A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 472. Unless the offence necessarily involves a breach of the peace, there must be an express finding of breach of peace. 34 C. W. N. 988=A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 646 ; see also 47 M. 846=25 Cr. L. J. 1906. "Offences involving breach of the peace" does not include offences provoking or likely to provoke a breach of the peace. 34 C. W. N. 413 ; 22 Cr. L. J. 709. An order under s. 106 Cr. P. Code cannot follow a conviction under s. 504 I. P. Code. 34 C. W. N. 651. No order under section 106 can be passed upon conviction of an offence under s. 143 or s. 427 I. P. Code. 28 Cr. L. J. 140. So also if the conviction be under s. 452 I. P. Code. 27 Cr. L. J. 571 contra 26 Cr. L. J. 1462. But security can be taken where the convictions are under s. 323 or s. 325 I. P. Code. 71 Ind. Cas. 691 ; 22 Cr. L. J. 668 ; 28 Cr. L. J. 144 ; 24 Cr. L. J. 491 ; 24 Cr. L. J. 319. Wrongful confinement per se does not involve a breach of peace. 47 M. 846 ; 24 Cr. L. J. 271. The Court of appeal has powers to pass an order even if trial Court had no such powers. 27 Cr. L. J. 1112 ; 25 Cr. L. J. 657 ; 43 A. 372 ; 18 Cr. L. J. 118.

B.—Security for keeping the Peace in the other Cases and security for Good Behaviour.

107. (1) Whenever a Presidency Magistrate, District Magistrate, Sub-divisional Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class is informed that any person is likely to commit a breach of the peace or disturb the public tranquillity, or to do any wrongful act that may probably occasion a breach of the peace, or disturb the public tranquillity, the Magistrate * [if in his opinion there is sufficient ground for proceeding] may, in manner hereinafter provided, require such person to show cause why he should not be ordered to execute a bond, with or without sureties, for keeping the peace for such period not exceeding one year as the Magistrate thinks fit to fix.

(2) Proceedings shall not be taken under this section unless either the person informed against or the place where the breach of the peace or disturbance is apprehended, is within the local limits of such Magistrate's jurisdiction, and no proceedings shall be taken before any Magistrate, other than a Chief Presidency or District Magistrate, unless both the person informed against and the place where the breach of the peace or disturbance is apprehended, are within the local limits of the Magistrate's jurisdiction.

(3) When any Magistrate not empowered to proceed under sub-section (1) has reason to believe that any person is likely to commit a breach of the peace or disturb the public tranquillity or to do any wrongful act that may probably occasion a breach of the peace or disturb the public tranquillity, and that such breach of the peace or disturbance cannot be prevented otherwise than by detaining such person in custody, such Magistrate may, after recording his reasons issue a warrant for his arrest (if he is not already in custody or before the Court), and may send him before a Magistrate empowered to deal with the case, together with a copy of his reasons.

(4) A Magistrate before whom a person is sent under* [sub-section (3)] may in his discretion detain such person in custody† [pending further action by himself under this Chapter.]

Notes.—Section 203 does not apply to applications under section 107 but every Magistrate possesses inherent power of refusing an application which he finds groundless. 76 Ind. Cas. 167=25 Cr. L. J. 89. "Convicted person" includes person against whom order has been passed under s. 107. 54A. 861=33 Cr. L. J. 731. The object of s. 107 is not to punish person for his past action but it is meant to prevent his committing in future breach of public peace. 32 P. L. R. 138=32 Cr. L. J. 1207; see also 34 Cr. L. J. 478=33 P. L. R. 370. In appeal against order to give security de novo trial cannot be ordered by the Appellate Court. A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 202. Possession of disputed property can be taken under s. 107. A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 142. Finding as to apprehension of breach of peace is not open to revision. A. I. R. 1934 Oudh. 179. In civil dispute only one party should not be bound down. Where dispute is going on for some time and there is no likelihood of breach of peace, security proceedings are uncalled for. A. I. R. 1934 Pesh. 21; see also A. I. R. 1934 Oudh. 179; A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 104; 32 Cr. L. J. 1014. Persons against whom proceedings are taken under s. 107 are entitled to fact as of right. A. I. R. 1933 Rang. 165=1933 Cr. C. 764; A. I. R. 1933 Rang. 164=34 Cr. L. J. 950. Except in exceptional cases, prevention proceeding in a district should not be transferred to another district. A. I. R. 1933 Rang. 165=1933 Cr. C. 764. Proceedings under s. 107 primarily concern local authorities, High Court cannot interfere. 53 A. 148=32 Cr. L. J. 570. Application under s. 107 is not a complaint, consequently s. 436 does not apply to person discharged. 32 Cr. L. J. 570=53 A. 148. As regards essential for order under s. 107, vide A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 36=33 Cr. L. J. 915. Section 203 does not apply to proceedings under s. 107. 32 Cr. L. J. 21=31 P. L. R. 350. In a petition under this section particulars and not mere vague recitals borrowed from words of the section should be stated. 32 Cr. L. J. 1014=12 P. L. T. 535. Evidence of specific conduct on part of accused leading to inference that he was likely to commit breach of peace is necessary. Mere mental excitement without move is not sufficient, 32 Cr. L. J. 693=A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 184. Where person is doing lawful act in lawful manner, the mere fact that it injures susceptibilities of persons of different built is not sufficient to warrant proceedings under s. 107. A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 101=33 P. L. R. 370=34 Cr. L. J. 478. Residence of accused is not essential for Court's jurisdiction under s. 107. But Court has no jurisdiction under s. 107, if person informed against is not within Court's jurisdiction when proceedings are to be initiated. 54 A. 341=33 Cr. L. J. 230; see also A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 255. Section 443 does not apply to proceedings under s. 107. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 1019. Where a Magistrate on police report includes names of petitioners, he is not proceeding against them under s. 107. 36 C. W. N. 796=33 Cr. L. J. 858=59 C. 1484. In proceedings under this section attachment of property cannot be ordered. 77 Ind. Cas. 238=25 Cr. L. J. 350. An order of a Magistrate refusing to take proceedings under this section cannot be set aside by a Sessions Judge in revision. 81 Ind. Cas. 167=25 Cr. L. J. 679. The object of this section appears to be the rather administrative than judicial. 11 O. L. J. 732=81 Ind. Cas. 973=25 Cr. L. J. 1149. In proceedings started under this section the enquiry should, as nearly as practicable be in the manner prescribed for conducting a charge and recording evidence in summons cases. 1924 All. 695. This section is preventive and precautionary and not punitive. 11 C. W. N. 223; 9 C. W. N. 898; 13 C. W. N. 555; 36 C. 562; 31 C. 350. Simultaneous order under ss. 107 and 114 cannot be passed. 7 C. W. N. 142. The expression "wrongful act" means an act forbidden or declared penal by any law. 21 Cr. L. J. 453. This section does not empower a Magistrate to restrain a person from exercising lawful rights. 104 P. L. R.

* This word, figure and brackets were substituted for the words "this section" by s. 16 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923).

† These words were substituted for the words "until the completion of the inquiry hereinafter prescribed" by ibid.

1902 ; 19 W. R. 47 ; 7 A. 461. If a proceeding under this section has only reproduced the language of the section without specifying in what way and with reference to what matter a person was likely to commit a breach of the peace and in what way he was likely to do a wrongful act which might occasion a breach of the peace, it can not be supported. Amanat Ali v. Emperor, 10 Pat. L. T. 639=115 Ind. Cas. 545=30 Cr. L. J. 492. If a person is himself likely to commit a breach of the peace or if any wrongful act on his part other person do which would probably occasion a breach of the peace or disturb public tranquillity he may be dealt with under this section. 32 C. W. N. 477. Mere willingness of a person to give security is no ground for ordering him to keep peace. 23 Cr. L. J. 175 ; 18 Cr. L. J. 847 ; 16 Cr. L. J. 784 ; 25 Cr. L. J. 710 ; 21 Cr. L. J. 656 ; 21 Cr. L. J. 176 ; 21 Cr. L. J. 59 ; 20 Cr. L. J. 105. But Court can act upon solemn and free consent amounting to a plea of guilty and waiving formal evidence. 50A. 599=30 Cr. L. J. 6 ; see also 46A. 109=25 Cr. L. J. 750 ; 28 Cr. L. J. 609=25 A. L. J. 819. Where both parties put forward a claim it is not right to the down only one giving unfair advantage to the other. 8 P. L. T. 645=28 Cr. L. J. 605. Two opposite parties in a dispute cannot be dealt with in one proceeding under this section. 88 Ind. Cas. 864=26 Cr. L. J. 1248=6 P. L. T. 768. If dispute between two parties are expected to end in riot, both must be bound over, and if they are landed proprietors their personal security is sufficient. 22 Cr. L. J. 701=63 Ind. Cas. 829. But where lawful acts of one party is provoked by the unlawful acts of the other party, there is no justification for taking proceedings against both parties. 30 Cr. L. J. 981=A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 842. If disputes relate to land ss. 144 and 145 must be resorted to. If one party is admittedly in exclusive possession, order under s. 144 can be passed against the other. But if both are found to be in joint possession both can be bound under s. 107. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 228. Person against whom proceedings are taken under s. 107 cannot be refused bail if arrested under s. 114. 9 S. L. R. 158=17 Cr. L. J. 77=32 Ind. Cas. 669. A person cannot be arrested and sent under this section except when magistrate has no power to proceed under sub-section (1) and when he is satisfied that a breach of peace cannot be otherwise prevented. 5 P. L. T. 109=24 Cr. L. J. 825=74 Ind. Cas. 857. Persons bound over under s. 107 can institute suits, their bonds cannot be forfeited on that account. 21 Cr. L. J. 702=57 Ind. Cas. 942. No order of attachment of property can be made in proceedings under s. 107. 25 Cr. L. J. 350=77 Ind. Cas. 238. S. 545 does not apply to proceedings under s. 107 and costs of complaint can be ordered. 25 Cr. L. J. 476=A. I. R. 1924 All. 694=77 Ind. Cas. 828. Section 203 does not extend to proceedings under s. 107. 32 Cr. L. J. 21=127 Ind. Cas. 716. An application under section 107 is not a complaint within the meaning of section 4 (b) as applicant only fears breach of peace. 1930 A. L. J. 1475=A. I. R. 1931 All. 53. Parties may be bound under s. 107 though proceedings under s. 145 have also been taken. 24 O. C. 21=22 Cr. L. J. 384=61 Ind. Cas. 240. Forbidding people on pain of fine and shoe beating from picking fruit do not come under s. 107. 31 Cr. L. J. 20=A. I. R. 1929 Nag. 328. Right to perform puja or share in offerings is not a right to user of any land. If dispute is likely to cause breach, Magistrate may act under s. 107. 52 C. 959=42 C. L. J. 127=27 Cr. L. J. 239. As proceedings are not punitive but only preventive, clear evidence of specific acts or conduct from which inference of immediate breach could be drawn must be adduced. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 191=32 P. L. R. 138. Bond can be enforced by proceedings instituted but not completed within one year from date thereof under s. 514. 44A. 657=23 Cr. L. J. 623=20 A. L. J. 693. Abetment by instigation or conspiracy of voluntarily causing hurt is likely to cause breach of peace. 6 N. L. J. 274=23 Cr. L. J. 394. Where apprehension as to breach arose out of undisputed facts even if charge of murder failed proceedings under s. 107 could be continued. 9 O. L. J. 285=A. I. R. 1922 Oudh. 273.

Dispute about land.—Section 107 applies to a case of undisputed possession ; where possession is in dispute, proceedings under s. 145 should be instituted. 22 Cr. L. J. 574=22 C. W. N. 212. Where Magistrate apprehends breach of peace in a dispute relating to land he must act under s. 145 or proceed against both parties under s. 107. 30 Cr. L. J. 492=10 P. L. T. 639 ; see also 27 Cr. L. J. 734=28 Bom. L. R. 488. Magistrate has jurisdiction to proceed under s. 107 even though apprehended breach relates to immovable property. If there is a bona fide claim and dispute about land s. 145 is the appropriate one. 23 Cr. L. J. 123. Criminal Court can maintain possession of Court auction purchaser by proceeding under ss. 107 and 144 and by granting leave to aggrieved party to sue for possession in Civil Court. 1 Pat. L. T. 81=21 Cr. L. J. 575=57 Ind. Cas. 95. But Magistrate cannot re-open the question of possessions in an inquiry under s. 107, 144 or 145 of an offence. 3 Pat. L. T. 335=23 Cr. L. J. 321. In a dispute about land proceedings under both ss. 145 and 107 can be instituted. Where complainant is out of possession his remedies are under s. 145 or in Civil Courts. His attempting to regain possession is no ground for binding over the opposite party. 23 Cr. L. J. 567. Where there was over whelming evidence of the widow being in possession, the agent of the deceased can be notified under s. 107. 1 Pat. L. T. 681=22 Cr. L. J. 861 (Pat). Where civil suit is pending to determine rights it is not proper to last proceedings under s. 145, but only under s. 107. 24 C. W. N. 1039=22 Cr. L. J. 131. If dispute relates to land ss. 144 and 145 must be resorted to. If one party is admittedly in exclusive possession, order under s. 144 can be passed against the other. But if both are found to be in joint possession both can be bound under s. 107. A. I. R. 1922 P. 228.

Grounds of granting relief.—Order based on vague evidence which does not refer to any petitioner as being particularly hostile is not legal. 3 Lah. L. J. 480. The section intends to person who is keeping himself in the back ground and acting through a servant. 1 P. L. J. 361=18 Cr. L. J. 374=38 Ind. Cas. 758. If acts of accused show a probability of public peace being disturbed order under s. 107 is proper. 14 A. L. J. 430=17 Cr. L. J. 301. Lessee is entitled to possession of his land attached under s. 146. Even he can be proceeded against under s. 107. 18 Cr. L. J. 1007=42 Ind. Cas. 735. "Wrongful acts" is one forbidden by or declared to be such by penal statutes of India. 21 Cr. L. J. 453=56 Ind. Cas. 437. Where acts committed are of such a nature as if repeated, or similar acts would cause breach, s. 107 applies even if the acts already committed constitute specific offences. 19 Cr. L. J. 246 (Pat.)=41 Ind. Cas. 38. Magistrate can not bind over persons surely because their doing a lawful act would occasion a breach of peace. 16 A. L. J. 279=19 Cr. L. J. 437. Mere enmity between factions in the absence of evidence of imminent breaches is not sufficient ground for instituting proceedings. 10 L. L. J. 72=29 Cr. L. J. 417. Where no overt act is proved mere opinion of witnesses that breach of peace is likely is insufficient to prove that there is really any danger. 27 Cr. L. J. 1002. As section 107 appears in a chapter designed to prevent breach of peace, existence of circumstances leading to a reasonable apprehension, without proof of any overt act by the accused is enough. 1930 A. L. J. 866=A. I. R. 1930 All. 408. Threatening to beat a person because he served a particular person, and warning a second one to serve another are not such threats of violence as to invoke s. 107. 31 Cr. L. J. 20=A. I. R. 1929 Nag. 328=120 Ind. Cas. 215. Person who is himself likely to commit breach of peace, or by whose wrongful acts others would commit it, is unable to be proceeded against. 47 C. L. J. 444=32 C. W. N. 477=29 Cr. L. J. 844. Order binding over a person is bad unless there is apprehension of actual breach of peace. 8 O. L. J. 282=22 Cr. L. J. 540=62 Ind. Cas. 830. In an anticipated breach to be committed by the other side the only point is whether act which brings it about is wrongful in itself. 7 Lah. 482=27 Cr. L. J. 1063. To demand security Court must be satisfied of apprehension of breach of peace. 22 Cr. L. J. 590=8 O. L. J. 282. Where civil suit is pending proceedings under s. 107, rather than 145 are appropriate. 24 C. W. N. 1039=32 C. L. J. 255=22 Cr. L. J. 131. Where allegations are too vague Magistrate should not call upon the petitioners to show cause. 5 P. L. T. 353=25 Cr. L. J. 369. Some tangible evidence that a wrongful act is contemplated, which if committed would cause a breach, must be had before proceedings under this section. 21 Cr. L. J. 483=56 Ind. Cas. 437; see also 20 A. L. J. 694=23 Cr. L. J. 612; 2 Pat. L. T. 669=22 Cr. L. J. 745=64 Ind. Cas. 137.

Evidence.—Order under s. 107 binding down a party must be supported by more than the mere ipse dixit of a witness. Evidence of specific conduct from which breach of peace can be reasonably apprehended must be given A. I. R. 1931 Lah 184; see also 3 L. L. J. 480. Deposition need not be read over to witness in the presence of the accused. 52 C. 668=26 Cr. L. J. 1456=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 940. In proceedings under s. 107 Magistrate must base his order on evidence recorded and not also on his own knowledge of certain facts. Order must be passed only after finding that the persons are likely to commit a breach of peace. 14 A. L. J. 769=17 Cr. L. J. 784=36 Ind. Cas. 164. Before initiation of proceedings information must be given to person concerned. 21 Cr. L. J. 511 (Lah.) Proceedings under s. 107 can not be found upon hearsay evidence. 21 Cr. L. J. 560=56 Ind. Cas. 864. Where proceedings are pending under s. 107, evidence of the accused attempting to commit a breach proves their intention. 1930 A. L. J. 866=124 Ind. Cas. 706. Mere fact of dispute between Zamindars is no ground to bind over all their servants and officers.

Fresh proceedings.—The same facts in previous proceedings cannot be the object of repeated proceedings under the Cr. Pro. Code. 41 M. 244=78 Cr. L. J. 878=41 Ind. Cas. 990; see also 30 Cr. L. J. 931=A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 842. Though Magistrate can not re-open the same case, a second one can be instituted against the accused who were previously discharged, and new notices may be sent to them. 21 A. L. J. 215=24 Cr. L. J. 232=A. I. R. 1932 All. 332.

Joint-trial.—Where all accused had only one object of harassing P. W. a joint trial of all is legal. 29 Cr. L. J. 77=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 542. Court should not treat the case of all the opposite parties in a lump but should find out the persons who could definitely be said to have contemplated a breach of the peace. 1930 A. L. J. 866 A. I. R. 1930 All. 408; see also 34 C. W. N. 144; 38 A. 468=14 A. L. J. 656; 14 A. L. J. 268=17 Cr. L. J. 165.

Jurisdiction.—Magistrate cannot delegate to arbitrator power to make order under s. 107. A. I. R. 1931 Pat. 92. Magistrate cannot order a person to leave a particular place on threat of being prosecuted as a bad character. L. R. 2 A (Cr.) 165. Temporary residence gives jurisdiction. 59 Ind. Cas. 413. In proceedings under s. 107 an order for compensation cannot be passed. 23 Cr. L. J. 474=20 A. L. J. 624. If the place was within the District Magistrate's jurisdiction proceedings by him are valid even though the person informed against was out side. 20 A. L. J. 523=23 Cr. L. J. 396. Magistrate can deal with bad characters who are found within his jurisdiction though they may not be residing there. 39 A. 139=14 A. L. J. 1074=17 Cr. L. J. 390. To have jurisdiction magistrate must have some tangible evidence of a wrongful act contemplated which if committed would cause breach. 21 Cr. L. J. 453.

For doing lawful acts.—No action can be taken against a person doing a lawful act unless he is himself likely to cause breach merely because it may cause a breach of peace by others. Magistrate may take action against such person. 11 Bur. L. T. 59=18 Cr. L. J. 512; see also 42 A. 283=21 Cr. L. J. 337; 31 Cr. L. J. 75=A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 138.

Appeal.—Order directing security for good behaviour under s. 107 can be appealed against, but no appeal lies in proceedings instituted under s. 107 read with s. 118 for keeping peace. 25 Cr. L. J. 67=19 N. L. R. 160.

Revision.—Sessions Judge can make report to High Court under s. 438 against order of discharge by Magistrate under s. 107. A. I. R. 1931 All. 53=1930 A. L. J. 1475. Persons invoking revisional powers of the High Court must act with promptitude, certainly within 30 days. 27 A. L. J. 44=27 Cr. L. J. 1132. Order refusing to take action under s. 107 cannot be removed by Sessions Judge nor can he direct Magistrate to draw up proceedings. 25 Cr. L. J. 679=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 262. High Court seldom interferes with the discretion of Magistrates in the preliminary stages of proceedings based on clearly insufficient proceedings. 25 Cr. L. J. 189=28 C. W. N. 28; see also A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 463.

108. Whenever a Chief Presidency or District Magistrate, or a Presidency

Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class specially empowered by the Local Government from persons disseminating seditious matter.

Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class specially empowered by the Local Government in this behalf, has information that there is within the limits of his jurisdiction any person who, within or without such limits either orally or in writing,* [or in any other manner intentionally] disseminates or attempts to disseminate, or in anywise abets the dissemination of,—

(a) any seditious matter, that is to say, any matter the publication of which is punishable under section 124A of the Indian Penal Code, or

(b) any matter the publication of which is punishable under section 153A of the Indian Penal Code, or

* These words were inserted by s. 17, ibid.

(c) any matter concerning a Judge which amounts to criminal intimidation or defamation under the Indian Penal Code, such Magistrate, * [if in his opinion there is sufficient ground for proceeding] may (in manner hereinafter provided) require such person to show cause why he should not be ordered to execute a bond, with or without sureties, for his good behaviour for such period, not exceeding one year as the Magistrate thinks fit to fix.

No proceedings shall be taken under this section against the editor, proprietor, printer or publisher or any publication registered under, † [and edited, printed and published] in conformity with, the rules laid down in the Press and Registration of Books Act, 1867, * [with reference to any matter contained in such publication] except by the order or under the authority of the Governor-General in Council or the Local Government or some officer empowered by the Governor-General in Council in this behalf.

Notes.—This section is applicable where seditious matter has been disseminated and there is fear of the repetition of the offence. 11 Bom. L. R. 743; see also 47 B. 438=25 Bom. L. R. 97. To take proceedings under this section that ought to be evidence that if not prevented the person accused would continue to act in the way in which he had done. 25 A. L. J. 813=50 A. 854. A speech advocating establishment of Home Rule in India and attainment of it by constitutional means does not in itself amount to disseminating seditious matter. 19 Bom. L. R. 211=18 Cr. L. J. 567. It is not necessary to prove intent, it is enough if feelings of enmity are likely to be disseminated. 43 C. 591=20 C. W. N. 199; see also 30 C. W. N. 958=54 C. 59. Speech not included in the complaint cannot be relied on. 33 Cr. L. J. 831. Mere joining procession does not make one liable to be dealt with under s. 108. 32 Cr. L. J. 1172. This section is preventive and not punitive. 33 P. L. R. 911=33 Cr. L. J. 831. Amount of bond should not be excessive and should be fixed with regard to circumstances. Ibid; see also A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 236. Order passed by the lower court cannot be interfered with in revision ordinarily. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 736. "Disseminates or attempts to disseminate" refers not to number of acts performed but whether evidence showed indication of repetition of offence was probable. 33 Cr. L. J. 711=13 P. L. T. 275=A. I. R. 1932 Pat. 213. Government can remand person after releasing him. 33 Cr. L. J. 831=33 P. L. R. 911. Where accused is taking part in activities of seditious character disseminating seditious matter and organizing breach for such object, mere doing of such breach is no ground for invalidating an order under s. 108. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 236. No proceedings can be started on the isolated speech. A. I. R. 1934 Oudh. 70.

Security for good behaviour from vagrants and suspected persons.

109. Whenever a Presidency Magistrate, District Magistrate, Sub-divisional Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class receives information—

(a) that any person is taking precautions to conceal his presence within the local limits of such Magistrate's jurisdiction, and that there is reason to believe that such person is taking such precautions with a view to committing any offence, or

(b) that there is within such limits a person who has no ostensible means of subsistence, or who cannot give a satisfactory account of himself, such Magistrate may, in manner hereinafter provided, require such person to show cause why he should not be ordered to execute a bond, with sureties, for his good behaviour for such period, not exceeding one year, as the Magistrate thinks fit to fix.

* These words were inserted by s. 17 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923).

† These words were substituted for the words "or printed or published" by s. 17 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923).

Notes.—As sections 109 and 110 have the same object, an order under section 110 is not valid during the continuance of an order under section 109. A security order should be in an amount which the accused may be reasonably expected to be able to furnish. L. B. R. (1872-1892) 422. There must be separate proceedings in security cases against each accused person. L. B. R. (1872-1892) 421. The fact that a man does no work, does not necessarily mean, what the law requires, that he has no ostensible means of subsistence. 5 C. W. N. 28. "Satisfactory account" means satisfactory in accordance with the known facts, consistent with the surrounding circumstances. 49 A. 844=25 A. L. J. 679. Clause (a) refers to a continuous act and does not apply to a case of a momentary effort at concealment to avoid detection or arrest. 41 C. L. J. 142=26 Cr. L. J. 842. Concealing presence cannot be inferred from refusal to give correct name. 21 A. L. J. 847=25 Cr. L. J. 950. The object of this section is to enable Magistrates to take action against suspicious strangers living within their jurisdiction. 30 C. W. N. 380=53 C. 345=43 C. L. J. 202. "Gives a satisfactory account of himself" is akin to "who has no ostensible means of subsistence" and its meaning cannot be extended. 50 A. 909=26 A. L. J. 1257=30 Cr. L. J. 145. According to section 121 the commission or attempt to commit or abetment of any offence punishable with imprisonment is a breach of bond taken under s. 109 or s. 110. 31 Cr. L. J. 130=120 Ind. Cas. 606. Concealing presence in part of the jurisdiction of a Magistrate receiving the information is equivalent to concealing presence within the whole jurisdiction and such Magistrate can therefore demand security. 50 A. 909=26 A. 110. Whenever a Presidency Magistrate, District Magistrate, or Sub-divisional Magistrate or a magistrate of the first class specially empowered in this behalf by the Local Government receives information that any person when the local limits of his jurisdiction—

- (a) is by habit a robber, house-breaker, *thief, +[or forger], or

‡ This clause was substituted for the original clause (d) by ibid.

(e) habitually commits, or attempts to commit, or abets the commission of, offences involving a breach of the peace, or

(f) is so desperate and dangerous as to render his being at large without security hazardous to the community, such Magistrate may, in manner hereinafter provided, require such person to show cause why he should not be ordered to execute a bond, with sureties, for his good behaviour for such period, not exceeding three years, as the Magistrate thinks fit to fix.

Notes.—The word “habit” means persistence in doing an act, a fact which is capable of proof by adducing evidence of the commission of a number of similar acts. ‘Habitually’ must be taken to mean repeatedly or persistently. 25 Ind. 111. [Proviso as to European vagrants] Omitted by s. 8 of Act XII of 1923.

112. When a Magistrate acting under section 107, section 108, section 109 or section 110 deems it necessary to require any person to show cause under such section, he shall make an order in writing, setting forth the substance of the information received, the amount of the bond to be executed, the term for which it is to be in force, and the number, character and class of sureties (if any) required.

Notes.—It is not open to a Magistrate to reject sureties as unfit because they do not comply with certain arbitrary conditions which were not included in the order under this section. 89 Ind. Cas. 154. An order not setting forth the substance of the information received about the petitioner is illegal. 10 Lah. 155=117 Ind. Cas. 807. "Substance of information" means such information as would enable party to understand under what clause of s. 110 he is charged. 33 C. W. N. 852; see also 26 Cr. L. J. 1398; 43 M. 450=21 Cr. L. The object of this section is to prevent future offences and not to punish past one. 25 Cr. L. J. 1226=18 S. L. R. 238. Sufficient details regarding the charges should be given to enable the accused to prepare for his defence. 26 Cr. L. J. 673=47 M. L. J. 689. Magistrate does not act judicially until order under s. 112 is passed. Discretion to issue notice under s. 112 is absolute. 34 Cr. L. J. 42=54 A. 1036. Magistrate can call report from police before issuing notice. Ibid. Where two persons are reported to be members of same gang of bad characters, joint trial is legal. 34 Cr. L. J. 793. When order has been communicated, period cannot be altered. 39 Cr. L. J. 919=A. I. R. 1933 Sind. 8.

Procedure in respect of person present in Court.

113. If the person in respect of whom such order is made is present in Court, it shall be read over to him or, if he so desires, the substance thereof shall be explained to him.

Notes.—A Magistrate may initiate proceedings even in cases of person illegally arrested. 12 Cr. L. J. 533.

Summons or warrant in case of person not so present.

114. If such person is not present in Court, the Magistrate shall issue a summons requiring him to appear, or, when such person is in custody, a warrant directing the officer in whose custody he is, to bring him before the Court;

Provided that whenever it appears to such Magistrate, upon the report of a police-officer or upon other information (the substance of which report or information shall be recorded by the Magistrate), that there is reason to fear the commission of a breach of the peace, and that such breach of the peace cannot be prevented otherwise than by the immediate arrest of such person, the Magistrate may at any time issue a warrant for his arrest.

Notes.—An ex parte order cannot be passed. 1 C. L. R. 48. The proviso does not give power to a Magistrate to re-arrest persons who had been already discharged

This section is not limited to arrest within jurisdiction. 46 C. 215=23 C. W. N. 193.

115. Every summons or warrant issued under section 114 shall be accompanied by a copy of the order made under section 112, and such copy shall be delivered by the officer serving or executing such summons or warrant to the person served with, or arrested under, the same.

Copy of order under section 112 to accompany summons or warrant.

116. The Magistrate may, if he sees sufficient cause, dispense with the personal attendance of any person called upon to show cause why he should not be ordered to execute a bond for keeping the peace, and may permit him to appear by a pleader.

Power to dispense with personal attendance.

Notes.—The Code makes a marked distinction between bonds for keeping the peace and bonds for good behaviour and this section is limited to the former. 2 Weir 54.

117. (1) When an order under section 112 has been read or explained under section 103 to a person present in Court, or when any person appears or is brought before a Magistrate in compliance with, or in execution of, a summons or warrant issued under section 114, the Magistrate shall proceed to inquire into the truth of the information upon which action has been taken, and to take such further evidence as may appear necessary.

Inquiry as to truth of information.

(2) Such inquiry shall be made, as nearly as may be practicable where the order requires security for keeping the peace, in the manner hereinafter prescribed for conducting trials and recording evidence in summons-cases ; and where the order requires security for good behaviour, in the manner hereinafter prescribed for conducting trials and recording evidence in warrant-cases, except that no charge need be framed.

*(3) Pending the completion of the inquiry under sub-section (1) the Magistrate, if he considers that immediate measures are necessary for the prevention of a breach of the peace or disturbance of the public tranquillity or the commission of any offence or for the public safety, may, for reasons to be recorded in writing, direct the person, in respect of whom the order under section 112 has been made, to execute a bond, with or without sureties, for keeping the peace or maintaining good behaviour until the conclusion of the inquiry, and may detain him in custody until such bond is executed or, in default of execution, until the inquiry is concluded :

Provided that—

- (a) no person against whom proceedings are not being taken under section 108, section 109, or section 110, shall be directed to execute a bond for maintaining good behaviour, and
- (b) the conditions of such bond, whether as to the amount thereof or as to the provision of sureties or the number thereof or the pecuniary extent of their liability, shall be more onerous than those specified in the order under section 112 ;]

*This sub-section was inserted by s. 11 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923).

* [(4)] For the purposes of this section the fact that a person is an habitual offender [or is so desperate or dangerous as to render his being at large without security hazardous to the community] may be proved by evidence of general repute or otherwise.

* [(5)] Where two or more persons have been associated together in the matter under inquiry, they may be dealt with in the same or separate inquiries as the Magistrate shall think just.

Notes.—The evidence of a mere suspicion of a person having taken part in certain criminal offences is not evidence of general repute. 5 Pat. L. T. 129=2 Pat. L. R. 79=25 Cr. L. J. 35=75 Ind. Cas. 723. Under this section a Magistrate is bound to enquire into the truth of the information, in the manner prescribed for conducting trials and recording evidence in warrant cases, though the accused may undertake to give security. 1 U. Where persons are alleged to be members of association committing thefts, cases of all such persons can be dealt with in one enquiry under s. 117. A. I. R. 1934 Rang. 121. Section 117 requires the whole procedure of a summons or warrant case respectively to be followed. 43 M. 511=21 Cr. L. J. 402=38 M. L. J. 370. The law however allows joint inquiries under s. 117, though there is the danger of one accused being prejudiced by evidence against another. 20 Cr. L. J. 750=53 Ind. Cas. 158. All members of secret society for spreading terrorist activities can be proceeded against at same time under s. 110 (f). 1933 P. L. J. 777=A. I. R. 1933 All. 676. R. 1934 All. 735.

118. (1) If, upon such inquiry, it is proved that it is necessary for keeping the peace or maintaining good behaviour, as the case may be that the person in respect of whom the inquiry is made should execute a bond, with or without sureties, the Magistrate shall make an order accordingly:

first, that no person shall be ordered to give security of a nature different from, or of an amount larger than, or for a period longer than, that specified in the order made under section 112:

secondly, that the amount of every bond shall be fixed with due regard to the circumstances of the case and shall not be excessive:

thirdly, that, when the person in respect of whom the inquiry is made is a minor, the bond shall be executed only by his sureties.

Notes.—It is not competent to a Magistrate who has passed an order under this section to delegate to another the duty of inquiry into the sufficiency of the security tendered, but should make an inquiry himself. 25 Cr. L. J. 91=76 Ind. Cas. 27. An order under this section clearly does not amount to a conviction. L. B. R. 1872—1892, 490. The order should show that the person is likely to commit a breach of the peace. 7 C. W. N. 32. A report of a Police-officer and the evidence given by the same officer are not sufficient to justify an order binding down a person to keep the peace. A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 504. Amount of bond should not be excessive and should be fixed with due regard to circumstances. 33 P. L. R. 911=A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 559. A person cannot be bound over on the ground that he may commit breach of peace on the happening of certain event. 1931 M. W. N. 42. A proceeding under s. 118 is not a trial but an enquiry through section 117 applies to such proceeding. 11 P. L. T. 261=9 Pat. 131. Order under s. 118 is not a conviction or acquittal. 26 A. L. 119. If, on an inquiry under section 117, it is not proved that it is necessary for keeping the peace or maintaining good behaviour, as the case may be, that the person in respect of whom the inquiry is made, should execute a bond, the Magistrate shall make an entry on the record to that effect, and if such person is in custody only for the purposes of the inquiry, shall release him, or, if such person is not in custody, shall discharge him.

Notes.—The “discharge” of section 119 is merely a permission to depart. 33 M. 85; see also 6 C. W. N. 163; 15 Cr. L. J. 531; 24 Ind. Cas. 843. Discharge under s. 119 is discharge when full enquiry is made and not as contemplated by s. 436 when person is discharged before completion of trial. 34 Cr. L. J. 519=29 N. L. R. 201. Person discharged under this section is not accused within the meaning of s. 437 and District Magistrate cannot order further enquiry. 31 P. L. R. 350=32 Cr. L. J. 21.

C.—Proceedings in all Cases subsequent to order to furnish Security.

120. (1) If any person in respect of whom an order requiring security is made under section 106 or section 118, is, at the time such order is made, sentenced to, or undergoing a sentence of, imprisonment, the period for which security is required shall commence on the expiration of such sentence.

(2) In other cases such period shall commence on the date of such order unless the Magistrate, for sufficient reasons, fixes a later date.

Notes.—The Magistrate has power to postpone the date from which the security should take effect. 24 A. L. J. 327=92 Ind. Cas. 889. The period of security is to be calculated from the date of final order and not from date of preliminary order. 29 Cr. L. J. 77.

121. The bond to be executed by any such person shall bind him to keep the peace or to be of good behaviour, as the case may be, and in the latter case the commission or attempt to commit, or the abatement of, any offence punishable with imprisonment, wherever it may be committed, is a breach of the bond.

Notes.—This section is explicit and so far as bonds for good behaviour are concerned, is exhaustive, though it might not be so as regards bonds for keeping the peace. 5 P. R. 1910 Cr.=169 P. L. R. 1910. The contention that the provision of this section is not exhaustive cannot be supported. 50 A. 666. This section makes no reservation, but lays down that a breach of the bond is committed as soon as a person bound over commits any offence punishable with imprisonment. 50 A. 666. Facts of accused again found in suspicious circumstances without means of livelihood or unable to give satisfactory explanation of himself does not result in forfeiture of bond. 1932 A. L. CHAPTER X.

PUBLIC NUISANCES.

[133† (1) Whenever a District Magistrate, a Sub-divisional Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class considers on receiving a police-report or other information and on taking such evidence (if any) as he thinks fit, that any unlawful obstruction or nuisance should be removed from any way, river or channel which is or may be lawfully used by the public, or from any public place, or that the conduct of any trade or occupation, or the keeping of any goods or merchandise, is injurious to the health or physical comfort of the community, and that in consequence such trade or occupation should be prohibited or regulated or such goods or merchandise should be removed or the keeping thereof regulated, or that the construction of any building, or the disposal of any substance as likely to occasion conflagration or explosion, should be prevented or stopped, or that any building, tent or structure, or any tree is in such a condition that it is a likely to fall and thereby cause injury to persons living or carrying on business in the neighbourhood or passing by, and that in consequence the removal, repair or support of such building, tent or structure, or the removal or support of such tree, is necessary, or that any tank, well or excavation adjacent to any such way or public place should be fenced in such manner as to prevent danger arising to the public, or that any dangerous animal should be destroyed confined or otherwise disposed of, such Magistrate may make a conditional order, requiring the person causing such obstruction or nuisance, or carrying on such trade or occupation, or keeping any such goods or merchandise, or owning, possessing or controlling such building, tent, structure, substance, tank, well or excavation, or owning or possessing such animal or tree, within a time to be fixed in the order.

to remove such obstruction or nuisance ; or to desist from carrying on, or to remove or regulate in such manner as may be directed, such trade or occupation ; or to remove such goods or merchandise, or to regulate the keeping thereof in such manner as may be directed ; or to prevent or stop the erection of, or to remove, repair or support, such building, tent or structure ; or to remove or support such tree ; or to alter the disposal of such substance ; or to fence such tank, well or excavation, as the case may be ; or to destroy, confine or dispose of such dangerous animal in the manner provided in the said order ; or, if he objects so to do, to appear before himself or some other Magistrate of the first or second class, at a time and place to be fixed by the order, and move to have the order set aside or modified in the manner hereinafter provided.

* This proviso was added by Act XXVIII of 1920.

(2) No order duly made by a Magistrate under this section shall be called in question in any Civil Court.

Explanation.—A public place includes also property belonging to the state, camping grounds and grounds left unoccupied for sanitary or recreative purposes.]

Notes.—This section deals with the condition of things at the time when the inquiry is held. 22 A. L. J. 436=1924 All. 667. It is open to a Magistrate under this section, to order the removal of a bund but he cannot order its reconstruction after its removal. 40 C. L. J. 597. A Magistrate cannot make an order under this section, absolute without recording evidence and simply on the basis of local inspection made by him. 49 A. 475=25 A. L. J. 377=28 Cr. L. J. 291=100 Ind. Cas. 371. Where a Magistrate appointed a jury the nominees of the two parties with a foreman appointed by himself in proceedings under this section, the jury is not lawfully constituted. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 1036. Community means same as neighbour or public. 53 A. 706=33 Cr. L. J. 331. This section deals only with occupations or trade which are injurious to health and has nothing whatever to do with harmless trade. Where two rival steamers vied with each other in attracting passengers, the section does not apply. 35 C. W. N. 118=A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 757=129 Ind. Cas. 106. Under this section a license which is injurious to the physical comfort of the community is a nuisance. 32 C. L. J. 42=21 Cr. L. J. 669. Magistrate has jurisdiction to regulate manner of business if injurious to health of community. But Magistrate should not generally interfere where Municipality has licensed the same. 1932 A.L.J. 49=54 A. 359=33 Cr. L. J. 524 ; see also 22 Cr. L. J. 582=62 Ind. Cas. 822. Sub-Section (1) para 2 gives ample power to prohibit discharge of an effluent from a factory into a river which might be injurious to health. But pollution must be proved by scientific and convincing evidence. 8 P. L. T. 302=28 Cr. L. J. 317. Construction of a latrine on one's own land is not a nuisance. But there may be a nuisance in the way in which it is used. 26 A. L. J. 86=29 Cr. L. J. 233=A. I. R. 1928 All. 128. Encroachment of public way is nuisance by itself without proof of obstruction of way. Question of possession is relevant to decide whether encroachment was bona fide. 6 Pat. 428=28 Cr. L. J. 910=8 P. L. T. 452. Where public right of way is denied, the Court must first proceed under s. 139 A. 33 Cr. L. J. 618=1932 A. L. J. 339 ; see also 1933 Cr. Cas. 987=A. I. R. 1933 All. 615. It is not incumbent on Magistrate to make an inquiry first as to whether there has been encroachment on public road or not. It is after both parties appear before him that he has to make the enquiry. 32 Cr. L. J. 565=1930 A. L. J. 1335. Person raising his low land and causing overflow of red water into other lands cannot be proceeded against under s. 133. 34 Cr. L. J. 679=A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 150. Where street is not included in municipal jama bandi prima facie road is not public. A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 267=1933 Cr. C. 1001. Where Magistrate passes order without recording evidence or listening to objections while accused is answering notice to show cause under s. 133, such procedure is improper. 8 O. W. N. 651=32 Cr. L. J. 1165. Under this section magistrate should not decide intricate question of title. 33 Cr. L. J. 809=7 Luck. 583. This section is not intended for long standing obstructions but for an unlawful obstruction lately built in a public place. 31 Cr. L. J. 167=A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 361 ; see also 27 Cr. 27=24 A. L. J. 112. Section 133 deals with only public nuisances and not with private nuisances. So an application for removal of obstruction of a private path way does not lie. 25 Cr. L. J. 1118=11 O. L. J. 659. Danger must exist at the time of injury and not at future indefinite time. 2 A. L. J. 436=26 Cr.

L. J. 104. This section only empowers removal of obstruction and not re-construction of obstruction removed under the section. 40 C. L. J. 597=26 Cr. L. J. 517; see also 51 A. 489=1929 A. L. J. 177=30 Cr. L. J. 561. Section 133 clearly contemplates that in suitable cases the order conditionally made, may be modified. 23 A. L. J. 43=26 Cr. L. J. 731=86 Ind. Cas. 219. There is nothing in law to prevent a Magistrate drawing up fresh proceedings under s. 133 based on proper materials. 34 C. W. N. 957=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 2. Section 133 is not intended to be applicable to a case when that is a bona fide dispute which should be left to be determined by a Civil Court. 22 Cr. L. J. 700 (Lah.)=63 Ind. Cas. 828. Moreover the nuisance must have been committed in a public place. 20 Cr. L. J. 566=51 Ind. Cas. 844. The mere throwing of rubbish on vacant land between two persons is not sufficient to justify proceedings under s. 133. 24 O. C. 327=23 Cr. L. J. 57. Occupation as to the mode of carrying on the manufacture of bricks and not to the occupation itself is not sufficient to bring the case within the section, as it refers only to prevent nuisance. 21 Cr. L. J. 462=1 Lah. 163=56 Ind. Cas. 446. Chapter X aims at enabling the Magistrate to make speedy orders in cases of public nuisance and for this reason, the jurisdiction of Civil Courts is barred. 23 Bom. L. R. 844=22 Cr. L. J. 605=62 Ind. Cas. 877. There is nothing in law to prevent a Magistrate drawing up fresh proceedings under s. 133 based on proper materials. 34 C. W. N. 957=128 Ind. Cas. 810.

Obstruction.—Chabutra obstructing public way is a nuisance itself. A. I. R. 1930 All. 751=128 Ind. Cas. 604. Obstruction must be of public use of a public river, way or channel. 50 A. 871=26 A. L. J. 1285=29 Cr. L. J. 661. Railway land is not necessarily a public place. 4 P. L. T. 402=24 Cr. L. J. 855. An order directing the removal of a dam constructed across a public river, forming an unlawful obstruction to the river course and causing damage to the lower riparian owners is justified. 6 O. L. J. 916=21 Cr. L. J. 55. In considering whether an encroachment is unlawful obstruction, the width of the road and the normal traffic are to be considered. 22 A. L. J. 436=26 Cr. L. J. 104.

Jury.—Before referring the matter to jury magistrate has to see whether the claim is made in good faith. 24 Cr. L. J. 457=4 Lah. 224=5 L. L. J. 420=A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 525; see also 12 Cr. L. J. 459; 26 P. L. J. 67=18 Cr. L. J. 452. Trial by a jury of three instead of five is not legal. 22 Cr. L. J. 511=62 Ind. Cas. 338. Report of jurors is illegal if only 4 out of 5 were present at the investigation. Magistrate should begin with a fresh jury. 24 C. W. N. 928=31 C. L. J. 377. A Magistrate should not accept only a part of the verdict of the jury and base his judgments thereon. 40 C. L. J. 597=26 Cr. L. J. 517. Irregularity in appointment of jury is not in itself a ground to set aside proceeding. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 676. Where inquiry is under s. 130 A, still enquiry by jury under s. 135 can be claimed. 34 Cr. L. J. 532=56 C. L. J. 249.

Bona fide claim.—Magistrate can take action even where a bona fide right is raised by defendant. 50 A. 871=26 A. L. J. 1285=29 Cr. L. J. 661; see also 45 A. 656=21 A. L. J. 529=24 Cr. L. J. 817; 28 C. L. J. 211=19 Cr. L. J. 947. Where Magistrate finds that the claim is bound on substantial grounds he has no jurisdiction to refer party to a Civil Court to establish his right. 24 C. W. N. 247=21 Cr. L. J. 87=54 Ind. Cas. 487; see also 23 C. W. N. 774=20 Cr. L. J. 752. Where there is bona fide question as to public nature of the object of dispute the question should be left to a Civil Court for adjudication. But whether there is a bona fide question is for the Magistrate to decide. 24 Cr. L. J. 690=A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 418; see also 22 Cr. L. J. 200=63 Ind. Cas. 818; 9 P. L. T. 587=29 Cr. L. J. 422; 4 Pat. 783=7 P. L. T. 136=27 Cr. L. J. 9; 22 Cr. L. J. 577=62 Ind. Cas. 817; 49 C. 682=26 C. W. N. 442=23 Cr. L. J. 59; 22 Cr. L. J. 351=61 Ind. Cas. 175. The existence of a genuine dispute as to title is a sufficient ground for holding that the conditional order is not proper. 24 Cr. L. J. 635=73 Ind. Cas. 523.

Procedure.—Evidence must be taken for an order under s. 133. 5 Lah. L. J. 81. It is not incumbent on Magistrate to hold an enquiry first as to whether there has been encroachment on public road or not. 1930 A. L. J. 1335=1930 Cr. C. 417. Order without opportunity being given to one party to establish claim, while other was asked to establish denial of right cannot stand. 31 C. W. N. 963=28 Cr. L. J. 859; see also 33 C. W. N. 201; 27 Cr. L. J. 1254; 25 Cr. L. J. 266; 24 Cr. L. J. 615; 8 O. W. N. 651. Magistrate proceeding under s. 133 must proceed in conformity with the rule laid down in Chapter 10. 9 L. L. J. 522=29 Cr. L. J. 530. Where notice is served and accused appears, Magistrate must take evidence of both sides. 24 O. C. 267=22 Cr. L. J. 765. Magistrate cannot make conditional order absolute without taking evidence. 23 Cr. L. J. 250=9 O. L. J. 64 ; see also 47 B. 89=23 Cr. L. J. 587.

134. (1) The order shall, if practicable, be served on the person Service or notification of against whom it is made, in manner herein provided for service of a summons.

(2) If such order cannot be so served, it shall be notified by proclamation, published in such manner as the Local Government may by rule direct, and a copy thereof shall be stuck up at such place or places as may be fittest for conveying the information to such person.

Notes.—Omission to follow the direction as contained in this section is a mere irregularity. 12 M. 475 ; 16 C. 9 ; 3 W. R. Cr. 4. If service of notice of conditional order under s. 133 is effected in the manner provided by s. 71 regardless of s. 69 or s. 70, service of notice is defective. 43 C. L. J. 113=27 Cr. L. J. 715=31 C. W. N. 148. When order is communicated to those concerned, the method of service is immaterial. "Person" includes any company or association or body of persons. 24 Cr. L. J. 457=4 Lah. 224.

Person to whom order is addressed to obey or show cause or claim jury. 135. The person against whom such order is made shall—

(a) perform, within the time *[and in the manner] specified in the order, the act directed thereby ; or

(b) appear in accordance with such order and either show cause against the same, or apply to the Magistrate by whom it was made to appoint a Jury to try whether the same is reasonable and proper.

Notes.—Where a party shows cause an application for jury is not maintainable. 13 C. W. N. 367. In case of encroachment of public road under control of District Board, member of District Board nominated by District Board is not unsuitable person to serve the jury. 32 Cr. L. J. 565 ; 1930 A. L. J. 1335.

136. If such person does not perform such act or appear and show cause or apply for the appointment of a jury as required by section 135, he shall be liable to the penalty prescribed in that behalf in section 188 of the Indian Penal Code, and the order shall be made absolute.

Notes.—An order absolute is passed when a person does not appear either to show cause or to apply for jury. 12 M. 475 ; 20 A. 501. A magistrate might set aside an order passed under s. 136 ex parte on the ground that the opposite party was able to attend on the day fixed. Magistrate must proceed to record evidence as provided by s. 137. 19 Cr. L. J. 214=4 Pat L. W. 50.

Procedure where he appears to show cause. 137. (1) If he appears and shows cause against the order, the Magistrate shall take evidence in the matter as in a summons-case,

(2) If the Magistrate is satisfied that the order is not reasonable and proper, no further proceedings shall be taken in the case.

(3) If the Magistrate is not so satisfied, the order shall be made absolute.

Notes.—The provisions of section 137 (1) are imperative and the failure of the Magistrates to follow the same vitiates the entire proceedings. 49 A. 475=25 A. L. J. 377 ; see also 281=9=49 A 270 ; 25 C. L. J. 349=18 Cr. L. J. 738 ; 20 Cr. L. J. 217. The failure to follow procedure in sub-section (1) vitiates the order and is not mere irregularity. 49A. 475=28 Cr. L. J. 291 ; see also 11 Lah. 247=31 P. L. R. 503 ; 28 Cr. L. J. 510 ; 28 Cr. L. J. 670. When accused first appears in Court pursuant to the notice, Magistrate has to first ask him whether he denied the existence of the right. 57 C. 368=A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 486. Order based on tashildar's report is not valid as section requires that Court should itself go into the evidence and give a judicial decision. 20 A. L. J. 657=27 Cr. L. J. 864. Magistrate has to hear evidence in support of the order before calling a defence 47 A. 471=26 Cr. L. J. 905; see also 4 P. L. T. 402=24 Cr. L. J. 855. A Magistrate has no power to refer a dispute under s. 133 to Arbitrator. 2 P. L. T. 6=22 Cr. L. J. 327. Where accused appears and protests, Magistrate should proceed under s. 137 as if it were a summons case. 25 Cr. L. J. 266=20 A. L. J. 692; 32 P. R. Cr. 1917=18 Cr. L. J. 888; A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 145; A. R. 1934, Pat 316. But where Magistrate finds that there is no reliable evidence in support of denial, Magistrate must proceed under s. 137. A. I. R. 1934 All. 131. Magistrate should stay proceedings only if there is some reliable evidence in support of denial. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 145.

Procedure where he claims under section 135 to appoint a jury, the Magistrate shall—

- (a) forthwith appoint a jury* consisting of an uneven number of persons not less than five, of whom the foreman and one-half of the remaining members shall be nominated by such Magistrate, and the other members by the applicant;
 - (b) summons such foreman and members to attend at such place and time as the Magistrate thinks fit;
 - (c) fix a time within which they are to return their verdict.
- (2) the time so fixed may, for good cause shown, be extended by the Magistrate.

Notes.—This section is imperative in its terms. 13 C. W. N. 367. Both Magistrate and party showing cause must nominate jury. 22 Cr. L. J. 577=62 Ind. Cas. 817. The word "forthwith" merely means as soon as he reasonably can. 24 Cr. L. J. 457=4 Lah. 224=5 L. L. J. 420. Where the majority of jurors refused to return verdict Magistrate can discharge them and appoint fresh jury. 44 A. 575 20 A. L. J. 472=23 Cr. L. J. 276. Error in nomination of jury is an irregularity, which goes to the root of the proceedings. It is doubtful whether it can be cured by s. 537. 31 Cr. L. J. 53=A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 199. Pending civil suit does not bar continuance of proceedings under s. 138. 56 C. L. J. 249=34 Cr. L. J. 532. In case of encroachment on public road under control of District Board, member of District Board is not unsuitable person to serve on jury. 1930 A. L. J. 1335. Magistrate must exercise his discretion in selecting the jury and must not merely accept the names, suggested by the complainant. 31 Bom. L. R. 74=30 Cr. L. J. 785. When nominees of two parties are appointed as jury and only foreman is appointed by Magistrate, jury is not legally constituted. 28 Cr. L. J. 1036=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 184=106 Ind. Cas. 220.

139. (1) If the jury or a majority of the jurors find that the order of the Magistrate is reasonable and proper as originally made, or subject to a modification which the Magistrate accepts, the Magistrate shall make the order absolute, subject to such modification (if any).

(2) In other cases no further proceedings shall be taken under this Chapter.

Notes.—The decision of the jury is binding on the Magistrate. 40 C. L. J. 597; 12 W. R. Cr. 38. 22 W. R. C. 86. Where three of the jury refuse to give verdict fresh jury can be constituted. 44 A. 575=23 Cr. L. J. 276. The recommendations of a jury can only be enforced under clause (2) of s. 139. 18 Cr. L. J. 305.

+139A. (1) Where an order is made under section 133 for the purpose of preventing obstruction, nuisance or danger to the public in the use of any way, river, channel or place, the Magistrate shall on the appearance before him of the person against whom the order was made, question him as to whether he denies the existence of any public right in respect of the way, river, channel or place, and, if he does so, the Magistrate shall, before proceeding under section 137 or section 138, inquire into the matter.

(2) If in such inquiry the Magistrate finds that there is any reliable evidence in support of such denial, he shall stay the proceedings until the matter of the existence of such right has been decided by a competent Civil Court; and if he finds that there is no such evidence, he shall proceed as laid down in section 137 or section 138, as the case may require.

(3) A person who has, on being questioned by the Magistrate under sub-section (1), failed to deny the existence of a public right of the nature therein referred to, or who, having made such denial, has failed to adduce reliable evidence in support thereof, shall not in the subsequent proceedings be permitted to make any such denial, nor shall any question in respect of the existence of any such public right be inquired into by any jury appointed under section 138.]

Notes.—Where the party causing obstruction to a right of way adduced reliable evidence in support of his denial of the existence of the public right in respect of the way by producing the revenue records, the Magistrate is bound to stay proceedings under this section. 100 Ind. Cas. 119=28 Cr. L. J. 247. By passing an order of stay under this section the Magistrate ousts his own jurisdiction to decide anything about the question of title including the onus of proof. 28 Cr. L. J. 363=100 Ind. Cas. 971. The Court has not to consider whether a denial is bonafide or not but only whether there is reliable evidence in support of it. Manohar v. Emperor, 27 A. L. J. 385=116 Ind. Cas. 786. Magistrate cannot depute another Magistrate to make enquiry and report, and omission to conduct it himself is irregularity not curable by s. 537. 50 C. L. J. 291=34 C. W. N. 228=57 C. 666. Where there is dispute as to existence of public right, best method is to stay proceedings until right is decided by Civil Court. A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 632; see also 57 C. 368. The object of s. 139 A is to prevent an elaborate enquiry as to rights of parties. 34 C. W. N. 957. Where accused denies right of way, Magistrate cannot continue proceedings without adopting procedure under s. 139A. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 1046=129 Ind. Cas. 222. There is nothing in s. 139A. which can exclude the exercise of Court's inherent powers under s. 540. 58 C. 461. This section does not state who is to have the right decided by Civil Court, and what order Magistrate has to pass to end proceedings. The Magistrate need not stay proceedings indefinitely but must dismiss application, if matter is not settled by Civil Court within a certain time. 51 A. 890=A. I. R. 1929 All. 709. No length of user can justify encroachment upon public way. Order removing such encroachment is legal. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 159. When second party denies the right, he has to produce reliable evidence. Magistrate may allow cross examination. 58 C. 461. Magistrate cannot compel a party to go to Civil Court and specially party in whose favour he is inclined. A. I. R. 1930 All. 958=125 Ind. Cas. 452. Magistrate has to see whether there is any reliable evidence in support of the denial and if so, to adopt procedure under s. 139 A. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 144=124 Ind. Cas. 832; see also 24 A. L. J. 361=27 Cr. L. J. 473; 4 Pat. 783=7 P. L. T. 136=27 Cr. L. J. 9. It is doubtful whether there can be a waiver of mandatory provision such as is contained in section. 139 A. 31 Cr. L. J. 53=A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 199. The Magistrate is not to see the sufficiency but the reliability of evidence in support of the denial. If there is, he must stay his hand till other side has gone to the Civil Court. 29 Cr. L. J. 698=30 P. L. R. 687=10 Lah. 151; see also 29 Cr. L. J. 254=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 664. Where there is denial of the existence of the public right, it is the duty of the Magistrate to inquire into the matter under s. 139A, and on the result of his conclusion, depends the question whether he should stay proceedings or should proceed under s. 137 or 138. 30 C. W. N. 648=27 Cr. L. J. 878=96 Ind. Cas. 126; see also 29 C. W. N. 649=26 Cr. L. J. 1168. Summary preliminary inquiry is essential before appointment of jury or starting of serious inquiry A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 676. Where Magistrate fails to call upon petitioner to produce evidence in support of his denial, proceedings before Magistrate was held to be without jurisdiction. 32 Cr. L. J. 621=32 P. L. R. Proceedings under s. 139A even when stayed, Magistrate can draw up fresh proceedings. 34 C. W. N. 957=32 Cr. L. J. 189=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 2. The object of this section is to prevent Magistrate arrogating to himself functions of Civil Court by instituting elaborate enquiry. 34 C. W. N. 957=32 Cr. L. J. 189. Enquiry by jury under s. 135 can be claimed, even after enquiry under s. 139 A. 34 Cr. L. J. 532=56 C. L. J. 249. Magistrate may allow cross-examination of witness of second party and s. 139A does not exclude Court's power under s. 540. 58 C. 461=32 Cr. L. J. 1187. No length of user can justify encroachment upon public way. 32 Cr. L. J. 1234 = 1931 Cr. C. 271. If there is reliable evidence of denial of right, person moving Court has got to go to Civil Court and not person against whom order is made. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 545.

140. (1) When an order has been made absolute under section 136, section 137 or section 139, the the Magistrate shall give Procedure on order being notice* of the same to the person against whom made absolute. the order was made, and shall further require him to perform the act directed by the order within a time to be fixed in the notice, and inform him that, in case of disobedience, he will be liable to the penalty provided by section 188 of the Indian Penal Code.

(2) If such act is not performed within the time fixed, the Magistrate may cause it to be performed, and may recover the Consequence of disobedience costs of performing it, either by the sale of any to order. building, goods or other property removed by his order, or by the distress and sale of any other moveable property of such person within or without the local limits of such Magistrate's jurisdiction. If such other property is without such limits, the order shall authorize its attachment and sale when endorsed by the Magistrate within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the property to be attached is found.

(3) No suit shall lie in respect of anything done in good faith under this section.

Notes.—Sub-section (2) indicates the proper procedure to be adopted in enforcing an order under s. 133. 44 C. L. J. 211. Clause (3) refers to suits for damages. 15 C. 460. (F. B.). Under section (2) Magistrate has discretion to give direction to some one else to carry out the order under s. 140 or leave the matter there, until conclusion of civil suit. If the Magistrate has not exercised discretion judicially, High Court can be moved. 35 C.W.N. 571. As soon as a person against whom an order under ch. X is passed dies, the order ceases to have effect and a Magistrate is not entitled to act under s. 140. 26 A.L.J. 405=29 Cr.L J. 445. Sub-section (1) is mandatory and Magistrate cannot refer to issue notice as required by the sub-section. 35 C.W.N. 571=58 C. 1088.

Notes.—Where jury fails to give a verdict the party may ask for the appointment of a fresh jury. 12 C. W. N. 1047, but see 24 A. L. J. 165. Where jury did not return verdict in time, Magistrate must enquire before he passes order. 4 P. L. T. 13=24 Cr. L. J. 583. Where jury failed to return verdict, Magistrate has jurisdiction to make order absolute. But party may be allowed to revert to the other alternative given by s. 135. 4 Pat. L. T. 15=24 Cr. L. (3) No suit shall lie in respect of anything done in good faith by a Magistrate under this section.

Notes.—An injunction should be issued only in case of imminent danger. 21 W. R. 86; 1 W. R. 8.

143. A District Magistrate or Sub-divisional Magistrate, or any other Magistrate empowered by the Local Government or the District Magistrate in this behalf, may order* any person not to repeat or continue a public nuisance, as defined in the Indian Penal Code† or any special or local law.

Notes.—Object is to prevent repetition of nuisance and not original use. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 305. Party complained against must have right to set up defence on merits. Summary order without giving party opportunity of being proved is not proper. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 305.

CHAPTER XI.

TEMPORARY ORDERS IN URGENT CASES OF NUISANCE OR APPREHENDED DANGER.

144. (1) In cases where, in the opinion of a District Magistrate, a Chief Presidency Magistrate, Sub-divisional Magistrate or of any other Magistrate‡ [not being a Magistrate of the third class] specially empowered by the Local Government or the Chief Presidency Magistrate or the District Magistrate to act under this section, §[there is sufficient ground for proceeding under this section and] immediate prevention or or speedy remedy is desirable.

such Magistrate may, by a written order || stating the material facts of the case and served in manner provided by section 134, direct any person to abstain from a certain act or to take certain order with certain property in his possession or under his management, if such Magistrate considers that such direction is likely to prevent, or tends to prevent, obstruction, annoyance or injury, or risk of obstruction, annoyance or injury, to any person lawfully employed, or danger to human life, health or safety, or a disturbance of the public tranquillity, or a riot, or an affray.

(2) An order under this section may, in cases of emergency or in cases where the circumstances do not admit of the serving in due time of a notice upon the person against whom the order is directed, be passed ex parte.

(3) An order under this section may be directed to a particular individual, or to the public generally when frequenting or visiting a particular place.

(4) Any Magistrate may, ¶(either on his own motion or on the application of any person aggrieved) rescind or alter any order made under this section by himself or any Magistrate subordinate to him or by his predecessor in office.

[(5) Where such an application is received, the Magistrate shall afford to the applicant an early opportunity of appearing before him either in person or by pleader and shewing cause against the order; and, if the Magistrate rejects the application wholly or in part, he shall record in writing his reasons for so doing.]

*[(6) No order under this section shall remain in force for more than two months from the making thereof; unless, in cases of danger to human life, health or safety or a likelihood of a riot or an affray, the Local Government, by notification in the official Gazette, otherwise directs.

Notes.—The object of this section is to provide a speedy and emergent remedy in case of disputes which are likely to lead to breach of the peace. 11 O. L. J. 54=77 Ind. Cas. 721=125 Cr. L. J. 433. This section is not intended to restrict the liberty of an individual if there is no apprehension of a breach of the peace on account of any act to be done by him 82 Ind. Cas. 42=25 Cr. L. J. 1178=1924 P. 767. Undue importance should not be attached to a temporary injunction under this section and in a case of rioting an order under this section should not be treated as substantive evidence of possession. Pat. L. T. 656=81 Ind. Cas. 535. Where there is no bonafide dispute as to actual possession, an order under section 144 can be more appropriately passed. 10 Pat. L. T. 542.

Scope and object.—The meaning of “annoyance” in s. 144 is not confined to physical annoyance but includes mental annoyance also. 33 Bom. L. R. 59=A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 135. A Magistrate passing an order under s. 144 is not acting as a “Court”. 44 M. L. J. 328=17 L. W. 409=24 Cr. L. J. 424. Section 144 does not enforce Magistrates to make positive orders requiring people to do particular things. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 263=53 L. L. J. 175. No order can be passed against the public without limitation as to the place. 1930 M. W. N. 841=A. I. R. 1931. Mad. 236=131 Ind. Cas. 449. Section 144 is applicable only to temporary orders in urgent cases of nuisance or apprehended danger; it is not applicable in cases, where there is a dispute as to land for the settlement of which s. 145 provides the proper remedy. 5 P. L. T. 90=24 Cr. L. J. 947=75 Ind. Cas. 531. If property is found to be in joint possession of both parties, no order under s. 145 can be passed and danger to a breach of peace can only be averted or avoided, by finding both parties or by finding both of them under s. 107, for none has a right to exclude the other from joint possession. If one of them is found to be in exclusive possession, other side can be restrained under s. 144 from interfering with exclusive possession of the other and by binding him down. Unless the exclusive possession is undisputed or admitted or concluded by decision of competent Court, enquiring into claims of parties as to exclusive or joint possession must be held. It is only when after an enquiry a decision is arrived at as to the possession of the contending parties, separate or joint, an order under s. 144 or 107 against one of the parties will not be justifiable. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 228. The test to see whether order under s. 144 was justified or not is to find out, whether the act was likely to lead to breach of public tranquillity. The likelihood or tendency must be a reasonable or proximate one. 1930 M. W. N. 841=A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 236. This section is not intended to vest a Magistrate to decide disputes of a civil nature between private individuals and to usurp the functions of civil Court. 50 A 414=26 A. L. J. 83=28 Cr. L. J. 991. Where probability of breach of peace exists over a dispute concerning immovable property a proceeding under s. 145 is proper. 21 Cr. L. J. 627=1 Pat. L. T. 369=57 Ind. Cas. 449; see also 21 Cr. L. J. 241=55 Ind. Cas. 193; 20 Cr. L. J. 829=1 Pat. L. T. 44; 19 Cr. L. J. 1002; 3 P. L. J. 243=19 Cr. L. J. 869. The jurisdiction of a Magistrate to pass an order under s. 144 depends on the urgency of the case. A mere statement that it considers the case to be urgent is not sufficient, if facts show that in reality there is no urgent necessity. In a proceeding to set aside an order under s. 144 High Court would not consider whether the opinion of Magistrate on civil rights of parties is right or wrong, but whether Magistrate's order was made with injurisdiction or not. 23 C. W. N. 145=28 C. L. J. 483=19 Cr. L. J. 95. Unless possession of a party is undisputed s. 144 can have no application and a Magistrate has no jurisdiction to pass final orders under s. 144. 1 Pat. L. T. 377=28 Cr. L. J. 646=57 Ind. Cas. 662. An order under s. 144, Cr. Pro. Code has not the effect of disturbing either title or possession, though it may prevent exercise of rights entitled to by a person in possession. 64 Ind. Cas. 572. Section 145 and not section 144 applies where the possession is disputed. 2 Pat. L. T. 484=22 Cr. L. J. 685; see also 3 Pat. L. T. 826=24 Cr. L. J. 241; A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 585. Section under s. 144 (2) can be taken only where immediate prevention or speedy remedy is desirable. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 139. Several methods are open to Magistrate. He can adopt any proper method to meet emergency. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 308. Orders under s. 144 are judicial and not administration. 33 Bom. L. R. 673=32 Cr. L. J. 1144. Annoyance includes mental annoyance also. 32 Cr. L. J. 507=33 Bom. L. R. 59. Magistrate should be cautious in exercising power under s. 144. 34 Cr. L. J. 334=A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 262=34 Cr. L. J. 334. Opinion of Magistrate visiting the place should not be lightly passed over. 34 Cr. L. J. 334=A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 348. Magistrate can depute another Magistrate to hold inquiry but he should come to his own conclusion on the materials. 34 Cr. L. J. 334=A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 348. There is neither revisional nor appellate jurisdiction of Magistrate under cl. (4) of s. 144, but there is a jurisdiction to rescind or alter any order made under s. 144, either by himself or by a Magistrate subordinate to him or by his predecessor in office. 72 Ind. Cas. 171=1 Pat. L. R. Cr- 53. There is a clear distinction between interfering with the rights of private proprietors and the perpetration of wrongful acts by such proprietors. The Criminal Court assumes jurisdiction to interfere with lawful exercise of a person's right of ownership, when such exercise in its ulterior consequences being directed primarily against the lawful exercise of another person's right of ownership, is likely to cause a breach of the peace. 35 C. L. J. 397=26 C. W. N. 663=24 Cr. L. J. 164; see also 16 L. W. 452=1922 M. W. N. 612=69 Ind. Cas. 369.

Power given in the 4th clause need not be confined to cases where there has been a change of circumstances since the original order. There is no valid reason why words of limitation should be read into the section which would have the effect suggested. The word "alter or rescinded" clearly empowers the District Magistrate to modify or cancel the order upon any ground whatsoever. 23 Cr. L. J. 549=2 Pat. 94. Where s. 107 or s. 145 will meet requirements of the case s. 144 is not an appropriate remedy, and if it is found that the danger was not so imminent that it could not be otherwise averted and order under s. 144 will be without jurisdiction. What is deprecated is the habitual and unjustifiable case of s. 144 as a substitute for s. 107 and 145. Ibid; see also A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 228. The word 'alter' in s. 144 (4) cannot mean the substitution of the names of one party for those of the other. The District Magistrate, in going beyond altering or rescinding an order, acts without jurisdiction. 42 M. L. J. 352=15 L. W. 423=23 Cr. L. J. 404. Although under section 144 (4) District Magistrate can rescind or alter any order made by himself or any subordinate Magistrate, this section does not cover a reversal of an order on grounds which interfere with the discretionary power of the Magistrate who originally made the order. 2 Pat. L. T. 654=23 Cr. L. J. 27; see also A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 313. Jurisdiction under this sub-section is one specially provided and is not appellate or revisional. 56 M. 149=33 Cr. L. J. 826. In passing an order under s. 144 it should be shown that it was necessary in interest of public peace. Likelihood of disturbance must be reasonable and prominent. 33 M. L. W. 632=32 Cr. L. J. 741; see also A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 277=344 Cr. L. J. 705. Magistrate should not go beyond necessities of case. Even expired order can be set aside. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 185=14 P. L. T. 379. Order cannot direct public generally simpliciter. 33 Bom. L. R. 1178=33 Cr. L. J. 75. Order prohibiting public generally and certain persons named therein from taking part in procession within Municipal limits is ultra vires. Ibid; see also 32 Cr. L. J. 763=60 M. L. J. 370. No civil suit lies to question propriety of order under s. 144. 53A. 484=1931 A. L. J. 354. Order addressed to general public must be limited to particular place. 33 Bom. L. R. 673=32 Cr. L. J. 1144; see also 33 Bom. L. R. 59=32 Cr. L. J. 507. Prima facie Magistrate alone can decide whether emergency exists or not and High Court can only interfere if order is not reasonable or bona fide. 33 Bom. L. R. 59=32 Cr. L. J. 507. The right of public discussion is a right of every subject and persons convening a meeting to discuss religious matters are not doing anything unlawful. 11 Bur. L. T. 59=18 Cr. L. J. 512=39 Ind. Cas. 480. It is the duty of the execution to uphold civil rights declared by Civil Courts by all means available before resorting to s. 144. 52. M. L. J. 298=25 M. L. W. 375=28 Cr. L. J. 325; see also 23 Cr. L. J. 689=16 M. L. W. 452. Magistrate acting under this section cannot direct a village Munsif to take possession of the property in dispute but can only direct a party to the proceeding to do or abstain from doing something. (1916) 2 M. W. N. 88=33 Ind. Cas. 830. Where one order under s. 144 does not prove sufficient for the purpose, the right procedure to adopt is to commence proceedings under s. 107. 20 C. W. N. 758=17 Cr. L. J. 200=24 C. L. J. 272.

S. 144 (5) was not intended to be exercised as an appellate or revisional power, but was intended to be exercised when the circumstances arose rendering the continuance of the order useless. 2 P. L. T. 484=22 Cr. L. J. 685. Where the opponent applied to Chief Presidency Magistrate to have the noises from an adjoining house stopped under the provisions of s. 144. Held, that though the order was in substance outside it as opponent's application was for prevention of nuisance permanently. 22 Bom. L. R. 157=22 Cr. L. J. 521=62 Ind. Cas. 409. Where trustee of a temple was directed by order under s. 144 to abstain from interfering with conduct of the adyopakana service, order was definite as it sufficiently defined the acts from which the trustee was required to abstain. 19 Cr. L. J. 933=47 Ind. Cas. 657. District Magistrate cannot set aside an order of a Magistrate against one party and substitute a similar order against the opposite party. If it is clear that it is not a mere pretence. 3 Pat. L. J. 287=19 Cr. L. J. 800=47 Ind. Cas. 76. An order under s. 144 does not affect the civil rights of the parties and does not by itself give a right of suit. 42 Ind. Cas. 337. Where question of possession is in dispute proper procedure is to act under s. 145 but in cases of great emergency a Magistrate can act under s. 144. 18 Cr. L. J. 967=42 Ind. Cas. 327. Order directing abstention from residing at particular place is illegal. A. I. R. 1934 Rang. 124. An ex parte order under this section cannot be made. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 393. Order after efflux of time should not be interfered. Remedy is civil suit for declaration. A. I. R. 1934 Oudh. 87. Magistrate cannot make mandatory order directing party to do some act. He can only make restrictive order. A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 724=146 Ind. Cas. 169. Magistrate should be cautious in exercising power under s. 144. A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 348=34 Cr. L. J. 334.

Dispute about land—It is immaterial whether the dispute relates to land. A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 714. Where a person wants to enforce his right to possession of property, Criminal Courts ought not to lend him aid under s. 144. 30 Cr. L. J. 1010=A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 845. Where Magistrate finds that there was no bona fide dispute as to actual possession, but the opponent was merely trying to get possession, order under s. 144 is warranted and is the best means of preventing the imminent breach of the peace. 30 Cr. L. J. 510=10 P. L. T. 542. It is only when possession is either undisputed or clear beyond doubt that section 144 applies. 2 P. L. T. 484=22 Cr. L. J. 685=63 Ind. Cas. 62A; see also 61 Ind. Cas. 691=2 P. L. T. 455=22 Cr. L. J. 442; 22 Cr. L. J. 685=2 P. L. T. 484. Where Magistrate on an order under s. 144 makes an incidental observation as to possession of the property it cannot have the force of an order under s. 145. 6 P. L. T. 746=26 Cr. L. J. 1229. Questions of title, fraud, etc., cannot be tried in proceedings under s. 145 or 144. 3 Pat. 809=26 Cr. L. J. 268. The Criminal Court is bound to maintain an auction purchaser in possession of property purchased after a decree by a Civil Court and service of writ of delivery of possession. 3 P. L. T. 335=23 Cr. L. J. 321; see also 3 Pat. L. T. 570=23 Cr. L. J. 205.

Ex parte order—Section 144 provides speedy remedy in cases of emergency and under sub-section 2, a Magistrate can pass an ex parte order immediately on receiving a police report that he is satisfied that immediate action is necessary. 25 Cr. L. J. 433=A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 338. To justify an order ex parte under s. 144 (2) Magistrate has to stay whether an emergency exists. High Court cannot interfere in revision, unless there is clear evidence showing that there was no such emergency. 33 Bom. L. R. 59=A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 135=32 Cr. L. J. 507=130 Ind. Cas. 396; see also 60 M. L. J. 378=A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 236. Sub-divisional Magistrate is the sole judge of emergency. A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 87. It is not proper for a Magistrate who has passed an ex parte order under section 144, the propriety or legality of which is challenged, to postpone the hearing of the matter from time to time until about the termination of the force of the order. 26 C. W. N. 663=24 Cr. L. J. 164.

Nature of proceedings.—Order of Magistrate under s. 144 is not the order of a Court. 30 Cr. L. J. 119=52 M. 69=55 M. L. J. 621; see also 24 Cr. L. J. 424=47 M. 56=44 M. L. J. 328.

Procedure.—Magistrate is justified in passing an emergent order under the section without setting out in the order the grounds of his action. 18 Cr. L. J. 892=41 Ind. Cas. 1203. Proceedings under s. 144 being judicial, the accused has a right to know what the information was, on which the Magistrate acted in order to show that it was unfounded or insufficient. 1930 M. W. N. 849=131 Ind. Cas. 649. Under section 144 (4) District Magistrate has power to set aside proceedings drawn up by Sub-Divisional Magistrate, but he could not direct him to draw up proceedings under any other section as under s. 145 (1). 33 C. W. N. 723=A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 751; see also 2 P. L. T. 392=22 Cr. L. J. 498. Record should show in clear and unmistakable terms, the authority under which a Magistrate taking action under s. 144, profess to act. 2 Bur. L. J. 22=1 Rang. 49=24 Cr. L. J. 735; see also 10 P. L. T. 862=A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 152. An order under Chapter XII should specify the section under which it is passed, and the Court of appeal or revision should not be put to the difficulty of finding, whether it was under s. 144 or s. 145. 18 Cr. L. J. 395=38 Ind. Cas. 327. Under section 144 something more is necessary than a mere recital of District Magistrate's opinion. An order issued under the section must state the material facts of the case, justifying the issue of the order. 25 Cr. L. J. 1178=A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 767. A case in which it would have been better to draw up proceedings under s. 145, should not be proceeded with under s. 144. 28 Cr. L. J. 1039=A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 432. Where Magistrate disposes of the matter by taking evidence ex parte, and making enquiries in the absence of petitioners and without giving them an opportunity of adducing their own evidence and examining witnesses, procedure is wholly unjustifiable and order must be set aside. 5 P. L. T. 419=25 Cr. L. J. 415; see also 43 M. L. J. 716=24 Cr. L. J. 429. A Magistrate can rely on documentary evidence as to title to corroborate oral evidence as to possession, even if the oral evidence were not quite satisfactory. 23 Cr. L. J. 197=65 Ind. Cas. 853.

If the effect of the order under s. 144 is that no Mahomedan would be allowed to say his prayers in the mosque, order is not justified. 26 C. W. N. 904=24 Cr. L. J. 154. The orders of Magistrate under s. 144 based on the rent decree will be good, if passed with a view to prevent a breach of the peace which is imminent. 3 Pat. L. T. 570=23 Cr. L. J. 200.

Temporary order.—Section 144 is applicable only to temporary orders in urgent cases of nuisance or apprehending danger. 5 P. L. T. 90=24 Cr. L. J. 947=A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 145=75 Ind. Cas. 531. Though a person has absolute right to use his property as he pleases, if mode of enjoyment, though innocent and lawful, results or tends to result, in acts likely to lead to breach of peace, an order under s. 144 restraining person temporarily from enjoying property in that way is justified. 55 C. 1077=47 C. L. J. 452=32 C. W. N. 613; see also A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 131; 22 Bom. L. R. 157=22 Cr. L. J. 521.

Valid order under this section.—An order under s. 144 may be addressed to the public generally when frequenting or visiting a particular place. No order can be passed against the public without that limitation as to place. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 242=60 M. L. J. 370. When a breach of peace is anticipated, action is to be taken against potential law-breakers and not against the peaceful citizens whom, it is expected that the law-breakers will molest. 28 Cr. L. J. 345=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 430. Orders under section 144 are not intended to be used as a means of depriving citizens of lawful rights, which have been declared by competent Courts. 52 M. L. J. 651=28 Cr. L. J. 504. An order can be issued to public generally when frequenting or visiting a particular place. 26 Cr. L. J. 874=29 C. W. N. 411. The report of police as to likelihood of breach of peace gave Magistrate no material for proceeding against three petitioners. A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 239=A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 714. An action should be taken under s. 144 only in urgent cases of nuisance or apprehended danger. 26 Cr. L. J. 560. Magistrate should inquire into relative rights of parties before making ex parte order under s. 144 absolute. 35 M. L. W. 366=A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 290. Injunction should be clear and definite. Ambiguous order should be set aside. 36 C. W. N. 248=33 Cr. L. J. 518=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 288. Section 144 does not empower Magistrate to pass positive orders requiring people to do particular things. 58 C. 1037=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 263. Under exceptional circumstances, Court has power to pass order under this section. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 513. Question of injury to property as distinguished from danger to or safety of human life occupying the property has got very little relevancy. Ibid. Section 144 should not be used for anything in the nature of a permanent expedient without the sanction of the Local Government. 3 P. L. J. 130=19 Cr. L. J. 365. Successive orders under section 144 are open to objection. 1 Pat. L. T. 44=24 Cr. L. J. 829. An order prohibiting the holding of a rival lat on certain days near the old lat is not ultra vires. 23 C. W. N. 141=20 Cr. L. J. 113. If order under s. 144 specifies no time it is to be in force, the reasonable presumption is that it would operate for two months and not indefinitely. 20 Cr. L. J. 755=53 Ind. Cas. 483. Place includes "municipal ward" provided it is clearly defined. A. I. R. 1934 Bom. 375.

Revision.—High Court rarely interferes in revision till other remedies have been exhausted, in matters under s. 144, where the Magistrate is responsible for the peace of the District. 19 Cr. L. J. 56. When an order under s. 144 has expired by efflux of time, High Court will not revise it nor will it adjudicate upon the merits thereof. 47 M. L. J. 439. If orders under s. 144 are illegal or ultra vires revision petition must be filed in High Court. 42 M. L. J. 179=68 Ind. Cas. 180; see also 23 Cr. L. J. 404=42 M. L. J. 352. Section 435 (3) expressly excludes the exercise of revisional powers in cases under s. 144. 22 Bom. L. R. 157=22 Cr. L. J. 521. Successive orders under s. 144 are open to objection. An order passed under s. 144 without serving notice on the opposite party to show cause is liable to be set aside. 20 Cr. L. J. 829=1 Pat. L. T. 44. Order passed by Magistrate after he has passed a final order under s. 144, rescinding sale of property kept in custody is ultra vires and is liable to revision. 21 Cr. L. J. 657. Under clause (4), petitioner must go in the first instance before District Magistrate before coming up in revision to the High Court. 5 P. L. T. 90=24 Cr. L. J. 947. High Court can revise an order under s. 144 provided revisional jurisdiction is exercised within two months of the order. 58 M. L. J. 148=31 Cr. L. J. 324; see also 26 Cr. L. J. 1229=6 P. L. T. 746; 26 Cr. L. J. 874=29 C. W. N. 111. Proceedings under s. 144 are judicial and therefore subject to revision by High Court. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 236; but see 55 M. L. J. 621=30 Cr. L. J. 629; 20 Cr. L. J. 755=1919 M. W. N. 872. High Court will interfere in revision where grounds for action under s. 144 by Magistrate are unfounded or insufficient. 60 M. L. J. 370=32 Cr. L. J. 763=A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 242. High Court can order stay of proceeding. 63 M. L. J. 594=33 Cr. L. J. 826. Proceedings under s. 144 are subject to revision by High Court. 60 M. L. J. 370=32 Cr. L. J. 763.

DISPUTES AS TO IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY.

145. (1) Whenever a District Magistrate, Sub-Divisional Magistrate or Procedure where dispute concerning land, etc., is likely to cause breach of peace.

Magistrate of the first class is satisfied from a police report or other information that a dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace exists concerning any land or water or the boundaries thereof, within the local limits of his jurisdiction, he shall make an order in writing, stating the grounds of his being so satisfied, and requiring the parties concerned in such dispute to attend his Court in person or by pleader, within a time to be fixed by such Magistrate, and to put in written statements of their respective claims as respects the fact of actual possession of the subject of dispute.

(2) For the purposes of this section the expression "land or water" includes, buildings, markets, fisheries, crops or other produce of land, and the rents or profits of any such property.

(3) A copy of the order shall be served in manner provided by this Code for the service of a summons upon such person or persons as the Magistrate may direct, and at least one copy shall be published by being affixed to some conspicuous place at or near the subject of dispute.

(4) The Magistrate shall then, without reference to the merits of the claims of any of such parties to a right to possess the subject of dispute, peruse the statements so put in, hear the parties [*receive all such evidence as may be] produced by them respectively, consider the effect of such evidence, take such further evidence (if any) as he thinks necessary, and, if possible, decide whether any and which of the parties was at the date of the order before mentioned in such possession of the said subject :

Provided that, if it appears to the magistrate that any party has within two months next before the date of such order been forcibly and wrongfully dispossessed, he may treat the party so dispossessed as if he had been in possession at such date :

* These words were substituted for the words 'receive the evidence' by s. 28 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923.)

Provided also, that, if the Magistrate considers the case one of emergency, he may at any time attach the subject of dispute, pending his decision under this section.

(5) Nothing in this section shall preclude any party so required to attend, or any other person interested, from showing that no such dispute as aforesaid exists or has existed; and in such case, the Magistrate shall cancel his said order, and all further proceedings thereon shall be stayed, but, subject to such cancellation, the order of the Magistrate under sub-section (1) shall be final.

(6) If the Magistrate decides that one of the parties was * [or should under the first proviso to sub-section (4) be treated as being] in such possession of the said subject he shall issue an order † declaring such party to be entitled to possession thereof until evicted therefrom in due course of law, and forbidding all disturbance of such possession until such eviction‡§ [and when he proceeds under the first proviso to sub-section (4), may restore to possession the party forcibly and wrongfully dispossessed].

¶ (7) When any party to any such proceedings dies, the Magistrate may cause the legal representative of the deceased party to be made a party to the proceeding, and shall thereupon continue the inquiry, and if any question arises as to who the legal representative of a deceased party for the purpose of such proceeding is, all persons claiming to be representatives of the deceased party shall be made parties thereto;

¶ (8) If the Magistrate is of opinion that any crop or other produce of the property, the subject of dispute in a proceeding under this section pending before him, is subject to speedy and natural decay, he may make an order for the proper custody or sale of such property, and, upon the completion of the inquiry, shall make such order for the disposal of such property, or the sale proceeds thereof as he thinks fit.

* (9) The Magistrate may, if he thinks fit, at any stage of the proceedings under this section, on the application of either party, issue a summons to any witness directing him to attend or to produce any document or thing.

* (10) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to be in derogation of the powers of the Magistrate to proceed under section 107.

Scope.—Proceedings under this section cannot be instituted with respect to moveables. 11 O. L. J. 59=77 Ind. Cas. 721=25 Cr. L. J. 440. In proceedings under this section it is not competent to the Magistrate not only to award possession of the land in dispute but also to grant a right of way to one of the parties. 26 Bom. L. R. 436=48 B. 512. The object of this section is to bring to an end by a summary process disputes relating to land, etc., which are in their nature likely if not suppressed, to end in breaches of the peace. 25 Cr. L. J. 78=75 Ind. Cas. 990; see also 5 Pat. L. T. 458=25 Cr. L. J. 906=81 Ind. Cas. 442. The binding character of an order passed under s. 145 Cr. Pro. Code, is not under all circumstances to be confined to the persons who were actually made parties to the proceeding but may under certain circumstances extend to persons other than the parties themselves. 33 C. W. N. 1002.

* These were inserted by Act XVIII of 1923.

† See Sch. V. Form XXIII, infra.

‡ For limitation of suits to recover possession of such property, see the Indian Limitation Act, 1908 (IX of 1908), Sch. I. art. 47.

§ These words were added by s. 28 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923).

¶ Sub-section (7) was substituted for the original sub-section (7) by s. 28 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923).

¶ Sub-section (8) was added by ibid.

Where the subject matter of dispute is possession of a complete and existing bund and not a right to erect a bund, the case falls under s. 145. 33 C. W. N. 1004=31 Cr. L. J. 944. This section applies to cases of disputes between two parties having joint rights to lands in dispute each of whom was claiming exclusive possession and is not confined to disputes between two opposing parties having adverse rights to exclusive possession of land. 32 Bom. L. R. 340. This section applies only to disputes about actual physical possession and not to disputes about joint possession. 29 Cr. L. J. 775=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 818; 22 Cr. L. J. 625=24 O. C. 167. Where there is ample time for the obtaining of a civil remedy criminal action is not justified. 29 Cr. L. J. 227=76 Ind. Cas. 691. Section 145 is not limited in its scope to dispute relating to actual possession only, if by that expression is meant possession by squatting on the land, 44 Cr. L. J. 108=35 C. L. J. 83. Section 145 does not apply to a dispute about an easement in respect of which action has to be taken. 22 Cr. L. J. 768 (Nag) where possession is disputed, the effective and the proper section is s. 145. 2 P. L. T. 484=22 Cr. L. J. 685; 63 Ind. Cas. 264. Section 145 does not apply where one party is clearly in possession and the other party wants to take forcible possession of it. There is no dispute as to possession. 1 Pat. L. T. 681=22 Cr. L. J. 85. Section 145 of the Code applies where a dispute as to possession of land can be conclusively determined. 1 Pat. L. T. 377=21 Cr. L. J. 646; see 19 Cr. L. J. 113=3 P. L. W. 353; 27 M. L. T. 234=54 Ind. Cas. 473. Section 145 of the Code contemplates the existence of disputes regarding property likely to lead to a breach of the peace. If the chance of a breach of peace has disappeared there is no necessity to maintain orders passed under s. 145. 1 Lah. 451=22 Cr. L. J. 4=59 Ind. Cas. 36. Section 144 being of general application should not be resorted to when s. 145 is sufficient to meet the requirements of a particular case. 23 Cr. L. J. 549=3 P. L. T. 573. Dispute as to lease of lac produce from trees is dispute with regard to land within s. 145. A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 112. Questions of title are of little importance except so far as they determine actual possession. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 95. Action can be taken only when dispute is as to possession. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 145; see also A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 409=34 P. L. R. 368; A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 584. Prohibition under s. 171, Companies Act, does not override s. 145. 37 C. W. N. 932=34 Cr. L. J. 640. Section 145 (1) is mandatory. A. I. R. 1932 All. 446=34 Cr. L. J. 156. Inquiry should relate to question of actual possession. 33 Cr. L. J. 536; see also 26 S. L. R. 353=34 Cr. L. J. 216. Under s. 147 right to fishery is apart from right to land while under s. 145 it relates to particular area. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 86.

Foundation of the jurisdiction.—When there is no likelihood of breach of peace occurring proceedings under s. 145 are incompetent. 31 C. W. N. 242=28 Cr. L. J. 245; see also 25 Cr. L. J. 78; 38 C. L. J. 284=25 Cr. L. J. 291; 4 Pat. L. T. 308=24 Cr. L. J. 557; 21 Cr. L. J. 748=1 Pat. L. T. 387; 1 Pat. L. T. 738=22 Cr. L. J. 205; 22 Cr. L. J. 768=64 Ind. Cas. 288; 19 Cr. L. J. 444=44 Ind. Cas. 972; 2 P. L. T. 392=68 Ind. Cas. 39; A. I. R. 1932 Pat. 366; A. I. R. 1932 Pat. 185; 23 Cr. L. J. 424=67 Ind. Cas. 584. The only two essential conditions which confer jurisdiction on the Magistrate, are, firstly that there should be a dispute over land or water, and secondly that such dispute is likely to cause a breach of peace. 26 Cr. L. J. 1292=A. I. R. 1926 Sind. 53. The jurisdiction of the Magistrate would depend on the nature of the information, on which he has acted. A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 539=24 Cr. L. J. 235. Proceedings under section 107 can be converted into one under s. 145. 19 Cr. L. J. 712=46 Ind. Cas. 296 where jurisdiction of Magistrate is proper and legal, subsequent action of Magistrate is a matter of procedure and not one of jurisdiction. 37 M. L. J. 589=10 L. W. 447. If during a proceeding under the section, circumstances arise which takes away the initial jurisdiction of the Magistrate, the jurisdiction moves and anything done after that is without jurisdiction. 24 O. C. 167=22 Cr. L. J. 625=63 Ind. Cas. 321.

Object of section.—Provisions of Chapter XII are intended to provide speedy remedy in cases of dispute with which that chapter deals. 53 A. 215=1930. A. L. J. 1437; see also 24 Cr. L. J. 595; 32 Cr. L. J. 309. The object of the section is limited strictly to the prevention of violent self-help even by a true owner. 78 Cr. L. J. 858=41 Ind. Cas. 826. The object of section 145 is merely a determination of actual possession for preventing breach of the peace pending a decision on the merits by a Civil Suit. 18 Cr. L. J. 660; see also 5 P. L. T. 458=25 Cr. L. J. 906; 25 Cr. L. J. 1109=81 Ind. Cas. 933; 26 Cr. L. J. 870=6 P. L. T. 710. S. 145 is a short and summary manner of awarding possession until other cases connected with the subject matter, the proceedings under s. 145 are decided. 30 Cr. L. J. 344=A. I. R. 1928 Rang. 314; see also A. I. R. 1229. Oudh. 526 ; 24 Cr. L. J. 100 ; The Magistrate is bound to act on Civil Court decree. 3 Pat. L. T. 433=23 Cr. L. J. 275.

Breach of peace.—Grounds as to existence of likelihood of breach of peace should appear in the first order and it must satisfy the Court of revision. 22 Cr. L. J. 768=64 Ind. Cas. 288. Where there is no evidence of likelihood of breach of peace between the parties, final order cannot be made under s. 145. 25 C. W. N. 214=22 Cr. L. J. 502=62 Ind. Cas. 326 ; see also 23 Cr. L. J. 303 ; 24 Cr. L. J. 263=A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 340 ; 24 Cr. L. J. 631=A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 253 ; 24 Cr. L. J. 783=74 Ind. Cas. 447 ; 34 C. W. N. 899=A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 715 ; 49 C. L. J. 394=30 Cr. L. J. 977 ; 30 Cr. L. J. 492=10 P. L. T. 639 ; 2. O. W. N. 704=26 Cr. L. J. 1581 ; 12 O. L. J. 256=2. O. W. N. 220=26 Cr. L. J. 944 ; A. I. R. 1932 Nag. 134=28 N. L. R. 154 ; A. I. R. 1932 All. 683=1932 A. L. J. 819 ; 34 Cr. L. J. 449. Order under sub-section (1) stands until it is shown that there is no likelihood of a breach of the peace. 33 C. L. J. 69=25 C. W. N. 215=22 Cr. L. J. 4 ; see also 1 Lah. 451=22 Cr. L. J. 4. Breach of the peace is possible only if applicant acts illegally. Order in his favour should not be passed. A. I. R. 1932 Nag. 83=33 Cr. L. J. 556.

Duty of Magistrate.—Magistrate is bound to see who is in actual possession, when a person claims as owner. 1 Pat. L. T. 580=21 Cr. L. J. 785. On a proceeding under s. 145 a Magistrate can grant a right of way over land in dispute to one of the parties before him. 48 B. 512=26 Bom. L. R. 436=26 Cr. L. J. 772. Order of possession under s. 145 passed on the evidence of a person not called by either party is bad in law. 17 Cr. L. J. 129. A Magistrate can at any stage of an enquiry under s. 145 drop proceedings on being satisfied that there was no apprehension of the breach of peace. 17 Cr. L. J. 138. Where proceedings have once been started it is the duty of the Magistrate to complete the enquiry and to pass final orders under s. 145. 24 Cr. L. J. 64=A. I. R. 1923 Mad. 180. Magistrate must make enquiry whether parties have put in written statements or not and hear parties and take the evidence produced. 4 Pat. L. T. 308=24 Cr. L. J. 557. Magistrate has to first find out who are concerned in dispute and as to which of them are in possession. 26 Cr. L. J. 1289=89 Ind. Cas. 153. Magistrate should carefully scrutinise evidence. 27 Cr. L. J. 68. The Magistrate must be alert, active and prompt. The Magistrate must himself be satisfied, and he must form his own judgment and not proceed automatically upon a mere opinion of the police. 28 Cr. L. J. 929. A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 81 ; see also 26 Cr. L. J. 151=A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 51. The judgment in a case under s. 145 should form the basis for a discussion of the entire evidence in the case oral and documentary. Documents relating to possession cannot be ignored altogether. 2 Pat. L. T. 333=A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 483. There is a duty on the Court to summon such witness as may be mentioned to the Court by either party. 52 A. 91=1930 A. L. J. 489. Magistrate should confine himself to the question of actual possession even if the possession is that of a trespasser, provided it is peaceable. 29 Cr. L. J. 902=24 N. L. R. 148. The Court is bound in the absence of one party to satisfy itself by examining the evidence tendered by the other that other party is entitled to an order. 31 M. L. W. 104=31 Cr. L. J. 190. There is nothing in s. 145 to absolve a Magistrate from his ordinary duty of giving reasons for his decision. 52 M. 241=30 Cr. L. J. 346. A failure to record an express finding as to possession in disregard of the express provisions of cl. (1) of s. 145 is bad. A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 325=29 Cr. L. J. 861. What the Magistrate has to determine is who is in actual physical possession and to declare him to be entitled to possession. It is not necessarily lawful possession. 55 C. 826=47 C. L. J. 233=32 C. W. N. 275. Order is not according to law where there is no discussion as to evidence and there is no reason as to the finding of possession. 29 Cr. L. J. 312=A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 255. The requirements of the section should be strictly followed. A Magistrate would have no jurisdiction unless he was satisfied that there existed a dispute concerning land, etc., and which dispute is likely to induce a breach of the peace. A formal order to this effect under sub-section (1) is absolutely necessary. 26 P. L. R. 712=28 Cr. L. J. 973 ; see also 29 Cr. L. J. 613=A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 574 ; 6 P. L. T. 746=26 Cr. L. J. 1229 ; 2 Bur. L. J. 295=A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 178 ; 24 Cr. L. J. 751=4 Lah. 66 ; 24 Cr. L. J. 740=2 Bur. L. J. 32 ; 24 C. W. N. 621=21 Cr. L. J. 593 ; 18 Cr. L. J. 156=37 Ind. Cas. 524. Magistrate must give reasons for his decision. 41 C. L. J. 357=29 C. W. N. 475. Proceedings under s. 145 should be disposed of as quickly as possible. 24 Cr. L. J. 595=A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 53. On commencement the hearing should go on from day to day until all the evidence is taken and argument is heard ; then order should be passed as soon as possible. 26 Cr. L. J. 105. A proper judgment under the section should state the case of both parties and then leave alone the question of title. 29 Cr. L. J. 724=10 P. L. T. 47=29

Cr. L. J. 724. A Court should not place the disputed property in the actual possession of persons, who are parties to the proceedings and who are found not to have been in possession of the disputed property. 28 Cr. L. J. 776=9 P. L. T. 109. The provisions of this section are mandatory. The Magistrate who has to draw up the order under s. 145 (1) is the Magistrate who after drawing up the order proceeds to decide the case. 49 A. 325=25 A. L. J. 246=28 Cr. L. J. 231. Under s. 145 a Magistrate cannot order Police to deliver house to complainant or direct the opposite party not to interfere with such a complainant until he got a Civil Court decree. 14 A. L. J. 146=17 Cr. L. J. 145. There can be no delegation by a Magistrate of his duties of inquiry under the section to arbitrators even with the parties' consent. 2 Pat. L. J. 86=18 Cr. L. J. 145. Possession of one not a party and with reference to property not in dispute cannot be declared. 19 Cr. L. J. 653=45 Ind. Cas. 845. Under s. 145 the Magistrate is bound to set forth the grounds of his satisfaction of the existence of danger to a breach of the peace and unless this is done he acquires no jurisdiction. 2 Pat. L. T. 267=22 Cr. L. J. 481. Magistrate must write a judgment giving his findings and not merely fill up form in Schedule to the Code. 45 M. L. J. 56=16 L. W. 701=23 Cr. L. J. 670. Findings as to breach of peace is not necessary in final order. After preliminary order, he has only to determine possession of the property. 67 Ind. Cas. 584=A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 454. Party in possession under Civil Court decree, till shortly before preliminary order can be maintained in possession by order under s. 145. 42 M. J. 147=23 Cr. L. J. 92; see also 3 Pat. L. T. 335=23 Cr. L. J. 321=A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 197. If the first party satisfies the Court as to his possession, then there is no necessity to proceed further. 24 Cr. L. J. 507=A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 31=72 Ind. Cas. 971. Magistrate has to give reasons for his decision sufficient to enable the High Court to determine whether he has complied with the terms of sub-section (4), and directed his mind to the consideration of the evidence adduced. 49 C. 187=346 Cr. L. J. 125=25 C.W.N. 887=22 Cr. L. J. 449. An order ought to declare the party in whose favour possession is found to continue to be in possession of the property until evicted therefrom in due course of law and forbidding all disturbance of such possession until such eviction. 2 Pat. L. T. 267. The final order should accurately describe the land, by specifying the boundaries thereof in order to show clearly and exactly what land is covered by the order. 22 Cr. L. J. 385. A Magistrate should not without satisfaction of the allegation of non-service, reject an application to re-open proceedings under s. 145. 32 C. L. J. 14=24 C. W. N. 902=21 Cr. L. J. 848. Refusal of adjournment for production of documentary evidence regarding possession under s. 145 is arbitrary and liable to be set aside. 25 C. W. N. 602=33 C. L. J. 507=22 Cr. L. J. 335. Parties should not be encouraged to resort to the Criminal Court in cases in which the point at issue between them is one which can more appropriately be decided in a Civil Court. 3 L. L. J. 99=22 Cr. L. J. 142=59 Ind. Cas. 654. Person already declared to be in possession and the property in respect of which it is so declared are both exempt from proceedings under s. 145. 1 Pat. L. J. 557=21 Cr. L. J. 753=58 Ind. Cas. 337. On application under s. 145 a Magistrate's order passed on the enquiry and report of Zaildar alone, is wholly bad in law. 21 Cr. L. J. 563=57 Ind. Cas. 83; see also 39 Ind. Cas. 305=18 Cr. L. J. 565. Magistrate must state in writing grounds of his being satisfied that there is likelihood of breach of peace on account of dispute. A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 361=33 Cr. L. J. 536; A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 112. The reason why grounds should be stated by Magistrate is that higher Court should be able to see whether recourse to summary proceedings was justified. A. I. R. 1932 Sind. 145=25 S. L. R. 353. Where Magistrate arrives at certain conclusion of fact after due inquiry, trial de novo is not necessary. A. I. R. 1934 Oudh 158. Several methods are open to Magistrate. He can adopt any proper method to meet emergency. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 308.

Attachment.—Power is given under s. 45 to the Magistrate to attach disputed property, only for the purpose of preserving the peace, where a breach of the peace is imminent. 7 Lah. 134=27 L. L. J. 761=8 Cr. L. J. 368; see also 26 Cr. L. J. 324=3 Bur. L. J. 256; 26 Cr. L. J. 1378=8 N. L. J. 69. Under s. 145 Cr. Code, a Magistrate has no jurisdiction to attach anything but land and its rents and profits. Hence an order for the attachment of a house and movables is ultra vires. 24 Cr. L. J. 85=20 A. L. J. 906. Attachment prior to drawing up of proceedings is without jurisdiction. 2 Pat. L. T. 724=23 Cr. L. J. 64=64 Ind. Cas. 848. Under s. 145 the Sub-Divisional Magistrate has no jurisdiction whatsoever to attach movable properties. 24 O. C. 167=22 Cr. L. J. 625=63 Ind. Cas. 321. It is only likelihood of a breach of the peace that gives the jurisdiction to a Magistrate to take proceedings and attach property. 3 Pat. L. W. 386=19 Cr. L. J. 105. If third parties and not the actual parties before the Magistrates are to be in possession the procedure is to attach the property. 20 Cr. L. J. 215; see also 18 Cr. L. J. 637=1 Pat. L. W. 373. The Magistrate has power to appoint a Receiver to remain in custody of property attached under s. 145. 11 L. W. 459=27 M. L. T. 234. But a Magistrate is not competent to dispossess a party in possession by appointing a Receiver. 3 Pat. L. J. 147=19 Cr. L. J. 249. In proceedings under Chapter XII of Criminal Procedure Code, the attachment should continue only until a competent Court has determined the rights of the parties to the property and does not extend till after the disposal of the appeal from such decision. 19 Cr. L. J. 261=44 Ind. Cas. 117. In case of dispute of public pathway, there is no jurisdiction to attach it. 22 Cr. L. J. 464=61 Ind. Cas. 848. Where there is dispute as to right to collect lac on plum trees, attachment of lac is without jurisdiction. 48 C. 522=32 C. L. J. 270=22 Cr. L. J. 213 (S. B.) When once the Magistrate raises the attachment and drops further proceedings in the case he has no jurisdiction to direct delivery of possession of the disputed property to any person. 1930 M. W. N. 771. Where Magistrate is unable to decide as to fact of possession, attachment previously made can be continued till Civil Courts decide as to rights of parties. 29 Cr. L. J. 861=A. I. R. 1929 Nag. 325. The possession of the Court during attachment in the course of proceedings under s. 145 should enure for the benefit of such party in whose favour a declaration as to right to retain possession is made. 30 C. W. N. 541=95 Ind. Cas. 117.

Receiver.—Attachment need not be only by prohibitory order. Court can take possession or appoint receiver. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 409=34 P. L. R. 368. Receiver's possession is on behalf of successful party. A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 29=58 C. 1070=35 C. W. N. 483. Where interim Receivers are appointed to manage the suit properties in the proceedings under s. 145 the possession which these Receivers exercise may justly be regarded as possession on behalf of the party who actually succeeds. 35 C. W. N. 483. Where there is no likelihood of a breach of peace, Receiver should be directed to hand over the properties to persons from whom possession was taken. 29 Cr. L. J. 456=A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 859. The High Court has no power to appoint a Receiver pending disposal of a petition to revise an order passed under s. 145. 49 M. L. J. 593=27 Cr. L. J. 126. Persons appointed by Magistrate to manage properties which he has taken charge of have not got powers of a Receiver. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 297=26 Cr. L. J. 1378. Section 146 (2) cannot be so read as to make its possessions apply to attachment under section 145 (4) and hence the appointment of Receiver under s. 145 (4) is illegal. 10 Lah. 800=30 P. L. R. 23=30 Cr. L. J. 411.

Title, relevancy of.—The question of title has been expressly excluded from Magistrate's consideration under this section. 29 Cr. L. J. 676=110 Ind. Cas. 228. Neither proof of title nor an adjudication on the question of title constitutes proof of actual possession. 24 W. L. R. 148=29 Cr. L. J. 902=A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 284. Even a trespasser is entitled to have his actual possession maintained if it is peaceful. Ibid. So in proceedings under s. 145 the Court is in no way concerned with the question of title. 21 Cr. L. J. 136 (pat.)=54 Ind. Cas. 616; see also 25 Cr. L. J. 78=75 Ind. Cas. 990; 25 Cr. L. J. 1081=81 Ind. Cas. 905; 3 Pat. 809=26 Cr. L. J. 268; 27 Cr. L. J. 44; 27 Cr. L. J. 784=95 Ind. Cas. 320. Under section 145 the enquiry is limited to the fact of actual possession without reference to the merits of the claims of any such parties to a right to possess the subject of dispute. The question as to which of the parties has a right to possess the subject of dispute is irrelevant. 28 Cr. L. J. 437=A. I. R. 1927 All. 476. A Magistrate in a proceeding under s. 145 is entitled to look into the question of title only to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion on the question of possession. 1 Pat. L. T. 387=21 Cr. L. J. 748=58 Ind. Cas. 252; see also 22 Cr. L. J. 350; 38 M. L. J. 73=11 L. W. 285=21 Cr. L. J. 46; 26 C. W. N. 1000=24 Cr. L. J. 141. An agreement to get the case decreed on title and not to produce any evidence as to possession is not within the scope of s. 145. 3 Pat. L. T. 628=24 Cr. L. J. 279=A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 76=71 Ind. Cas. 999. The factum of possession is a vital question for determination under section 145. 4 Pat. L. W. 120=19 Cr. L. J. 789.

Possession.—It is the actual possession of the subject of dispute that must be enquired into regardless of the delivery of symbolical possession. 16 Cr. L. J. 736. Possession under s. 145 must be absolute and continuous and not occasional. But continuity of possession should be understood with reference to the object over which it is exercised. 31 C. W. N. 334=28 Cr. L. J. 343=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 313. The possession that can be pleaded in a proceeding under s. 145 must be possession found on a claim of right to possession. An agent or servant has no such right. 27 Cr. L. J. 212=A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 286. Dispossession should be wrongful as well as forcible. 26 Cr. L. J. 268=84 Ind. Cas. 332. This section is not meant to be used to protect the possession of a servant against the master. 43 M. L. J. 624=24 Cr. L. J. 100. Stealing act of possession is not an act of possession. De facto possession means effective occupation or control. 3 Pat. L. T. 291=29 Cr. L. J. 125. A person in formal possession of a property in execution of a decree shall be deemed to be in possession of the property. 25 Cr. L. J. 917=A. I. R. 1925 Oudh. 183. Pujari having possession on behalf of trustee cannot set up that possession as his own. A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 245=34 Cr. L. J. 88.

Period of possession.—Complainant can get benefit of s. 145 if dispossession is two months prior to preliminary order. 32 Cr. L. J. 476=26 N. L. R. 377. In the absence of order under sub-section (1) proviso to section 545 (4) does not apply. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 143=34 P. L. R. 365. The material date for the computation of the period of two months is the date of the order by the Magistrate and not the date of the complaint. 26 N. L. R. 377=A. I. R. 1931 Nag. 38; see also A. I. R. 1929 Oudh. 526; see also 30 Cr. L. J. 1124=A. I. R. 1930 Sind. 52; 27 Cr. L. J. 68=A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 371; 49 C. 177=25 C. W. N. 743. But in case of bona fide delay on the part of Magistrate in passing the preliminary orders, of more than two months, complainant should not be deprived of the benefit of s. 145. 52 M. 66=56 M. L. J. 33; see also 28 Cr. L. J. 782=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 816; 44 C. L. J. 593. A party who entered into possession and retained possession under s. 144, should be declared to be entitled to possession: the period during which the injunction was in force against his opponent cannot be included. 18 Cr. L. J. 301.

Symbolical possession.—Mere symbolical in execution of an ex parte Civil Court decree would not be binding on a Criminal Court as against a third party to the suit. 25 Cr. L. J. 1104=81 Ind. Cas. 928; see also 49 C. 177=25 C. W. N. 743; 22 C. W. N. 479=18 Cr. L. J. 718; but see A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 424=34 Cr. L. J. 810.

Joint possession.—Section 145 of the Code does not apply to a case when the properties are jointly held by the parties and the dispute is duly about their shares. 22 Cr. L. J. 350=61 Ind. Cas. 174; see also 24. O. C. 167=22 Cr. L. J. 625; 23 Cr. L. J. 379=67 Ind. Cas. 203; 24 Cr. L. J. 869=5 P. L. T. 45; but see 2 Lah. 372=23 Cr. L. J. 225. No proceedings under s. 145 ought to be drawn up in a case where the parties are in joint possession although they hold specific shares therein. 21 Cr. L. J. 224=5 Cr. L. J. 274=54 Ind. Cas. 1008; see also 27 M. L. T. 234=21 Cr. L. J. 73; 19 Cr. L. J. 977; 39 Ind. Cas. 984=18 Cr. L. J. 616; 17 Cr. L. J. 76=32 Ind. Cas. 668; A. I. R. 1932 All 682=1932 A. L. J. 819=33 Cr. L. J. 480. But section 145 Cr. P. Code applies though the land in dispute is held under joint title, if one of the joint owners is in actual and exclusive possession. 20 C. W. N. 518=17 Cr. L. J. 251.

Immoveable property.—The definition of land as given in Cr. Pro. Code is wide enough to cover mining rights and even prospecting or boring licence. 35 C. L. J. 456=24 Cr. L. J. 108; see also 263=A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 340. A right of collecting rent is a right concerning "tangible immoveable property or land" and a dispute as to such a right is within s. 145 of the Code. 18 Cr. L. J. 156. The dispute under this section must refer to land or water or the boundaries thereof lying within Magistrate's jurisdiction. 22 P. W. R. Cr. 1917=18 Cr. L. J. 461. Lac does not fall within the meaning of the expression "land". 24 C. W. N. 1039=32 Cr. L. J. 255 on appeal. 48 C. 522=60 Ind. Cas. 325. The right to perform puja of idol or to have a share of the offerings made to the idol is not a right of user of any land as provided in s. 145. 52 C. 959=42 C. L. J. 127=27 Cr. L. J. 239. Standing crops are immoveable property within the meaning of clause (2). But a dispute relating to the crops which have had already been cut and stored is not covered by s. 145. 27 Cr. L. J. 1363=A. I. R. 1927 All. 99=98 Ind. Cas. 483. Dispute about right to weigh grain in market is not covered by the section. 20 A. L. J. 694=23 Cr. L. J. 694=23 Cr. L. J. 612=68 Ind. Cas. 836. A dispute as to possession of a temple and for its key is cognisable by a Magistrate under section 145 (2) Criminal Procedure Code as a temple is a "building" under s. 145. 17 Cr. L. J. 235. The right to make collection and appropriate the crops or produce of a village comes within the purview of s. 145 Cr. P. Code. 2 Pat. L. W. 67=18 Cr. L. J. 652. The right to tap a tree may be the subject of proceedings under s. 145. 3 Pat. L. J. 316=19 Cr. L. J. 656. A Magistrate is not competent to pass any order in regard to movable property though contained in immoveable property. 42 A. 214=18 A. L. J. 171. A dispute with respect to the collections and offerings at a Karbala cannot be the subject-matter of a proceedings under s. 145. 5 Pat. L. J. 246=21 Cr. L. J. 572. Where a dispute concerns the rights of the respective parties to bore for minerals over a specific area and does not concern land or involve any question of actual possession, s. 145 is not the appropriate section to apply. 32 C. L. J. 54=22 Cr. L. J. 99=59 Ind. Cas. 403.

Information.—A Magistrate is entitled to initiate proceedings if he receives information from any source whatever that there is likelihood of a breach of the peace relating to dispute regarding immoveable property. 6 P. L. T. 215=26 Cr. L. J. 965. The information must be of a character which properly satisfies him that at the date of the proceedings there was actual likelihood of breach of peace. 2 P. L. T. 650=23 Cr. L. J. 27. It may cover knowledge derived by Magistrate by reading petitions filed in another proceeding. It is not limited in any particular way. 1 Pat. L. T. 369=21 Cr. L. J. 625. Omission to mention source of information in preliminary order though known does not oust jurisdiction. 25 Cr. L. J. 48=25 Ind. Cas. 736.

Police report.—A Magistrate as a general rule may refuse to take action at all under s. 145 except when a report from the police is sent to him on the matter. But it must be a definite statement of opinion by a responsible police officer to the effect, that he apprehends that there will be a disturbance of the peace, which is beyond his power to prevent. 25 Cr. L. J. 1109=A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 142; see also 22 Cr. L. J. 205=1 Pat. L. T. 738=60 Ind. Cas. 61. The police report and the evidence contained therein is inadmissible in evidence about the factum of possession. It is useful simply for initiating the proceedings. 1 P. L. T. 501=21 Cr. L. J. 735. Proceedings under s. 145 cannot be started on the basis of a police report more than three months old there being no likelihood of a breach of the peace, when the Magistrate actually drew up the proceedings. 34 C. W. N. 899=A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 715. Where there is no police report, the statements of interested parties ought to be received with great caution. If believed it can be acted upon. 24 Cr. L. J. 304=72 Ind. Cas. 32. Though it is the imminence of a breach of the peace which is the foundation of the Magistrate's jurisdiction, he is not confined to the police report or to rely the whole of it. 49 C. L. J. 428=33 C. W. N. 858=30 Cr. L. J. 1027; see also 83 Ind. Cas. 693=5 P. L. T. 252=26 Cr. L. J. 133.

Arbitration.—A Magistrate acting under s. 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code has no jurisdiction to refer the dispute to arbitrators and accept their award 1 Pat. L. W. 748=18 Cr. L. J. 685=40 Ind. Cas. 333. In proceedings under s. 145 a reference to arbitration is not contemplated. But if parties had referred dispute to arbitration and the award had been accepted by both the parties, the Magistrate would have ground for proceeding under sub-section (5). 25 C. W. N. 719=22 Cr. L. J. 623; see also 7 P. L. T. 288=27 Cr. L. J. 220=A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 589=92 Ind. Cas. 172; 44 Ind. Cas. 122=3 P. L. J. 249=19 Cr. L. J. 266.

Burden of proof.—Though there is nothing in s. 145 to suggest which party should begin the case, it is usual for the second party to begin his evidence. 21 Cr. L. J. 136=54 Ind. Cas. 616. Onus is on party denying dispute to prove its non-existence. 33 Cr. L. J. 46=A. I. R. 1932 Oudh. 21. The onus lay heavily on the plaintiff, to show that the defendant was not in possession of the properties by virtue of the title he alleged in the previous proceedings. 21 A. L. J. 554=4 Pat. L. T. 447=28 C. W. N. 277 P. C.=50 I. A. 183=25 Bom. L. R. 1259=A. I. R. 1923 P. C. 128.

Decree of Civil Court.—Magistrate is not bound to accept evidence of delivery of possession by Civil Court. But if he finds delivery of possession has been given, such person must be presumed to continue in possession. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 586; see also 29 Cr. L. J. 902=20 N. L. R. 148; A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 295=2 Pat. L. T. 266; 60 Ind. Cas. 430=20 Cr. L. J. 238; 5 P. L. T. 69. 23 Cr. L. J. 321=3 Pat. L. T. 335. But conclusive orders of Civil Courts as to possession are binding on Criminal Courts. 3 Pat. L. T. 826=24 Cr. L. J. 241; see also 5 Pat. L. J. 104=1 Pat. L. T. 9=21 Cr. L. J. 200; 4 P. L. T. 333=24 Cr. L. J. 939; 27 C. W. N. 267=24 Cr. L. J. 517. Presumption for purposes of s. 145 is that decree holder entered into possession on date of decree and continued until disturbed. 10 P. L. T. 869=A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 162; see also 4 P. L. T. 248=24 Cr. L. J. 465; 21 Cr. L. J. 575=1 Pat. L. T. 81. 23 Cr. L. J. 92=42 M. L. J. 147=65 Ind. Cas. 44; 25 Cr. L. J. 541=10 P. L. T. 685. Person in possession but dispossessed by execution has to show that he has since regained no possession. 20 Cr. L. J. 445=51 Ind. Cas. 269; see also 25 C. W. N. 743=A. I. R. 1922 Cal. 364=25 Ind. Cas. 75; 23 C. W. N. 982=30 C. L. J. 123=20 Cr. L. J. 840. Once a decree for possession has been passed in favour of a person a Magistrate cannot again refer him to Civil Court. 27 Cr. L. J. 43=91 Ind. Cas. 75. Incidental decision in criminal or Civil Court does not per se cause a cessation of the dispute between the parties as to possession. 6 P. L. T. 710=26 Cr. L. J. 870.

Decision of Revenue Court.—A summary adjudication upon the question of possession by the Land Registration Officer under B. C. Act VII of 1876 is entitled to the same respect as the decree of a Civil Court. 1 Pat. L. T. 588=21 Cr. L. J. 785. The mere fact that the Revenue Records show that the holding was joint is not sufficient to stop the enquiry under s. 145. 23 Cr. L. J. 225=2 Lah. 372=A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 348. Taking possession under s. 87, B. T. Act, is not possible and the person so taking possession cannot be ousted under Cl. (4). 31 C. W. N. 242=28 Cr. L. J. 245=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 944. The order under s. 145 does not interfere with the subsequent order under s. 40 of the Land Revenue Act, by which possession has been made over to the party in whose favour mutation has been effected. 26 Cr. L. J. 1551=A. I. R. 1926 Oudh. 179.

Local enquiry.—There is no hard and fast rule that in every case under s. 145 a local investigation must be held. 20 Cr. L. J. 17 (Cal.)=48 Ind. Cas. 497. Where a final order under s. 145 of the Code is based on a local enquiry of which no note or memorandum is made, it was held that the order was based on no evidence and must be set aside. 25 C. W. N. 1007=34 C. L. J. 127=23 Cr. L. J. 199=65 Ind. Cas. 855. Enquiry as regards possession must be like that in summons case. 2 P. L. T. 267=22 Cr. L. J. 481. Result of local inquiry become that of the record and parties are entitled to knowledge of it. 48 Ind. Cas. 987. In case of local inspection where order is based on Magistrate's opinion and on documentary evidence alone and oral evidence is disallowed it is without jurisdiction. 38 M. L. J. 73=21 Cr. L. J. 46; see also 46 C. 1056=26 C. W. N. 750=20 Cr. L. J. 688. Mere inspection and fact of number of people supporting a party's claim is not enough to find possession for that party. 28 Cr. L. J. 603=8 P. L. T. 755=A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 301. It cannot be held that the survey of the lands, after enquiring from all the parties as to what land was in dispute, amounted to a "local enquiry". It is a mere ministerial act. 3 Pat. L. T. 17=23 Cr. L. J. 152=65 Ind. Cas. 616. Local inspection would not be a legal substitute for evidence especially where the enquiry on the spot is ex parte and where the evidence in the case is practically ignored. 1 Pat. L. T. 569=22 Cr. L. J. 424.

Forum.—It is illegal for the Sub-Divisional Magistrate to direct the parties to appear before another Magistrate. 2 P. L. T. 186=22 Cr. L. J. 483=62 Ind. Cas. 179.

Large area.—There is nothing to prevent a Magistrate from joining numerous claims where they are so inter-related as to form one transaction and in dealing with the matter at one hearing provided there is no question or prejudice. 26 Cr. L. J. 424=85 Ind. Cas. 40. Where a Magistrate had dealt with a large area of land than is included in the order drawn up in the case, the whole order may be set aside. 4 Pat. L. T. 372=24 Cr. L. J. 309=72 Ind. Cas. 69; see also 1 Pat. L. T. 557=21 Cr. L. J. 753=58 Ind. Cas. 337.

Party.—Order under s. 145 is binding not only on those who were parties to proceedings, but sometimes extends to others not parties. 33 C. W. N. 1002=A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 63. Where a person was not only aware of proceedings under s. 145 but has acted in collusion with one party in order to deprive the other party of the fruits of their success in s. 145 case, held that the order under s. 145 was binding on such person any resistance to execution of the order will justify conviction under s. 188. 33 C. W. N. 1002; see also 45 A. 306=21 A. L. J. 502=71 Ind. Cas. 402; 52 M. 787=A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 48. A party's son having no possession or title is not bound by order against his father. 4 Pat. 799=90 Ind. Cas. 513. The ordinary rule is that persons not parties to proceedings are not bound by order under s. 145 which is not against him. 26 Cr. L. J. 1035=87 Ind. Cas. 923=A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 448; see 8 O. L. J. 410=A. I. R. 1921 Oudh. 191=66 Ind. Cas. 678. The words "parties concerned in such a dispute" in s. 145 include persons interested in or claiming a right to the property in dispute. An order for possession against a servant engaged on monthly wages and custody of the disputed property does not bind his successor or master. 18 Cr. L. J. 44=36 Ind. Cas. 876. The omission to implead a tenant in possession of a portion of the disputed land does not make the proceedings defective. 3 Pat. L. T. 291=29 Cr. L. J. 125=65 Ind. Cas. 557. The question of misjoinder of parties does not ordinarily affect jurisdiction. It is question of procedure. 26 Cr. L. J. 1287=7 P. L. T. 156. Party may be added if he was concerned originally in the dispute. As if a party is added before the enquiry begins there is no irregularity.

20 C. W. N. 978=17 Cr. L. J. 449=36 Ind. Cas. 129. Liquidator as such is a party to proceedings under s. 145.

Movable property.—Order to police to take charge of building and movable property in building where the dispute is regarding both is proper. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 409=34 P. L. R. 368.

Nature of the proceeding.—Proceedings under s. 145 are of quasi-civil nature and parties should be given time and opportunity to adduce evidence in support of their case. 25 Cr. L. J. 303=76 Ind. Cas. 975. The proceedings are between Crown on one side and all the other parties on the other ranged as the first party, second party and so forth. Processes should issue at Government expense. 25 Cr. L. J. 1109=81 Ind. Cas. 933=A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 142. If the section is to be consistent, person against whom an order has been passed under s. 145 must be an 'accused' under s. 360 Criminal Procedure Code. 23 Cr. L. J. 125=65 Ind. Cas. 557.

Defects in procedure.—Non-compliance with strict letter of law in formulating order under s. 145 (1) does not prevent Magistrate from exercising jurisdiction to proceed with case. A. I. R. 1933 All. 264 (F. B.)=34 Cr. L. J. 414. Failure to state grounds of satisfaction does not vitiate trial if there is sufficient compliance with provisions of s. 145. A. I. R. 1932 Sind. 145=26 S. L. R. 353. Omission to record preliminary order is curable by s. 537. A. I. R. 1933 Pesh. 88=145 Ind. Cas. 868; see also A. I. R. 1932 All. 446=1932 A. L. J. 503=35 Cr. L. J. 156. Where no prejudice is caused whole proceedings should not be set aside. A. I. R. 1932 All. 446=1932 A. L. J. 503=34 Cr. L. J. 156. In a proceeding under s. 145, refusal by Court to grant adjournment does not amount to irregularity as to render order liable to be set aside. A. I. R. 1932 Sind. 145=34 Cr. L. J. 216. The Magistrate must hear the evidence supplied by the parties and must hear the arguments of their pleaders. 5 Pat. L. J. 246=1 Pat. L. T. 608=21 Cr. L. J. 572; see also 5 Pat. L. W. 103=19 Cr. L. J. 741=46 Ind. Cas. 517; 21 C. W. N. 928=27 C. L. J. 88=19 Cr. L. J. 108; 18 Cr. L. J. 36=36 Ind. Cas. 868; 16 Cr. L. J. 789=2 L. W. 1208=31 Ind. Cas. 645. It depends on the circumstances of each case whether the rejection or the omission from consideration of documents or evidence would be tantamount to refusal to exercise proper jurisdiction. 2 P. L. T. 333=A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 483. Evidence can be shut out only on the ground that justice will be delayed or defeated in proceedings under s. 145. 2 P. L. T. 330=22 Cr. L. J. 430=61 Ind. Cas. 718. A decision based simply upon consideration of only the oral or the documentary evidence is liable to be set aside. 1 P. L. T. 291=21 Cr. L. J. 601=57 Ind. Cas. 169; see also 38 M. L. J. 73=21 Cr. L. J. 46=54 Ind. Cas. 254. Where it appears that a party to the dispute has had no opportunity of appearing and putting in his written statement, the proceeding will be set aside in revision. 20 Cr. L. J. 725 (N.)=53 Ind. Cas. 615. The mere omission by a Magistrate to state that he was satisfied from the police report that there was a likelihood of a breach of the peace is not a fatal defect. 18 A. L. J. 1140=12 Cr. L. J. 97=59 Ind. Cas. 401; see also A. I. R. 1922 Pat. 449. Failure to add a party is not an error of jurisdiction. 47 C. 438=24 C. W. N. 97 (per New bould J.) contra per Huda J. in ibid; see also 82 Ind. Cas. 691=110 L. J. 757. The essential requisite is that the Magistrate must be satisfied as to existence of a dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace. 67 Ind. Cas. 584. Where Magistrate proceeds ex parte with the case it is not a mere technical irregularity. 28 Cr. L. J. 418=A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 234; see also 31 Cr. L. J. 190=A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 847=120 Ind. Cas. 895. Errors and omissions relating to mere procedure and not to jurisdiction cannot direct a Magistrate of his jurisdiction in the absence of prejudice to any party. 26 Cr. L. J. 1292=A. I. R. 1926 Sind. 53=89 Ind. Cas. 156. Neither omission to publish notice under sub-section (3) nor omission to state grounds, and the land in dispute, will vitiate the proceedings. 25 Cr. L. J. 1139=A. I. R. 1925 Oudh. 152=81 Ind. Cas. 963. Where the parties concerned had full knowledge of the proceedings from start to finish an omission to serve notice on them and to affix a copy of the court's order as required by sub-section (3) is an irregularity curable by s. 537. 25 Cr. L. J. 159=A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 171=76 Ind. Cas. 303; see also 3 Bur. L. J. 256=26 Cr. L. J. 324=A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 111=84 Ind. Cas. 548; 27 Cr. L. J. 660=A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 270=3 Rang. 169; but see 4 Lah. 66=24 Cr. L. J. 751=74 Ind. Cas. 79. Finding as to possession based on evidence in another case is not a finding based on legal evidence. 10 O. L. J. 157=23 Cr. L. J. 684=25 O. C. 148=69 Ind. Cas. 268. Omission to read over the evidence to the witnesses does not vitiate the order under s. 145. 5 P. L. T. 237=25 Cr. L. J. 89=A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 786=76 Ind. Cas. 25.

Where a Magistrate did not record a decision under sub-section (4) nor issued an order containing an order on a supposed right to possession, it was held to constitute an obvious infringement of the provisions of Ss. 145 and 146. 24 Cr. L. J. 156=71 Ind. Cas. 508. The refusal to issue summons which is not obligatory on Court to issue does not mean a denial of fair trial. 3 Pat. L. T. 433=23 Cr. L. J. 275=66 Ind. Cas. 419. Omission to read over the evidence to the witness does not vitiate the order under s. 145. 5 P. L. T. 237=25 Cr. L. J. 89=76 Ind. Cas. 25. Refusal of adjournment for production of documents, without which oral evidence could not be appreciated is an arbitrary order constituting denial of justice. 33 C. L. J. 507=25 C. W. N. 602=22 Cr. L. J. 335. A decision arrived at in the absence of parties or either of them is illegal. 22 Cr. L. J. 90. A Magistrate who refuses to admit documents of title in a proceeding under s. 145 commits an error in the exercise of his jurisdiction. 19 Cr. L. J. 764; but see 22 C. W. N. 499=27 C. L. J. 465=19 Cr. L. J. 681. A Magistrate should not supplement an omission in the final order without giving the opposite party notice of it. 22 C. W. N. 552=19 Cr. L. J. 732. Want of service of notice under s. 145 (3) Cr. P. Code is grave irregularity which vitiates the proceedings and any order passed therein can be set aside by High Court. 4 Pat. L. W. 183=19 Cr. L. J. 71=43 Ind. Cas. 103. Jurisdiction of a Magistrate is not affected by his not recording in his preliminary order under s. 145. 3 O. L. J. 546=19 O. C. 136=18 Cr. L. J. 100; see also 18 Cr. L. J. 156 (Mad.)=37 Ind. Cas. 524. Where Magistrate had explained everything to parties the omission to frame an order as required by s. 145 (1) or omission to serve parties as required by s. 145 (3) will not invalidate order. 18 Cr. L. J. 633=39 Ind. Cas. 1001=26 P. W. R. Cr. 1917. An omission to serve or record the order under s. 145, cl. (4) is an irregularity which will render proceedings liable to be set aside; a Magistrate in case of forcible possession must find the date of dispossession for every item of property. 18 Cr. L. J. 650=40 P. R. Cr. 1917.

Effect of order.—An order under s. 145 is merely directory and lasts only until the party in whose favour it is made is evicted in due course of law. 35 C. W. N. 483; see also 10 P. L. T. 689=30 Cr. L. J. 840=A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 505. An order under s. 145 is, until superseded, final and binding as any order of Civil Court itself could be. 24 O. C. 21=25 Cr. L. J. 384=A. I. R. 1921 Oudh. 119=51 Ind. Cas. 240. But the decision in proceedings under this section is not of such a nature as to give rise to a presumption in the Civil Court in favour of the successful party in those proceedings. A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 401=71 Ind. Cas. 478. In every case where an order under s. 145 has been made, the actual dispossession of the unsuccessful party is not a necessary consequence. 11 O. L. J. 743=26 Cr. L. J. 398=84 Ind. Cas. 942. In case of denial of present possession under s. 145, failure to file a suit within three years does not bar a suit for redemption. 23 N. L. R. 164=A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 97. Magistrate can direct possession to party in peaceful possession until eviction by Court. 27 Bom. L. R. 1353=27 Cr. L. J. 661. An order under s. 145 does not mean that the successful party is thereby entitled as of right, to the property in defeasance of whatever legal title there may be existing in favour of the rightful owner. 18 L. W. 649=A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 224=76 Ind. Cas. 76. Declaration of possession in favour of party gives rise to a cause of action against him personally though he was in possession on behalf of another. 4 Pat. L. T. 487=A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 558. Where a Criminal Court makes an order under s. 145 which is found to be without jurisdiction a suit to recover possession is governed by Art. 142 of the Limitation Act. 60 Ind. Cas. 860. Order under s. 145 lasts only until party in whose favour it is made is lawfully evicted. A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 29=35 C. W. N. 483. Where an order is passed under s. 145 right to sue arise from moment to moment. 14 P. L. T. 113=72 Pat. 261=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 224.

Evidentiary value of order.—The order under s. 145 is only a piece of evidence to be taken into consideration in determining who is in possession. But it is open to the other party to show in a subsequent proceeding that in spite of the order they were actually in possession. 31 C. W. N. 964=28 Cr. L. J. 827=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 701. A Magistrate is concluded by a previous order of a criminal Court relating to the subject in dispute. 27 P. L. R. 630=27 Cr. L. J. 815=A. I. R. 1926 Lab. 479. The order of a Criminal Court under s. 145 Cr. P. Code can be used as evidence of possession in a subsequent civil suit. 21 C. W. N. 175=39 Ind. Cas. 356.

Fresh proceedings.—Proceedings once dropped cannot be revived. 23 Cr. L. J. 195=65 Ind. Cas. 851. When once an order under s. 145 (5) is passed, the Magistrate is not competent to revive the proceeding, but can only take action to start a fresh proceeding upon fresh materials under clause (1) of the section. 2 P. L. T. 267=22 Cr. L. J. 481=62 Ind. Cas. 177; see also 18 Cr. L. J. 763=2 Pat. L. W. 25; 24 Cr. L. J. 160=A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 81=71 Ind. Cas. 512; 27 C. W. N. 171=24 Cr. L. J. 97.

Security for keeping peace.—An order under s. 107 cannot be made on the termination of proceedings under s. 145. 14 A. L. J. 794=17 Cr. L. J. 527=36 Ind. Cas. 495. There cannot be simultaneous proceedings on the same materials under s. 145 and 107. If there are, then the proceedings under s. 107 should be set aside. 1 Pat. L. W. 546=18 Cr. L. J. 628=59 Ind. Cas. 996. If it is probable that the parties to a land dispute will break the king's peace before the decision of the Civil Court can be given, that danger can be guarded against by an order under s. 107 in an appropriate case. 28 Bom. L. R. 488=27 Cr. L. J. 734=A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 313=95 Ind. Cas. 62. Where one party is clearly in possession the proper remedy is to take proceedings under s. 107 of the Code. 1 Pat. L. T. 681=22 Cr. L. J. 86=59 Ind. Cas. 374; see also 21 Cr. L. J. 134 (Cal.)=54 Ind. Cas. 614; A. I. R. 1931 Pat. 347=32 Cr. L. J. 1014; A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 424=34 Cr. L. J. 810; 59 Ind. Cas. 374=1 Pat. L. T. 681=22 Cr. L. J. 86; 26 Cr. L. J. 1562=6 P. L. T. 766=90 Ind. Cas. 442. It may sometimes be necessary to find parties under s. 107 in order to prevent a breach of the peace even though proceedings under s. 145 have been taken. 24 O. C. 21=21 Cr. L. J. 384=A. I. R. 1921 Oudh. 119=61 Ind. Cas. 240.

Power of Magistrate.—An order once passed is final and cannot be set aside reviewed or varied by the same Magistrate or his successor. 48 A. 258=24 A. L. J. 227=27 Cr. L. J. 466=93 Ind. Cas. 690. The Magistrate can pass a preliminary order under s. 146 (1) merely on an examination of the applicant before him and without any other materials. 1931 Cr. C. 153=A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 51=131 Ind. Cas. 63. The taking of proceedings is essentially a matter in the Magistrate's discretion. It cannot be filtered by directions of the District Magistrate. 50 C. L. J. 287=34 C. W. N. 82=A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 805. An order in respect of a larger area of land that was included in the proceedings could not be passed. 28 Cr. L. J. 929=A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 81. Although the Sub-divisional Magistrate has refused to take action under s. 145, District Magistrate can take proceedings suo-motu under that section on the same materials. 43 C. L. J. 586=27 Cr. L. J. 1083=A. I. R. 1927 Oudh. 316=104 Ind. Cas. 717; see 43 C. L. J. 586=27 Cr. L. J. 1083. A Magistrate has no jurisdiction to pass order in respect of law which was not referred to the initiatory proceeding. 3 Pat. 288=7 P. L. 288=27 Cr. L. J. 220=92 Ind. Cas. 172. A Magistrate cannot in any stage cancel the order initiating proceedings if he is satisfied that there is no dispute likely to cause breach of peace. 33 C. W. N. 399=A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 328. Magistrate initiating proceedings can stay the same on receipt of information as to absence of likelihood of a breach of the peace. Ibid. No order can be passed as regards future possession with reference to the actual possession at the date of the preliminary order. An order regarding future possession on the strength of an agreement is wrong. A. I. R. 1929 Nag. 285=121 Ind. Cas. 47. Where District Magistrate after setting aside proceedings under s. 144 (4) directs Sub-divisional Magistrate to draw up proceedings under s. 145, order so drawn up is without jurisdiction. 33 C. W. N. 723=A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 751. If the Magistrate is satisfied that the likelihood of the breach of the peace either did not exist or that it has ceased to exist, it is the proper duty of the Magistrate to drop the proceedings under s. 145. 27 Cr. L. J. 95=49 M. 232=22 M. L. W. 524. Proceedings under s. 107 can be dropped and proceedings under s. 145 can be started instead. 19 Cr. L. J. 712=46 Ind. Cas. 296. Section 145 is merely intended to prevent a breach of the peace and if the Magistrate thinks it sufficient to include a portion of the land, which is the subject of the Police report he can do so. 18 Cr. L. J. 692. Proceedings under s. 145 can be converted into one under s. 147. 26 Cr. L. J. 558=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1022=85 Ind. Cas. 654. A Magistrate can after final order under s. 144, draw up proceedings under s. 145. 1 Pat. L. T. 369=21 Cr. L. J. 625=57 Ind. Cas. 449. It is competent for a Divisional Magistrate to initiate proceedings under s. 145, Cr. P. Code during the substance of an order passed by a Sub-Magistrate under s. 144. 11 L. W. 459=21 Cr. L. J. 478=54 Ind. Cas. 473. Where proceedings under s. 145 have once been started, the Magistrate cannot strike them off. He must pass an order under s. 145 or under s. 146. 20 Cr. L. J. 464=15 Ind. Cas. 352. A Magistrate has no jurisdiction under s. 145 to attach movable properties in a house. 20 A. L. J. 906=24 Cr. L. J. 85. Single proceedings under s. 145 is not without jurisdiction because some of the parties are concerned only with possession of a portion of land in dispute. 24 Cr. L. J. 235=

A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 539=71 Ind. Cas. 699. The Magistrate cannot make an order in favour of one of the parties where there is no evidence as to a likelihood of a breach of peace between the parties or either of them. 25 C. W. N. 214=22 Cr. L. J. 502=62 Ind. Cas. 326. A Magistrate has power to decide whether or not he has jurisdiction over the land in dispute and where he decides he has no jurisdiction, it is not a failure to exercise his jurisdiction. 22 Cr. L. J. 392=61 Ind. Cas. 520. A Magistrate has no power to pass a temporary order pending his decision of the question of possession under s. 145. 14 P. L. R. 1921=22 Cr. L. J. 48=59 Ind. Cas. 160. A Magistrate may take further evidence if he thinks it necessary to do so. 5 P. L. T. 69=2 Pat. L. R. Cr. 104=75 Ind. Cas. 535. A Magistrate has no jurisdiction to make an order under this section without any evidence being adduced before him. 24 Cr. L. J. 702=73 Ind. Cas. 814. The Magistrate cannot deal in his order more land than that included in the proceedings. 4 Pat. L. T. 372=24 Cr. L. J. 309. If Magistrate comes to the conclusion that there is no danger of a breach of peace the proper course is to cancel his order under s. 145 (5) and he cannot pass an order under cl. (6). Magistrate can record his opinion as to possession. 26 Cr. L. J. 1398=A. I. R. 1926 Oudh. 182=89 Ind. Cas. 710. A Magistrate has no jurisdiction to order restoration of possession. All that the Magistrate is empowered to do is to declare that a particular party is entitled to possession. 24 Cr. L. J. 461=A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 411=72 Ind. Cas. 621. After transfer although a Magistrate tried a case, he is incompetent to deliver judgment. 38 C. L. J. 201=25 Cr. L. J. 192.

Order without jurisdiction.—Section 145 (1) requires that a Magistrate has to satisfy himself "that a dispute likely to cause a breach of peace exists concerning any land" and has there to "make an order in writing, stating the grounds of his being so satisfied". Failure to comply with the provision makes the Magistrate's order without jurisdiction. 7 Lah. L. J. 173=26 Cr. L. J. 1177. Under s. 145 a Magistrate has jurisdiction to find possession but not the mode of possession or how the possession is to be exercised, and hence any order so determining the mode of possession is without jurisdiction. 30 C. W. N. 873=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 1022. If the Magistrate in the course of the preliminary order directs that both the parties be restrained from entering the property and its compound until further orders, the order is ultra vires. A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 51=131 Ind. Cas. 63. An order based upon a written statement of one of the parties supported by his own evidence is not without jurisdiction. 5 P. L. T. 69=2 Pat. L. R. Cr. 104=A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 509=75 Ind. Cas. 535. Order bound on no enquiry, but on incidental findings in proceedings under s. 144 is without jurisdiction. 43 M. L. J. 716=24 Cr. L. J. 429=72 Ind. Cas. 541. Order passed by Magistrate without taking any evidence himself and depending solely on report by subordinate Magistrate is one passed without jurisdiction. 33 Cr. L. J. 536=35 M. L. W. 390=A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 368.

Order without notice.—Ex parte order without notice is illegal. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 145=34 Cr. L. J. 616; see also A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 895=128 Ind. Cas. 313; 26 Cr. L. J. 1287=7 P. L. T. 156; 22 Cr. Revision.—An order under s. 145 and proceedings under Chapter XII of the Cr. Pro. Code. are not subject to revision. 19 Cr. L. J. 384=44 Ind. Cas. 741. 18 Cr. L. J. 828; 18 Cr. L. J. 418; 18 Cr. L. J. 160; 19 Cr. L. J. 381. In a dispute under s. 145 Cr. Pro. Code a High Court cannot interfere on the merits so long as the Magistrate is acting within his jurisdiction. 18 Cr. L. J. 557=15 A. L. J. 100; 23 Cr. L. J. 424=A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 454. Mere delay in drawing formal proceedings is no ground for interference in revision unless substantial injustice is caused. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 601. Order of dismissal of complaint under s. 145 on ground of absence of likelihood of breach of peace cannot be set aside. 10 O. W. N. 310=34 Cr. L. J. 934=A. I. R. 1933 Oudh. 253. Practice as regards reference in cases under s. 145 is same as it is in ordinary case. 35 C. W. N. 374. Magistrate's order should not be lightly interfered with in revision. 34 P. L. R. 368=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 409. High Court would refuse to interfere where there is no question of law and on facts reasons given by Magistrate is not unsound. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 33. Where there is no oral evidence and decision is based on record of rights, High Court will not interfere. 2 Pat. L. T. 266=A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 295. Where the Magistrate dismissed an application without finding who was in possession his order is revisable. 23 Cr. L. J. 225=A. I. R. 1922 Lah. 348=66 Ind. Cas. 65. An order under s. 145 made for the purpose of keeping the peace pending the party's appeal to the civil tribunal and should not be lightly disturbed. 17 Cr. L. J. 143 (M)=33 Ind. Cas. 319. The High Court cannot interfere with the costs under s. 349, Cr. P. Code or s. 107 of the Government of India Act. 17 Cr. L. J. 348=35 Ind. Cas. 524. High Court can only interfere if the Magistrate's finding about possession is not based on any material before him. But he is the sole judge of its sufficiency. 3 P. L. W. 353=19 Cr. L. J. 113=43 Ind. Cas. 401. Making order declaring possession of property not claimed is not a defect of jurisdiction. 18 Cr. L. J. 995=42 Ind. Cas. 723. The rejection of material evidence offered by a party would amount to refusal to exercise jurisdiction and is a proper ground for revision. 19 Cr. L. J. 529=45 Ind. Cas. 337; see also 20 Cr. L. J. 234=49 Ind. Cas. 858. Where a Magistrate acts in disregard of an order of a Civil Court directing delivery of possession he acts with material irregularity justifying interference by the High Court in revision. 37 C. L. J. 256=24 Cr. L. J. 517=73 Ind. Cas. 53. Where there is no attempt to deal with question of possession and there is no finding thereon, order amounts to an infringement of s. 145 and can be set aside by High Court in revision. 16 L. W. 338=24 Cr. L. J. 156=71 Ind. Cas. 508; but see 29 Cr. L. J. 861=A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 325=111 Ind. Cas. 445. Unless the order putting a person in possession is illegal or irregular it cannot be interfered with in revision. 6 O. W. N. 17=30 Cr. L. J. 381=A. I. R. 1929 Oudh. 82. Absence of reasons and indications as to how a Magistrate arrived at the decision in question is a ground for revision. 25 Cr. L. J. 1115=39 C. L. J. 366=A. I. R. 1924 Cal. 848. A reference asking to confirm a part of the order under s. 145 and quash the rest is not in proper form. 44 C. L. J. 593=28 Cr. L. J. 20=99 Ind. Cas. 1010. It is not the duty of the High Court to examine the evidence to consider whether Magistrate might have come to a different finding. 9 P. L. T. 18=28 Cr. L. J. 901=A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 88. Where an order under section 145 is not plainly or palpably wrong, the mere absence of any evidence as to the breach of the peace on the record is not a sufficient reason for interfering in revision. 4 O. W. N. 834=28 Cr. L. J. 847=A. I. R. 1927 Oudh. 359. Omission to record grounds which had caused a Magistrate to act should not be a reason to set aside an order otherwise justified and valid. 5 Rang. 129=28 Cr. L. J. 628=A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 177=102 Ind. Cas. 911. Magistrate going into question of ownership and not explaining how a breach of the peace was apprehended, is liable to have the order set aside by the High Court in revision. 28 P. L. R. 107=28 Cr. L. J. 328=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 822. The mere fact that the Magistrate had not made it clear in his order that there was a likelihood of the breach of the peace did not justify interference in revision. 26 Cr. L. J. 1035=A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 448. The High Court should not entertain the application where the Sessions Judge has, under ss. 435 to 438, concurrent jurisdiction. 27 Cr. L. J. 71=91 Ind. Cas. 245. The Court as a Court of revision cannot interfere with the decision of the trial Court on the factum of possession as long as there is evidence in support of that finding. 8 L. L. J. 47=27 P. L. R. 102=27 Cr. L. J. 471=93 Ind. Cas. 695. Omission to make the initial order as required by s. 145 (1) and a failure to make at any subsequent stage an order at least complying with the requirements of sub-section (1) to s. 145, make the proceedings entirely without jurisdiction. 4 Lah. 66=24 Cr. L. J. 751. The High Court will not ordinarily interfere with a preliminary order under s. 145, Cr. Pro. Code except where such order is manifestly illegal. 27 M. L. T. 234=11 L. W. 459=21 Cr. L. J. 73=54 Ind. Cas. 473. But in a proper case the High Court can call for the records of the proceedings of Magistrate under s. 145 Cr. P. Code and interfere in revision with the order. 42 A. 214=18 A. L. J. 171=55 Ind. Cas. 104. Declaration as to possession in spite of contrary civil decree is not revisable. 22 Cr. L. J. 238 (Pat.)=60 Ind. Cas. 430. The High Court can interfere in revision if there has been not a proceeding either in fact or in law as contemplated by s. 145. 18 A. L. J. 1140=22 Cr. L. J. 97. The mere absence of a finding that there is likelihood of a breach of the peace does not justify the interference by the High Court. 33 C. L. J. 69=25 C. W. N. 215=22 Cr. L. J. 484=62 Ind. Cas. 180. An arbitrary refusal to examine more than a certain number of witness in a proceeding under s. 145 affects the exercise of jurisdiction and is revisable by the High Court. 2 P. L. T. 330=22 Cr. L. J. 430=A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 308; see also 25 O. C. 148=23 Cr. L. J. 684. On a difference of opinion in matters under s. 545, Cr. P. Code, the Senior Judge's opinion prevails as the jurisdiction exercised by the High Court is under s. 107 the Government of India Act and not under s. 435 and 439 Cr. Pro. Code. 32 C. L. J. 54=22 Cr. J. 99=59 Ind. Cas. 403. The death of the petitioner for revisions of an order under s. 145 of the Code during the pendency of the application causes the application to abate. 23 P. R. Cr. 1919=20 Cr. * [147. (1) Whenever any District Magistrate, Sub-divisional Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class is satisfied, from Dispute concerning rights of use of immovable property, etc. a police-report or other information, that a dispute likely to cause a breach of the peace exists regarding any alleged right of user of any land or water as explained in section 145, sub-section (2) (whether such right be claimed as an easement or otherwise), within the local limits of his jurisdiction, he may make an order † in writing stating the grounds of his being so satisfied and requiring the parties concerned in such dispute to attend the Court in person or by pleader within a time to be fixed by such Magistrate and to put in written statements of their respective claims, and shall thereafter inquire into the matter in the manner provided in section 145, and the provisions of that section shall, as far as may be, be applicable in the case of such inquiry.

(2) If it appears to such Magistrate that such right exists, he may make an order prohibiting any interference with the exercise of such right :

Provided that no such order shall be made where the right is exercisable at all times of the year, unless such right has been exercised within three months next before the institution of the inquiry ; or where the right is exercisable only at particular seasons or on particular occasions, unless the right has been exercised during the last of such seasons or on the last of such occasion before such institution.

(3) If it appears to such Magistrate that such right does not exist, he may make an order prohibiting any exercise of the alleged right.

(4) An order under this section shall be subject to any subsequent decision of a Civil Court of competent jurisdiction.]

Scope.—The provisions of s. 147 are of an emergency nature and are conducted summarily. The word "such right exists" must be understood to mean "such right as is claimed". 27 Cr. L. J. 841=A. I. CHAPTER XIII.

PREVENTIVE ACTION OF THE POLICE.

149. Every police-officer may interpose for the purpose of preventing, and shall to the best of his ability, prevent, the commission of any cognisable offence.

Notes.—Under this section a police-officer cannot pass any order. 47 A. 205. "Interpose" means actually intervene. Ibid. Police action under this section is not restricted to cognisable offences only. 17 Cr. L. J. 347=8 L. B. R. 329.

150. Every police officer receiving information of a design to commit any cognisable offence shall communicate such information to the police-officer to whom he is subordinate, and to any other officer whose duty it is to prevent or take cognizance of the commission of any such offence.

151. A police-officer knowing of a design to commit any cognisable offence may arrest, without orders from a Magistrate and without a warrant, the person so designing, if it appears to such officer that the commission of the offence cannot be otherwise prevented.

Notes.—Arrest under s. 151 without any emergency is illegal. 31 Cr. L. J. 294=31 P. L. R. 285=121 Ind. Cas. 734. Chapters 13 and 14 are not mutually exclusive. 35 C. W. N. 623.

152. A police-officer may, of his own authority interpose to prevent any injury attempted to be committed in his view to any public property, movable or immovable, or the removal or injury of any public landmark or buoy or other mark used for navigation.

153. (1) Any officer in charge of a police-station may, without a warrant, enter any place within the limits of such station for the purpose of inspecting or searching for any weights or measures or instruments for weighing, used or kept therein, whenever he has reason to believe that there are in such place any weights, measures of instruments for weighing which are false.

(2) If he finds in such place any weights, measures or instruments for weighing which are false, he may seize the same, and shall forthwith give information of such seizure to a Magistrate having jurisdiction.

Notes.—Some standard weight must be used for comparison; and some reasonable allowance should be granted for wear and tear of the rough and ready methods of bazar shop-keepers. 20 P. R. 1913; 15 Cr. L. J. 11.

PART V.

INFORMATION TO THE POLICE AND THEIR POWERS TO INVESTIGATE.

CHAPTER XIV.

154. Every information relating to the commission of a cognizable offence if given orally to an officer in charge of a police-station, shall be reduced to writing by him or under his direction, and be read over to the informant; and every such information, whether given in writing or reduced to writing as aforesaid, shall be signed by the person giving it, and the substance thereof shall be entered in a book to be kept by such officer in such form as the Local Government may prescribe in this behalf.

Notes.—Statements made in course of police investigation merely because they happen to be signed contrary to the provisions of section 162, Criminal Procedure Code, do not thereby become admissible under this section. 25 Cr. L. J. 401=77 Ind. Cas. 481=1925 Mad. 106. A casual statement to the police is not first information. 1 Pat. L. R. 192=23 Cr. L. J. 406=67 Ind. Cas. 502. A telegram informing police of an offence is not a document under s. 154. 28 M. L. W. 187=55 M. L. J. 231=29 Cr. L. J. 717; but see A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 413. A telephone message not mentioning that an offence had been committed cannot be treated as a first information report. A. I. R. 1931 Sind. 13. Statement to police during investigation is not information under s. 154. 26 Cr. L. J. 1532=4 Bur. L. J. 261=3 Rang. 577; see also 23 A. L. J. 14=47 A. 280=26 Cr. L. J. 554. First information report need not contain every detail. 8 Lah. 605=28 P. L. R. 649=28 Cr. L. J. 983. Admission of guilt is not first information. A. I. R. 1924 All. 207=77 Ind. Cas. 890. Where information is vague, statement made to police during enquiry is not first information. 2 Pat. 517=4 P. L. T. 462=24 Cr. L. J. 641. An unsigned statement by a police-officer containing report of previous complaint together with some result of police investigation is not first information. 27 Cr. L. J. 121=A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 176=91 Ind. Cas. 697. Witness's name need not be given in the first information report. 29 Cr. L. J. 378=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 657=108 Ind. Cas. 370. Statement made after police commenced investigation is not first information and is admissible only under s. 162. 29 O. L. J. 728=110 Ind. Cas. 584=A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 634; see also 90 Ind. A first information under s. 154 is not a statement within s. 162, which is inadmissible in evidence. 30 Cr. L. J. 38=A. I. R. 1929 Nag. 43. Information is not restricted to first information recorded under s. 154. 11 P. L. T. 541=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 555. By "relating" is meant that there need not be complete proof given. Indication that cognisable offence is committed is sufficient but it must be given. 33 Cr. L. J. 138=35 C. W. N. 623=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 745. Information must relate to commission of cognisable offence in order to be first information. 33 Cr. L. J. 138=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 745. Conditions as to writing in s. 154 are merely procedural. Ibid. In some cases information under s. 154 may be recorded during investigation. Prior statements to police are not affected by s. 112 and can be admitted in evidence. 35 C. W. N. 623=33 Cr. L. J. 138. Investigation by officer is not sole criterion of first information. Where two persons make statements about some offence at same time, which is first information depends on discretion of police officer. 35 C. W. N. 623=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 745. Complaint under s. 154 need not be used under s. 162. Simply because the accused's party has given first information. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 130. Assistant Sub-Inspector on duty in mofussil is not officer in charge of the police station unless he comes within the strict terms of s. 4. 30 Cr. L. J. 803=A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 771. Counter informations against complainant by a member of the accused's party who is not himself an accused comes under s. 154 and not under s. 162. 44 C. L. J. 253=28 Cr. L. J. 99=54 C. 232=99 Ind. Cas. 227. Inclusion of names as suspects in first information report carries no weight. 27 Cr. L. J. 492=93 Ind. Cas. 892.

Omission to mention some names in the first information report made on third hand information by a non-eye-witness cannot throw distrust on a contrary deposition by an eye witness. 27 Cr. L. J. 545=A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 369. First information report is not substantive evidence and is to be used under s. 157 and 145 of Evidence Act to corroborate or contradict the maker only. 29 Cr. L. 155. (1) When information is given to an officer in charge of a police-station of the commission, within the limits of the station of non-cognizable cases. such station of non-cognizable offence, he shall enter in a book to be kept as aforesaid the substance of such information and refer the informant to the Magistrate.

(2) No police-officer shall investigate a non-cognisable case without the order of a Magistrate of the first or second class having power to try such case or commit the same for trial, or of a Presidency Magistrate.

(3) Any police-officer receiving such order may exercise the same powers in respect of the investigation (except the power to arrest without warrant) as an officer in charge of a police-station may exercise in a cognisable case.

Notes.—This section does not apply to the police in the towns of Calcutta and Bombay. 15 C. 595; 21 B. 495. Under this section a police-officer cannot investigate in non-cognisable cases without the order of a Magistrate. 29 Bom. L. R. 742=A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 440; 26 B. 150; 16 C. W. N. 1049; 45 Ind. Cas. 277; 16 P. R. 1918; 19 Cr. L. J. 517; 17 Bom. L. R. 69.

Investigation under chapter 14 includes investigation held under s. 155 (3) under the order of a Magistrate. A. I. R. 1931 All. 263=130 Ind. Cas. 193. Application for Courts' sanction to investigate is not complaint. 32 Bom. L. R. 782=A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 372=127 Ind. Cas. 110. District Magistrate acting under s. 155 (2) can order investigation in to a case under s. 294 A. I. P. Code. 33 Cr. L. J. 678=A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 581. Irregularities only affect the value of evidence but do not vitiate trial. A. I. R. 1933 Sind. 188=34 Cr. L. J. 256.

156. (1) Any officer in charge of a police-station may, without the order of a Magistrate, investigate any cognizable case which a Court having jurisdiction over the local area within the limits of such station would have power to inquire into or try under the provisions of Chapter XV relating to the place of inquiry or trial.

(2) No proceeding of a police-officer in any such case shall at any stage be called in question on the ground that the case was one which such officer was not empowered under this section to investigate.

(3) Any Magistrate empowered under section 190 may order such an investigation as above-mentioned.

Notes.—Under this section only a Magistrate and not a Sessions Judge can direct investigation to be made. 11 P. R. 1910=184 P. L. R. 1910. A Magistrate cannot order a police investigation after taking cognizance of a case. 54 C. 303; see also 12 Cr. L. J. 463. * This section, so far as it applies to the police in the town of Bombay, is repealed by s. 2 (1) and Schedule A to the City of Bombay Police Act, 1902 (Bom. Act IV of 1902).

157. (1) If, from information received or otherwise, an officer in charge of a police-station has reason to suspect the commission of an offence which he is empowered under section 156 to investigate, he shall forthwith send a report of the same to a Magistrate empowered to take cognizance of such offence upon a police-report and shall proceed in person, or shall depute one of his subordinate officers * [not being below such rank as the Local Government may, by general or special order, prescribe in this behalf] to proceed to the spot, to investigate the facts and circumstances of the case, † [and, if necessary, to take measures] for the discovery and arrest of the offender :

(a) When any information as to the commission of any such offence is given against any person by name and the case is not of a serious nature, the officer in charge of a police-station need not proceed in person or depute a subordinate officer to make an investigation on the spot ;

(b) if it appear to the officer in charge of a police-station that there is no sufficient ground for entering on an investigation, he shall not investigate the case.

(2) In each of the cases mentioned in clauses (a) and (b) of the proviso to sub-section (1), the officer in charge of the police-station shall state in his said report his reasons for not fully complying with the requirements of that sub-section, ‡ [and, in the case mentioned in clause (b), such officer shall also forthwith notify to the informant, if any, in such manner as may be prescribed by the Local Government, the fact that he will not investigate the case or cause it to be investigated.

Notes.—The words “from information received” mean information given under section 154. 14 C. W. N. 326 ; 15 Cr. L. J. 622. The Police of one jurisdiction can act in another jurisdiction. 12 P. R. 1915 Cr. A report under this section is necessary for taking proceedings under s. 159. 4 C. W. N. 351. Object of s. 157 in getting report from police is to enable Magistrate to have immediate notice of every serious crime. A. I. R. 1931 Pat. 150 = 131 Ind. Cas. 17. First class Magistrate can depute a S. D. Magistrate, under sections 157 and 159 for investigation or preliminary enquiry. Statements made before the latter in the course of police enquiry are admissible. 40 C. L. J. 313 = 26 Cr. L. J. 307 = A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 161.

158. Every report sent to a Magistrate under section 157 shall if the Local Government so directs, be submitted through such superior officer of police as the Local Government, by general or special order, appoints in that behalf.

(2) Such superior officer may give such instructions to the officer in charge of the police-station as he thinks fit, and shall after recording such instructions on such report, transmit the same without delay to the Magistrate.

159. Such Magistrate, on receiving such report, may direct an investigation or, if he thinks fit, at once proceed, or depute any Magistrate subordinate to him to proceed, to hold a preliminary inquiry into, or otherwise to dispose of, the case in manner provided in this Code.

* These words were inserted by s. 32 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923).

† These words were substituted for the words “and to take such measures as may be necessary” by Act XVIII of 1923.

‡ These words were added by ibid.

Notes.—An enquiry is authorised under this section only on a police-report under s. 157. 4 C. W. N. 351. Where a complaint is made to a Magistrate, he is bound to proceed under s. 200. 30 C. 923. After full enquiry by police an enquiry under this section is not proper. 1899 A. W. N. 87. A first class Magistrate can depute a sub-deputy Magistrate, to hold a preliminary enquiry under this section. 40 C. L. J. 313=26 Cr. L. J. 307.

160. Any police-officer making an investigation under this Chapter may, by order in writing, require the attendance of any person being within the limits of his own or any adjoining station who, from the information given or otherwise, appears to be acquainted with the circumstances of the case; and such person shall attend as so required.

161. (1) Any police-officer making an investigation under this Chapter [or any police-officer not below such rank as the Local Government may, by general or special order, prescribe in this behalf, acting on the requisition of such officer] may examine orally any person supposed to be acquainted with the facts and circumstances of the case.

(2) Such person shall be bound to answer all questions relating to such case put to him by such officer other than questions the answers to which would have a tendency to expose him to a criminal charge or to a penalty or forfeiture.

Notes.—The statements of witnesses recorded under this section form no portion of the police diary referred to in s. 172. 16 C. 610; 9 C. P. L. R. 33; 20 C. 642; 1896 A. W. N. 93; but see 19 A. 390; 16 A. 207. Police asking driver without license his name is not holding investigation and the question is not under s. 161. 7 Pat. 715=10 P. L. T. 244=30 Cr. L. Incriminating statement of accused person would be excluded under section 25 of the Evidence Act. Ibid. As regards statement at inquest, vide 37 C. W. N. 732.

162. *(1) No statement made by any person to a police-officer in the course of an investigation under this Chapter shall, if reduced into writing, be signed by the person making it; nor shall any such statement or any record thereof, whether in a police diary or otherwise, or any part of such statement or record, be used for any purpose (save as hereinafter provided) at any inquiry or trial in respect of any offence under investigation at the time when such statement was made:

Provided that when any witness is called for the prosecution in such inquiry or trial whose statement has been reduced into writing as aforesaid

* These words were inserted by s. 33 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923).

the Court shall on the request of the accused, refer to such writing and direct that the accused be furnished with a copy thereof, in order that any part of such statement if duly proved, may be used to contradict such witness in the manner provided by section 145 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872.* When any part of such statement is so used, any part thereof may also be used, in the re-examination of such witness, but for the purpose only of explaining any any matter referred to in his cross-examination :

Provided, further, that, if the Court is of opinion that any part of any such statement is not relevant to the subject-matter of the inquiry or trial or that its disclosure to the accused is not essential in the interests of justice and is inexpedient in the public interests, it shall record such opinion (but not the reasons therefor) and shall exclude such part from the copy of the statement furnished to the accused.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to apply to any statement falling within the provisions of section 32, clause (1), of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872.†

Object and Scope.—Statement of any person refers to statements of witnesses only. 27 Cr. L. J. 456=A. I. R. 1926 Sind. 151. Under this section as substituted by the Amending Act of 1923 it is not now permissible for statements made to the police, whether oral or written, to be put in evidence in order to corroborate a prosecution witness or contradict a defence witness. 26 Bom. Procedure.—When prosecution witness contradicts himself accused can obtain copy and cross-examine on it. 6 Rang. 137=29 Cr. L. J. 701=A. I. R. 1928 Rang. 150. Police-officer's report of oral statements of accused should be placed on record if accused so desired. 7 O. W. N. 957. Magistrate's reference to the police or excise authorities regarding the grant of copies is proper. 30 Cr. L. J. 760=A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 429=117 Ind. Cas. 377. When defence seeks to prove affirmatively before Sessions Court that prosecution witnesses are unreliable it must be proved through investigating officer from record of statements made to police by witnesses. 32 Cr. L. J. 1245=35 C. W. N. 164=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 622.

Proof.—Due proof of genuineness as of statements of witnesses is essential. 6 Lah. 24=24 Cr. L. J. 1153=26 P. L. R. 139=88 Ind. Cas. 513. Statements of witnesses made during investigation need not be reduced to writing. 18 S. L. R. 342=A. I. R. 1921 Sind. 16=88 Ind. Cas. 449. Admission of record of statement should after due examination of the police-officer recording it or after other means of proof, e. g. that it is in his handwriting. 26 Bom. L. R. 965=26 Cr. L. J. 223=A. I. R. 1924 Bom. 510=83 Ind. Cas. 1007. Reference by a Magistrate to statements of witness not passed and copies of which were not given to the accused, for the purpose of contradicting prosecution witnesses, is erroneous. 29 Cr. L. J. 14=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 144=106 Ind. Cas. 350. Section 162 applies even where witness agrees with statement. A. I. R. 1933 All. 535. Record of statement must be proved before it can be made use of to contradict witness. 14 P. L. T. 543=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 589. Omission to prove record of statement does not preclude Court from seeing statement under s. 172, but they can be used only according to law. 14 P. L. T. 543=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 589. Facts found in diary cannot be used as evidence unless passed by witness. 14 P. L. T. 396=34 Cr. L. J. 948=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 440. As regards method of proving previous statements, vide A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 103=33 Cr. L. J. 97. Where statements of witnesses before police are not properly put in Judge is not entitled to use them to discredit the witness. 35 C. W. N. 317=58 C. 1009=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 189.

When copies are given.—Accused is entitled for copies as soon as prosecution witness is called in an enquiry or trial. 30 Cr. L. J. 728=A. I. R. 1929 Nag. 172. There is no harm if copies are given prior to the stage of cross-examination. 30 Cr. L. J. 760=A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 429; but see 31 Cr. L. J. 414=1929 M. W. N. 885=A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 185; 27 Cr. L. Copies may be refused of statements of prosecution witnesses not examined. 7 Pat. 153=10 P. L. T. 297=30 Cr. L. J. 273. This section does not apply to statement of accused after arrest. 29 Cr. L. J. 400=A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 108. Accused is entitled to have a copy of the statement of an unpardoned approver to police. 9 Lah. 389=25 C. L. J. 348=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 257.

Accused is entitled to copy before witness is called. A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 138. Magistrate's opinion that there are no contradictions is immaterial. Ibid

Contradict.—Court should refer to the statement made to the police by the witness who is being examined when so requested by the accused. 22 Cr. L. J. 578=62 Ind. Cas. 818. The only way a witness can be contradicted by statements to the police is to prove his written statement and put it to the witness under s. 145, Indian Evidence Act, to permit him to explain the contradictions, if any. 8 Lah. 605=28 P. L. R. 649=28 Cr. L. J. 983=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 17. Statements to investigating officers are useful only to contradict testimony of prosecution witnesses. 29 Cr. L. J. 282=10 Lah. L. J. 389=A. I. 164. (1) * [Any Presidency Magistrate, any Magistrate of the first class and any Magistrate of the second class specially empowered in this behalf by the Local Government may, if he is not a police-officer] record any statement or confession made to him in the course of an investigation under this Chapter or at any time afterwards before the commencement of the inquiry or trial.

(2) Such statements shall be recorded in such of the manners herein-after prescribed for recording evidence as is, in his opinion, best fitted for the circumstances of the case. Such confessions shall be recorded and signed in the manner provided in s. 364, and such statements or confessions shall then be forwarded to the Magistrate by whom the case is to be inquired into or tried.

(3) † [A Magistrate shall, before recording any such confession, explain to the person making it that he is not bound to make a confession and that if he does so it may be used as evidence against him and no Magistrate] shall record any such confession unless, upon questioning the person making it, he has reason to believe that it was made voluntarily; and, when he records any confession, he shall make a memorandum at the foot of such record to the following effect :—

‡ [I have explained to (name) that he is not bound to make a confession and that, if he does so, any confession he may make may be used as evidence against him and I believe] that this confession was voluntarily made. It was taken in my presence and hearing and was read over to the person making it and admitted by him to be correct, and it contains a full and true account of the statement made by him.

Notes.—The evidence of a witness who is kept under police surveillance cannot be called voluntary evidence. 4 C. W. N. 49.

172. (1) Every police-officer making an investigation under this Chapter shall day by day enter his proceedings in the investigation in a diary, setting forth the time at which the information reached him, the time at which he began and closed his investigation, the place or places visited by him, and a statement of the circumstances ascertained through his investigation.

(2) Any Criminal Court may send for the police-diaries of a case under inquiry or trial in such Court, and may use such diaries, not as evidence in the case, but to aid it in such inquiry or trial. Neither the accused nor his agents shall be entitled to call for such diaries, nor shall he or they be entitled to see them merely because they are referred to by the Court; but, if they are used by the police-officer who made them, to refresh his memory, or if the Court uses them for the purpose of contradicting such police-officer, the provisions of the Indian Evidence Act. 1872,* section 61 or section 145, as the case may be, shall apply.

Notes.—This section is not exhaustive. It includes a statement by a police-officer that he examined certain witnesses and the statement of circumstances ascertained from the examination of the witnesses; but it does not include the actual statement of the witnesses. 20 C. 642. Police diaries cannot be placed before the jury; as provided by s. 172, they are useful, not as evidence, but to aid a Court in the trial so as to enable it to make a thorough enquiry on all material points, and to elicit, in the examination of the witnesses, the real facts of the case. 27 C. 295=4 C. The police proceedings are not substantive evidence and cannot be used to test the correctness of the statements made by witnesses on oath before the Court. Reference to police proceedings cannot be justified. 29. Cr. L. J. 493=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 820=109 Ind. Cas. 221. Section 172 does not apply to the statements of persons and does not override the provisions of the Evidence Act. 9 Lah. 389=29 Cr. L. J. 348=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 257. Entries in police diary cannot be used to discredit prosecution evidence or to aid it in enquiry or trial. The aid is confined to utilising information as foundation for examining witnesses. Court should employ great caution in using them. 28 Cr. L. J. 134=A. I. R. 1927 Oudh. 64=99 Ind. Cas. 842; see also 27 Cr. L. J. 572=A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 485. The Court may use the diaries for the purpose of clearing up obscurities in the evidence or bringing out relevant facts. Objects of sub-section (2) is to enable the Court to direct the police-officer to refresh his memory from the notes or to question him as to contradiction between statement and his evidence. 26 Cr. L. J. 1308=A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 54=89 Ind. Cas. 252. Defence is not entitled to inspection of anything more than that portion of the diary from which he refreshed his memory. 3 Pat. L. T. 562=23 Cr. L. When a diary is prepared under s. 47 (a) of the Calcutta Suburban Police Act no privilege attaches to it and the accused would be entitled to use those statements to contradict those witnesses under s. 145 of the Evidence Act. 24 Cr. L. J. 757=74 Ind. Cas. 261. Right to inspect police diaries is given only to Court and Court cannot delegate its duties to counsel for defence. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 498=34 Cr. L. J. 464. Police diary is to be used not as evidence in the case. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 440=34 Cr. L. J. 948. Omission to prove record of statement does not preclude Court from seeing statement under s. 172 but they can be used only according to law. 14 P. L. T. 543=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 589. Use of diary for refreshing memory is at discretion of witness or Judge. 33 Cr. L. J. 97=33 P. L. R. 891=A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 103.

173. *[(1) Every investigation under this Chapter shall be completed without unnecessary delay, and as soon as it is completed, the officer in charge of the police-station shall—

- (a) forward, to a Magistrate empowered to take cognizance of the offence on a police-report a report, in the form prescribed by the Local Government, setting forth the names of the parties, the nature of the information and the names of the persons who appear to be acquainted with the circumstances of the case, and stating whether the accused (if arrested) has been forwarded in custody, or has been released on his bond, and, if so, whether with or without sureties, and,
 - (b) communicate, in such manner as may be prescribed by the Local Government, the action taken by him to the person, if any, by whom the information relating to the commission of the offence was first given.]
- (2) Where a superior officer of police has been appointed under section 158, the report shall, in any cases in which the Local Government by general or special order so directs, be submitted through that officer, and he may, pending the orders of the Magistrate, direct the officer in charge of the police-station to make further investigation.
- (3) Whenever it appears from a report forwarded under this section that the accused has been released on his bond, the Magistrate shall make such order for the discharge of such bond or otherwise as he thinks fit.

* This sub-section was substituted by s. 40 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923).

*[(4) A copy of any report forwarded under this section shall, on application, be furnished to the accused before the commencement of the inquiry or trial :

Provided that the same shall be paid for unless the Magistrate for some special reason thinks fit to furnish it free of cost.]

Notes.—A second investigation after submission of the report of the first investigation, on further information is competent. 35 M. L. J. 127 ; 19 Cr. L. J. 901. A police report should contain the names of the parties and the nature of the information as well as names of the persons acquainted with the case. 37 C. 49 ; 14 C. W. N. 304 : 17 S. L. R. 150. The contention that this section requires that an abstract of the evidence to be given by each of the witnesses mentioned should be entered in the report for charge-sheet is unsound. 1929 M. W. Remand under s. 344 can be ordered without report under s. 173. 53 A. 729=32 Cr. L. J. 1045=1931 A. L. J. 617. Section 173 applies to referred charge-sheet. 33 Cr. L. J. 785=63 M. L. J. 679. Magistrate ordering case reported under s. 173 to be struck off can re-open case by calling for charge-sheet under s. 190 (1) (c). A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 242=12 Pat. 234=14 P. L. T. 162. As regards what is charge-sheet, vide A. I. R. 1932 Pat. 72=33 Cr. L. J. 349=12 P. L. T. 937. If after investigation against 3 persons police sent a report describing one alone as concerned in theft and requesting to issue process Court may issue warrants even against the other two if there is evidence against them. The report is a police report as regards the other two. 17 S. L. R. 150=26 Cr. L. J. 181=83 Ind. Cas. 885.

† 174. (1) The officer in charge of a police-station or some other police-officer specially empowered by the Local Government in that behalf, on receiving information that a person—

- (a) has committed suicide, or
- (b) has been killed by another, or by an animal, or by machinery, or by an accident, or
- (c) has died under circumstances raising a reasonable suspicion that some other person has committed an offence, shall immediately give intimation thereof to the nearest Magistrate empowered to hold inquests, and, unless otherwise directed by any rule prescribed by the Local Government, or by any general or special order of the District or Sub-divisional Magistrate, shall proceed to the place where the body of such deceased person is, and there, in the presence of two or more respectable inhabitants of the neighbourhood, shall make an investigation, and draw up a report of the apparent cause of death, describing such wounds, fractures, bruises and other marks of injury as may be found on the body, and stating in what manner, or by what weapon or instrument (if any), such marks appear to have been inflicted.

* Sub-section (4) was inserted by s. 40 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923).

† For form in which ss. 174 to 176 should be read in their application to area comprised within the local limits of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the High Court at Madras, see s. 4 (2) of the Coroners (Madras) Act, 1889 (V of 1889,) as amended by the Repealing and Amending Act, 1903 (I of 1903).

(2) The report shall be signed by such police-officer and other persons, or by so many of them as concur therein, and shall be forthwith forwarded to the District Magistrate or the Sub-divisional Magistrate.

(3) When there is any doubt regarding the cause of death, or when for any other reason the police-officer considers it expedient so to do, he shall, subject to such rules as the Local Government may prescribe in this behalf, forward the body, with a view to its being examined, to the nearest Civil Surgeon, or other qualified medical man appointed in this behalf by the Local Government, if the state of the weather and the distance admit of its being so forwarded without risk of such putrefaction on the road as would render such examination useless.

(4) In the Presidencies of Fort St. George and Bombay, investigations under this section may be made by the head of the village, who shall then report the result to the nearest Magistrate authorized to hold inquests.

(5) The following Magistrates are empowered to hold inquests namely, any District Magistrate, * [Sub-divisional Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class], and any Magistrate specially empowered in this behalf by the Local Government or the District Magistrate.

Notes.—The accused is not entitled to copies of statements made at investigations under this section. 28 Cr. L. J. 634=101 Ind. Cas. 495. Statements taken by police-officer under s. 174 though in the presence of witnesses are statements made to police-officer. Ibid. The proceedings under s. 174 should be kept distinct from proceedings on complaint regarding the same death. 8 L. L. J. 524=27 P. L. R. 779=28 Cr. L. J. 26=99 Ind. Cas. 58. A Magistrate of the first class has now been empowered to hold inquests. 23 Cr. L. J. 82=65 Ind. Cas. 434. In a police enquiry under s. 174, a person who is not summoned is not bound to speak the truth. 65 Ind. Cas. 434.

175. (1) A police-officer proceeding under section 174 may by order in writing, summon two or more persons as Power to summon persons. aforesaid for the purpose of the said investigation, and any other person who appears to be acquainted with the facts of the case. Every person so summoned shall be bound to attend and to answer truly all questions other than questions the answers to which would have a tendency to expose him to a criminal charge, or to a penalty or forfeiture.

(2) If the facts do not disclose a cognizable offence to which section 170 applies, such persons shall not be required by the police-officer to attend a Magistrate's Court.

Notes.—A person who is not summoned cannot be convicted of perjury for making false statements. 23 Cr. L. J. 82=6 P. W. R. 1922.

176. (1) When any person dies while in the custody of the police the nearest Inquiry by Magistrate into cause of death. Magistrate empowered to hold inquests shall, and, in any other case mentioned in section 174, clauses (a), (b) and (c) of sub-section (1), any Magistrate so empowered may, hold an inquiry into the cause of death either instead of, or in addition to, the investigation held by the police-officer, and, if he does so, he shall have all the powers in conducting it which he would have in holding an inquiry into an offence. The Magistrate holding such an inquiry shall record the evidence taken by him in connection therewith in any of the manners hereinafter prescribed according to the circumstances of the case.

* These words were substituted for the words "or Sub-divisional Magistrate" by s. 41 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923).

(2) Whenever such Magistrate considers it expedient to make an examination of the dead body of any person who has been already interred, in order to discover the cause of his death, the Magistrate may cause the body to be disinterred and examined.*

Notes.—Section 25 of the Coroners Act does not oust the Presidency Magistrate of his jurisdiction under this section. 16 B. 159 ; 31 C. 1 ; Rat. Un. Cr. C. 540. Proceedings under s. 176 of the Criminal Procedure are judicial proceedings and are subject to the revisional power of the High Court under s. 435 and 439 of the Code. Such proceedings can also be scrutinised by the High Court in the exercise of its inherent powers under s. 561A in order to secure the ends of justice. 30 Bom. L. R. 1050=A. R. 1928 Bom. 390=29 Cr. L. J. 1063. The object of s. 176 is to have check on police-officer enquiring into the case of suspicious death by enabling a local Magistrate to hold an independent enquiry. Ibid.

PART VI.

PROCEEDINGS IN PROSECUTIONS.

OF THE JURISDICTION OF THE CRIMINAL COURTS IN INQUIRIES AND TRIALS.

A.—Place of Inquiry or Trial.

Ordinary place of inquiry and trial.

177. Every offence shall ordinarily be inquired into and tried by a Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction it was committed.

Notes.—Under this section, every offence shall ordinarily be inquired into and tried by a Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction it was committed. 34 A. 451=9 A. L. J. 696=15 Ind. Cas. 991. The word 'ordinarily' in s. 177 Cr. Pro. Code, must be taken to mean "except in the cases provided hereinafter to the contrary". 30 Bom. L. R. 387=109 Ind. Cas. 357=29 Cr. L. J. 533. Offence committed by foreigner outside British India cannot be tried in British India. Criminal Procedure cannot be applied in such case. A. I. R. 1933 Sind. 333 ; see also 23 P. R. 1918. Cr.=19 Cr. L. J. 931. Place of crime governs nature of offence. Ibid. Offence committed within jurisdiction of Howrah Sessions should be committed to Howrah Sessions and not High Court. 36 C. W. N. 164=59 C. 856=33 Cr. L. J. 645=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 487. Offence of bigamy and abetment of bigamy is triable only where second marriage or abetment took place and not where the woman was enticed. 26 Cr. L. J. 525=85 Ind. Cas. 365. Where Railway receipts were sent from Horda and Rs. 40,000 were obtained on their credit at Bombay held both Bombay and Horda Courts have jurisdiction. 23 Cr. L. J. 210=5 N. L. J. 16. Printing for sale at Lahore of book without permission of another is an infringement of copy right and should be tried in Lahore Court only. 18 Cr. L. J. 352=38 Ind. Cas. 737. Under s. 403 Penal Code, offence is complete the moment the accused receives or returns money with dishonest motive or appropriation. When accused receives money at one place to be handed over at another, the offence is committed at the former place. The failure to hand over money is not a necessary ingredient. The words "consequence which has ensued" in s. 179 do not apply to criminal misappropriation or criminal breach of trust. A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 85. General policy is to uphold orders passed by a Criminal Court lacking in local jurisdiction unless justice has failed. 37 M. L. J. 60=42 M. 791=26 Cr. L. J. 484=51 Ind. Cas. 468. Where accused is charged with two offences, each one of which is triable at different places, Court having jurisdiction to try one only shall try that alone. A. I. R. 1928 Bom. 475=113 Ind. Cas. 617. Where offence is inquired and tried by a Court contrary to the provisions of s. 177, High Court can transfer the case to the Court having jurisdiction. 26 Cr. L. J. 577=85 Ind. Cas. 721=A. I. R. 1925 Oudh. 440. Where wrong measure was used at Meerut and discovery of fraud was at Agra, held that the Magistrate at Agra had no jurisdiction. 16 Cr. L. J. 825=31 Ind. Cas. 1001. For purpose of trial under s. 5 of Child Marriage Restraint Act, the place of marriage determines the forum. A. I. R. 1934 All. 829. Jurisdiction of Court is determined by place where contempt is committed and not place where offender resides. A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 423.

178. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 177, the Local Government may direct that any cases or class of cases committed for trial in any district may be tried in any sessions division:

Power to order cases to be tried in different sessions divisions.

Provided that such direction is not repugnant to any direction previously issued by the High Court under section 15 of the Indian High Courts Act, 1861,*† [or section 107 of the Government of India Act, 1915,] or under this Code, section 526.

Notes.—The Local Government of Burma has no power to transfer a case committed to the Court of the Recorder of Rangoon for trial, to the Court of the Commissioner. But it can transfer a case from the District of Rangoon to the Sessions Judge of Pegu. 10 C. 643.

179. When a person is accused of the commission of any offence by reason of anything which has been done, and of any consequence which has ensued, such offence may be inquired into or tried by a Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction any such thing has been done, or any such consequence has ensued.

Accused triable in district where act is done or where consequence ensues.

Illustrations.

(a) A is wounded within the local limits of the jurisdiction of Court X and dies within the local limits of the jurisdiction of Court Z. The offence of the culpable homicide of A may be inquired into or tried by X or Z.

(b) A is wounded within the local limits of the jurisdiction of Court X, and is, during ten days within the local limits of the jurisdiction of Court Y, and during ten days more within the local limits of the jurisdiction of Court Z, unable in the local limits of the jurisdiction of either Court Y or Court Z to follow his ordinary pursuits. The offence of causing grievous hurt to A may be inquired into or tried by X, Y or Z.

(c) A is put in fear of injury within the local limits of the jurisdiction of Court X, and is thereby induced, within the local limits of the jurisdiction of Court Y, to deliver property to the person who put him in fear. The offence of extortion committed on A may be inquired into or tried either by X or Y.

(d) A is wounded in the Native State of Baroda, and dies of his wounds in Poona. The offence of causing A's death may be inquired into and tried in Poona.

Notes.—The consequence referred to in this section must be one of the facts to be proved to establish the offence. It must form an integral part of the offence, but must not be a consequence arising from it. 5 L. B. R. 57=2. Ind. Cas. 546. The word "consequence" means a consequence which forms a part and parcel of the offence. 10 A. L. J. 45=34 A. 487. The word "consequence" in this section is to be understood in its ordinary grammatical meaning and need not be restricted to mean a consequence which is a necessary ingredient of the offence. 114 Ind. Cas. 99; A. I. R. 1928 Sind. 166; see also A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 358=127 Ind. Cas. 177; 32 Bom. L.R. 1195 (F. B.)=A.I.R. 1930 Bom. 490=129 Ind. Cas. 385; 24 Cr. L.J. 579=73 Ind. Cas. 323; 81 Ind. Cas. 538=25 Cr. L.J. 922. This section can be applied only to cases in which the consequence necessary to constitute the offence ensues in some place other than that in which the accused's act is done. 1915 M. W. N. 418=18 M. L. T. 25. S. 179 does not apply in so far as the words "and of any consequence which has ensued" are covered where the offence alleged is complete. 10 P. L. T. 161=30 Cr. L. J. 765=A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 640=117 Ind. Cas. 309. S. 179 does not govern jurisdiction of Court to try offence of misappropriation or breach of trust. Special provisions to be found in section 181 (2). 25 Cr. L. J. 410=77 Ind. Cas. 490.

Sections 179 to 184 are controlled by s. 188 and the alternative jurisdiction can be exercised on production of certificate of Political Agent. 32 Bom. L. R. 98=54 s. 171=A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 155. Ss. 179 and 181 are not mutually exclusive. A. I. R. 1934 All. 499 (F. B.). In cases of breach of trust residence of complainant does not determine jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1934 All. 127. For application of s. 179 act done and consequence ensued must together constitute offence. A. I. R. 1934 All. 499 (F. D.) see also A. I. R. 1933 Sind 333. Where mortgage was executed in Bombay and creditors were defrauded at Yeotmal, Yeotmal Court is competent to try offences. A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 33. Where letter giving false information under s. 182 I. P. Code is posted at Kumba Kanam and reaches D. S. P. at Tanjore, an offence under s. 182 is committed at Tanjore. 33 Cr. L. J. 452. Where bogus cheque is drawn and handed over at M, but loss occurred at F where the cheque was dishonoured, Court at F has jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1933 Oudh. 215.

180. When an act is an offence by reason of its relation to any other act which is also an offence or which would be an offence if the doer were capable of committing an offence, a charge of the firstmentioned offence may be inquired into or tried by a Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction either act was done.

Illustrations.

(a) A charge of abetment may be inquired into or tried either by the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the abetment was committed, or by the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the offence abetted was committed.

(b) A charge of receiving or retaining stolen goods may be inquired into or tried either by the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the goods were stolen, or by any Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction any of them were at any time dishonestly received or retained.

(c) A charge of wrongfully concealing a person known to have been kidnapped, may be inquired into or tried by the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the wrongful concealing, or by the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the kidnapping took place.

Notes.—The British Court has no jurisdiction to try the accused for retention of stolen property outside British India, even when the theft is committed within British India. 18 C. W. N. 1178=15 Cr. L. J. 527. Abduction is a continuing offence; an accused can be tried in any of the Courts within whose jurisdiction offence takes place. A. I. R. 1931. All. 55. A non-British subject retaining stolen property in Native state is not amenable to British Courts. 90 P. L. R. 1922=68 Ind. Cas. 160. Section 185 includes all cases of doubt not only as to jurisdiction of one or another Court but also as to comparative suitability of this or that Court from the practical stand point of convenience or expediency for purpose of trial. "Doubt" in section 185 is only about jurisdiction order. "Doubt" in section 185 does not mean "doubt" as to acts constituting the offence and the place of their commission. The object of the above section is to determine cases where the facts said to constitute jurisdiction are doubtful and not to cut down jurisdiction which admittedly exist. 44 C. 595=21 C. W. (2) When there are more Magistrates than one having such jurisdiction and the Magistrate acting under this section cannot satisfy himself as the Magistrate to or before whom such person should be sent or bound to appear, the case shall be reported for the orders of the High Court.

Notes.—The High Court has jurisdiction under s. 29, Letters Patent to make an order directing a Magistrate to hold a preliminary investigation and in the event of a prima facie case being made out to commit for trial to the sessions a case which falls within this section. 2 Weir 146=1 Weir 789. B.—Condition requisite for Initiation of Proceedings.

190. (1) Except as hereinafter provided, any Presidency Magistrate, District Magistrate or Sub-divisional Magistrate, and any other Magistrate especially empowered in this behalf, may take cognizance of any offence :—

- (a) upon receiving a complaint of facts which constitute such offence :
- *[(b) upon a report in writing of such facts made by any police-officer ;]
- (c) upon information received from any person other than a police-officer, or upon his own knowledge or suspicion, that such offence has been committed.

(2) The Local Government, or the District Magistrate subject to the general or special orders of the Local Government may empower any Magistrate to take cognizance under sub-section (1), clause (a) or clause (b), of offences for which he may try or commit for trial :

(3) The Local Government may empower any Magistrate of the first or second class to take cognizance under sub-section (1), clause (c), of offences for which he may try or commit for trial.

Scope.—Under section 190, a Magistrate takes cognizance of an offence and not of the offender. 17 S. L. R. 150=26 Cr. L. J. 181=83 Ind. Cas. 885 ; see also A. I. R. 1934 P. 467. Complaint.—The definition of "complaint" does not require any statement of facts beyond an allegation that some person has committed an offence, but if that definition is read into section 190 (1) (a) it is clear that before the Magistrate takes cognizance he must have before him an allegation of facts constituting the offence. 25 C. Information—It is desirable that a Magistrate taking cognizance under s. 190 (1) (c) should record the information upon which he has acted. 4 Bur. L. J. 211=27 Cr. L. J. 413=A. I. R. 1926 Rang. 46=93 Ind. Cas. 77. A letter conveying an information and asking for action to be taken can be treated as information under section 190 (c) for taking action. 25 Cr. L. J. 1147=28 O. Code empowers a District Magistrate to take cognizance of an offence upon information received by him in a different capacity. 38 M. L. J. 219=27 M. L. T. 123=21 Cr. L. J. 348=55 Ind. Cas. 684. A proceeding can be taken cognizance of under s. 190 (c) of the Code only when it is instituted upon information received from a person other than a police-officer or upon the Magistrate's own knowledge or suspicion. 1 Pat. L. T. 446=22 Cr. L. J. 9=59 Ind. Cas. 41.

Own knowledge.—Section 190(c) gives very wide powers to the Magistrate. What is intended thereby is that the Magistrate should be able to bring his experience to bear upon any statement of facts made to him by an aggrieved person who might not know what his legal remedy was in the given circumstances. A. I. R. 1930 Oudh 500=128 Ind. Cas. 279. "Upon his own knowledge" does not include knowledge gained from a police report. 10 P. L. T. 601=31 Cr. L. J. 55=A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 514. A Magistrate can try a case of which he has taken cognizance under s. 190 (c) provided he has complied with the provisions of s. 191. 3 Bur. L. J. 121=26 Cr. L. J. 249=84 Ind. Cas. 249. After cognizance Magistrate can for reasons order police to bring charge-sheet against certain persons. 6 P. L. T. 323=26 Cr. L. J. 211=84 Ind. Cas. 241.

Clause (c).—Non-compliance with s. 191 is illegal and hence incurable. 16 P. L. R. 1921=22 Cr. L. J. 93=59 Ind. Cas. 384. Section 190 of the Criminal Procedure Code must be read with s. 200 of the Code. 20 Cr. L. J. 481=51 C. 465. The Magistrate's taking cognizance of an offence under s. 190 (1) (c) is no bar to his holding an inquiry preliminary to commitment. 20 Cr. L. J. 47=48 Ind. Cas. 687. Although s. 190 (1) (c) applies only to offences, the principle must apply to cases of miscellaneous character, e. g., proceedings under s. 110 Cr. Pro. Code. 4 Pat. L. J. 7=19 Cr. L. get his case transferred renders the proceedings void. 19 A. L. J. 138=22 Cr. L. J. 319=60 Ind. Cas. 1007. Where Magistrate is taking cognizance under 190 (1) (c) the accused should be given option to be tried by some other Magistrate. 14 P. L. T. 162=12 Pat. 234=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 242.

191. When a Magistrate takes cognizance of an offence under sub-section (1), clause (c), of the preceding section, the accused shall before any evidence is taken, be informed that he is entitled to have the case tried by another Court, and if the accused, or any of the accused if there be more than one, objects to being tried by such Magistrate, the case shall instead of being tried by such Magistrate, be committed to the Court of Session or transferred to another Magistrate.

Notes.—Where a Magistrate takes cognizance of an offence under s. 190 (c), he is bound to take further proceedings under s. 191. 6 C. W. N. 202. Non-compliance with the provisions of section 191 is not a mere irregularity, but it is an absolute illegality and vitiates the whole trial. 22 Cr. L. J. 96=16 P. L. R. 1921=59 Ind. 192. (1) Any Chief Presidency Magistrate, District Magistrate or Sub-divisional Magistrate may transfer any case of which he has taken cognizance, for inquiry or trial, to any Magistrate subordinate to him.

Transfer of cases by Magistrates.

(2) Any District Magistrate may empower any Magistrate of the first class who has taken cognizance of any case to transfer it for inquiry or trial to any other specified Magistrate in his district who is competent under this Code to try the accused or commit him for trial; and such Magistrate may dispose of the case accordingly.

193. (1) Except as otherwise expressly provided by this Code or by any other law for the time being in force, no Court of Session shall take cognizance of any offence as a Court of original jurisdiction unless the accused has been committed to it by a Magistrate duly empowered in that behalf.

(2) Additional Sessions Judges and Assistant Sessions Judges shall try such cases only as the Local Government by general or special order may direct them to try, or *as the Sessions Judge of the division, by general or special order, may make over to them for trial.

Notes.—By this section, a Sessions Judge can only take cognizance, as a Court of original jurisdiction, of an offence, when the accused has been duly committed. 6 P. W. R. 1913=260 P. L. R. 1913. The object of s. 193 Cr. Pro Code is to secure to the accused person a preliminary enquiry which would afford him the opportunity of being acquainted with the circumstances of the offence, and to enable him to make his defence. This would be frustrated if fresh charge is added in the Sessions Court. 21 S. L. R. 55=27 Cr. L. J. 1217=A. I. R. 1927 Sind. 28=97 Ind. Cas. 1041. 194. (1) The High Court may take cognizance of any offence upon a commitment made to it in manner hereinafter provided.

Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to affect the provisions of any letters patent granted under the † Indian High Courts Act, 1861, ‡ [or the Government of India Act, 1915], or any other provisions of this Code.

(2) (a) Notwithstanding anything in this Code contained, the Advocate General may, with the previous sanction of the Governor, General in Council or the Local Government, exhibit to the High Court, against persons subject to the jurisdiction of the High Court, informations for all purposes for which Her Majesty's Attorney General may exhibit informations on behalf of the Crown in the High Court of Justice in England.

(b) Such proceedings may be taken upon every such information as may lawfully be taken in the case of similar informations filed by Her Majesty's Attorney General so far as the circumstances of the case and the practice and procedure of the said High Court will admit.

(c) All fines, penalties, forfeitures, debts and sums of money recovered or levied under or by virtue of any such information shall belong to the Government of India.

(2) Such Government may determine the person by whom, the manner in which, the offence or offences for which, the prosecution of such Judge, ‡ (Magistrate) or public servant is to be conducted, and may specify the Court before which the trial is to be held.

Notes.—Sanction is only necessary when an offence is committed in the judicial or official capacity. 30 C. 927; 7 C. W. N. 750; 23 M. 540; 3 C. W. N. 539. The expression "offence alleged to have been committed by him while acting or purporting to act in discharge of his official duties" implies something in the nature of an official character to the act itself, that act being in fact done as an official act in pursuance of public office held by the public servant. Therefore in order that s. 197 may be applicable to the complaint of the offence against a public servant it is essential that the criminal act constituting the offence should have been done as an official act or under the cloak of what purported to be an official Act. It is not enough that this capacity of public servant put him in a position to do the act. Amanat Ali v. Emperor, 33 C. W. N. 1058=A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 724. - case in which the complaint has been made by a Court or by a public servant acting or purporting to act in the discharge of his official duties ;]
- (b) where the Magistrate is a Presidency Magistrate, such examination may be on oath or not as the Magistrate in each case thinks fit, and "where the complaint is made in writing"* need not be reduced in writing ; but the Magistrate may, if he thinks fit, before the matter of the complaint is brought before him, require it to be reduced to writing ;
- (c) When the case has been transferred under section 192 and the Magistrate so transferring it has already examined the complainant, the Magistrate to whom it is so transferred shall not be bound to re-examine the complainant.

Notes.—The prescribed mode of ascertaining what a complaint is, is to examine the complainant and to reduce his examination to writing. 2 Weir. 237 ; 10 A. L. J. 79=13 Cr. L. J. 704=16 Ind. Cas. 512. Section 537 does not apply to non-compliance with the provisions of s. 200 in recording the statement of the complainant. 6 C. W. N. 840. 202. *(1) Any Magistrate, on receipt of a complaint of an offence of which he is authorised to take cognizance, or which has been transferred to him under section 192, may, if he thinks fit, for reasons to be recorded in writing, postpone the issue of process for compelling the attendance of the person complained against, and either inquire into the case himself or, if he is a Magistrate other than a Magistrate of the third class, direct an inquiry or investigation to be made by any Magistrate subordinate to him, or by a police-officer, or by such other person as he thinks fit, for the purpose of ascertaining the truth or falsehood of the complaint:

"Provided that, save where the complaint has been made by a Court, no such direction shall be made unless the complainant has been examined on oath under the provisions of section 200."†

‡ (2) If any inquiry or investigation under this section is made by a person not being a Magistrate or a police-officer, such person shall exercise all the powers conferred by this Code on an officer in charge of a police-station, except that he shall not have power to arrest without warrant.]

§ [(2A) Any Magistrate inquiring into a case under this section may, if he thinks fit, take evidence of witnesses on oath.]

(3) This section applies also to the police in the towns of Calcutta and Bombay.

Object and Scope.—What is ordinarily contemplated by s. 202 is merely a preliminary examination of the complainant and his witnesses in the absence of the accused. 52 B. 448=29 Cr. L. J. 975=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 88=111 Ind. Cas. 878. An enquiry or an investigation under s. 202 is designed to afford the Magistrate an opportunity of either confirming or removing such hesitation as he may feel in respect of issuing process against the accused. It is not a preliminary trial of the accused at which he is entitled to adduce his evidence before process can issue upon him. 10 P. L. T. 618=30 Cr. L. J. 554=A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 30=116 Ind. Cas. 46. Sections 202 and 203, Criminal P. C. are applicable only to complaints and a proceeding under s. 107 cannot be regarded a complaint within the meaning of cl. The enquiry contemplated by s. 202 by the Magistrate himself does not necessarily make an enquiry by examining witnesses or by holding an investigation into the case. It is open to the Magistrate to investigate in any way he thinks proper. 26 Cr. L. J. 129=A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 797=83 Ind. Cas. 689. Magistrate who is asked to set in motion s. 107 may avail himself of the help which is available to him under s. 202, when complaint of an offence of which he is authorized to take cognizance is made to him. Apart from s. 202 it is competent to a Magistrate to refer the matter to the police. 49 M. 315=50 M. L. J. 460=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 521=93 Ind. Cas. 8. A prosecution can be ordered on the basis of evidence recorded under s. 202 (2) Cr. P. Code. 26 Cr. L. J. 862 (2)=A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 138=74 Ind. Cas. 1054. The term "investigation" as defined in s. 4 (1) of the Code expressly excludes an enquiry by a Magistrate other than the one entertaining the complaint. 21 Cr. L. J. 310=55 Ind. Cas. 470. Orders on complaints should not be unduly delayed. 18 Cr. L. J. 271=37 Ind. Cas. 639. Complainant should be given opportunity to meet evidence brought to oppose him. 29 Cr. L. J. 48=A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 135=106 Ind. Cas. 464. Local investigation means enquiry at the place into the truth of the complaint and is not restricted to investigation of physical features only. 19 Cr. L. J. 126. In local investigation Magistrate should see that he is not approached by an out-sider and he should not allow his mind to be affected by outside matters. He ought not to allow himself to enter into a general conversation with the people of the neighbourhood about the case. 41 C. 711=18 Cr. L. J. 477=39 Ind. Cas. 317. Under s. 202 the Magistrate had the option of only one out of two alternatives namely, either to enquire into the case himself, or direct a previous local investigation. He cannot have recourse to both the alternatives. 44 A. 550=20 A. L. J. 355=66 Ind. Cas. 423. If the accused does not disclose his defence in the preliminary enquiry no adverse inference is to be drawn against him. 28 Cr. L. J. 611=8 P. L. T. 656=102 Ind. Cas. 899. The Criminal Procedure Code draws a clear difference between jurisdiction to try and jurisdiction to investigate. Trial by Magistrate does not bar investigation by police. 2 Pat. 379=4 P. L. T. 521=24 Cr. L. J. 375=A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 547. In case of complaint against Police-officer, it should not be referred for report to police, full investigation by Magistrate himself is necessary. 18 A. L. J. 781=2 U. P. L. R. All. 172=21 Cr. L. J. 649=57 Ind. Cas. 665; see also 56 Ind. Cas. 64; 55 Ind. Cas. 679; 52 Ind. Cas. 888. It is illegal and not merely irregular for a Magistrate to whom a complaint is made to call upon the accused for a report as to the truth or falsity of the charge preferred against him and renders the dismissal void. 5 Pat. L. J. 61=1 Pat. L. T. 609=21 Cr. L. J. 621. On receiving a complaint against a Police-officer the Magistrate should at once hold a local enquiry himself or direct another Magistrate to hold it. 20 Cr. L. J. 396=50 Ind. Cas. 1004. A Magistrate has no jurisdiction to dispose of a complaint without examining the complainant on oath before ordering an inquiry under s. 202. 20 Cr. L. J. 413=51 Ind. Cas. 173. Where the Magistrate has doubt as to commission of an offence, he should hold an enquiry under s. 202 to find out the prima facie case. 1 Pat. L. J. 200=21 Cr. L. J. 519=A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 31. A Magistrate while making inquiry may allow accused to file statement and hear his arguments. A. I. R. 1934. Oudh. 372. Complainant need not have personal knowledge of the fact complained. A. I. R. 1934. Rang. 167.

Procedure—Where a Magistrate receives a complaint he should either himself examine one or more complainants and take action under s. 202, or if he is taking action on his own knowledge, he should transfer the proceedings completely to another Magistrate. It is also open to him to make a report to police who can take action under s. 167. But a Magistrate has not the powers of a police-officer to investigate and keep an accused person in custody for the purpose of such investigation. 1930 A. L. J. 635=A. I. R. 1930 All. 259=126 Ind. Cas. 256: 41 A. 550=23 Cr. L. J. 270. A person to whom a complaint is sent for enquiry under s. 202 may impart his own personal knowledge into it or examine witnesses whom he knows to be able to throw light on the matter. 30 Cr. L. J. 1160=A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 443=120 Ind. Cas. 69. Where a Magistrate has referred a complaint for investigation under s. 202, the police after investigation are to make a report to the Magistrate. 53 B. 339=31 Bom. L. R. 84=30 Cr. L. J. 781=117 Ind. Cas. 329. But investigation partly by Magistrate and partly by police without recording any reason for doing so is not in accordance with law. 29 Cr. L. J. 958=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 88=111 Ind. Cas. 878. The accused has no right to be present while a Magistrate is holding an enquiry under s. 202. 20 S. L. R. 43=27 Cr. L. J. 494=93 Ind. Cas. 894=A. I. R. 1926 Sind. 188. Having once taken cognizance on a complaint, the Magistrate can direct the police to make an enquiry under s. 202, but he cannot direct the police to treat the complaint as first information. 29 Cr. L. J. 374=A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 359=108 Ind. Cas. 333. It is certainly not a correct procedure to defer the issue of process and order an enquiry without recording reasons. It is also as a rule undesirable that the enquiry should be prolonged by cross-examination and arguments inter partes. 7 P. L. T. 36=26 Cr. L. J. 139=89 Ind. Cas. 706.

Summons—Section 202 requires that reasons should be given when the issue of process is postponed. But the failure to do so would at most be a mere irregularity. 49 C. L. J. 164=33 C. W. N. 369=A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 176; see also 19 Cr. L. J. 527=45 Ind. Cas. 287. Magistrate may issue summons without enquiry if complaint is made by public officer and if it discloses an offence. 10 P. L. T. 618=30 Cr. L. J. 554=A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 46; see also 21 Cr. L. J. 220=54 Ind. Cas. 1004. Magistrate who receives a complaint may at his option either issue process at once, or he makes a preliminary enquiry under s. 202 and thereafter issue process. 9 Pat. 155=A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 644. The mere fact that the Magistrate order issue of process to the accused does not take away from him the power to direct the police to enquire into the case, but issuing of process to the accused will make the order illegal. 30 Cr. L. J. 326=A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 1268=114 Ind. Cas. 365. Where a Magistrate distrusting the truth of a complaint, directed an investigation under s. 202 but instead of waiting for the report issued summons against the accused the order was not regular and should be set aside. 41 C. L. J. 173=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 989. Allowing a proposed accused person to appear while the proceedings are at the state contemplated by s. 202 is a procedure entirely unwarranted by the Code and is unfair to the accused. 49 M. 918=51 M. L. J. 605=28 Cr. L. J. 129=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 19; see also 85 Ind. Cas. 449=30 C. W. N. 312=26 Cr. L. J. 305.

Revision—The High Court will not ordinarily interfere with the details of an enquiry or investigation on the ground that it was inadequate. 10 P. L. T. 618=30 Cr. L. J. 554=A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 30=116 Ind. Cas. 46. It is not necessary for a superior Court to give any notice to any person against whom a Magistrate has refused to issue process under s. 202, where proceedings are being taken to revise that order. 27 Cr. L. J. 302=92 Ind. Cas. 560; see also 29 Cr. L. J. 89=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 97=106 Ind. Cas. 455.

Dismissal of complaint on perusal of police papers without giving complainant opportunity to argue the case is not proper. 1933 Cr. C. 1435=A. I. R. 1933 Sind. 398. A complaint under Merchant Shipping Act cannot be dismissed under Criminal Procedure Code. 58 C. L. J. 116=37 C. W. N. 1185=A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 647. Section 203 does not apply to proceedings under s. 107. 32 Cr. L. J. 21=127 Ind. Cas. 16=31 P. L. R. 350. Although evidence discloses prima facie case, Magistrate is not bound to issue process. 36 C. W. N. 16=54 C. L. J. 253=33 Cr. L. J. 3=59 C. 275. Where Lorry was purchased on hire purchase system and owner dispossessed purchaser on alleged breach of contract, Magistrate can dismiss the purchaser's complaint and can order return of lorry to purchaser on having bound from him to produce it whenever required. 34 Cr. In case of refusal by Magistrate to entertain a complaint his successor can entertain a second complaint on same facts. 21 Cr. L. J. 815=58 Ind. Cas. 687. Magistrate ought only to see whether complaint has prima facie made out a true case. 4 P. L. T. 703=24 Cr. L. J. 316=72 Ind. Cas. 76=A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 379; but see 15 L. W. 552=24 Cr. L. J. 269. After order of further enquiry by the Sessions Judge, Magistrate can again dismiss complaint. 25 C. W. N. 312=22 Cr. L. J. 528=62 Ind. Cas. 416.

203. The Magistrate before whom a complaint is made or to whom it has been transferred, may dismiss the complaint, if Dismissal of complaint. * [after considering the statement on oath (if any) of the complainant and the result of "the investigation"† or inquiry "if any"† under section 202], there is in his judgment no sufficient ground for proceeding. In such case he shall briefly record his reasons for so doing.

Scope.—This section applies only to cases falling within Chapter XVI when there has been no issue of process. Rat. Un. Cr. C. 544. Where a complaint is dismissed under this section, no fresh proceedings upon new complaint on the same facts can be taken unless the order of dismissal is set aside by a complaint authority. 28 M. 255.

Where a Magistrate dismisses a complaint under s. 403 Cr. Pro. Code, it is open to him at a latter stage to issue summons and receive the proceeding. The fact that in the meanwhile the Sessions Court has in revision directed or refused to direct further enquiry is immaterial in this connection. 1929 Pat. 469.

MAGISTRATE.

204. (1) If in the opinion of a Magistrate taking cognizance of an offence there is sufficient ground for proceeding, and the case appears to be one in which, according to the fourth column of the second schedule, a summons should issue in the first instance, he shall issue his summons for the attendance of the accused. If the case appears to be one in which according to that column a warrant should issue in the first instance, he may issue a warrant, or if he thinks fit, a summons, for causing the accused to be brought or to appear at a certain time before such Magistrate or (if he has not jurisdiction himself) some other Magistrate having jurisdiction.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the provisions of section 90.

(3) When by any law for the time being in force any process fees or other fees are payable, no process shall be issued until the fees are paid, and, if such fees are not paid within a reasonable time, the Magistrate may dismiss the complaint.

Notes.—Magistrates should exercise a reasonable discretion under this section as to whether a warrant or summons should issue in the case of complaints entertained by them. U. B. R. (1892-1896) VII. 131.

In case of counter-complaints, Magistrate can determine in which he should issue process first and not less so, when he made enquiry under s. 202 in one of them necessarily involving consideration of the other. 30 Cr. L. J. 554=10 P. L. T. 618=A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 90. A. I. R. 1925 All. 392=87 Ind. Cas. 419. Section 314 is applicable to cases even before issue of process under s. 204, and Magistrate is entitled under s. 344, for reasonable cause to postpone any enquiry or trial and postpone issue of process under s. 204 even in a warrant case. 6 P. L. T. 477=26 Cr. L. J. 1179. Section 204 applies even when cognizance is taken on police report and Magistrate can issue process for appearance of accused. 33 Cr. L. J. 349=12 P. L. T. 937=A. I. Magistrate may dispense 205. (1) Whenever a Magistrate issues with personal attendance of a summons, he may, if he sees reason so to accused. do, dispense with the personal attendance of the accused, and permit him to appear by his pleader.

(2) But the Magistrate inquiring into or trying the case may, in his discretion, at any stage of the proceeding, direct the personal attendance of the accused, and if necessary, enforce such attendance in manner herein-before provided.

Notes.—Even in warrant cases a Magistrate can dispense with the personal appearance of a purdah lady if he issues summons. 8 Cr. L. J. 454. Where warrant has been issued personal appearance cannot be dispensed with 24 Cr. L. J. 872; 18 Cr. L. J. 975; 13 C. W. N. (cl.) CHAPTER XVIII.

OF INQUIRY INTO CASES TRIABLE BY THE COURT OF SESSION OR HIGH COURT.

206. (1) Any Presidency Magistrate, District Magistrate, Sub-divisional Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class, or any Power to commit for trial. Magistrate [not being a Magistrate of the third class] empowered in this behalf by the Local Government, may commit any person for trial to the Court of Session or High Court for any offence triable by such Court.

(2) But, save as herein otherwise provided, no person triable by the Court of Session shall be committed for trial to the High Court.

Notes.—The powers conferred under this section convey authority to carry into effect any of the provisions of Chapter XVIII of the Code. 6A. 477=A. W. N. 1884, 205. Where the evidence for prosecution would tend to show that an offence of murder was committed it is not for the Magistrate enquiring into the offence, to weigh his evidence. It is better for him to commit the accused to the Sessions and leave it to the Sessions Judge to decide upon the value of the evidence led. 114 Ind. Cas. 58=A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 403. A Magistrate may try a case himself though triable exclusively by Sessions Court, if the evidence indicates that the course is proper. 37 C. L. J. 34=24 Cr. L. J.=73 Ind. Cas. 770. An accused not tried as such in the preliminary inquiry but issued a witness cannot be committed to the Sessions. 17 Bom. L. R. 910=16 Cr. L. J. 747=31 Ind. Cas. 347. Magistrate of first class specially appointed to try accused can commit him to Court of Sessions. 33 Bom. L. R. 1192.

207. The following procedure shall be adopted in inquiries before Magistrate where the case is triable exclusively by a Court of Session or High Court, or, in the opinion of the Magistrate, ought to be tried by such Court.

Notes.—A commitment once made by a Magistrate could be quashed by the High Court only on a point of law. 11 A. L. J. 439=19 Ind. Cas. 960=14 Cr. L. J. 304. Commitment by Magistrate competent to try the case is not illegal, if made upon good cause shown therefor. 18 Cr. L. J. 524=39 Ind. Cas. 402. The Criminal Procedure Code does not require that all cases ending in death should be committed to the Court of Sessions. The expression "ought to be tried by such Court in s. 207 of the Code" is limited to cases which the Magistrate is not competent to try or is unable to inflict an adequate punishment. 118 L. R. 79=19 Cr. L. J. 319=44 Ind. Cas. 355. A Magistrate can commit cases triable exclusively by Court of Sessions as well as by himself under s. 30. 20 Cr. L. J. 97=48 Ind. Cas. 977. In cases of commitment of cases not exclusively triable by Sessions Court, Magistrate must record adequate reasons. 31 Cr. L. J. 178=A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 312. Where a connected case is pending in Sessions Court, the Magistrate should await the result of the Session trial. Ibid. In cases of complicated and difficult questions of law and fact, Magistrate should commit accused to Sessions. A. I. R. 1932 Rang. 193=10 Rang. 445. Magistrate having committed powers must frame sound charge. A. I. R. 1935 Sind. 34.

208. (1) The Magistrate shall, when the accused appears or is brought before him, proceed to hear the complainant (if any) and take in manner hereinafter provided all such evidence as may be produced in support of the prosecution or in behalf of the accused, or as may be called for by the Magistrate.

(2) The accused shall be at liberty to cross-examine the witnesses for the prosecution, and in such case the prosecutor may re-examine them.

(3) If the complainant or officer conducting the prosecution, or the accused, applies to the Magistrate to issue process to compel the attendance of any witness or the production of any document or thing, the Magistrate shall issue such process unless, for reasons to be recorded, he deems it unnecessary to do so.

(4) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to require a Presidency Magistrate to record his reasons.

Notes.—An order of commitment to Sessions based on evidence recorded while the accused was not arrested on the charge at all, is not valid. 2 Weir 259. A Magistrate inquiring into a case triable by the Court of Sessions is not empowered to frame a charge or make out an order for commitment until after he has taken all such evidence as the accused produces before him in his behalf. 20 A. 264=A. W. N. 1898, 52. Clause (1) enjoins that the complainant (if any) shall be heard. It is not the examination of the complainant that it is necessary but only that he shall be heard. 118 Ind. When accused person to be (1) and (3), has been taken, and he has (if necessary) examined the accused for the purpose of enabling him to explain any circumstances appearing in the evidence against him, such Magistrate shall, if he finds that there are not sufficient grounds for committing the accused person for trial, record his reasons and discharge him, unless it appears to the Magistrate that such person should be tried before himself or some other Magistrate, in which case he shall proceed accordingly.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prevent a Magistrate from discharging the accused at any previous stage of the case if, for reasons to be recorded by such Magistrate, he considers the charge to be groundless.

Notes—The words "sufficient ground for committing" mean not sufficient ground for convicting, but refer to a case in which the evidence is sufficient to put the accused on his trial and such a case arises when credible witnesses make statements which if believed would sustain conviction. 148 P. 210. (1) When upon such evidence being taken and such examination When charge is to be framed. (if any) being made, the Magistrate is satisfied that there are sufficient grounds for committing the accused for trial, i.e. shall frame a charge under his hand, declaring with what offence the accused is charged.

(2) As soon as* (such charge) has been framed, it shall be read and explained to the accused, and a copy thereof shall, if he so requires, be given to him free of cost.

Notes.—Magistrate should not add charges apparently for the purpose of enabling than to commit the case to the Court of Sessions, without any reasonable ground for the addition. 11 Bom. L. R. 18=9 Cr. L. J. 163=1 Ind. Cas. 104. A committing Magistrate can even after he has framed charge cancel it after the hearing of evidence for the defence. 19 Cr. L. J. 102.

* These words were substituted for the words "the charge" by s. 58 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923).

211. (1) The accused shall be required at once to give in, orally or in writing, a list of the persons (if any) whom he wishes to be summoned to give evidence on his trial.

(2) The Magistrate may, in his discretion, allow the accused to give in any further list of the witnesses at a subsequent time; and, where the accused is committed for trial before the High Court, nothing in this section shall be deemed to preclude the accused from giving, at any time before his trial, to the Clerk of the Crown a further list of the persons whom he wishes to be summoned to give evidence on such trial.

Notes.—A Magistrate is bound to require the accused to give in a list of witnesses he desires to call. It is not enough to put him the question, "Have you any evidence?" Since the question is ambiguous and might suggest to the accused only an inquiry as to whether he had witnesses ready in Court. 7 Bom. L. R. 723=2 Cr. L. J. 601. Accused must put in his list of defence witnesses on the day of order of commitment. If accused fails, Magistrate has discretion to allow such application or not. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 188=124 Ind. R. 1931 Cal. 6.

212. The Magistrate, may, in his discretion, summon and examine any witness named in any list given in to him under section 211.

Notes.—The discretion given to a Magistrate to commit a case to the Sessions under s. 347 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, is neither restricted nor taken away merely because he issues summons to the defence witnesses under s. 212. 15 Cr. L. J. 704=26 Ind. Cas. 152.

213. (1) When the accused, on being required to give in a list under section 211, has declined to do so, or when he has given in such lists and the witnesses (if any) included therein whom the Magistrate desires to examine have been summoned and examined under section 212, the Magistrate may make an order committing the accused for trial by the High Court or the Court of Session (as the case may be), and (unless the Magistrate is a Presidency Magistrate) shall also record briefly the reasons for such commitment.

(2) If the Magistrate, after hearing the witnesses for the defence, is satisfied that there are not sufficient grounds for committing the accused, he may cancel the charge and discharge the accused.

Notes.—This section gives a committing Magistrate power to cancel a charge when he has heard witnesses for the defence. 2 L. B. R. 140. This section uses the expression "not sufficient grounds for committing the accused." 216. When the accused has given in any list of witnesses under section 211 and has been committed for trial, the Magistrate shall summon such of the witnesses included in the list, as have not appeared before himself, to appear before the Court to which the accused has been committed :

Provided that, where the accused has been committed to the High Court, the Magistrate may, in his discretion, leave such witnesses to be summoned by the Clerk of the Crown, and such witnesses may be summoned accordingly:

Provided, also, that if the Magistrate thinks that any witness is included in the list for the purpose of vexation or delay, or of defeating the ends of justice, the Magistrate may require the accused to satisfy him that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the evidence of such witness is material, and, if he is not so satisfied, may refuse to summon the witness (recording his reasons for such refusal), or may before summoning him require such sum to be deposited as such Magistrate thinks necessary to defray the expense of obtaining the attendance of the witness and all other proper expenses.

Notes.—A Magistrate is not at liberty to refuse to summon witness tendered by the accused, except on the grounds specified in this section. 8 C. L. R. 70. 217. (1) Complainants and witnesses for the prosecution and defence, whose attendance before the Court of Sessions or High Court is necessary and who appear before the Magistrate shall execute before him bonds binding themselves to be in attendance when called upon at the Court of Sessions or High Court to prosecute or to give evidence, as the case may be.

(2) If any complainant or witness refuses to attend before the Court of Session or High Court or execute the bond above directed, the Magistrate may detain him in custody until he executes such bond, or until his attendance at the Court of Sessions or High Court is required, when the Magistrate shall send him in custody to the Court of Session or High Court, as the case may be.

Notes.—Vide A. W. N. 1883, 37.

218. (1) When the accused is committed for trial, the Magistrate shall issue an order* to such person as may be appointed by the Local Government in this behalf notifying the commitment, and stating the offence in the same form as the charge, unless the Magistrate is satisfied that such person is already aware of the commitment and the form of the charge ; and shall send the charge, the record of the enquiry and any weapon or other thing which is to be produced in evidence, to the Court of Sessions or (where the commitment is made to the High Court) to the Clerk of the Crown or other officer appointed in this behalf by the High Court.

Commitment when to be notified.
Charges, etc., to be forwarded to High Court or Court of Session.

* See Sch. V., Form XXVII. infra.

(2) When the commitment is made to the High Court and any part of the record is not in English, an English translation of such part shall be forwarded with the record.

219. (1) * [The committing Magistrate or, in the absence of such Magistrate, any other Magistrate empowered by or under section 206] may, if he thinks fit, summon and examine supplementary witnesses after the commitment and before the commencement of the trial, and bind them over in manner hereinbefore provided to appear and give evidence.

(2) Such examination shall, if possible, be taken in the presence of the accused, and where the Magistrate is not a Presidency Magistrate, a copy of the evidence of such witnesses shall† [be given to the accused free of cost.]

Notes.—The committing Court becomes functus officio and loses all jurisdiction over the cases after the commitment and special provisions have been made in ss. 216 to 219 to enable the Court to retain jurisdiction only in respect of some matters. 51 C. 980. 220. Until and during the trial, the Magistrate shall subject to the provisions of this Code regarding the taking of bail, ‡ commit the accused by warrant, to custody.

CHAPTER XIX.

OF THE CHARGE.

Form of Charges.

Charge to state offence.

221. (1) Every charge under this Code shall state the offence with which the accused is charged.

Specific name of offence sufficient description.

(2) If the law which creates the offence gives it any specific name, the offence may be described in the charge by that name only.

(3) If the law which creates the offence does not give it any specific name, so much of the definition of the offence must be stated as to give the accused notice of the matter with which he is charged.

How stated where offence, has no specific name.

(4) The law and section of the law against which the offence is said to have been committed shall be mentioned in the charge.

(5) The fact that the charge is made is equivalent to a statement that every legal condition required by law to constitute the offence charged was fulfilled in the particular case.

What implied in charge.

(6) In the presidency-towns the charge shall be written in English; elsewhere it shall be written either in English or in the language of the Court.

Language of charge.

* These words were substituted for the words "The Magistrate" by s. 60 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVII of 1923).

† These words were substituted for the words "if the accused so require, be given to him free of cost" by ibid.

‡ See Chapter XXXIX, infra.

§ See Sch. V. Form XXVIII, infra.

(7) If the accused * (having been previously convicted of an offence, is liable, by reason of such previous conviction to enhanced punishment or to punishment of a different kind, for a subsequent offence, and it is intended to prove such previous conviction for the purpose of affecting the punishment which the Court may think fit to award for the subsequent offence,) the fact, date and place of the previous conviction shall be stated in the charge. If such statement † [has been omitted], the Court may add it at any time before sentence is passed.

Illustrations.

(a) A is charged with the murder of B. This is equivalent to a statement that A's act fell within the definition of murder given in sections 299 and 300 of the Indian Penal Code‡, that it did not fall within any of the general exceptions of the same Code; and that it did not fall within any of the five exceptions to sections 300 or that, if it did fall within Exception 1, one or other of the three provisos to that exception apply to it.

(b) A is charged, under section 326 of the Indian Penal Code, † with voluntarily causing grievous hurt to B by means of an instrument for shooting. This is equivalent to a statement that the case was not provided for by section 335 of the Indian Penal Code, † and that the general exceptions did not apply to it.

(c) A is accused of murder, cheating, theft, extortion, adultery or criminal intimidation, or using a false property-mark. The charge may state that A committed murder, or cheating, or theft, or extortion or adultery, or criminal intimidation, or that he used a false property-mark, without reference to the definitions of those crimes contained in the Indian Penal Code †; but the sections under which the offence is punishable must, in each instance, be referred to in the charge.

(d) A is charged, under section 184 of the Indian Penal Code † with intentionally obstructing a sale of property offered for sale by the lawful authority of a public servant. The charge should be in those words.

Notes.—Under this section, if the accused has been previously convicted of an offence, and it is intended to prove such previous conviction for the purpose of affecting the punishment which the Court is competent to award, the fact, date and place of the previous conviction should be stated in the charge. 7 M. in sections 221 and 222 do not give the accused sufficient notice of the matter with which he is charged, the charge shall also contain such particulars of the manner in which the alleged offence was committed as will be sufficient for that purpose.

Illustrations.

(a) A is accused of the theft of a certain article at a certain time and place. The charge need not set out the manner in which the theft was effected.

(b) A is accused of cheating B at a given time and place. The charge must set out the manner in which A cheated B.

(c) A is accused of giving false evidence at a given time and place. The charge must set out that portion of the evidence given by A which is alleged to be false.

(d) A is accused of obstructing B, a public servant, in the discharge of his public functions at a given time and place. The charge must set out the manner in which A obstructed B in the discharge of his functions.

(e) A is accused of the murder of B at a given time and place. The charge need not state the manner in which A murdered B.

(f) A is accused of disobeying a direction of the law with intent to save B from punishment. The charge must set out the disobedience charged and the law infringed.

Notes.—The question as to whether particulars are necessary under this section is a question of discretion in each case. 39 C. 781. Common object of unlawful assembly should always be stated in the charge. 27 C. W. N. 28=25 Cr. L. J. 524. Though charge did not refer to amount received for returning jewel, as accused was not prejudiced trial was not vitiated. 26 Cr. L. J. 906=29 C. W. N. 483=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 674=86 Ind. Cas. 970. Words in charge taken in sense of law under which offence is punishable.

224. In every charge words used in describing an offence shall be deemed to have been used in the sense attached to them respectively by the law under which such offence is punishable.

225. No error in stating either the offence or the particulars required to be stated in the charge and no omission to state the offence or those particulars, shall be regarded at any stage of the case as material, unless the accused was in fact misled by such error or omission, and it has occasioned a failure of justice.

Effect of errors.

Illustrations.

(a) A is charged, under section 242 of the Indian Penal Code, with "having been in possession of counterfeit coin, having known at the time when he became possessed thereof that such coin was counterfeit." the word "fraudulently" being omitted in the charge. Unless it appears that A was in fact misled by this omission, the error shall not be regarded as material.

(b) A is charged with cheating B, and the manner in which he cheated B is not set out in the charge, or is set out incorrectly. A defends himself, calls witnesses and gives his own account of the transaction. The Court may infer from this that the omission to set out the manner of the cheating is not material.

(c) A is charged with cheating B, and the manner in which he cheated B is not set out in the charge. There were many transactions between A and B and A had no means of knowing as to which of them the charge referred, and offered, no defence. The Court may infer from such facts that the omission to set out the manner of the cheating was, in the case, material error.

(d) A is charged with the murder of Khoda Baksh on the 21st January, 1882. In fact, the murdered person's name was Haider Baksh and the date of the murder was the 20th January, 1882. A was never charged with any murder but one, and had heard the inquiry before the Magistrate which referred exclusively to the case of Haider Baksh. The Court may infer from these facts that A was not misled and that the error in the charge was immaterial.

(e) A was charged with murdering Haider Baksh on the 20th January 1882, and Khoda Baksh (who tried to arrest him for that murder) on the 21st January, 1882. When charged for the murder of Haider Baksh, he was tried for the murder of Khoda Baksh. The witnesses present in his defence were witnesses in the case of Haider Baksh. The court may infer from this that A was misled and that the error was material.

When any person is committed for trial without a charge or with an imperfect or erroneous charge, the Court, or, in the case of a High Court, the Clerk of the Crown, may frame a charge or add to or otherwise alter the charge, as the case may be having regard to the rules contained in this Code as to the form of charges.

Illustrations.

1. A is charged with the murder of C. A. charge of abetting the murder of C may be added or substituted.

2. A is charged with forging a valuable security under section 467 of the Indian Penal Code.* A charge of fabricating false evidence under section 193 may be added.

3. A is charged with receiving stolen property knowing it to be stolen. During the trial it incidentally appears that he has in his possession instruments for the purpose of counterfeiting coin. A charge under section 235 of the Indian Penal Code* cannot be added.

228. If the charge framed or alteration or addition made under section 226 or section 227 is such that proceeding immediately with the trial is not likely, in the opinion of the Court, to prejudice the accused in his defence or the prosecution in the conduct of the case, the Court may, in its discretion, after such charge or alteration or addition has been framed or made, proceed with the trial as if the new or altered charge had been the original charge.

Notes.—The addition or alteration of a charge does not open up the trial from the beginning and the Court may immediately proceed with the trial if it is of opinion that there will be no prejudice to the accused. 1 Pat. 54=3 Pat. 229. If the new or altered or added charge is such that proceeding immediately with the trial is likely, in the opinion of the Court, to prejudice the accused or the prosecutor as aforesaid, the Court may either direct a new trial or adjourn the trial for such period as may be necessary.

Notes.—Vide 8 B. 200 ; A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 833.

230. If the offence stated in the new or altered or added charge is one for the prosecution of which previous sanction is necessary, the case shall not be proceeded with until such sanction is obtained, unless sanction has been already obtained, for a prosecution on the same facts as those on which the new or altered charge is founded.

Notes.—Vide 31 P. R. 1919.

231. Whenever a charge is altered or added to by the High Court after the commencement of the trial, the prosecutor and the accused shall be allowed to recall or re-summon, and examine with reference to such alteration or addition, any witness who may have been examined, and also to call any further witness whom the Court may think to be material.

Notes.—Refusal to recall witnesses after alteration in charge vitiates trial, whether there is prejudice to the accused or not. 36 C. W. N. 542=33 Cr. L. J. 265=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 486. 232. (1) I any Appellate Court or the High Court in the exercise of its powers of revisions or of its powers under Chapter XXVII is of opinion, that any person convicted of an offence was misled in his defence by the absence of a charge or by an error in the charge, it shall direct a new trial to be had upon a charge framed in whatever manner it thinks fit.

(2) If the Court is of opinion that the facts of the case are such that no valid charge could be preferred against the accused in respect of the facts proved, it shall quash the conviction.

Inclusion of kidnapping and abduction in one head under one charge is irregular. A. I. R. 1934 Sind. 164.

234. (1) When a person is accused of more offences than one of the same kind committed within the space of twelve months from the first to the last of such offences,* [whether in respect of the same person or not], he may be charged with, and tried at one trial for, any number of them not exceeding three.

(2) Offences are of the same kind when they are punishable with the same amount of punishment under the same section of the Indian Penal Code† or of any special or local law.

[Provided that for the purpose of this section, an offence punishable under section 379 of the Indian Penal Code‡ shall be deemed to be an offence of the same kind as an offence punishable under section 380 of the said Code, and that an offence punishable under any section of the Indian Penal Code,† or of any special or local law, shall be deemed to be an offence of the same kind as an attempt to commit such offence, when such an attempt is an offence.]‡

The word "transaction" is not to be interpreted in any special or artificial or conventional or technical sense, but as it is ordinarily understood by men of education and common sense. The usual tests applied to decide whether different acts are parts of the same transaction are proximity of time, unity of place, community of purpose or design and continuity of action. It is not possible to enunciate any comprehensive formula of universal applicability for the purpose of determining whether two or more acts constitute the same transaction, but circumstances which bear on the determination of the question in any individual case can be indicated by saying that proximity of time, unity or proximity of place, continuity of action and community of purpose or design are the principal criteria for deciding whether certain acts form parts of same transaction or not. The real and substantial test for determination whether several offences were so connected together as to form one transaction depends upon whether they are related together in point of purpose, or as cause and effect, or as principal and subsidiary acts, so as to constitute one continuous action. A. I. R. 1934 Oudh. 499=35 Cr. L. J. 1496=11 O. W. N. 1309. which of several offences the facts which can be proved will constitute, the accused may be charged with having committed all or any of such offences and any number of such charges may be tried at once; or he may be charged in the alternative with having committed some one of the said offences.

Illustrations.

(a) A is accused of an act which may amount to theft, or receiving stolen property, or criminal breach of trust or cheating. He may be charged with theft receiving stolen property, criminal breach of trust and cheating, or he may be charged with having committed theft, or receiving stolen property, or criminal breach of trust or cheating.

(b) A states on oath before the Magistrate that he saw B hit C with a club. Before the Sessions Court A states on oath that B never hit C. A may be charged in the alternative and convicted of intentionally giving false evidence, although it cannot be proved which of these contradictory statements was false.

Notes.—This section only authorizes a charge in the alternative, when it is doubtful which of the several offences the facts which can be proved will constitute, and not when there may be a doubt as to the facts which constitute one of the elements of the offence. 21 C. 955; see also 43 P. * This sub-section was inserted by s. 64 of the Code of Criminal Procedure
(Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923.)

(3) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to authorize a conviction of any offence referred to in section 198 or section 199 when no complaint has been made as required by that section.

Illustrations.

(a) A is charged, under section 407 of the Indian Penal Code* with criminal breach of trust in respect of property entrusted to him as a carrier. It appears that he did commit criminal breach of trust under section 406 in respect of the property, but that it was not entrusted to him as a carrier. He may be convicted of criminal breach of trust under section 406.

(b) A is charged under section 325 of the Indian Penal Code* with causing grievous hurt. He proves that he acted on grave and sudden provocation. He may be convicted under section 335 of that Code.

Notes.—The effect of this section is to invest a jury trying an offence triable by a jury with authority to find, as an incident to such trial that certain facts only are proved in the trial which facts constitute a minor offence, and return a verdict of guilty of such offence, though it may not be triable by a jury. 26 M. 243=2 Weir. 463=2 Weir, 388. What persons may be charged jointly. * [239. The following persons may be charged and tried together, namely—

- (a) persons accused of the same offence committed in the course of the same transaction ;
 - (b) persons accused of an offence and persons accused of abetment, or of an attempt to commit such offence ;
 - (c) persons accused of more than one offence of the same kind within the meaning of section 234 committed by them jointly within the period of twelve months ;
 - (d) persons accused of different offences committed in the course of the same transaction ;
 - (e) persons accused of an offence which includes theft, extortion, or criminal misappropriation, and persons accused of receiving or retaining, or assisting in the disposal or concealment of property possession of which is alleged to have been transferred by any such offence committed by the first-named persons, or of abetment of or attempting to commit any such last-named offence ;
 - (f) persons accused of offences under sections 411 and 414 of the Indian Penal Code† or either of those sections in respect of stolen property, the possession of which has been transferred by one offence and
 - (g) persons accused of any offence under Chapter XII of the Indian Penal Code† relating to counterfeit coin and persons accused of any other offence under the said Chapter relating to the same coin, or of abetment of or attempting to commit any such offence ;

L. J. 472=27 Cr. L. J. 445=A. I. R. 1926 All. 334=93 Ind. Cas. 237.

240. When a charge containing more heads than one is framed against the same person, and when a conviction has been made on one or more of them, the complainant, or the officer conducting the prosecution, may, with the consent of the Court, withdraw the remaining charge or charges, or the Court of its own accord may stay the inquiry into, or trial of, such charge or charges. Such withdrawal shall have the effect of an acquittal on such charge or charges, unless the conviction be set aside, in which case the said Court (subject to the order of the Court setting aside the conviction) may proceed with the inquiry into or trial of the charge or charges so withdrawn.

Notes.—This section applies to cases in which at the same trial more charges than one have been formally drawn up against the same person under the provisions of Chapter XIX of the Code. 10 C. P. L. R. Cr. 1. The permission to withdraw one of the several charges against an accused person allowed by this section only applies to charges against the same accused in the same case and not to separate charges of distinct offences in different cases. Rat. Un. Cr. C. 362; see also 9 Cr. L. J. 495=2 Ind. Cas. 128=6 M. L. T. 90. This section applies to cases where more charges than one are made against an accused person. Rat. Un. Cr. C. 286. The provision of this section applies to every grade of Court, not only to the Court of trial 27 A. L. J. 1056=119 Ind. Cas. 575. When a charge containing more heads than one is framed against the same person and conviction has been made on one or more of them and the complainant applies in revision to inflict sentence on the others but subsequently withdraws the application the withdrawal amounts to the withdrawal of complaints with regard to such charge with the consent of the Court and so amounts to one of acquittal. 27 A. L. J. 1056=119 Ind. Cas.

CHAPTER XX.

OF THE TRIAL OF SUMMONS-CASES BY MAGISTRATES.

241. The following procedure shall be observed by Magistrates in the trial of summons-cases.

Notes.—Accused is not entitled to information about detailed evidence of prosecutions before he appears in Court. 1930. A. L. J. 389.

242. When the accused appears or is brought before the Magistrate, the particulars of the offence of which he is accused shall be stated to him, and he shall be asked if he has any cause to show why he should not be convicted; but it shall not be necessary to frame a formal charge.

Notes.—The omission to comply with the provisions of this section is nothing more than a curable irregularity where a failure of justice has not been caused. 28 Cr. L. J. 511; but see 54 C. 359=31 C.W.N. 167=28 Cr. L. J. 155. The provisions of ss. 242 and 245 do not delimit s. 342. 45 B. 672=22 Cr. L. J. 17=A. I. R. 1921 Bom. 374=59 Ind. Cas. 129. Omission to state particulars in accordance with s. 242 not accompanied by failure of justice is cured by ss. 535 and 537. 33 Cr. L. J. 938=28 N. L. R. 163=A. I. R. 1932 Nag. 127. S. 242 does not require a Magistrate to record his statement to the accused. A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 258.

243. If the accused admits that he has committed the offence of which he is accused, his admission shall be recorded as nearly as possible in the words used by him; and, if he shows no sufficient cause why he should not be convicted, the Magistrate* [may convict] him accordingly.

Notes.—If an accused does not admit that he committed the offence of which he is accused, the Magistrate cannot convict him except upon evidence that the accused did commit the offence. L. B. R. 95. Accused in a summons case can be convicted on his own plea of guilty. 5 O. W. N. 641=29 Cr. L. J. 893=3 Luck. 680=A. I. R. 1928 Oudh. 402. Court has discretion to accept or not to accept accused's plea of guilty. Where Court accepts plea of guilty it may call evidence to determine the sentence to be passed. If it rejects the plea and proceeds to take evidence it cannot go back again and base a conviction on the plea of guilty. A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 195=33 Bom. L. R. 340. One admission for several accused is bad. 140 Ind. Cas. 67=26 S. L. R. 345=34 Cr. L. J. 67=A. I. R. 1932 Sind. 211. Admission of truth of allegations on which charge is based is not legal admission. A. I. R. 1931 Nag. 100=32 Cr. L. J. 1132=14 N. L. J. 39. Taking of evidence before accepting or rejecting plea of guilty in itself does not preclude Courts from convicting accused on that plea. A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 195=33 Bom. L. R. 340. In a summons case conviction based on Counsel's admission is illegal. 26 Cr. L. J. 179=A. I. R. 1925 Oudh. 305. Where personal attendance of accused is dispensed with Court can act upon the plea of the pleader in a case falling under ss. 242 and 243. 50 B. 250=28 Bom. L. R. 102=27 Cr. L. J. 440=A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 218. Admission must be recorded as nearly as possible in the words used by the accused. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 243. Where the accused pleads guilty in a murder case, the case must nevertheless proceed. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 775=115 Ind. Cas. 582. Disobedience of command to disperse is not ingredient of offence under s. 17, Criminal Law Amendment Act and as such admission of not having dispersed in spite of orders of police is not admission for purposes of section 17. 34 Cr. L. J. 67=A. I. R. 1932 Sind. 211=26 S. L. R. 345. Under ss. 243, 255 and 272 (2) of Criminal Procedure Code independent evidence should be taken by Court notwithstanding accused's plea of guilty. 17 S. L. R. 268=26 Cr. L. J. 177=A. I. R. 1925 Sind. 188=83 Ind. Cas. 881. In a summons case the accused can be convicted on his plea of guilt. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 96=35 P. L. R. 295=35 Cr. L. J. 1394. The Court should consider the statement as a whole and place a fair and liberal construction on it after giving the benefit of every reasonable doubt in favour of the accused. A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 65=30 N. L. R. 317; see also 17 N. L. J. 250.

244. (1) † [If the Magistrate does not convict the accused under the preceding section, or] if the accused does not make such admission, the Magistrate shall proceed to hear the complainant (if any), and take all such evidence as may be produced in support of the prosecution, and also to hear the accused and take all such evidence as he produces in his defence :

‡ [Provided that the Magistrate shall not be bound to hear any person as complainant in any case in which the complaint has been made by a Court.]

(2) The Magistrate may, if he thinks fit, on the application of the complainant or accused, issue§ [a summons to any witness directing him to attend or to produce] any document or other thing.

(3) The Magistrate may before summoning any witness on such application, require that his reasonable expenses, incurred in attending for the purposes of the trial, be deposited in Court.

Notes.—There is no discretionary power given by this section to refuse, in summons cases, to compel the attendance of a witness upon whom the Court has "To take all such evidence as may be produced in support of the prosecution" means not only examination-in-chief but also cross-examination and re-examination unless express provision is made for cross-examination as in ss. 208-256. 54 A. 212=A. I. R. 1931 All. 621.

245. (1) If the Magistrate upon taking the evidence referred to in section 244 and such further evidence (if any) as he may, of his own motion, cause to be produced and (if he thinks fit) examining the accused, finds the accused not guilty, he shall record an order of acquittal.

* [(2) Where the Magistrate does not proceed in accordance with the provisions of section 349 or section 562, he shall, if he finds the accused guilty, pass sentence upon him according to law.]†

Notes—Where a Magistrate dealt with a warrant case as a summons case and acquitted the accused under this section, the order amounted only to one of discharge under s. 253. A. W. N. 1888, 96; see also A. W. N. 1886, 260. Acquittal under s. 245 without recording evidence is illegal. A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 25=33 Cr. L. J. 274=33 M. L. W. 140. Where compromise is alleged order of acquittal without inquiring whether case was not compounded is bad in law. A. I. R. 1932 Sind. 7. Opportunity to cross-examine the complainant must be given. 3 Pat. L. T. 347=23 Cr. L. J. 440.

246. A Magistrate may, under section 244 or section 243, convict the accused of any offence triable under this Chapter from the facts admitted or proved he appears to have committed, whatever may be the nature of the complaint or summons.

Notes.—In a summons case, conviction for an offence not referred to in the complaint or summons is not proper. 22 Cr. L. J. 559=62 Ind. Cas. 578.

247. If the summons has been issued on complaint, and upon the day appointed for the appearance of the accused, or any day subsequent thereto to which the hearing may be adjourned, the complainant does not appear, the Magistrate shall, notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, acquit the accused, unless for some reason he thinks proper to adjourn the hearing of the case to some other day;

Provided that where the complaint is a public servant and his personal attendance is not required, the Magistrate may dispense with his attendance, and proceed with the case.

Notes.—This section does not apply to a proceeding under s. 107 of the Code. 31 C. W. N. 388=45 Cr. L. J. 211=28 Cr. L. J. 479. An order of acquittal passed by a Magistrate under this section 247, Cr. Pro. Code, although the accused, had not been served with a summons, is a good order and such an acquittal operates as a bar to any such trial on the same facts. 53 B. 693=31 Bom. L. R. 795. Court acquitting under this section has no power suo motu to restore the case.

him to withdraw his complaint, the Magistrate may permit him to withdraw the same, and shall thereupon acquit the accused.

Notes.—This section does not apply to offences punishable with imprisonment exceeding six months. The complainant in such case cannot withdraw his complaint. Rat. Un. Cr. C. 17. Withdrawal of complaint against one of the accused, amounts to withdrawal against the other accused. 20 Cr. L. J. 824=1 P. L. T. 32=53 Ind. Cas. 824; but see 9 O. L. J. 54=23 Cr. L. J. 271=A. I. 249. In any case instituted otherwise than upon complaint, a Presidency Magistrate, a Magistrate of the first class, or when no complainant. with the previous sanction of the District Magistrate, any other Magistrate, may, for reasons to be recorded by him, stop the proceedings at any stage without pronouncing any judgment either of acquittal or conviction and may thereupon release the accused.

Notes.—This section is only applicable to a summons case where it is not instituted upon complaint. 5 Pat. 243=7 P. L. T. 449=27 Cr. L. J. 698; see also 1913 P. R. 9; 1 Pat. L. T. 28. This section does not apply to warrant cases. 5 Pat. 243=7 P. L. T. 449=27 Cr. L. J. 698. An order under this section is neither one of dismissal of a complaint nor is it an order of discharge. A. I. Frivolous Accusation in Summons and Warrant Cases.

250.* [(1) If, in any case instituted upon complaint or upon information given to a police-officer or to a Magistrate, one or more persons is or are accused before a Magistrate of any offence triable by a Magistrate, and the Magistrate by whom the case is heard discharges or acquits all or any of the accused, and is of opinion that the accusation against them or any of them was false and either frivolous or vexatious, the Magistrate may, by his order of discharge or acquittal if the person upon whose complaint or information the accusation was made is present, call upon him forthwith to show cause why he should not pay compensation to such accused or to each or any of such accused when there are more than one or, if such person is not present direct the issue of a summons to him to appear and show cause as aforesaid.]

*[(2) The Magistrate shall record and consider any cause which such complainant or informant may show, and if he is satisfied that the accusation was false and either frivolous or vexatious, may, for reasons to be recorded, direct that compensation to such amount not exceeding one hundred rupees or, if the Magistrate is a Magistrate of the third class, not exceeding fifty rupees, as he may determine, be paid by such complainant or informant to the accused or to each or any of them.]

*[(2A) The Magistrate may, by the order directing payment of the compensation under sub-section (2), further order that, in default of payment, the person ordered to pay such compensation shall suffer simple imprisonment for a period not exceeding thirty days.]

*[(2B) When any person is imprisoned under sub-section (2A), the provisions of sections 63 and 69 of the Indian Penal Code † shall, so far as may be, apply.]

*[(2C) No person who has been directed to pay compensation under this section shall, by reason of such order, be exempted from any civil or criminal liability in respect of the complaint made or information given by him;

Provided that any amount paid to an accused person under this section shall be taken into account in awarding compensation to such person in any subsequent civil suit relating to the same matter.]

(3) A complainant or informant who has been ordered under ‡[sub-section (2)] by a Magistrate of the second or third class to pay compensation § [or has been so ordered by any other Magistrate to pay compensation exceeding fifty rupees] may appeal from the order, in so far as the order relates to the payment of the compensation, as if such complainant or informant had been convicted on a trial held by such Magistrate.

(4) When an order for payment of compensation to an accused person is made in a case which is subject to appeal under sub-section (3), the compensation shall not be paid to him before the period allowed for the presentation of the appeal has elapsed, or, if an appeal is presented, before the appeal has been decided || [and where such order is made in a case which is not so subject to appeal, the compensation shall not be paid before the expiration of one month from the date of the order.] ¶

Scope.—Powers under s. 250 are to be exercised in a fit and proper case. A. I. R. 1932 Sind. 156=26 S. L. R. 299=33 Cr. L. J. 644. Section 250 does not apply to case instituted at the instance of police. 26 S. L. R. 299=A. I. R. 1932 Sind. 156. While making order under section 250 court should see that complaint was false, etc. 26 S. L. R. 299=33 C. L. J. 644=A. I. R. 1932 Sind. 156; see also A. I. R. 1933 Sind. 226=34 Cr. L. J. 767=27 S. L. R. 788=144 Ind. Cas. 412. Section 250, clause (2) requires the Magistrate to be satisfied that the accusation was first false, and second either frivolous or vexatious. He has then to record his reasons and after that follows the final order. An order awarding compensation is bad, where by order discharging accused finding is given that complaint was false and frivolous or vexatious before hearing complainant's explanation. A. I. R. 1934 Sind. 18=35 Cr. L. J. 1038. Opportunity to show cause must be given to complainant or informant. Order for compensation without such opportunity is bad. A. I. R. 1933 Oudh. 37=34 Cr. L. J. 44=9 O. W. N. 943=1933 Cr. C. 70. It is doubtful whether order awarding compensation under s. 250 is order "consequential" or "incidental" to order of discharge or acquittal. A. I. R. 1933 Rang. 288 (F. B.)=11 Rang. 361. Magistrate discharging and acquitting accused can take action under s. 250. Complainant is then entitled to show that complaint is neither false nor vexatious or frivolous. A. I. R. 1933 All. 814=1933 A. L. J. 1369. Cr. L. J. 228=45 A. 363. If A tells B and B tells C and C tells the police some information, A cannot be fined under s. 250. 1929 M. W. N. 785=A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 846. Under this section Magistrate must act on its own initiative. Order for showing cause must be contained in the order of discharge or acquittal itself. A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 296; see also 32 Cr. L. J. 206=59 M. L. J. 319.

Frivolous or vexatious etc.—Before passing order of fine finding that accusation was false should be arrived at. A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 554=33 P. L. R. 670=34 Cr. L. J. 30=140 Ind. Cas. 680; see also 41 P. L. R. 1919. To pass an order under s. 250 Court's final opinion should be that the case was false and frivolous or vexatious. A. I. R. 1929 Sind. 113=115 Ind. Cas. 334. Because a complaint is frivolous and vexatious it is necessarily false. 19 S. L. R. 66=26 Cr. L. J. 1295=A. I. R. 1926 Sind. 19=89 Ind. Cas. 159. An order for compensation is not justified merely because complaint filed was vexatious in one particular. Compensation can be ordered only where there has been a complete discharge or acquittal of the accused on all the heads of charges against him. 12 S. L. R. 87=20 Cr. L. J. 106=48 Ind. Cas. 986. Where criminal proceedings were brought not bona fide but to bring pressure on opponent in civil suit, complainant can be proceeded against under s. 250. A. I. R. 1933 Bom. 233=35 Bom. L. R. 484=34 Cr. L. J. 1878. False complaint or false information on mere suspicion is false and vexatious within s. 250. A. I. R. 1932 Bom. 177=34 Bom. L. R. 289. There is no reason why a case in which the accusation is found to be false. 19 Cr. L. J. 172=11 Ber. L. T. 201=43 Ind. Cas. 588.

Person upon whose complaint or information.—The liability to pay compensation extends only to the actual complainant or person who gives the information on which the case is instituted. 13 S. L. R. 166=21 Cr. L. J. 49=54 Ind. Cas. 401; see also 21 A. L. J. 221=27 Cr. L. J. 702=94 Ind. Cas. 894=A. I. R. 1926 All. 295. A person responsible for the false accusation can be made to pay compensation even though he does not himself make the complaint. 12 S. L. R. 76=48 Ind. Cas. 980; see also 48 Ind. Cas. 108=40 A. 79. If criminal proceedings are instituted against a person as a result of police enquiry at which a statement is made by another such statement is not a complaint. 1 Pat. L. J. 106=17 Cr. L. J. 836. A complainant does not in any way escape a liability for prosecution under s. 211 I. P. Code, by reason of the order passed by the Magistrate under s. 250, directing payment of compensation to the accused. 26 Cr. L. J. 527=A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 558=85 Ind. Cas. 367. An order of compensation under s. 250 without giving the complainant an opportunity to show cause against it is illegal and must be set aside. 24 A. L. J. 170=27 Cr. L. J. 128=A. I. R. 1926 All. 241=91 Ind. Cas. 704; see also 28 Bom. L. R. 98=27 Cr. L. J. 430=A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 225=93 Ind. Cas. 158. The section only requires any objection which is argued to be recorded and considered and is intended to be applied in a summary manner. 21 A. L. J. 369=45 A. 474=21 Cr. L. J. 719=73 Ind. Cas. 943; see also 24 Bom. L. R. 805=23 Cr. L. J. 574=A. I. R. 1922 Bom. 409=68 Ind. Cas. 414. If the complainant is present in Court he is bound to show cause immediately. If, however, an adjournment is granted or if the complainant is not present and a summons is issued to him, the Court can pass an order at the adjourned hearing after recording and considering the cause if any shown by the complainant or informant. 3 Bom. Order of Magistrate dismissing and ordering the complainant to pay a fine under s. 250 without recording and considering his objections is illegal. 24 O. C. 26; see also 30 Cr. L. J. 458=A. I. R. 1929 Sind. 113=115 Ind. Cas. 334. The expression "person" includes not only a natural person but also a juristic person. 24 Cr. L. J. 463=A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 31=72 Ind. Cas. 623. Information given to village Magistrate is information given to Police. 45 M. L. J. 255=18 M. L. W. 32=24 Cr. L. J. 717=73 Ind. Cas. 941. The report of a Sub-Inspector of Excise to a Magistrate is for the purposes of section 250, either a complaint, as defined in s. 4 (h) or information given to Magistrate and the Excise Officer is the person giving such complaint or information. 54 C. 371=28 Cr. L. J. 316=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 405=100 Ind. Cas. 540.

Compensation.—Under s. 250 a Magistrate can when discharging the accused order compensation to be paid to him by the informant. 32 M. L. J. 78=5 L. W. 290=18 Cr. L. J. 11=36 Ind. Cas. 843; see also 17 Cr. L. J. 505=36 Ind. Cas. 471. Where a charge is specific and serious an order for compensation under s. 250 is not justified unless it is in fact false. 18 Cr. L. J. 834=41 Ind. Cas. 661=2 Pat. L. W. 116. It is only the trying Magistrate who can order compensation to be paid. 46 A. 80=21 A. L. J. 831=A. I. R. 1924 All. 224; see also A. I. R. 1929 Cal.

762=33 C. W. N. 861=1929 Cr. C. 474 ; A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 482=126 Ind. Cas. 792. Where a case is not wilfully false compensation should not be awarded. A. I. R. 1929 Rang. 14=115 Ind. Cas. 900. Awarding compensation under s. 250 without hearing all the evidence that the complainant wants to adduce is illegal. This can be done only in exceptional cases. 51 M. 337=54 M. L. J. 641=A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 169=106 Ind. Cas. 706 ; see also 25 Cr. L. J. 1312=A. I. R. 1923 Lah. 451=82 Ind. Cas. 480 ; 3 Bur. L. J. 26=25 Cr. L. J. 1280=A. I. R. 1924 Rang. 293=82 Ind. Cas. 288 ; 94 Ind. Compensation can also be awarded in a case instituted upon information given to a Police officer. 25 Cr. L. J. 527=A. I. R. 1925 Oudh. 558=85 Ind. Cas. 367. Two elements one of falsity and the other of either frivolousness or vexatiousness are essentially necessary to base an order for compensation to the accused. 26 Cr. L. J. 1033=A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 31=87 Ind. Cas. 921 ; see also 41 P. L. R. 1919. 23 A. L. J. 1054=27 Cr. L. J. 35=A. I. R. 1926 All. 165=91 Ind. Cas. 67. No objection can be taken if the proceedings taken by the Magistrate to award compensation is a continuation of the original proceeding against the accused who was tried for the offence. 23 A. L. J. 1054=27 Cr. L. J. 35=91 Ind. Cas. 67. Section 250 (2) does not mean that if there are a number of accused persons the total amount awarded to all must not exceed the maximum. 24 A. L. J. 221=26 Cr. L. J. 702.

Jurisdiction.—Proceedings under s. 250 is not continuation of original trial. 27 A. L. J. 896=21 Cr. L. J. 767=58 Ind. Cas. 351. Where case ordinarily triable only by a Court of Sessions is tried by Magistrate empowered under s. 30, the Magistrate is not competent to award compensation. 23 Cr. L. J. 289=A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 15 ; see also 20 A. L. J. 433=66 Ind. Cas. 513 ; 20 A. L. J. 433=23 Cr. L. J. 319=66 Ind. Cas. 671. Under s. 250 a Magistrate has jurisdiction to direct a complainant to pay compensation only in such cases as are triable by a Magistrate. 25 A. L. J. 818=28 Cr. L. J. 983=A. I. R. 1927 All. 744=105 Ind. Cas. 807 ; see also 28 Cr. L. J. 450=A. I. R. 1927 Oudh. 175=101 Ind. Cas. 482. It seems doubtful whether High Court can pass an order for compensation in revision. 26 A. L. J. 328=29 Cr. L. J. 274=A. I. R. 1928 All. 95=107 Ind. Cas. 690. Magistrate acting under s. 250 must record reasons thereunder. 59 M. L. J. 319=32 Cr. L. J. 207=A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 929=129 Ind. Cas. 37. To restrict the operation of s. 250 to an offence triable by a Magistrate would seriously diminish the usefulness of the section. In filing a complaint the complainant must be deemed to make an accusation which includes not only the offence specifically referred to but also any offence which the facts disclosed in the complaint. 26 Cr. L. J. 265=16 S. L. R. 205=84 Ind. Cas. 329. Where some of the offences charged are exclusively triable by Sessions Court, the Magistrate cannot order for compensation to accused after discharging him of all offences. 48 A. 166=23 A. L. J. 1066=27 Cr. L. J. 6=A. I. R. 1926 All. 159=91 Ind. Cas. 38 ; but see 23 Cr. L. J. 232=41 M. L. J. 398=A. I. R. 1932 Mad. 223=66 Ind. Cas. 72.

Notice.—Under this section the complainant should be given an opportunity to object to the order awarding compensation. 1 Pat. L. T. 558=58 Ind. Cas. 255 ; see also 44 M. 51=39 M. L. J. 484=23 Cr. L. J. 161=59 Ind. Cas. 913 ; 33 C. W. N. 861=A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 762. The accused person should have notice of any intended interference with compensation made in his favour. 20 S. L. R. 41=27 Cr. L. J. 248=A. I. R. 1926 Sind. 143=92 Ind. Cas. 424.

Time for order.—The order of compensation must be an integral part, the order of acquittal. 22 Cr. L. J. 527=62 Ind. Cas. 415 ; see also 20 Cr. L. J. 174 ; 35 Ind. Cas. 490 ; 53 Ind. Section 250 does not cover proceedings under chapter 8. A. I. R. 1935 Lah. 29.

CHAPTER XXI.

OF THE TRIAL OF WARRANT-CASES BY MAGISTRATES.

251. The following procedure shall be observed by Magistrate in the trial of warrant-cases.

Notes.—The provisions of Chapter 21 are mandatory. L. R. J. A. Cr. 185. Even in cases of mandatory provisions their application must vary according to the circumstances of the case. 28 Cr. L. J. 785=A. R. 1927 All. 654=104 Ind. Cas. 225. The procedure of splitting up an offence triable exclusively as a warrant case into two component parts of the said offence is an illegality. 22 Cr. L. J. 146=19 A. L. J. 6=59 Ind. Cas. 850. In a warrant case tried under Chapter 21, when the accused leads evidence of good character by way of defence the prosecution cannot as a matter of right claim to lead refuting evidence, for the Code gives the prosecution no such privilege. A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 448=127 Ind. Cas. 304.

252. (1) When the accused appears or is brought before a Magistrate, such Magistrate shall proceed to hear the complainant (if any) and take all such evidence as may be produced in support of the prosecution :

* [Provided that the Magistrate shall not be bound to hear any person as complainant in any case in which the complaint has been made by a Court.]

(2) The Magistrate shall ascertain, from the complainant or otherwise, the names of any persons likely to be acquainted with the facts of the case and to be able to give evidence for the prosecution, and shall summon † to give evidence before himself such of them as he thinks necessary.

Notes.—When a complainant files a list of witnesses to be summoned for proving his case, the Magistrate should see which of the persons desired to be summoned are necessary witnesses. 14 Cr. L. J. 682=21 Ind. Cas. 1002=12 A. L. J. 15. In a prosecution for breach of trust, the complainant withdrew the prosecution and the Magistrate discharged the accused. Held, that the withdrawal of the complainant did not by itself end the case or acquit the accused, the order of discharge was an order under s. 252 Cr. Pro. Code as the Magistrate finds no case has been made out. 115 Ind. Cas. 156=A. I. R. 1929 Mad. 7. Contravention of provisions of Chapter 21 vitiates proceeding. 19 A. L. J. 6=22 Cr. L. J. 146=59 Ind. Cas. 850. Once the Court is moved, the responsibility is with State who can arrest progress of the case. 5 Rang. 136=28 Cr. L. J. 649=103 Ind. Cas. 105=A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 174. Where a witness is examined as a prosecution witness after the whole of the defence evidence, has been recorded, the procedure is contrary to the provisions of s. 252. 29 P. L. R. 613=29 Cr. L. J. 844=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 653=111 Ind. Cas. 396. Trial without the examination of the complainant on oath is not irregular. A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 126=23 Cr. L. J. 203=65 Ind. Cas. 859. The duty of seeing that all the evidence essential to the prosecution case is before the Court is thrown upon the Magistrate himself. 256. (1) If the accused refuses to plead, or does not plead, or claims to be tried, he shall be required to state †[at the commencement of the next hearing of the case or, if the Magistrate for reasons to be recorded in writing so thinks fit, forthwith], whether he wishes to cross-examine any, and, if so, which, of the witnesses for the prosecution whose evidence has been taken. If he says he does so wish, the witnesses named by him shall be re-called and, after cross-examination and re-examination if any, they shall be discharged. The evidence of any remaining witnesses for the prosecution shall next be taken, and, after cross-examination and re-examination (if any), they also shall be discharged. The accused shall then be called upon to enter upon his defence and produce his evidence.

(2) If the accused puts in any written statement, the Magistrate shall file it with the record.

Notes.—The provisions of this section do not relate to the mode of trial, and non-compliance with them strictly amounts to no more than an irregularity in procedure. 49 A. 316=25 A. L. J. 111=99 Ind. the Magistrate to issue any process for compelling the attendance of any witness for the purpose of examination or cross-examination, or the production of any document or other thing, the Magistrate shall issue such process unless he considers that such application should be refused on the ground that it is made for the purpose of vexation or delay or for defeating the ends of justice. Such ground shall be recorded by him in writing :

Provided that, when the accused has cross-examined or had the opportunity of cross-examining any witness after the charge is framed, the attendance of such witness shall not be compelled under this section, unless the Magistrate is satisfied that it is necessary for the purposes of justice.

(2) The Magistrate may, before summoning any witness on such application, require that his reasonable expenses incurred in attending for the purposes of the trial be deposited in Court.

Notes.— The section is imperative. CHAPTER XXII.

OF SUMMARY TRIALS.

Power to try summarily. 260. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Code,—

- (a) the District Magistrate,
- (b) any Magistrate of the first class specially empowered in this behalf by the Local Government, and
- (c) any Bench of Magistrates invested with the powers of a Magistrate of the first class and especially empowered in this behalf by the Local Government, may, if he or they think fit, try in a summary way all or any of the following offences:—

- (a) offences not punishable with death, transportation or imprisonment for a term exceeding six months ;
- (b) offences relating to weights and measures under sections 264, 265 and 266 of the Indian Penal Code ;
- (c) hurt, under section 323 of the same code ;
- (d) theft, under section 379, 380 or 381 of the same Code, where the value of the property stolen does not exceed fifty rupees ;
- (e) dishonest misappropriation of property under section 403 of the same Code, where the value of the property misappropriated does not exceed fifty rupees ;
- (f) receiving or retaining stolen property under section 411 of the same Code, where the value of such property does not exceed fifty rupees ;
- (g) assisting in the concealment or disposal of stolen property, under section 414 of the same Code, where the value of such property does not exceed fifty rupees ;
- (h) mischief, under section 427 of the same Code ;
- (i) house-trespass, under section 448, and offences under sections 451, * [453, 454], 456 and 457 of the same Code ;
- (j) insult with intent to provoke a breach of the peace, under section 504, and criminal intimidation, under section 506, of the same Code ;
- (k) abetment of any of the foregoing offences ;
- (l) an attempt to commit any of the foregoing offences, when such attempt is an offence ;
- (m) offence under section 20 of the Cattle-trespass Act, 1871 ;

Provided that no case in which a Magistrate exercises the special powers conferred by section 34 shall be tried in a summary way.

(2) when in the course of a summary trial it appears to the Magistrate or Bench that the case is one which is of a character which renders it undesirable that it should be tried summarily, the Magistrate or Bench shall recall any witnesses who may have been examined and proceed to re-hear the case in manner provided by this Code.

Notes.—An accused person cannot be convicted in a summary trial of an offence which cannot be tried summarily. U. B. R. (1897—1901) Vol I, 75. An offence under s. 121 of the Indian Railways Act, is an offence which is summarily triable under this section. A. W. N. 1902, 24. The offence of cattle lifting is a serious one and ought not to be tried summarily. 6 S. L. R. 101 = 17 Ind. Cas. 412 = 13 Cr. L. J. 780. This section gives the Magistrate a power to try summarily all cases not punishable with death, transportation or imprisonment for a term, exceeding six

It is manifest that a summary trial is intended to be directed towards the offences which are appropriate for such form of trial. While it may be legal to use that procedure in a particular case, it does not follow that it is desirable. An offence which may seem very grave when regarded only from the point of view of the section applicable may really be, in the light of its particular circumstances of a trivial nature. 30 Cr. L. In a summary trial where a non-appealable sentence is passed the Magistrate need only record a finding and his reasons for it. 21 Cr. L. J. 442=56 Ind. Cas. 234. The mere fact of there being a large number of accused is not a conclusive reason against trying a case in the summary method. 28 Cr. L. J. 140=A. I. R. 1927 All. 116=99 Ind. Cas. 348. A summary trial in a case involving complicated questions of right and title is improper, as it would prejudice the accused. 55 Ind. Cas. 854. Summary procedure in case of serious offences, though legal, is inappropriate. 14 N. L. R. 90=19 Cr. L. J. 1003=48 Ind. Cas. 343. Summary trial by Magistrate not empowered to try European subject summarily is void. 39 M. 942=29 M. L. J. 758=16 Cr. L. J. 773. A summary trial would be improper where there is a large number of accused and the number of witnesses is also very large. 3 Lah. L. J. 34=22 Cr. L. J. 145=59 Ind. C. 849; but see 28 Cr. L. J. 140=A. There is nothing in the Code which requires a Magistrate in a summary case to place upon the record, the notes of the evidence or a full statement of the examination of the accused persons. 3 O. W. N. 946=A. I. R. 1927 Oudh. 42=99 Ind. Cas. 108. In a case tried summarily the mere fact that there is an omission on the Magistrate's part to ask the accused, whether he wants any of the prosecution witnesses for further cross-examination, is not sufficient to make the trial illegal. 28 B. R. 1927 All. 132=99 Ind. Cas. 348. Where a Magistrate after partly trying a case as a warrant case charged the accused and tried the case as a summary one, the trial is illegal and a de novo trial was necessary. 21 Cr. L. J. 157=37 C. L. J. 105. The Magistrate should ordinarily restrict summary trial to simple cases; but the mere fact that the case involves a question of title or is trial of a public servant is not itself a reason for not doing so. 26 Cr. Power to invest Bench of Magistrate invested with less power.

261. The local Government may confer on any Bench of Magistrates invested with the powers of a Magistrate of the second or third class, power to try summarily all or any of the following offences:—

- (a) offences against the Indian Penal Code, sections 277, 278, 279, 285, 236, 289, 290, 292, 293, 294, 323, 334, 335, 341, 352, 426, * [477 and 504];
- (b) offences against Municipal Acts and the conservancy clauses of Police Acts which are punishable only with fine or with imprisonment for a term not exceeding one month† [with or without fine];
- (c) abetment of any of the foregoing offences,
- (d) an attempt to commit any of the foregoing offences, when such attempt is an offence.

Notes.—Section 355 does not apply to offences coming under s. 261 cl. (b). 29 Bom. L. R. 710=28 Cr. L. J. 537=A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 426. 263. In cases where no appeal lies, the Magistrate or Bench of Magistrate need not record the evidence of witnesses or frame a formal charge; but he or they shall enter, in such form as the Local Government may direct, the following particulars:—

- (a) the serial number;
- (b) the date of the commission of the offence;
- (c) the date of the report or complaint;
- (d) the name of the complainant (if any);
- (e) the name, parentage and residence of the accused;
- (f) the offence complained of and the offence (if any) proved and in cases coming under clause (d), clause (e), clause (f) or clause (g) of sub-section (1) of section 260, the value of the property in respect of which the offence has been committed.
- (g) the plea of the accused and his examination (if any);
- (h) the finding, and, in the case of a conviction, a brief statement of the reasons therefore;
- (i) the sentence or other final order; and
- (j) the date on which the proceedings terminated.

Notes.—In the case of a summary trial, the provisions of this section must be fully and strictly complied with, in this sense, that the record must be sufficiently exact and sufficiently full to enable the Judges of the Revisional Court to say whether the law has been complied with or not on the points to be recorded. 2 C. L. J. 565=10 C. W. N. 79=3 Cr. L. J. 178. A summary trial applies only to short and simple cases where little evidence is needed. 25 W. R. Cr. 65. This section excuses a Magistrate trying a criminal case according to the summary procedure from recording evidence of any of the witnesses, but not from hearing the evidence of all the witnesses. 16 C. W. N. 984=39 C. 931=17 Ind. Cas. 71=13 Cr. L. J. 759. This section does not give the Magistrate any discretion whether he will examine the accused or not. 15 Cr. L. J. 759. 190=22 Ind. Cas. 766=18 C. W. N. 1247=41 C. 743. Under section 263 (b), a brief statement of the reasons for conviction must be given. The reasons should amount to showing that there is evidence to prove the existence of the ingredients necessary to complete the offence. 10 A. L. J. 251=16 Ind. Cas. 516=13 Cr. L. J. 708. A Magistrate or a Bench in a summary trial should give a brief statement of the reasons for their finding and not a judgment in a single line. 20 Cr. L. J. 431=51 Ind. Cas. 207; see also 1 Pat. L. T. 716=21 Cr. L. J. 656=57 Ind. Cas. 672. In a summary trial the judgment need not be very long and detailed one but it is duty of the Magistrate to give a brief summary of the evidence and a concise statement of the reasons, if the trial ends in a conviction. 31 P. L. R. 317; see also A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 481=127 Ind. Cas. 849; 29 Cr. L. J. 584=A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 928=109 Ind. Cas. 600. Section 263 requires that the Magistrate's record shall state the offence complained of, and the offence if any, proved, the plea of the accused and his examination, if any, the finding and in case of a conviction a brief statement of the reasons therefor. The practice of lumping together in one column of the register all the particulars required by s. 263 cl. (g) to (j) is unwarranted. 23 Cr. L. J. 16=65 Ind. Cas. 625. The finding and reasons required by s. 263 (h) Cr. P. Code should be so stated that the High Court in revision may be able to judge whether there was sufficient material before the Magistrate to support the conviction. 19 Cr. L. J. 716=46 Ind. In appealable summary cases the Magistrate shall record a judgment embodying the substance of the evidence and also the particulars mentioned in s. 263 ; but framing of a charge and notes of evidence are not necessary. 26 Cr. L. J. 1334=A. I. R. 1925 Oudh. 722=89 Ind. Cas. 310. S. 263 must be read with section 355. Where it is difficult for a Magistrate to determine at the initial stage whether he will or will not pass an appealable sentence, the course he has to adopt is to make a memorandum of the substance of the evidence. But if, at the initial stage, he can make up his mind that in any event the sentence to be passed by him will not be appealable, he need not record the evidence. The record of the evidence becomes part of the record of the case and must not be destroyed. Where the evidence was recorded and was subsequently destroyed, the conviction must be set-aside. 48 C. 280=22 Cr. L. J. 462=A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 165=61 Ind. Cas. 846 ; see also 44 M. L. J. 84=17 M. L. The facts found by a Magistrate in a summary trial must clearly show that the offence had been committed and that his record, however meagre ought to be sufficient to establish the necessary ingredients of the offence of which the accused had been found guilty. 10 Lah. 231=29 P. L. R. 647=29 Cr. L. J. 877=A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 378=111 Ind. Cas. 461 ; see also 26 A. L. J. 100=29 Cr. L. J. 265=A. I. R. 1928 All. 266=107 Ind. Cas. 592 ; 32 P. L. R. 53=A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 33 ; A. I. In summary cases the recording of evidence is governed by ss. 263 and 264 and s. 355 has no application at all to summary cases. Where examination of an accused person is a proper examination it is not necessary in a summary trial in a warrant case for the Magistrate to record examination in detail. 6 Pat. 504=8 P. L. T. 757=A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 369=106 Ind. Cas. 221. In a summary trial under s. 263, when no charge is framed the accused has no right as such to recall the witnesses for the prosecution. 28 Bom. L. R. 95=27 Cr. L. J. 431=A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 226=93 Ind. Cas. 159. The words "if any" in s. 263 do not limit the obligation imposed on Courts by s. 342, or render it inapplicable to summary trials ; they merely have reference to those cases in which owing to the admission and plea of the accused, or owing to the weakness of the evidence called in support of the prosecution, the accused can be convicted on his own plea, without taking of evidence or acquitted on the evidence without the examination referred to in section 342. 20 S. L. R. 34=26 Cr. L. J. 1554=A. I. R. 1926 Sind. 1 (F.B.) Where an appealable case in a summary trial, the procedure as laid down in ss. 262 to 264 was exactly carried out, except that a formal charge was not framed, it does not vitiate the conviction. There is considerable doubt whether the framing of a charge under s. 264 in a summary trial is essential whether an appealable sentence is passed or not. 53 C. 738=27 Cr. L. J. 1295=A. I. R. 1526. Cal. 1202=98 Ind. Cas. 191. Magistrate should record not only plea of accused but also his examination though not in full. A. I. R. 1935 All. 217.

264. (1) In every case tried summarily by a Magistrate or Bench in which an appeal lies, such Magistrate or Bench shall, before passing sentence, record a judgment embodying the substance of the evidence and also the particulars mentioned in section 263.

(2) Such judgment shall be the only record in cases coming within this section.

Notes.—Under this section Magistrates need not record the substance of depositions ; but may state generally the substance of the witness's evidence. 25 W. R. Cr. 6. The substance of the evidence is required by s. 264 is a matter distinct from the facts which may be considered as proved by the evidence and it should be recorded in such a manner that a Superior Court acting in appeal or revision may be in a position to Judge that there were sufficient material before the magistrate to support the conviction. Jamna Prasad v. Emperor 6 O. W. N. 45=116 Ind. Cas. 57=30 Cr. L. J. 557. (3) If no such authorization be given, the record prepared by a member of the Bench and signed as aforesaid shall be the proper record.

(4) If the Bench differ in opinion, any dissentient member may write a separate judgment.

CHAPTER XXXIII.

OF TRIALS BEFORE HIGH COURTS AND COURTS OF SESSIONS.

A—Preliminary.

266. In this Chapter, except in sections 276 and 307, and in Chapter XVIII the expressions "High Court" means a High Court of Judicature established* under the Indian High Courts Act, 1861,†‡ [or the Government of India Act, 1915], and includes § [the Chief (Courts of Oudh and Sind) ¶] | the ¶ "Court of the Judicial Commissioners of the Central Provinces," and †† such other Courts as the Governor-General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare to be High Courts for the purposes of this Chapter §§ [and of Chapter XVIII].

Notes.—An appeal lies from the decision of a Judge of the Court of the Judicial Commissioner of Sind holding a sessions trial. For purposes of appeal, such trial is a sessions trial. 19 S. L. R. 308=26 Cr. L. J. 562=A. I. R. 1925 Sind. 249=85 Ind. Cas. 706 When the only offence with which the accused is charged was one under s. 396 which is not triable by a Jury, the accused should not have been tried by the Jury at all. 22 O. C. 130=20 Cr. L. J. 691=52 Ind. Cas. 659.

267. All trials under this Chapter before a High Court shall be by jury, and notwithstanding anything herein contained, in all criminal cases transferred to a [High Court under this Code or under the Letters Patent of any High Court established under the Indian High Courts Act, 1861, ||| ¶¶ or the Government of India Act, 1915,] the trial may, if the High Court so directs, be by jury.

A case can be transferred by the High Court from a Jury District to a non-jury district. 10 S. L. R. 154=18 Cr. L. J. 51=37 Ind. Cas. 35.

268. All trials before a Court of Session shall be either by jury, or with the aid of assessors. Trials before Court of Session to be by jury or with assessors.

Notes.—As regards difference between trial by jury and trial by assessors, vide, 27 C. 295; 24 M. 533; 43A. 125. In case of translation of the charge to the jury who did not know English by the public prosecutor, accused's Advocate is allowed to object then and there to any mistake in translation. 29 Cr. L. J. 638=47 C. L. J. 449=A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 40=109 Ind. Cas. 910. Under this section all trials before a Sessions Court must be either with a jury or with the aid of assessors. In the case of trial with the aid of assessors, it is incumbent on the Sessions Judge to make a record of the opinion of the assessors on all the charges; failure of which will make the trial void in toto. 150 Ind. Cas. 509=35 Cr. L. J. 1066=11 O. W. N. 831=A. I. R. 1934 Oudh. 354. In case of joint trial of offences triable with the aid of jury and with assessors, if jury disbelieve evidence as to minor charges, the Judge so as offences triable with assessors can still consider entire evidence. A. I. R. 1934 All. 61.

269. (1) The Local Government may, * by order in the official Gazette, direct that the trial of all offences, or of any particular class of offences, before any Court of Session, shall be by jury in any district, and may, with the like sanction, revoke or alter such order.

(2) The Local Government, by like order, may also declare that, in the case of any district in which the trial of any offence is to be by jury, the trial of such offences shall, if the Judge, on application made to him or of his own motion so directs, be by jurors summoned from a special jury list, and may revoke or alter such order.

(3) When the accused is charged at the same trial with several offences of which some are and some are not triable by jury, he shall be tried by jury for such of those offences as are triable by jury, and by the Court of Session, with the aid of the jurors as assessors for such of them as are not triable by jury.

Notes.—As regards the meaning of "class of offences" vide, 23 M. 632. Trial by jury is more advantageous to accused than one by assessors. A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 313=32 Cr. L. J. 1147=55 B. 576=33 Bom. L. R. 675=124 Ind. Cas. 347. Where offence of rioting is excluded from jury and an offence under s. 325 is triable by jury, Charges under ss. 325 and 149 I. P. Code is not triable by jury but by Judge with assessors. A. I. R. 1933 All. 128=55 A. 68=34 Cr. L. J. 441=1932 A. L. J. 1103=142 Ind. Cas. 800. Local Government only and not High Court can decide whether a Sessions Court shall try a case with jury or assessors. A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 313 (S. B.)=32 Cr. L. J. 1147=55 B. 576=33 Bom. L. R. 675. In a case where a person is tried by a jury and there is another charge tried by the Judge, the right of appeal from the judgment of the Sessions Judge is retained inspite of the words "same trial" in the section. 18 Cr. L. J. 346=88 Ind. Cas. 730. Alteration of charge from s. 436 to s. 436 read with s. 149 does not make s. 436 offence triable by jury. 5 Pat. 238=7 P. L. T. 178=27 Cr. L. J. 512=A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 253=93 Ind. Cas. 976. An accused charged under s. 412 (triable by jury) can be convicted under s. 411 (triable by aid of assessors) though not separately charged. 27 Bom. L. In the same trial he was tried for an offence under s. 396. Penal Code with the same jury sitting as assessors. The Judges summing up covered both the charges. Failure to write a separate judgment in a case where the procedure laid down by s. 269 (3) is followed, does not vitiate the trial. 4 Luck. 721=31 Cr. L. J. 599=6 O. W. N. 1007=A. I. On the charges triable by the jury, the accused were acquitted but for offences triable with the aid of assessors the opinion of all the jurors as assessors was not taken and consequently on appeal, the case was remanded for retrial. Hell, that retrial should be only for offences triable with assessors. 27 Cr. Notes.—The provisions contained in this section is merely directory. 1887 P. R. 35.

B.—Commencement of Proceedings.

271. (1) When the Court is ready to commence the trial, the accused shall appear or be brought before it, and the charge shall be read out in Court and explained to him, and he shall be asked whether he is guilty of the offence charged, or claims to be tried.

Plea of guilty. (2) If the accused pleads guilty, the plea shall be recorded, and he may be convicted thereon.

Notes.—This section only says that "the plea shall be recorded, and he may be convicted thereon." A judge is quite at liberty to continue the trial even after such plea. 23 M. 151=2 Weir 335. Where an accused makes a long rambling statement more or less admitting guilt, it is safer for the Judge to record a plea of not guilty and to proceed to try the case in the ordinary way, recording the evidence. 5 A. L. J. 157=7 Cr. L. J. 295. An accused should never be called on to plead in the alternative, but separately to each of the heads of a charge, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 327. If the accused pleads guilty on a charge, the plea should be recorded. Where no such plea appears on record, the conviction is bad, and must be set aside and a new trial ordered on the charge. 5 M. L. T. 216=4 Ind. Cas. 1126=11 Cr. L. J. 193. A plea of guilty should not be accepted in capital cases. 169 P. L. R. 1905=54 P. R. 1905=3 Cr. L. J. 80. After plea of guilty or after conviction, person ceases to be accused person. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 341=35 C. W. N. 490=1931 Cr. C. 405. In case of joint trial of accused person, the practice of refusing to accept plea of guilty of one accused in order that his confession may be taken into consideration against his co-accused is illegal and an abuse of the process of the Court. Ibid. Section 271 though it directs that the plea of guilty shall be recorded, does not direct that the accused shall be convicted thereon, but only that he may be so convicted. It is left to the discretion of the presiding judge. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 775=30 Cr. L. J. 508; see also 24 A. L. J. 318=27 Cr. L. J. 449=A. I. R. 1926 All. 318=93 Ind. Cas. 241; A. I. R. 1923 Nag. 251=21 Cr. L. J. 570=73 Ind. Cas. 266. It must be clear to the accused what offences he is charged with. Every addition or alteration to the charge must be read over and explained to the accused. 18 A. L. J. 442=21 Cr. L. J. 410=56 Ind. Cas. 58. It is in the discretion of the Judge to continue trial, even after plea of guilty. The Judge must record reasons for doing so but an omission to do so is not illegal. 20 O. C. 136=18 Cr. L. J. 742=40 Ind. Cas. 742. It is not the practice to accept plea of guilty where the natural sequence would be a sentence of death. 19 Bom. L. R. 356=18 Cr. L. J. 699=40 Ind. Cas. 699; see also A. I. R. 1934 Sind. 204. An accused can plead guilty even at a latter stage of the trial. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 330=35 Cr. L. J. 1322. The expression "Court" means the Judge. After exercise of discretion under sub-section (2) no consideration can be adduced to show that discretion was not properly exercised. Ibid. The plea of guilty is a statement, which if accepted by the Court, amounts to a waiver on the part of the accused of trial. It is not a confession such as is dealt with in the Evidence Act. Ibid. The Court should consider carefully whether the accused fully understands the nature of the charge to which he pleads guilty. 12 Rang. 616.

272. If the accused refuses to, or does not, plead, or if he claims to be tried, the Court shall proceed to choose jurors or assessors as hereinafter directed and to try the case:

Refusal to plead or claim to be tried. Trial by same jury or assessors of several offenders in succession. Provided that, subject to the right of objection hereinafter mentioned, the same jury may try, or the same assessors may aid in the trial of, as many accused persons successively as the Court thinks fit.

Notes.—When the accused who is asked to plead, keeps silent, an enquiry should be made as to whether he is obstinately so or ex visitatione diæ. In either case, a plea of not guilty is not to be recorded. Rat. Un. Cr. C. 19. See also 7 Lah. 359=8 L. L. J. 251=27 P. L. R. 551=A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 406. The Court has discretion when the accused pleads "guilty" to accept the plea or not. Where the accused pleads guilty, the Court need not necessarily record a conviction against him; his plea shall be recorded and in a suitable case the Court may leave the matter there and discharge him. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 341=35 C. W. N. 49 =1931 Cr. C. 405. Same jury can try any number of accused one after another but not simultaneously. 32 Cr. L. J. 1233=54 Cr. L. J. 146. Appeal on acquittal should not be allowed unless lower Court's judgement is perverse. A. I. R. 1931 All. 439.

273. (1) In trials before the High Court, when it appears to the High Court, at any time before the commencement of the trial of the person charged, that any charge or any portion thereof is clearly unsustainable, the Judge may make on the charge an entry to that effect.

Entry on unsustainable charges.

(2) Such entry shall have the effect of staying proceedings upon the charge or portion of the charge, as the case may be.

Effect of Entry.

Notes.—Under this section, in trials before the High Court, when it appears to the Court, at any time before the commencement of the trial of a person charged, that any charge or any portion thereof is clearly unsustainable, the Judge may make an entry to that effect. 21 C. 97. This is a special power given to the High Court. It has no reference to illegal commitment. The reference to portions of a charge and to the charge or portion thereof being clearly unsustainable is sufficient to show that the section is intended to provide a short and an effective way by which charges which have no merit, may be disposed. A. I. R. 1929. Cal. 756 (F. B.)=50 C. L. J. 408=34 C. W. N. 13. The High Court is empowered to quash commitment to Sessions Court. 34 Cr. L. J. 14=A. I. R. 1932 Sind. 157.

C.—Choosing a Jury.

Number of jury.

274. (1) In trials before the High Court the jury shall consist of nine persons.

(2) In trials by jury before the Court of Session the jury shall consist of such uneven number, not being less than * [five] or more than nine, as the Local Government, by order applicable to any particular district or to any particular class of offences in that district, may direct :

† [Provided that, where any accused person is charge with an offence punishable with death, the jury shall consist of not less than seven persons and, if practicable, of nine persons.]

Notes.—The number fixed by the Local Government must be adhered to. 26A. 21. In a murder case no less than 18 jurors should be summoned where only 14 were summoned and 11 were present and seven jurors were empanelled. Held, that there was not proper compliance with s. 274 or 326 Cr. Pro. Code and the trial was therefore vitiated. Dwarka Malo v. Emperor, 33 C. W. N. 692. but see 34. C. W. N. 296=51 C. L. J. 171=31. Cr. L. J. 536=A. I. R. 1930. Cal. 212. (F. B.) by which 33 C. (2) In any such trial by jury of a person who has been found under the provisions of this Code to be an European (other than an European British subject) or an American, a majority of the jury shall, if practicable and if such European or American before the first juror is called and accepted so requires, consist of persons who are Europeans or Americans.

Notes.—European non-British subject can be tried in India. A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 136=34 Cr. L. J. 505=29 N. L. R. 251=1933 Cr. C. 610. Claim to be tried as Indian British subject is different from claim to be tried by majority of Indian jury, though it can only be put forward by a British Indian subject. R. 1933 Rang. 67 (S. B.)

276. The jurors shall be chosen by lot from the persons summoned to act as such, in such manner as the High Court may from time to time by rule direct :

Provided that—first, pending the issue under this section of rules for any Court, the Existing practice maintained ; practice now prevailing in such Court in respect to the choosing of jurors shall be followed ;

secondly, in case of a deficiency of persons summoned, the number of jurors persons not summoned when required may, with the leave of the Court, be chosen from such other eligible ; persons as may be present ;

thirdly, * [in a trial before any High Court in the town which is the usual place of sitting of such High Court]—

(a) if the accused person is charged with having committed an offence punishable with death, or

(b) if in any other case a Judge of the High Court so directs, the jurors shall be chosen from the special jury list hereinafter prescribed ; and fourthly, in any district for which the Local Government has declared that the trial of certain offences may be by special jury, the jurors shall, in any case in which the Judge so directs, be chosen from the special jury list prescribed in section 325.

Notes.—The Legislature has taken special precautions to render impossible any intentional selection of jurors to try a particular case. In the first place, the persons who are to be summoned to act upon the jury are drawn by lot ; and then again, when they appear, the jurors who are to try a particular case are chosen in the same manner from amongst the person summoned. 7 C. W. N. 188. Jurors are judges of fact, and in the absence of a properly constituted jury conviction is illegal. A violation of the imperative procedure laid down in s. 276 is such as cannot be cured by the provisions of s. 537 of the Code. 9 Ind. Cas. 278=8 A. L. J. 182=12 Cr. L. J. 46=33 A. 385. Jurors should be empanelled as required by ss. 276 and 279 of the Cr. Pro. Code. other juror present than any other person present in Court whose name is in the list of jurors or whom the Court considers a proper person to serve on the jury may be selected. 36 C. 835=33 C. W. N. 722. "Jurors" mean actual jurors and not potential jurors. A. I. R. 1933 All. 941=1933 A. L. J. 1446. Deficiency refers to number required to form quorum. 1933 A. L. J. 1446=A. I. A jury having once been discharged should not be recalled to do duty as jurors in the same case. 56 C. 1032=A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 343. The word "deficiency" and "number of jurors required" in the second proviso to s. 276 mean deficiency in the number of jurors required to make up the jury and not to make up a sufficient number for the purpose of selection by lot. 54 C. 1026=131 C. The provisions of ss. 326 and 276 are imperative and their violation will render the constitution of the Court illegal even if the accused commits. 54 C. 1026; but see 7 Pat. 61=8 P. L. T. 800=28 Cr. L. J. 881. Where the accused fails to object to the irregularities in election of jurors, the defect is cured by s. 537. 18 Cr. L. J. 15. The provision of choosing jurors by lot is applicable only when the persons summoned to act as jurors are present in sufficient numbers. 31 C. W. N. 711=28 Cr. L. J. 615; see also 29 C. W. N. 652=26 Cr. L. J. 819; but see 44 C. L. J. 541. Where jurors are not chosen by lot, the irregularity is curable. A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 117.

277. (1) As each juror is chosen, his name shall be called aloud, and, upon his appearance, the accused shall be asked if he objects to be tried by such juror.
- (2) Objection may then be taken to such juror by the accused or by the prosecutor, and the grounds of objection shall be stated:
- Objection to jurors. Provided that, in the High Court, objections without grounds stated shall be allowed to the number of eight on behalf of the Crown and eight on behalf of the person or all the persons charged.
- Objection without ground stated.

Notes.—Where instead of choosing jurors by lot as required by s. 276 and when without hearing and deciding objections as provided by ss. 276, 279, the judge proceeded at once to exempt some of the persons present merely on their own representation and tried the accused with the rest, the procedure is very irregular and cannot be cured by s. 537, 7 C. W. N. 188. Where junior pleader does not challenge jurors but says that he is only a junior, constitution of jury cannot be assailed afterwards. 48 C. L. J. 307=30 Cr. L. J. 494.

278. Any objection taken to a juror on any of the following grounds, if made out to the satisfaction of the Court, shall be allowed—

- (a) some presumed or actual partiality in the juror ;
- (b) some personal grounds, such as alienage, deficiency in the qualification required by any law or rule having the force of law for the time being in force, or being under the age of twenty one or above the age of sixty years ;
- (c) his having, by habit or religious vows relinquished all care of worldly affairs ;
- (d) his holding any office in or under the Court ;
- (e) his executing any duties of police or being entrusted with police duties ;
- (f) his having been convicted of any offence which, in the opinion of the Court, renders him unfit to serve on the jury ;
- (g) his inability to understand the language in which the evidence is given, or, when such evidence is interpreted the language in which it is interpreted ;
- (h) any other circumstances which, in the opinion of the Court, render him improper as a juror.

Notes.—Where the question is whether the juror is competent to understand proceedings, defect can be proved by evidence of juror himself. 38 M. L. W. 646=34 Cr. L. J. 843=1933 M. W. N. 1025=65 M. L. Provided there is lottery, the mere fact that jury was chosen from amongst those able to read English to which the accused's counsel consented where identity of handwriting was fact in issue does not vitiate constitution of jury. 51 C. L. J. 352=A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 437. Objection to juror on the ground of litigation pending between accused's master and juror's principal should be allowed on ground of presumed partiality. 7 Pat. 50=28 Cr. L. J. 843=9 P. L. T. 57=A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 31.

279. (1) Every objection taken to a juror shall be decided by the Court, and such decision shall be recorded and be final.

(2) If the objection is allowed, the place of such juror shall be supplied by any other juror attending in obedience to a summons and chosen in manner provided by section 276, or if there is no such other juror present, then by any other person present in the Court whose name is on the list of jurors, or whom the Court considers a proper person to serve on the jury.

Provided that no objection to such juror or other person is taken under section 278 and allowed.

Foreman of jury.

(2) The foreman shall preside in the debates of the jury, deliver the verdict of the jury, and ask any information from the Court that is required by the jury or any of the jurors.

(3) If a majority of the jury do not, within such time as the Judge thinks reasonable, agree in the appointment of a foreman, he shall be appointed by the Court.

Swearing of jurors.

281. When the foreman has been appointed, the jurors shall be sworn under the Indian Oaths Act, 1873.

282. (1) If, in the course of a trial by jury at any time before the return of the verdict, any juror, from any sufficient cause, is prevented from attending throughout the trial, or if any juror absents himself and it is not practicable to enforce his attendance, or if it appears that any juror is unable to understand the language in which the evidence is given or, when such evidence is interpreted, the language in which it is interpreted, a new juror shall be added, or the jury shall be discharged and a new jury chosen.

(2) In each of such cases the trial shall commence anew.

Notes.—One of the jurors was discharged and another juror was appointed in his place. The Judge did not commence the trial afresh, but called the witnesses who had been examined, read out their statements to them and they admitted those statements. Other witnesses were then examined: held, that the trial was defective and it could not be validated by reading over the depositions of witnesses to them and getting their admissions. 12 A. L. If a juror is going to attend in a very short time it is wrong exercise of discretion to discharge jury. 31 C. W. N. 144=28 Cr. L. J. 141=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 199=99 Ind. Cas. 349.

Discharge of jury in case of sickness of prisoner.

283. The Judge may also discharge the jury whenever the prisoner becomes incapable of remaining at the bar.

Notes.—Though the Cr. Pro. Code has not specifically conferred any right on the judge to discharge a jury on the ground of misconduct every judge has an inherent power to discharge a jury when he is satisfied by such enquiry as in the circumstances he can adopt that reasonable grounds exist for exercising the discretion vested in him to discharge a jury on suspicion. Abdur Rashid v. Emperor, 56 C. 1032=33 C. W. N. 425=A. I. R. 1920 Cal. 343.

D.—Choosing Assessors.

284. When the trial is to be held with the aid of assessors, *not less than three and, if practicable, four shall be chosen from the persons summoned to act as such.

Notes.—This section refers, not to the illegality of a sentence, but to the invalidity of a conviction by reason of want of jurisdiction in the court to try the offence. 4 A. 366=A. W. N. 1882, 48. When a criminal trial is to be held with the aid of assessors only such person can be chosen by the Judge to act as assessors as have been summoned as such for the purposes of that trial. (2) If all the assessors are prevented from attending, or absent themselves, the proceedings shall be stayed and a new trial shall be held with the aid of the fresh assessors.

Examination of witnesses. (2) The prosecutor shall then examine his witnesses.

Notes.—It is extremely objectionable in a Sessions trial, to read to the prosecution witnesses their depositions before the committing Magistrate and to ask if what was there recorded was true or not. 2 Weir, 360; see also 9 M. 83. In a capital case it is undoubted duty of Public Prosecutor to place before trial Court, testimony of all available witnesses. Unless shown by facts and circumstances in the case, witnesses would not tell the truth, Court should have whole of the material evidence and of all eye witnesses. 10 P. L. J. 177=8 Pat. 625=30 Cr. L. J. 1136=A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 343=120 Ind. Cas. 37; see also 27 C. W. N. 820=25 Cr. L. J. 190=A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 717=76 Ind. Cas. 430. Opening for the prosecution ought always to be confined to matters which are necessary to establish the jury to follow the evidence, when it is brought before them. At this stage no doubtful question of admissibility should be either raised or decided. Prosecution in opening the case to jury, can only state all that it is proposed or intended to prove in the case, so that the jury may see any discrepancy between the opening statement of the counsel and the evidence afterwards adduced. 50 C. Notes.—The phrase "committing Magistrate" in s. 287 and s. 288 is merely a compendious way of referring to the Magistrate or Magistrates, who held the preliminary inquiry on which the commitment was made. 3 M. L. T. 25=7 Cr. L. J. 29=31 M. 40. Previous statement of accused can be read as part of the prosecution case only so far as such statement refers to offence tried and not previous conviction. 22 Cr. Notes.—This section does not extend to Courts of Magistrate nor to depositions not taken in the presence of the accused. It is a section requiring very careful use by Courts of Sessions, and its real scope is explained in 11 B. H. C. 281. Such statements may be recorded after cross-examination upon them of the witnesses who made them which would reveal discrepancies, or used under s. 145, Evidence Act, as a basis for cross-examination. Rat. Un. Cr. 728=Cr. Rg. 56 of 1894. This section does not limit the production of the evidence given before the committing Magistrate only for the purpose of contradicting the witness at the Sessions trial. 24 M. 414=2. Weir. 377. This section was never intended to be used so as to enable a Court trying a case to take a witness's deposition bodily from the Magistrate's record and treat it as evidence before itself. 21 A. 111=A. W. N. 1898, 196. Under s. 288 Cr. Pro. Code, the whole of the previous statement is to be treated as evidence and not only portions of it and therefore it is essential to put the whole of it to the witness and then after giving notice to the prosecution and the defence it could be brought on record under s. 288. *Mussa v. 289. (1) When the examination of the witnesses for the prosecution of witnesses for prosecution.

and the examination (if any) of the accused are concluded, the accused shall be asked whether he means to adduce evidence.

(2) If he says that he does not, the prosecutor may sum up his case; and, if the Court considers that there is no evidence that the accused committed the offence, it may then, in a case tried with the aid of assessors, record a finding, or, in a case tried by a jury, direct the jury to return a verdict of not guilty.

(3) If the accused, or any one of several accused, says that he means to adduce evidence, and the Court considers that there is no evidence that the accused committed the offence, the Court may then, in a case tried with the aid of assessors, record a finding, or, in a case tried by a jury, direct the jury to return a verdict of not guilty.

(4) If the accused, or any one of several accused, says that he means to adduce evidence, and the Court considers that there is evidence that he committed the offence, or if, on his saying that he does not mean to adduce evidence, the prosecutor sums up his case and the Court considers that there is evidence that the accused committed the offence, the Court shall call on the accused to enter on his defence.

Scope—Where the Court considers there is no evidence to lay before the assessors, the usual procedure is for the Court itself to record a finding, under this section to that effect. But the section applies only where there is no evidence and would not cover a case where the Court considers that the charge was in itself improper. 12 A. 551 = A. W. N. 1890, 173. The words "no evidence" in this section 289, Criminal Procedure Code must not be read as meaning "no satisfactory, trustworthy, or conclusive evidence". If there is evidence on which the jury can judge and not merely conjecture, the trial must go on to its close; in trials by jury, the jury and, in other trials, the Judge, after considering the opinion of the assessors, have to record a finding on the facts. 16 B. 414. s. 289 has to be read with s. 342 A. I. R. 1933 All. 690 = 1933 A. L. J. 799 = 34 Cr. L. J. 967. Omission to call an accused to enter on his defence is only an irregularity when there is no prejudice. 19 Cr. L. J. 209 = 43 Ind. Cas. 785. It is only in those cases which fall under s. 189 (2) that the Judge can direct the jury to return a verdict of not guilty. Where there is some evidence in the case, it is for the jury to say whether or how far the evidence is to be believed and it is not correct to say that the matter can be left to the jury only if the evidence relating to it is satisfactory, trustworthy or conclusive. 10 Pat. 140; see also 27 Cr. L. J. 398 = A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 728; 10 P. L. T. 101 = A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 121 = 30 Cr. L. J. 519; 8 P. L. T. 691 = 28 Cr. L. J. 692 = 7 Pat. 15; 26 Cr. L. J. 111 = A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1056 = 86 Ind. Cas. 463. Where evidence is insufficient, failure to mention it to jury amounts to misdirection. 32 C. L. J. 8 = 22 Cr. L. J. 60 = 59 Ind. Cas. 204.

290. The accused or his pleader may then open his case, stating the facts or law on which he intends to rely, and making such comments as he thinks necessary on the evidence for the prosecution. He may then examine his witnesses (if any) and after their cross-examination and re-examination (if any) may sum up his case.

Notes.—If the defence does not produce any witness no adverse inference is to be drawn. 10 C. 140; 21 C. W. N. 1152; see also 10 C. 970; Rat. Un. Cr. C. 686. An accused cannot cross-examine his own witnesses. 20 A. 155. But he can cross-examine the witnesses of another co-accused if the latter's case is adverse. 21 C. 401. Where accused is more than one, counsel should be heard after conclusion of whole defence evidence. A. I. R. 1932 Lah. 103 = 33 Cr. L. J. 97 = 33 P. L. R. 891.

291. The accused shall be allowed to examine any witness not previously named by him, if such witness is in attendance; but he shall not, except as provided in sections 211 and 231, be entitled of right to have any witness summoned, other than the witnesses named in the list delivered to the Magistrate by whom he was committed for trial.

Notes.—All the witnesses named by an accused must be summoned. 47 C. 758; see also 12 W. R. 22; 2 W. R. 6; 3 W. R. 36; 15 W. R. 34. Extra witnesses may be summoned by the Judge. 8 A. 668; 7 Lah. L. C. 38; see also 23 A. L. J. 73 = 26 Cr. L. J. 703 = A. I. R. 1925 All. 318 = 86 Ind. Cas. 79. Refusal to adjourn to summon a witness not mentioned in the list given is quite legal. 26 P. L. R. 767 = 27 Cr. L. J. 134 = 91 Ind. Cas. 806. Re-examination of a discharged witness may be allowed. 24 Cr. L. J. 518 = 73 Ind. Cas. 54. Prosecution is not bound to call or tender or cross-examine a court witness in the former trial, whom he believes to be false. 49 C. 277 = 23 Cr. L. J. 742 = 69 Ind. Cas. 630 = A. I. (2) Such officer shall not, except with the permission of the Court, suffer any other person to speak to, or hold any communication with, any of the jury or assessors, and unless the Court otherwise directs, they shall, when the view is finished, be immediately conducted back into Court.

Notes.—When defence witnesses are absent, though summoned, the Court should adjourn the case. 4 Bom. L. R. 939 ; see also 15 W. R. 34 ; 18 W. R. 20.

296. The High Court may, from time to time, make rules as to keeping the jury together during a trial before such Court lasting for more than one day ; and subject to such rules, the presiding Judge may order whether and in what manner the jurors shall be kept together under the charge of an officer of the Court, or whether they shall be allowed to return to their respective homes.

* Section 292 was substituted by s. 79 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923).

Notes.—Where juror gives out his opinion outside court before conclusion of trial, retrial should be ordered. 33 C. L. J. 122=25 C. W. N. 240=22 Cr. L. J. 510.

F—Conclusion of Trial in Cases tried by jury.

297. In cases tried by jury, when the case for the defence and the prosecutor's reply (if any) are concluded, the Court shall proceed to charge the jury, summing up the evidence for the prosecution and defence, and laying down the law by which the jury are to be guided.

Charge to jury.

Charge to jury.—A clear and complete statement of facts should appear in the charge to the jury. 2 Weir. 285. Under this section the Judge is bound to sum up the evidence for the defence as well as for the prosecution, this being essential for a proper charge. Rat. Un. Cr. C. 720. It is highly important that in a charge of murder the judge should discuss evidence fully. 19 B. 741. Under this section the judge is bound to lay down the law by which the jury are to be guided. 6 C. W. N. 292=29 C. 379. So long as a Judge makes it clear that the jury are at liberty to regard or disregard his opinion as they please, he ought to tell them his opinion; but a charge which avoids any expression of opinion is a colourless and unhelpful direction. To avoid misdirection or non-direction, it is the duty of the Judge to give the jury substantial help and guidance by properly shifting and weighing the evidence and marshalling the facts under distinct and separate heads. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 742; see also 33 C. W. N. 1121=50 C. L. J. 106. Reference to the admissible evidence renders the charge bad. 52 C. L. J. 423=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 65. Judge need not explain law on a point which does not arise, upon materials placed by prosecution and defence. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 142. The omission by the Judge in his charge to the jury to lay down the law by which the jury were to be guided as required by s. 297 is something more than a misdirection which vitiates the trial and is not curable by s. 537. 35 Cr. L. J. 507=11 O. W. N. 20=147 Ind. Cas. 976. The opinion of the Sessions Judge on points of law is conclusive but on points of fact he can only express his opinion and must leave the decision to jury. A. I. R. 1934 All. 1032=1934 A. L. J. 1160=1934 Cr. C. 1339. Judge must guide jury and direct attention of jury to essential points. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 169. Judge need not explain law on a point which does not arise upon materials placed by prosecution and defence. A. I. K. 1934 Cal. 142. Judge need not repeat to jury every argument of defence. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 124. What is actually said about law must be set out in charge. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 77. Where charges are made by woman against man in cases arising out of sexual matters, Judge should warn jury that only in exceptional cases should uncorroborated testimony of woman be accepted. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 7. Where there is change in complainants' case from time to time and there is improbabilities in his case, the facts must be brought to the notice of jury. A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 94=30 N. L. R. 262=35 Cr. L. J. 957. It is the duty of the Judge to inform the jury that an accomplice such as receiver of stolen property is a tainted witness and as such great caution should be exercised in receiving his evidence. A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 721=67 M. L. J. 693. Charge to jury should aim at impartial presentation of essentials of case. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 481=34 Cr. L. J. 828=144 Ind. Cas. 872. Charge to jury should set out clearly all essentials but should not unnecessarily long. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 496. Court should give indication of its opinion to jury, when convinced about insufficiency of evidence for conviction, telling jury that it might disregard his opinion and bring verdict of guilty. 54 C. L. J. 244=33 Cr. L. J. 85=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 752; A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 190=34 Cr. L. J. 430. Judge is entitled not to express his view of facts to jury on disputable point. 33 Cr. L. J. 79=58 C. 1228=35 C. W. N. 573=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 757 (S. B.) A judge should not lecture on abstract principles of law. His duty is to deal with specific pieces of evidence and tell the jury whether they should be considered or not and then to apply the law to concrete instances. A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 722=37 C. W. N. 1131=146 Ind. Cas. 237. Usual way of charging jury is to ask them to start with presumption of innocence of accused. A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 796 (S. B.)=33 Cr. L. J. 196=58 C. 1095. Charge to jury in dogmatic and assertive fashion does not vitiate the trial, provided jury was made aware of there duty as to questions of facts and there right to disregard judge's remarks. 34 C. W. N. 1154=32 Cr. L. J. 190=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 178 (F. B.). Where case depends on circumstantial evidence, failure to explain principles to be followed and to examine surrounding circumstances amount to misdirection. 35 C. W. N. 169=52 C. L. J. 417=32

Cr. L. J. 418=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 11. Charge should contain the defence if there is evidence, even when it is not urged by defence pleader. 37 C. W. N. 261=A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 656. In a charge under s. 467 I. P. Code. conduct of complainant in delaying taking steps for recovery should be brought to notice of jury. 34 C. W. N. 954=129 Ind. Cas. 807. Where dying declaration is the very foundation for prosecution case, charge should caution jury as to wright and efficiency. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 754=122 Ind. Cas. 364. Where accused is unrepresented, charge should bring to the notice of the jury all the points and arguments in favour of the accused. A. I. R. 1930 Sind. 308=128 Ind. Cas. 673. A charge if not written before, it must be written soon after the delivery. 49 C. L. J. 197=30 Cr. L. J. 580=56 C. 840=A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 182. Exposition of law must be exhaustive and correct. A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 269=116 Ind. Cas. 161. In a proper case benefit of doubt should be asked to be given to the accused. 1929 A. L. J. 126=A. I. R. 1930 All. 24=120 Ind. Cas. 264. A charge if not written before, it must be written soon after its delivery. 30 Cr. L. J. 1146=1930 A. L. J. 486=120 Ind. Cas. 114; see also 28 C. W. N. 170=28 C. W. N. 251. If the accused is represented, charge need not elaborate. A. I. R. 1930 Sind. 308=128 Ind. Cas. 673. Only the questions of law which do arise have to be explained. 45 C. L. J. 131=31 C. W. N. 314=28 Cr. L. J. 278=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 460=100 Ind. Cas. 358. In case of theft the word "dishonestly" must be explained. 28 M. L. W. 415=27 Cr. L. J. 1191=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 1121=97 Ind. Cas. 958. Full statement of law and fact as to make a Court of appeal understand it is necessary. 31 C. W. N. 387=28 Cr. L. J. 478=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 936=131 Ind. Cas. 606. Judge cannot say that the law has already been explained by the Public Prosecutor. A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 53=88 Ind. Cas. 178. Mere record of the heads of charge with a reference to certain sections of the Penal Code is not sufficient. 21 Cr. L. J. 694=57 Ind. Cas. 934; see also 9 Pat. 148=A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 243=125 Ind. Cas. 131. Where evidence is equally balanced, direction as to benefit of doubt is quite necessary. 30 Cr. L. J. 1146=1930 A. L. J. 486=A. I. R. 1930 All. 28=120 Ind. Cas. 114. The charge should be accurate. 33 C. W. N. 55=48 C. L. J. 473=A. I. R. 1128 Cal. 769. It is enough if a judge places before jury in coherent manner salient points arising on evidence adduced. 33 C. W. N. 918=A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 765. A charge which avoids any expression of opinion amounts to a most unhelpful direction. 57 C. 740; see also 43 C. L. J. 488=27 Cr. L. J. 1038=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 996. It is sufficient if a Judge deals with the more important points in favour of the accused and does not unduly press on the jury his own view on the question of fact. 25 Cr. L. J. 761=A. I. R. 1025 Sind. 116=81 Ind. Cas. 249. Heads of charge should be understandable by the Appellate Court. 26 C. W. N. 996=71 Ind. Cas. 56. It is sufficient if the Judge deals with the more important points in favour of accused and does not unduly press on the jury his own views on questions of fact. 49 C. 573=35 C. L. J. 279=23 Cr. L. J. 657. Elements of offence should be very carefully explained. 9 Pat. 606=A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 513=128 Ind. Cas. 121. The charge should state the salient point in the case, the evidence adduced in it and the points for determination to the jury with reference to the law. 34 C. W. N. 365=A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 434=128 Ind. Cas. 254. As regards the duty of a judge in case of discrepancy in the evidence of a child, vide. 34 C. W. N. 1154=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 178=128 Ind. Cas. 811. If the judge does not know the vernacular his charge can be interpreted to jury. 25 A. L. J. 1077=28 Cr. L. J. 950=A. I. R. 1927 All. 721=105 Ind. Cas. 662. A charge is alright where law is correctly stated and case for or against the accused was explained. 4 O. W. N. 901=28 Cr. L. J. 937=A. I. R. 1927 Oudh. 519=105 Ind. Cas. 457. In case of failure to call important witnesses, it must be specifically pointed to the jury. 7 Pat. 50=28 Cr. L. J. 843=9 P. L. T. 57=A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 31=104 Ind. Cas. 459. Reference to police diaries in the charge is injudicious. A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 513=128 Ind. Cas. 121. Opinion on facts can be given in charge. 126 Ind. Cas. 775. Judge can re-charge a jury on specific points if the verdict is unintelligible. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 320=125 Ind. Cas. 97. Where the charge is for dacoity the Judge may mention in the charge the result of acquittal of one out of five. 53 M. L. J. 732=A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 144. Reading of passages from judgment is not improper. 28 Cr. L. J. 213=A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 68=99 Ind. Cas. 1013. A suspicion as to a person being an accomplice must be put to the jury and they should be asked to find on the point. 28 Cr. L. J. 278=100 Ind. Cas. 358. Specific direction as to the benefit of doubt is necessary. 28 Cr. L. J. 177=A. I. C. 1927 Nag. 117=99 Ind. Cas. 849. Though exceptions are not pleaded, the jury must be given directions regarding it. 30 C. W. N. 912=98 Ind. Cas. 714. Charge must indicate that the law has been perfectly explained to the jury. 53 C. 372=27 Cr. L. J. 266=92 Ind. Cas. 442. Documents not proved need not be placed before the jury. Ibid. It is enough if charge as a whole fairly explained the cases. Statement not amounting to a confession should be specifically directed to jury's notice as not relevant as regards co-accused. 25 Cr. L. J. 761=A. I. R. 1925 Sind. 116=81 Ind. Cas. 249. Charge as a whole must set out the case of both sides fairly. 34 Cr. L. J. 512=23 Cr. L. J. 342=66 Ind. Cas. 998. The judge must be careful that he does not insert the functions of the advocate, and that the evidence is presented to the jury in a dispassionate manner. 25 C. W. N. 682=23 Cr. L. J. 244=66 Ind. Cas. 180. Where a charge to jury concluded this, "You will have to consider whether the absurdities, contradictions, and discrepancies in the prosecution evidence are such as would arise naturally or are due to the fact that that story is a fabrication" held that the charge was not proper one. 25 C. W. N. 609=33 C. L. J. 503. Charge should help the jury to estimate evidence but suggestions that witnesses are screening the offender is improper. 53 C. 181=42 C. L. J. 205=26 Cr. L. J. 1021. In a charge for unlawful assembly, common object and charges in it if any should be pointed out. 25 Cr. L. J. 1386=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 494=83 Ind. Cas. 346; see also 97 Ind. Cas. 748. For setting aside verdict error in charge should produce erroneous verdict. A. I. R. 1935 All. 103. Mere omission to mention in express terms that burden of proof lies on prosecution, does not amount to misdirection, where whole trend of charge shows that Judge has warned jury about it. A. I. R. 1933 All. 103.

Summing up.—The summing up must give a fair summary of evidence on both sides. 24 A. L. J. 506=27 Cr. L. J. 785=95 Ind. Cas. 385. The object of the summing up under s. 297 is to enable the Judge to place before the jury the facts and circumstances of the case both for or against the prosecution so as to help them in arriving at a right decision upon the points which arise for their consideration. 53 C. 372=42 C. L. J. 504=27 Cr. L. J. 266=92 Ind. Cas. 442; see also 29 C. W. N. 326=26 Cr. L. J. 1009. Summing up by both sides does not relieve the judge of this duty to sum up. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 269. Evidence must be sifted and analysed. Jury must be helped to weigh the evidence. Facts must be marshalled. 34 C. W. N. 164=1929 Cr. C. 390=A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 742; see also A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 513=128 Ind. Cas. 121. A judge can tell the jury his opinion if any and so long as he makes it clear they are on liberty to regard or disregard it as they please, his charge is not defective. 34 C. W. N. 164=A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 742=128 Ind. Cas. 121. There is no objection if a Judge sums up strongly in favour of one and strongly against another accused. Decision of jury must be obtained on all points. 2 Luck. 597=4 O. W. N. 616=28 Cr. L. J. 683=A. I. R. 1927 Oudh. 259=103 Ind. Cas. 411. A Judge may express his opinion in the charge to the jury but he should be careful to add that it is for the jury to form their opinion on the evidence. 25 Cr. L. J. 761=A. I. R. 1925 Sind. 126=81 Ind. Cas. 249. A Judge should not in his charge to the jury make an appeal or exhortation to the jury. Where the summing up is calculated to leave a misleading impression on the mind of the jury, that amounts to misdirection. Ibid., see also, A. I. R. 1926. 135=25 Cr. L. J. 1553=90 Ind. Cas. 433. Judge must be careful that he does not assert the functions of the advocate and that the evidence in the case is presented to the jury in a dispassionate and impartial manner as is expected of the presiding officer. 25 C. W. N. 682=A. I. R. 1921 252=66 Ind. Cas. 180. Where the Judge found the facts for himself and put the contested matters of fact to the jury without proper directions the summing up is improper. 45 C. L. J. 584=31 C. W. N. 171=28 Cr. L. J. 201=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 200=99 Ind. Cas. 937. It is not improper for the Judge to indicate in cautious language his experience on the Bench that an explanation offered by prosecution on a certain point was one which deserved the consideration of the jury. 8 Pat. 344=10 P. L. T. 409=30 Cr. L. J. 721=A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 313=117 Ind. Cas. 173. Distinction between man slaughter and murder should be pointed out. 34 C. W. N. 599=A. I. R. 1930 P. C. 201=124 Ind. Cas. 578. The Judge is bound to draw the attention of the jury to the nature of the corroboration that the approver's evidence has from the other evidence in the case. 1930 Cr. C. 193=A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 481=127 Ind. Cas. 767. The Judge should point out that there was a considerable lapse of time between the recovery of the state articles and the theft. 1929 M. W. N. 577. The law does not recognize intermediate verdicts of jurors. 33 C. W. N. 451=30 Cr. L. J. 434=115 Ind. Cas. 257. Where the Judge throughout his charge has several times cautioned the jury and they are not to accept his view of the evidence as they were the sole judges of facts and the mere fact that the Judge gave expression to his opinion regarding certain evidence does not amount to misdirection. 53 Bom. 479=31 Bom. L. R. 545=31 Cr. L. J. 65=A. I. R. 1929 Bom. 296=120 Ind. Cas. 340. Merely telling the jury that there are material discrepancies without telling them about discrepancies is a clear misdirection. 25 A. L. J. 33=49A. 209=25 A. L. J. 33=28 Cr. L. J. 15=A. I. R. 1926 All. 762=99 Ind. Cas. 47. The Judge should explain to the jury what an accomplice was and that it is not safe or proper to convict upon his evidence without corroboration in material particulars. The Judge should also explain what was the nature of corroboration necessary in such a case. 24 C. W. N. 119=31 C. L. J. 20=21 Cr. L. J. 802=58 Ind. Cas. 674. The Judge should inform the jury that non-production of certain witnesses who might be present at the time of occurrence leads to the legal presumption under s. 114 of the Evidence Act against the prosecution. 17 Cr. L. J. 92=32 Ind. Cas. 684. Omission to bring certain matters along with others to notice of jury bearing on some point is not misdirection enough to vitiate trial. 32 Cr. L. J. 1101=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 533 (S. B.). The direction is insufficient where Court omitted to inform jury of their right of presumption against prosecution for failure to bring independent witnesses. 134 Ind. Cas. 1191=33 Cr. L. J. 85=54 C. L. J. 244=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 752. The charge is not bad where there was no mention as to how sections were applicable if there is no difficulty in understanding the section. A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 786=34 Cr. L. J. 56; see also 34 Cr. L. J. 369=A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 187.

Defective direction.—Omission to refer to material evidence and to the unjustified non-examination of an eye-witness amounts to misdirection. 21 C. W. N. 1152=19 Cr. L. J. 81=43 Ind. Cas. 241. An omission by the judge to explain difference between murder and culpable homicide not amounting to murder is not invariably misdirection. 8 Bur. L. T. 220=8 L. B. R. 306=17 Cr. L. J. 49=32 Ind. Cas. 641. The case of both sides should be placed before the jury and law also should be explained. 29 C. L. J. 571=23 C. W. N. 833=52 Ind. Cas. 485. Merely reading the depositions in their serial order is not enough. More assistance will be derived by the jury from careful collocation of the evidence. 33 C. L. J. 340=25 C. W. N. 623=22 Cr. L. J. 606=A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 697=62 Ind. Cas. 878. Where a Judge's charge to a jury confuses or is calculated to confuse them, the accused must be tried anew. 21 Cr. L. J. 829=58 Ind. Cas. 829. Incomplete statement of law as regards private defence vitiates the charge. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 269. Failure to warn against the acceptance of the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice is defective direction. 8 Pat. 235=9 P. L. T. 672=30 Cr. L. J. 137=A. I. R. 1928 Pat. Where the jury were told that it was not difficult to come to the conclusion that the accused was guilty, there was a grave misdirection. 46 C. L. J. 3=28 Cr. L. J. 742=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 631=103 Ind. Cas. 790. Asking the jury to decide which hypothesis suited the facts better is a misdirection. It is wrong to refer to the amendments of law proposed for legislation. 26 C. W. N. 972=36 C. L. J. 182=24 Cr. L. J. 76=71 Ind. Cas. 124. Where two of five accused in a case of alleged dacoity were acquitted, the Court should explain to the jury that the remaining three could not be convicted of dacoity unless they were satisfied that there were at least two other persons concerned in the offence. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 216; see also 1929 M. W. N. 789. In cases of theft and robbery, ingredients should be clearly stated. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 216. Charge is defective where collocation of evidence against each accused is absent. 34 C. W. N. 390=A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 481=A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 895=127 Ind. Cas. 767. Expression of opinion on facts too dogmatically and charge in the form of the special pleading is defective direction. 7 Pat. 50=28 Cr. L. J. 843=9 P. L. T. 57=A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 31=104 Ind. Cas. 459. A mistake in the direction as to the identity of the first information report justifies re-trial. A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 771=117 Ind. Cas. 601. It is not enough to merely read out the evidence to the jury, it is incumbent on the Judge to analyse that evidence and to present to the jury such points as could legitimately arise in favour of the accused. 46 C. L. J. 31=28 Cr. L. J. 742=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 631=103 Ind. Cas. 790; see also 21 Cr. L. J. 670=57 Ind. Cas. 830; 24 C. W. N. 119=31 C. L. J. 20=21 Cr. L. J. 802=58 Ind. Cas. 674. Charge in case under s. 304, I. P. Code stating that person in possession of property about which fight took place is not guilty of any offence is incorrect. A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 242=34 Cr. L. J. 668=143 Ind. Cas. 899. Where persons are charged with dacoity, and the Judge in charging jury said: "When in committing theft or in carrying property a person voluntarily causes hurt and wrongful restraint, offence amounts to robbery" and further that "If five or more persons take part in the offence, it amounts to dacoity," the direction to the jury is not proper. A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 481=60 M. L. J. 691=32 Cr. L. J. 973. Where inadmissible evidence was referred to by Judge in charging jury and also improbability of occurrence as related by prosecution evidence, conviction of accused was set aside. 32 Cr. L. J. 421=52 C. L. J. 423=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 65.

Evidence.—Reference to inadmissible evidence vitiates the charge. 52 C. L. J. 423=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 65. Witness must be grouped with a view to direct the attention of the jury to the evidence regarding each of the facts sought to be proved. 34 C. W. N. 390=A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 481=A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 895=127 Ind. Cas. 767. Ridiculing defence evidence at outset by the Judge is bad. 25 Cr. L. J. 701=A. I. R. 1925 Sind. 116=81 Ind. Cas. 249. Judge should not suggest that a particular evidence is of no importance. 28 C. W. N. 947=40 C. L. J. 135=25 Cr. L. J. 1217=82 Ind. Cas. 145. Failure to warn against inadmissible evidence passed by the jury or failure to refer to an important evidence vitiates the conviction. 3 P. L. T. 101=A. I. R. 1923 Pat. 103=65 Ind. Where important witnesses were not examined, jury should be directed to draw the necessary presumption. 34 C. W. N. 390=A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 481=127 Ind. Cas. 767. Judge need not refer to entire evidence in detail. It is enough if he emphasizes all important and essential features. A. I. R. 1935 All. 103. Even if witness is discredited on one point jury can give credit to him on another. 35 C. W. N. 731=53 C. L. J. 427=32 Cr. L. J. 768=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 401 (F. B.). So where witness is dealt with under s. 154, Evidence Act and cross-examined as to credit, it is not proper direction to jury that they are bound in law to place no reliance on his evidence. Ibid. Charge to jury must be intelligible and give direction in the matter of weighing and sifting evidence. 35 C. W. N. 404=33 Cr. L. J. 486; see also 53 C. L. J. 351=32 Cr. L. J. 1138; 32 Cr. L. J. 190=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 178 (F. B.). Where Judge admits confession of accused caused by inducement, threat or promise, he must point out to jury that admissibility of evidence does not mean that it is true and that it is for jury to accept or reject it. A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 187=34 Cr. L. J. 369. Where prosecution does not call important witnesses who are alive it is the duty of Judge in charging jury to caution them that it was duty of prosecution and they may draw adverse inference. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 481=34 Cr. L. J. 828=1923 Cr. 1010. Question of admissibility can be raised only when the particular evidence is sought to be proved. 50 C. L. J. 106=33 C. W. N. 1121=20 Cr. L. J. 993=A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 17=119 Ind. Cas. 193. In a case dependent upon circumstantial evidence the incriminating fact must be incompatible with the innocence of the accused and incapable of explanation upon any reasonable hypothesis than that of his guilt. A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 370=127 Ind. Cas. 657. Omission to examine witnesses mentioned in the first information should be brought to the notice of jury, but failure to so inform is not necessarily fatal. 27 Cr. L. J. 398=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 728=93 Ind. Cas. 46. Credibility of a witness is a matter for the jury in spite of a suggested contrary inference. 32 C. W. N. 616=29 Cr. L. J. 497=A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 500=109 Ind. Cas. 225. Jury should be told that police diaries are not legal evidence. 8 Pat. 279=30 Cr. L. J. 858=A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 268. Court must put before the jury the earliest version of a witness. 53 C. 372=42 C. L. J. 504=27 Cr. L. J. 266=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 139=92 Ind. Cas. 442. Corroboration need not be on all points. 52 C. 595=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 872. Conviction on uncorroborated testimony of an approver is sustainable only when the judge had clearly explained to the jury the risk underlying such a course. 5 O. W. N. 33=29 Cr. L. J. 311=A. I. R. 1928 Oudh. 207=107 Ind. Cas. 876. Jury should be asked to ignore improper questions if and when admitted or at the time of charge by the Judge. 28 Bom. L. R. 281=27 Cr. L. J. 481=A. I. Duty of jury.—In a case of false document made by affirming thumb impression it was held to be the duty of the jury and not of the judge to say whether or not there was fraudulent intent. 22 C. W. N. 572=19 Cr. L. J. 649=45 Ind. Cas. 841. Jury are not bound by the fact that the first information report has been judicially found to be false. 7 Pat. 153=10 P. L. T. 297=30 Cr. L. J. 273=A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 34=114 Ind. Cas. 220.

Misdirection.—Omission to place matters which ought to have been placed before the jury amounts to misdirection. 34 C. W. N. 954=A. I. R. 1931. Cal. 10=128. Ind. Cr. 807. Omission to state principles of appreciation of circumstantial evidence amounts to misdirection. 52 C. L. J. 417=35 C. W. N. 169=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 11. Good and bad points of both sides are to be stated. Special pleading for the prosecution is grave misdirection. 1929 M. W. N. 946. Reference to evidence not let in the Sessions Court is prejudicial to the accused. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 706=57 C. 940-128 Ind. Cas. 801. Where the judge's direction as to probabilities in favour of the prosecution too strongly before the jury and upon a mere assumption of facts which the jury are not asked to find for themselves there is misdirection which vitiates the trial. 26 Cr. L. J. 567=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 439=85 Ind. Cas. 711. The omission to direct the jury upon an important point which may serve to help the defence of the accused amounts to misdirection. 44 C. L. J. 233=28 Cr. L. J. 19=99 Ind. Cas. 51. Application of a wrong provision of law was held to be a misdirection. 27 Cr. L. J. 1368=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 243=98 Ind. Cas. 488. It is a misdirection to put before the jury matters which are not on the record and matters prejudicial, at all events on a certain view to the accused. 31 C. W. N. 171=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 200=99 Ind. Cas. 937. Where a Judge while charging the jury dealt with a certain statement as a confession, while in reality it was not it was held to be a serious misdirection. 29 Cr. L. J. 527=32 C. W. N. 731=47 C. L. J. 526=A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 416=109 Ind. Cas. 351. Telling the jury that there is no evidence where opportunity to produce evidence is not given is misdirection. 30 C. W. N. 190=27 Cr. L. J. 125=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 584=91 Ind. Cas. 701. A misdirection regarding one of the charges against the accused may have a bearing on the other charge as well. 1930 Cr. C. 1108=A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 708=129 Ind. Cas. 99. Advising jury to convict on uncorroborated evidence or to form their own opinion or to omit to warn suitably or to tell wrongly that corroboration is received is misdirection. 13 P. L. T. 802=34 Cr. L. J. 421=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 96. Giving opinion and warning jury about evidence is not misdirection. 13 P. L. T. 802=34 Cr. L. J. 426=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 96. Where Judge does not point out to jury that theft becomes robbery only when violence is used for committing theft this is misdirection. 54 M. 588=32 Cr. L. J. 1212=134 Ind. Cas. 801=A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 427. Where judge fails to bring to the notice of the jury certain vital facts, it is a clear misdirection. A. I. R. 1932 Oudh. 23=7 Luck. 390=33 Cr. L. J. 167=135 Ind. Cas. 392=8 O. W. N. 1215. There is no misdirection where the Judge tells to the jury that they are not bound by judgment passed in civil litigation between the parties. A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 293=59 C. 136=1932 Cr. C. 262. So also there is no misdirection where the Court warns the jury to be careful in accepting evidence of hostile prosecution witnesses and asks them to decide whether it is safe to accept it. A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 293=33 Cr. L. J. 441=59 C. 136. But there is misdirection where Court warns jury against rejecting testimony on legal presumptions in favour of veracity. 59 C. 1361=33 Cr. L. J. 854=55 C. L. J. 439=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 474. "Will" means will of girl and not of guardian. Where Judge directs the jury that marriage against guardian's consent is marriage against girl's will, it is misdirection and conviction cannot be sustained. 36 C. W. N. 49=33 Cr. L. J. 512=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 442. In a charge of rape where there is no plea of consent, direction that age or consent of girl need not be considered is misdirection. 37 C. W. N. 484=145 Ind. Cas. 923=A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 606. Suggestion by Judge of fact of common occurrence without evidence of it on record is not misdirection if not prejudicial to accused. 59 C. 1123=36 C. W. N. 377=55 C. L. J. 132=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 536. Where in a charge under s. 477 I. P. Code essential fact have not been properly marshalled the charge is misdirection vitiating trial. 35 C. W. N. 425=32 Cr. L. J. 836=58 C. 1051=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 184 (F. B.). In an offence under s. 366, direction to jury that the fact of previous intimacy of accused with girl is wholly immaterial is misdirection. A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 718=1933 Cr. C. 1268. In case of intermeddling with estates of deceased, charge to jury under s. 406, Penal Code on doctrine of entrustment, amounts to misdirection vitiating trial. 35 C. W. N. 425=32 Cr. L. J. 836=58 C. 1051. Direction that because witness is declared hostile his evidence may not be considered is misdirection. 36 C. W. N. 356=33 Cr. L. J. 649=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 523. Where statements made to police is brought on record by defence and the Judge refers to them in charge with caution not to take them as substantive evidence, there is no misdirection. 35 C. W. N. 164=32 Cr. L. J. 1245=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 622.

Wrong explanation as to presumptions under s. 114, Evidence Act, amounts to misdirection vitiating trial. 35 C. W. N. 291=33 Cr. L. J. 40=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 617.

Where the charge is under s. 373. I. P. Code and Judge pointing out unsatisfactory nature of prosecution evidence on question of age of girl tells jury to appeal to their experience and apply that experience to impression formed on seeing the girl and gives no caution that such impression is not sure guide, there is material misdirection. 35 C. W. N. 316=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 417=33 Cr. L. J. 553. Where impressions about witnesses were not recorded but stated to the jury it is not misdirection. 26 Cr. L. J. 572=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 580=85 Ind. Cas. 716. A direction to the jury that the presence of a reasonable presumption of the property being stolen property is enough to raise the presumption of guilt, is misdirection. 52 C. 223=26 Cr. L. J. 1155=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 666=88 Ind. Cas. 515. In case of major and minor offences, direction for minor offence is not misdirection. 53 C. 599=44 C. L. J. 239=27 Cr. L. J. 1314=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 1059=98 Ind. Cas. 386. Suggestion of an alternative case to be taken or not by the jury is not a misdirection. 6 Pat. 572=29 Cr. L. J. 626=A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 139=109 Ind. Cas. 898. Where the Judge directs the jury that there is a presumption of law that the witness who has spoken untruth must be believed in so far as he deposed to facts spoken to by other witnesses is a misdirection. 30 Cr. L. J. 120=A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 551=113 Ind. Cas. 280. Where the Judge has not put it to the jury that when a case is based on circumstantial evidence the circumstances should be such that there can be no reasonable possibility of the innocence of the accused, it is a misdirection vitiating the trial. 30 Cr. L. J. 125=A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 551. Where in a charge of dacoity, presumption as to possession of stolen property was stated by the Judge, it was held to be a serious misdirection. 42 C. L. J. 212=26 Cr. L. J. 1582=53 C. 157=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1241=90 Ind. Cas. 542. In case of retreated confession of co-accused, suggestion that it is of some use as against co-accused individually was held to be misdirection. 42 C. L. J. 496=26 Cr. L. J. 1146=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 374=88 Ind. Cas. 458. Miscarriage of justice through misdirection means that there must be a reasonable ground for apprehending that the misdirection may have affected the jury's verdict. 30 Cr. L. J. 1146=1930 A. L. J. 486=A. I. R. 1930 All. 28=120 Ind. Cas. 114. Where in a case not depending on expert evidence the rule as to expert evidence was stated by the Judge but its relation to the facts of the case was not stated, it was held to be misdirection. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 370=127 Ind. Cas. 657. Heads of charges should indicate far more fully than mere enumeration of the numbers of the sections. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 712=129 Ind. Cas. 109. Direction not to believe guilt or otherwise of accused alleged to be absent from scene of offence by approver is not misdirection. A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 513=128 Ind. Cas. 121. Where question of title is important in the case, direction to ignore that question is misdirection. 26 Cr. L. J. 946=13 C. L. J. 245=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1235=87 Ind. Cas. 98. Admission of a search list which was a statement within the meaning of s. 162 Cr. P. Code and hence inadmissible was held to be a misdirection. 31 Cr. L. J. 127=A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 448; 35 C. W. N. 317=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 189. It is essential that the jury should be directed that theft only becomes robbery when it is shown that in the course of committing theft and for the purpose of committing theft violence is used. The omission to mention this essential point amounts to misdirection which vitiates the trial. 33 M. L. W. 414=A. I. R. 1931 Mad. 427. Where in a prosecution of offence under s. 373, I. P. Code the Judge told the jury that they might appeal to their own experience and apply that experience to the impression that they had formed on seeing the girl for three days and the Judge however omitted to say that such an impression would never be a sound guide, held that there was a material misdirection vitiating the trial. 35 C. W. N. 316. Where the Judge gave the following explanation of s. 304 I. P. Code to the jury, the first part relates to death which is caused without any intention of causing death or causing such bodily injury as is likely to cause death. The second part relates to death which is caused without any intention to cause death or to cause bodily injury as is likely to cause death, but with the knowledge that such injury may lead to death. Held, the mistake was so palpable that it was good ground for ordering retrial. 35 C. W. N. 456=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 345=130 Ind. Cas. 884. Where plea of private right of defence could have been put forward as disclosed from cross-examination of prosecution witnesses but not put forward, charge of jury expressly calling upon jury not to consider plea of private right of defence amounts to misdirection. 51 C. L. J. 339=A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 442=127 Ind. Cas. 263. Failure to state defence case, and failure to draw the attention of jury to the conduct of complaint and accused held to have vitiated the trial. 34 C. W. N. 954=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 10. Judge's reference, in the opening passage of his charge to the punishment provided for the offence of murder, and the consequent need for careful consideration is not itself a misdirection. 25 C. W.

N. 288=22 Cr. L. J. 562=62 Ind. Cas. 578. When the accused fail to prove an alibi if a Judge directs the jury that a presumption of their complicity in the crime arises from it, it is grave misdirection. 25 C. W. N. 682=A. I. R. 1921 Cal. 252=66 Ind. Cas. 180. Explanation as to common intention and act of one in furtherance of it making all equally liable is not misdirection. 28 C. W. N. 170=38 C. L. J. 411=25 Cr. L. J. 817=81 Ind. Cas. 353 (F. B.). The High Court, in case of misdirection vitiating the verdict can direct re-trial or enter into the merits and dispose of the case. 25 Cr. L. J. 761=A. I. R. 1925 Sind. 116=81 Ind. Cas. 249. For the purpose of proper and intelligent summing up it is necessary that the Judge appreciate the evidence properly. The prosecution and defence under s. 297 does not mean that a Judge should give merely a summary of the evidence. He must marshal the evidence so as to bring out the lights and the shades, the probabilities and improbabilities so as to give proper assistance to the jury who are required to decide which view of the facts is true. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 847. Where Sessions Judge gives emphasis to his personal opinion, but warns jury that they are not bound by it, there is no misdirection. A. I. R. 1934 Oudh. 122. In case of double rape in broad day light and the fact that the husband and brothers of the prosecution were only 70 yard away from the place of occurrence and she called for help must be brought to the notice of jury and omission to do so amounts to misdirection. A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 94=35 Cr. L. J. 957=30 N. L. R. 262. Where all main points are placed before the jury the mere omission to place two minor details does not amount to such a misdirection as to vitiate trial. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 142. Where Judge gives dogmatic and unqualified opinion on question of facts of cardinal importance it amounts to misdirection. A. I. R. 1934 All. 326. Where the Judge has entirely misconceived legal position with regard to a certain point and gives direction to the jury on that assumption, his charge amounts to misdirection vitiating the trial. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 610=38 C. W. N. 854=35 Cr. L. J. 1367=59 C. L. J. 482. There was no direct evidence that the accused committed the house-breaking and theft. Yet the charge against them was framed solely under s. 457 and 380 I. P. Code with no alternative charge under s. 411. In his charge to the jury the Judge did not mention s. 411, nor inform the jury that it was open to them either to find on the facts that the accused committed the house-breaking and theft or that they were guilty under s. 411 I. P. Code, or tell them that they might convict them in the alternative. He left them no choice between a conviction under s. 457 and 380 I. P. Code, and an acquittal. Held, that the offence under s. 411 being punishable with a lesser sentence than offences under the two former sections, this was an omission which prejudiced the accused. A. I. R. 1934 Mad. 721=67 M. L. J. 693=40 L. W. 872. In considering whether there was a misdirection or not, expression of opinion must be taken as a whole. 59 C. L. J. 396=A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 257=35 Cr. L. J. 1487. Where the Judge in his charge to the jury left the question of voluntariness of the confession to them and acts in contravention of s. 152 Cr. Pro. Code, his charge is bad for misdirection. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 717=152 Ind. Cas. 681. Where a statement made a person who has not been examined as a witness has been treated as evidence in the case for the prosecution and the Judge places before the jury with the warning that they are entitled to draw the presumption that if such person were examined in deposition would be against the prosecution there is no misdirection. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 557=38 C. W. N. 446=1934 Cr. C. 789. Where test identification is defective, the Judge should point it out to the jury. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 537=15 P. L. T. 803=152 Ind. Cas. 126.

Non-direction.—Omission to direct jury as to burden of proof on prosecution vitiates verdict. A. I. R. 1933 P. C. 218 (P. C.)=1933 A. L. J. 1025=34 Cr. L. J. 886=38 M. L. W. 635=145 Ind. Cas. 209. Where in a trial of two persons under s. 368 and 368-109 I. P. Code, there is no direction to jury to contradictory statements of girl seduced and cases of both not dealt with separately, conviction should be set aside. A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 718=1933 Cr. C. 1268. Where circumstances under which conviction can be based on retracted confession of co-accused are not given, omission amounts to non-direction. 36 C. W. N. 874=34 Cr. L. J. 23=A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 6. Where evidence against all the accused is not the same, evidence against each should be dealt with separately. 37 C. W. N. 68=1933 Cr. C. 25=34 Cr. L. J. 622=A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 5. Where there is doubt whether jury really directed their minds to the question whether the accused carried deadly weapon in committing crime, conviction under Penal Code s. 397, should be set aside. A. I. R. 1931 Pat. 49=32 Cr. L. J. 476=130 Ind. Cas. 267. Mere non-direction is not necessarily misdirection to the jury. 2 P. L. W. 348=1 P. L. J. 317=17 Cr. L. J. 353=35 Ind. Cas.

657 ; 28 C. W. N. 170=35 C. L. J. 411=25 Cr. L. J. 817=81 Ind. Cas. 353. Those who allege misdirection must show that something wrong was said or that something was said which would make wrong that which was left to be understood. Non-direction when it consists in omission to put the material facts and to put the defence to the jury is sufficient to cause the Court to quash the conviction if the verdict of the jury was affected thereby. 28 C. W. N. 170=35 C. L. J. 411=25 Cr. L. J. 817=81 Ind. Cas. 353 ; see also 44 C. 477=21 C. W. N. 33. Failure to address to every one of the suggestions of the defence is not non-direction. 9 Pat. 606=A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 513=128 Ind. Cas. 121. Where in case of fracture of the bones due to lathi blows the Judge explained to the jury the circumstances which would bring the case under s. 325 I. P. Code and also explained the ingredients of the offence under s. 34 I. P. Code, held that there was no non-direction or misdirection so as to vitiate the conviction. 52 C. L. J. 425. Where the charge to the jury contained no caution as regards weight and the efficacy to be given to a dying declaration, held that the verdict of the jury and sentence must be set aside. 34 C. W. N. 792=A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 754=129 Ind. Cas. 364. In case of non-direction of material evidence by the prosecution, the omission to direct the jury as to the inference they were entitled to draw if they were not satisfied with the explanation suggested for the absence of material witness is a non-direction. 34 C. W. N. 1151=125 Ind. Cas. 99. Exclusion of question as to accused's infancy and immaturity of understanding from charge is non-direction amounting to misdirection. 26 Cr. L. J. 310=28 O. C. 69=A. I. R. 1925 Oude. 311=85 Ind. Cas. 454. If a defence is substantially put to the jury, a mere omission to refer to this or that circumstance or suggestion is not non-direction which amounts to misdirection. 28 C. W. N. 170=25 Cr. L. Duty of Judge. the Judge—

- (a) to decide all questions of law arising in the course of the trial, and especially all questions as to the relevancy of facts which it is proposed to prove, and the admissibility of evidence or the propriety of questions asked by or on behalf of the parties; and, in his discretion, to prevent the production of inadmissible evidence, whether it is or is not objected to by the parties;
 - (b) to decide upon the meaning and construction of all documents given in evidence at the trial;
 - (c) to decide upon all matters of facts which it may be necessary to prove in order to enable evidence of particular matters to be given;
 - (d) to decide whether any question which arises is for himself or for the jury, and upon this point his decision shall bind the jurors.
- (2) The Judge may, if he thinks proper, in the course of his summing up, express to the jury his opinion upon any question of fact, or upon any question of mixed law and fact, relevant to the proceeding.

Illustrations.

(a) It is proposed to prove a statement made by a person not being a witness in the case, on the ground that circumstances are proved which render evidence of such statement admissible.

It is for the Judge, and not for the jury, to decide whether the existence of those circumstances has been proved.

(b) It is proposed to give secondary evidence of a document the original of which is alleged to have been lost or destroyed.

It is the duty of the Judge to decide whether the original has been lost or destroyed.

Notes.—It is the duty of the Judge under this section to see that evidence which is not admissible in itself should not be allowed to go in to the prejudice of the accused, though no objection is taken thereto by the accused. 26 C. 736=2 C. Duty of jury.

299. It is the duty of the jury—

- (a) to decide which view of the facts is true and then to return the verdict which under such view ought, according to the direction of the Judge, to be returned;
- (b) to determine the meaning of all technical terms (other than terms of law) and words used in an unusual sense which it may be necessary to determine, whether such words occur in documents or not;
- (c) to decide all questions which according to law are to be deemed questions of fact;
- (d) to decide whether general indefinite expressions do or do not apply to particular cases, unless such expressions refer to legal procedure or unless their meaning is ascertained by law, in either of which cases it is the duty of the Judge to decide their meaning.

- (a) A is tried for the murder of B.

It is the duty of the Judge to explain to the jury the distinction between murder and culpable homicide and to tell them under what views of the facts A ought to be convicted of murder, or of culpable homicide, or to be acquitted.

It is the duty of the jury to decide which view of the facts is true and to return a verdict in accordance with the direction of the Judge, whether that direction is right or wrong, and whether they do or do not agree with it.

- (b) The question is whether a person entertained a reasonable belief on a particular point—whether work was done with reasonable skill or due diligence.

Each of these is a question for the jury.

307. (1) If in any such case the Judge disagrees with the verdict of the jurors, or of a majority of the jurors, on all or any of the charges on which * [any accused person] has been tried, and is clearly of opinion that it is necessary for the ends of justice to submit the case † [in respect of such accused person] to the High Court, he shall submit the case accordingly, recording the grounds of his opinion, and, when the verdict is one of acquittal, stating the offence which he considers to have been committed, ‡ [and in such case, if the accused is further charged under the provisions of section 310, shall proceed to try him on such charge as if such verdict had been one of conviction]

(2) Whenever the Judge submits a case under this section, he shall not record judgment of acquittal or of conviction on any of the charges on which § [such accused] has been tried, but he may either remand § [such accused] to custody or admit him to bail.

(3) In dealing with the case so submitted the High Court may exercise any of the powers which it may exercise on an appeal, and subject thereto it shall after considering the entire evidence and after giving due weight to the opinions of the Sessions Judge and the jury, acquit or convict § [such accused] of any offence of which the jury could have convicted him upon the charge framed and placed before it; and, if it convicts him, may pass such sentence as might have been passed by the Court of Session.

Scope.—In a case where the Sessions Judge thinks that the verdict of the jury is contrary to the weight of evidence, it is the duty of the Sessions Judge, in a reference to the High Court under this section to set out on what portions of the evidence or what facts disclosed by the evidence the accused should have been convicted. 7 C. * [310. In the case of a trial by a jury or with the aid of assessors, when the accused is charged with an offence and further charged that he is by reason of a previous conviction liable to enhanced punishment or to punishment of a different kind for such subsequent offence, the procedure prescribed by the foregoing provisions of this Chapter shall be modified as follows, namely :—

- (a) Such further charge shall not be read out in Court and the accused shall not be asked to plead thereto, nor shall the same be referred to by the prosecution, or any evidence adduced thereon unless and until,
 - (i) he has been convicted of the subsequent offence, or
 - (ii) the jury have delivered their verdict, or the opinions of the assessors have been recorded, on the charge of the subsequent offence.
- (b) In the case of a trial held with the aid of assessors, the Court may, in its discretion, proceed or refrain from proceeding with the trial of the accused on the charge of the previous conviction.]

Provided that no definite number of Europeans or of Americans or of Indians shall be so prescribed.]

313. (1) The Clerk of the Crown shall, before the first day of April in each year, and subject to such rules as the High Court from time to time prescribes, prepare—

(a) a list of all persons liable to serve as common jurors; or

(b) a list of persons liable to serve as special jurors only.

(2) Regard shall be had, in the preparation of the latter list, to the property, character and education of the persons whose names are entered therein.

(3) No person shall be entitled to have his name entered in the special jurors' list merely because he may have been entered in the special jurors' list for a previous year.

(4) The Governor-General in Council* [or the Local Government] in the case of the High Court at Fort William in Bengal, and in the case of other High Courts the Local Government, may exempt any salaried officer of Government from serving as a juror.

(5) The Clerk of the Crown shall, subject to such rules as aforesaid, have full discretion to prepare the said list as seems to him to be proper, and there shall be no appeal from, or review of, his decision.

314. (1) Preliminary lists of persons liable to serve as common jurors and as special jurors respectively, signed by the Clerk of the Crown shall be published once in the local official Gazette before the fifteenth day of April next after their preparation.

(2) Revised lists of persons liable to serve as common jurors, and special jurors, respectively, signed, as aforesaid, shall be published once in the local official Gazette before the first day of May next after their preparation.

(3) Copies of the said lists shall be affixed to some conspicuous part of the Court house.

315. (1) Out of the persons named in the revised lists aforesaid, there shall be summoned for each session + [in the town which is the usual place of sitting of each High Court], ‡ [as many of those who are liable to serve on special or common juries respectively as the Clerk of the Crown considers necessary.]

(2) No person shall be so summoned more than once in six months unless the number cannot be made up without him.

(3) If, during the continuance of any sessions, it appears that the number of persons so summoned is not sufficient, such Supplementary summons. number as may be necessary of other persons liable to serve as aforesaid shall be summoned for such sessions.

317. (1) In addition to the persons so summoned as jurors, the said Court of Session shall, if it thinks needful, after communication with the Commanding Officer cause to be summoned such number of commissioned and non-commissioned officers in Her Majesty's Army "or Air force" resident within ten miles of its place of sitting as the Court considers to be necessary to make up the juries required for the trial of persons charged with offences before the High Court as aforesaid.

(2) All officers so summoned shall be liable to serve on such juries notwithstanding anything contained in this Code; but no such officer shall be summoned whom his Commanding Officer desires to have excused on the ground of urgent "official" duty, or for any other special official † reason.

318. Any person summoned under section 315, section 316 or section 317, who, without lawful excuse, fails to attend as required by the summons, or who, having attended, departs without having obtained the permission of the Judge, or fails to attend after an adjournment of the Court after being ordered to attend, shall be deemed guilty of a contempt and be liable, by order of the Judge, to such fine as he thinks fit; and, in default of payment of such fine, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months in the civil jail until the fine is paid:

Provided that the Court may in its discretion remit any fine or imprisonment so imposed.

K.—List of Jurors and Assessors for Court of Session, and summoning Jurors and Assessors for that Court.

319. All male persons between the ages of twenty-one and sixty shall, except as next hereinafter mentioned, be liable to serve as jurors or assessors at any trial held within the district in which they reside, or, if the Local Government, on consideration of local circumstances, has fixed any smaller area in this behalf, within the area so fixed.

Notes—Residence is the factor governing liability to serve as jurors. Prolonged absence of assessors from district exempts him from being assessor under s. 319. A. I. R. 1931 Pat. 160=131 Ind. Cas. 540=12 P. L. T. 209.

Exemptions.

320. The following persons are exempt from liability to serve as jurors or assessors, namely :—

- (a) officer in civil employ superior in rank to a District Magistrate ;
- “(aa) members of either chamber of the Indian Legislature and members of a Legislative Council constituted under the Government of India Act”†
- (b) salaried Judges ;
- (c) Commissioners and Collectors of Revenue or Customs ;
- (d) police-officers and persons engaged in the preventive service in the Customs Department ;
- (e) persons engaged in the collection of the revenue whom the Collector thinks fit to exempt on the ground of official duty ;
- (f) persons actually officiating as priests or ministers of their respective religions ;

* Added by Act X of 1927.

† Substituted by Act X of 1927.

‡ Added by Act 23 of 1925.

- (g) persons in Her Majesty's Army "Navy"* "or Air Force",† except when, by any law in force for the time being, they are specially made liable to serve as jurors or assessors ;
- (h) surgeons and others who openly and constantly practise the medical profession ;
- (i) legal practitioners, (as defined by the Legal Practitioners Act 1879)‡ in actual practice ;
- (j) persons employed in the Post-Office and Telegraph Department ;
- (k) persons exempted from personal appearance in Court under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, sections 640 and 641 ;§
- (l) other persons exempted by the Local Government from liability to serve as Jurors or assessors.

321. (1) The Sessions Judge, and the Collector of the the District or such other officer as the Local Government appoints in this behalf, shall prepare and make out in alphabetical order a list of persons liable to serve as jurors or assessors and qualified in the judgment of the Sessions Judge the Collector or other officer as aforesaid to serve as such, and not likely to be successfully objected to under section 278, clauses (b) to (h) both inclusive.

(2) The list shall contain the name, place of abode and quality or business of every such person ; and, if the person is an European or an American the list shall mention the race to which he belongs.

Notes.—As regards who should be chosen as jurors and assessors, vide 1897, A. W. N. 167 ; 23 W. R. 35 ; Ratanlal 304.

322. Copies of such list shall be stuck up in the office of the Collector or other officer as aforesaid, and in the court-houses of the District Magistrate and of the District Court, and extracts therefrom in some conspicuous place in the town or towns in or near which the persons named in the extract reside.

323. To every such copy or extract shall be subjoined a notice stating that the objections to the list will be heard and determined by the Sessions Judge and Collector or other officer as aforesaid, at the Sessions court-house, and at a time to be mentioned in the notice.

324. (1) For the hearing of such objections the Sessions Judge shall sit with the Collector or other officer as aforesaid, and shall, at the time and place mentioned in the notice revise the list and hear the objections (if any) of persons interested in the amendment thereof, and shall strike out the name of any person not suitable in their judgment to serve as a juror, or as an assessor, or who may establish his right to any exemption from service given by section 320 and insert the name of any person omitted from the list whom they deem qualified for such service.

(2) In the event of a difference of opinion between the Sessions Judge and the Collector or other officer as aforesaid, the name of the proposed juror or assessor shall be omitted from the list.

(3) A copy of the revised list shall be signed by the Sessions Judge and Collector or other officer as aforesaid and sent to the Court of Session.

(4) Any order of the Sessions Judge and Collector or other officer as aforesaid in preparing and revising the list shall be final.

† Inserted by Act X of 1927.

‡ XVIII of 1879.

§ See now the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (V of 1908).

(5) Any exemption not claimed under this section shall be deemed to be waived until the list is next revised.

Annual revision of list.

(6) The list so prepared and revised shall be again revised once in every year.

(7) The list so revised shall be deemed a new list and shall be subject to all the rules hereinbefore contained as to the list originally prepared.

Notes—Where names cancelled from list of jurors are restored, the order is not judicial one. A. I. R. 1934 Cal. 487=38 C. W. N. 363.

325. In the case of any district for which the Local Government has declared that the trial of certain offences shall, if the Judge so direct, be by special jury, the Sessions Judge and the Collector of such district or other officer as aforesaid shall prepare, in addition to the revised list hereinbefore prescribed, a special list containing the names of such jurors as are borne on the revised list and are, in the opinion of such Sessions Judge and Collector or other officer as aforesaid, by reason of their possessing superior qualifications in respect of property, character or education, fit persons to serve as special jurors: Provided always that the inclusion of the name of any person in such special list shall not involve the removal of his name from the revised list nor relieve him of his liability to serve as an ordinary juror in cases not tried by special jury.

326. (1) The Sessions Judge shall ordinarily, seven days at least before the day which he may from time to time fix for holding the sessions, send a letter to the District Magistrate requesting him to summon as many persons named in the said revised list* or the said special list as seem to the Sessions Judge to be needed for trials by jury and trials with the aid of assessors at the said sessions, the number to be summoned not being less than double the number required for any such trial †[and including, where any accused person is an European or an American, as many Europeans or Americans as may be required for the purpose of choosing jurors or assessors for the trial.]

(2) The names of the persons to be summoned shall be drawn by lot in open Court, excluding those who have served within six months, unless the number cannot be made up without them; and the names so drawn shall be specified in the said letter.

‡[(3) Where the accused requires and is entitled to be tried under the provisions of section 275, there shall be chosen by lot, in the manner prescribed by or under section 276, from the whole number of persons returned the jurors who are to constitute the jury until a jury containing the proper number of Europeans or Europeans and Americans or of Indians, as the case may be, has been obtained:]

Provided that, in any case in which the proper number of Europeans or Americans cannot otherwise be obtained, the Court may, in its discretion for the purpose of constituting the jury, summon any person excluded from the list on the ground of his being exempted under section 320.]

‡[(4) Where, under the proviso to sub-section (3), the Court proposes to summon as a juror any person in His Majesty's Army, the provisions of section 317 shall apply in like manner as they apply for the purpose of the summoning of military jurors for a trial under section 316.]

327. The Court of Session may direct jurors or assessors to be summoned at other periods than the period specified in section 326, when the number of trials before the Court renders the attendance of one set of jurors or assessors for a whole session oppressive or whenever for other reasons such direction is found to be necessary.

328. Every summons* to a juror or assessor shall be in writing and shall require his attendance as a juror or assessor, as the case may be, at a time and place to be therein specified.

329. When any person summoned to serve as a juror or assessor is in the service of Government or of a Railway Company, the Court to serve in which he is so summoned may excuse his attendance if it appears on the representation of the head of the office in which he is employed that he cannot serve as a juror or assessor, as the case may be without inconvenience to the public.

330. (1) The Court of Session may for reasonable cause excuse any juror or assessor from attendance at any particular session.

(2) The Court of Session may, if it shall think fit, at the conclusion of any trial by special jury direct that the jurors who have served on such jury shall not be summoned to serve again as jurors for a period of twelve months.

331. (1) At each session the said Court shall cause to be made a list of the names of those who have attended as jurors and as assessors at such session.

(2) Such list shall be kept with the list of the jurors and assessors as revised under section 324.

(3) A reference shall be made in the margin of the said revised list to each of the names which are mentioned in the list prepared under this section.

332. (1) Any person summoned to attend as a juror or as an assessor who, without lawful excuse, fails to attend as required by the summons, or who, having attended, departs without having obtained the permission of the Court, or fails to attend after an adjournment of the Court, after being ordered to attend, shall be liable by order of the Court of Session to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees.

(2) Such fine shall be levied by the District Magistrate by attachment and sale of any movable property belonging to such juror or assessor within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court making the order.

(3) For good cause shown, the Court may remit or reduce any fine so imposed.

(4) In default of recovery of the fine by attachment and sale, such juror or assessor may by order of the Court of Session, be imprisoned in the civil jail for the term of fifteen days, unless such fine is paid before the end of the said term.

333. At any stage of any trial before a High Court under this Code, before the return of verdict, the Advocate-General may, if he thinks fit, inform the Court on behalf of Her Majesty that he will not further prosecute the defendant upon the charge ; and thereupon all proceedings on such charge against the defendant shall be stayed, and he shall be discharged of and from the same. But such discharge shall not amount to an acquittal unless the presiding Judge otherwise directs.

Notes.—As regards the powers of Advocate-General under this section, Vide, 2 C. W. N. 481 ; 7 C. W. N. 31 (Notes) ; 8 C. W. N. 41 (Notes) ; 41 C. 1072. 334. For the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction, every High Court shall hold sittings on such days and at such convenient intervals as the Chief Justice of such Court Time of holding sittings. from time to time appoints.

335. (1) The High Court shall hold its sittings at the place at which it now holds them, or (at such other place if any) as the Governor-General in Council in the case of the High Court at Fort William, or the Local Government in the case of the other High Courts, may direct.

(2) But it may, from time to time, in the case of the High Court at Fort William with the consent of the Governor-General in Council, and in all other cases with the consent of the Local Government, hold sittings at such other places within the local limits of its appellate jurisdiction as the High Court appoints.

(3) Such officer as the Chief Justice directs shall give notice beforehand in the local official Gazette of all sittings intended to be held for the exercise of the original criminal jurisdiction of the High Court.

GENERAL PROVISIONS AS TO INQUIRIES AND TRIALS.

337. * [(1) In the case of any offence triable exclusively by the High Court or Court of Session, or any offence punishable with imprisonment which may extend to ten years, or any offence punishable under section 211 of the Indian Penal Code with imprisonment which may extend to seven years, or any offence under any of the following sections of the Indian Penal Code, † namely sections 216A, 369, 401, 435 and 477A, the District Magistrate, a Presidency Magistrate, a Sub-divisional Magistrate or any Magistrate of the first class may, at any stage of the investigation or inquiry into, or the trial of the offence, with a view to obtaining the evidence of any person supposed to have been directly or indirectly concerned in or privy to the offence, tender a pardon to such person on condition of his making full and true disclosure of the whole of the circumstances within his knowledge relative to the offence and to every other person concerned, whether as principal or abettor, in the commission thereof :

Provided that, where the offence is under inquiry or trial, no Magistrate of the first class other than the Magistrate shall exercise the power hereby conferred unless he is the Magistrate making the inquiry or holding the trial, and, where the offence is under investigation, no such Magistrate shall exercise the said power unless he is a Magistrate having jurisdiction in a place where the offence might be inquired into or tried and the sanction of the District Magistrate has been obtained to the exercise thereof.]

* [(1A) Every Magistrate who tenders a pardon under sub-section (1) shall record his reasons for so doing, and shall, on application made by the accused, furnish him with a copy of such record :

Provided that the accused shall pay for the same unless the Magistrate for some special reason thinks fit to furnish it free of cost.]

(2) Every person accepting a tender under this section shall be examined as a witness in ‡ [the Court of the Magistrate taking cognizance of the offence and in subsequent trial, if any.]

§ [(2A) In every case where a person has accepted a tender of pardon and has been examined under sub-section (2), the Magistrate before whom the proceedings are pending shall, if he is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the accused is guilty of an offence, commit him for trial to the Court of Session or High Court, as the case may be.

(3) Such person, ¶ [unless he is already on bail], shall be detained in custody until the termination of the trial. ¶ **

Scope.—All that this section requires is that there should be an investigation in progress regarding an offence triable exclusively by the High Court or Court of Session and which is an offence punishable with imprisonment which may extend to ten years. 88 Ind. Cas. 283=26 Cr. L. J. 1115=1925 Nag. 337. Court. The approver is an approver with regard to the whole case and not as regards some of the accused only. 26 Cr. L. J. 1045=87 Ind. Cas. 965. This section does not require that a trial or an enquiry should be in progress when the pardon is tendered. Thus a Magistrate can tender pardon after adjourning the case. 7 L. R. 197. This section does not deprive the Magistrate of the power of granting bail to an approver. The Court has got power to grant bail, but the power must be sparingly exercised. 101 Ind. Cas. 439=A. I. R. 1927 Sind. 173. This section which is a special section dealing with approvers controls the general section 498, and consequently no power is given here to grant bail to an approver. Ibid.

This section of the Criminal Procedure Code does not suggest the idea that the only method of obtaining the evidence of a co-accused against another is by tendering him a pardon with all the safeguards mentioned in the section. 56 C. 1023=33 C. Section 337 applies where there is a bona fide enquiry into what it is believed at the time, may prove to be an offence triable by the Court of Sessions. Sub-section 2 (A)—What this sub-section means is that whenever an approver is examined, the Magistrate has no jurisdiction to proceed with the trial but must commit the accused to the Sessions. It does not mean that the approver should be committed for trial along with the accused. 12 O. L. J. 542=2 O. W. N. 464=88 Ind. Cas. 736=26 Cr. L. J. 1216=A. I. R. 1925 Oudh. 472. A Magistrate specially empowered was trying a case, in which the prosecution evidence included the approver. After evidence was closed and before judgment was delivered, the amended Act came into force and under s. 337 (2A) as there was an approver in the case, it could be tried only by a Court of Sessions. Held, that under s. 347, the duty of the Magistrate was to commit the accused to the Sessions and not to proceed with the case. The illegality was not one curable under s. 537. 26 C. L. J. 549=85 Ind. Cas. 645=A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 378. Meaning of s. 337 (2A) is where pardon has been granted to one accused, the case against the other must be committed to Sessions. 6 O. W. N. 218=30 C. L. J. 567 ; A. I. R. 1931 Pesh. 3 ; A. I. R. 1929 Oudh. 190 ; A. I. R. 1933 Pesh. 3 ; but see A. I. R. 1932 All. 581=1932 A. L. J. 754=139 Ind. Cas. 408 ; 34 Cr. L. J. 1023=60 C. 652. Accused does not include approver. A. I. R. 1935 Bom. 70.

Sub-section (3)—Sub-section (3) contemplates only a case where there has been a commitment made by the Magistrate to the Court of Session or the High Court. It omits to consider the case where the Magistrate himself on his own responsibility discharges the accused person. The meaning of the sub-section is that the approvers shall not be set at large until the judicial proceedings pending against the accused are finished. 14 Bom. L. R. 897=13 Cr. L. J. 842=17 Ind. Cas. 714=37 B. 146. Custody referred to in s. 337 is custody in prison. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 353=12 Lah. 609=32 P. L. R. 423. 338. At any time after commitment, but before judgment is passed, the Court to which the commitment is made may, with the view of obtaining on the trial the evidence of any person supposed to have been directly or indirectly concerned in, or privy to, any such offence, tender, or order the committing Magistrate or the District Magistrate to tender, a pardon on the same condition to such person.

An accused was granted a pardon under s. 339 (1) and the Magistrate recorded on oath in a preliminary examination certain statements. In the committing Court he resiled from the statements. Held, the preliminary examination was not justified by law and on the basis of the same sanction for perjury should not be granted. The proper procedure would be to produce evidence against him under s. 329 (1). 3 Rang. 224=89 Ind. Cas. 708=26 Cr. L. J. 1396=A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 286. A valid pardon once given is not in any way affected by subsequent proceedings in the case. Even where the offence for which the accused are tried and convicted is not an offence triable exclusively by a Court of Session, the evidence of an approver is still admissible when the pardon given was in respect of an offence triable exclusively by a Court of Session. J. 210=76 Ind. Cas. 642. In case of damaging admissions in cross-examination but adherence to confession in examination-in-chief and re-examination, there is still compliance with the conditions of pardon. 13 O. L. J. 663=3 O. W. N. 474=27 Cr. L. J. 768=45 Ind. Cas. 288. Trial of approver must be de no vo after conclusion of the case. Accused is entitled to plead pardon. Court to find forfeiture of pardon before trial begins. 16 S. L. R. 131=23 Cr. L. J. 611=A. I. R. 1922 Sind. 31=68 Ind. Cas. 835. Joint trial of hostile approver with other accused and using his confession for convicting all is a substantial error of law. A. I. R. 1931 Oudh. 113=7 O. W. N. 972=32 Cr. L. J. 218=128 Ind. Cas. 209; see also A. I. R. 1934 Oudh. 257. Where statement is made by inducement of pardon but not under pressure, statement is admissible under s. 339 (2), A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 910=1933 Cr. C. 1297. But such statement being in the nature of confession, it requires corroboration by extrinsic evidence. 35 Cr. L. J. 1242=A. I. R. 1934 Pesh. 46; see also A. I. R. 1934 Oudh. 257=35 Cr. L. J. 889=11 O. W. N. 765. Where Magistrate after recording plea as to whether approver had complied with condition of tender of pardon, discussed the question whether he was guilty, held, there was no irregularity which would vitiate trial. 1933 Cr. C. 1297=A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 910.

Procedure in trial of person under section 339.

* [339A. (1) The Court trying under section 339 a person who has accepted a tender of pardon shall—

(a) if the Court is a High Court or Court of Session, before the charge is read out and explained to the accused under section 271, sub-section (1), and

(b) if the Court is the Court of a Magistrate, before the evidence of the witnesses for the prosecution is taken, ask the accused whether he pleads that he has complied with the conditions on which the tender of the pardon was made.

(2) If the accused does so plead, the Court shall record the plea and proceed with the trial, and the jury or the Court with the aid of the assessors, or the Magistrate, as the case may be, shall, before judgment is passed in the case, find whether or not the accused has complied with the conditions of the pardon, and, if it is found that he has so complied, the Court shall, notwithstanding anything contained in this Code, pass judgment of acquittal.]

Notes.—Where the accused was not asked in the manner provided in the section but was asked whether he had fulfilled the conditions on which a pardon has been granted and had given true evidence. Held, there was no proper compliance with the section. 5 Lah. 379.

Right of person against whom proceedings are instituted to be defended and his competency to be a witness.

*[340. (1) Any person accused of an offence before a Criminal Court, or against whom proceedings are instituted under this Code in any such Court, may of right be defended by a pleader.

(2) Any person against whom proceedings are instituted in any such Court under section 107 or under Chapter X, Chapter XI, Chapter XII or Chapter XXXVI, or under section 552, may offer himself as a witness in such proceedings.]

Notes—This section extends to the case not only of a person accused of an offence in a Criminal Court but to the case of any person against whom proceedings are instituted under the Code in any Court. 50B. 741. A suspect is as much if not more, entitled as a matter of right as any other person accused of a substantive offence to have a reasonable opportunity afforded to him of defending himself. 96 I. 391. 1925 All. 282=86 Ind. Cas. 458; see also 47 A. 147=26 Cr. L. J. 575=85 Ind. Cas. 719. A Magistrate may permit even a person not authorised to practise in his Court to appear for an accused before him. 18 Cr. L. J. 345=10 Bur. L. T. 117=38 Ind. Cas. 729.

341. If the accused, though not insane, cannot be made to understand the proceedings, the Court may proceed with the inquiry or trial; and, in the case of a Court other than a High Court, if such inquiry results in a commitment, or if such trial results in a conviction, the proceedings shall be forwarded to the High Court with a report of the circumstances of the case and the High Court shall pass thereon such order as it thinks fit.

Notes.—Where the jury find and the Sessions Judge agrees with the jury that the accused is able to follow the proceedings in Court and to understand the same, it is the duty of the Sessions Judge to convict the accused of the offence with which he is charged and to pass a sentence on him in accordance with law. He should not report to High Court that the accused was not capable of making defence in Court. 97 Ind. Cas. 361=27 Cr. L. J. 1907=7 L. R. 138 (Cr.) Where a deaf and dumb accused was found guilty of an attempt to commit suicide and at the trial made certain signs indicating his guilt, the High Court affirmed the conviction and sentenced the accused to a days' imprisonment. 25 Bom. J. 143=40 B. 598. This Section has no application where it is shown that the accused understood the proceedings. 3 Bom. L. R. 371. This section requires that the Court shall proceed to the end of the trial and then report the result to the High Court, if a conviction follows. It does not empower a Magistrate to make the report in the middle of trial. 4 Bom. L. R. 825; see also Rat. Un. Cr. C. 836; 2 Weir. 493. In submitting a case to the High Court under this section the Magistrate must state his views of the conduct of the dumb accused in the commission of the offence, and take some evidence regarding the previous history and habits of the accused. There must also be a finding whether the accused was capable of understanding and did in fact understand the nature of the proceedings and whether he understood the purport of the evidence given by the witnesses, and whether he wanted to call witnesses in his defence. Rat. Un. Cr. C. 696=Cr. Rg. 26 of 1894. Accused cannot be convicted in a case under s. 341 in the absence of a finding that he understands the nature of his act and of the proceedings. 30 P. L. R. 597=30 Cr. L. J. 948=A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 64=118 Ind. Cas. 642.

342. (1) For the purpose of enabling the accused to explain any circumstances appearing in the evidence against him, the Court may, at any stage of any inquiry or trial without previously warning the accused, put such questions to him as the Court considers necessary, and shall, for the purpose aforesaid, question him generally on the case after the witnesses for the prosecution have been examined and before he is called on for his defence.

(2) The accused, shall not render himself liable to punishment by refusing to answer such questions, or by giving false answers to them; but the Court and the jury (if any), may draw such inference from such refusal or answers as it thinks just.

(3) The answers given by the accused may be taken into consideration in such inquiry or trial, and, put in evidence for or against him in any other inquiry into, or trial for, any other offence which such answers may tend to show he has committed.

(4) No oath shall be administered to the accused.

Soope.—The language of this section is mandatory, and the omission to comply with its provisions is not a mere error of form. 2 Weir. 405. This section says that the Court should question the accused generally on the case before he is called on for his defence, for the purpose of enabling him to explain any circumstances appearing in the evidence against him. U. B. R. (1892-1896) Vol. I. 144. This section permits an examination of the accused to be made solely for the purpose of enabling the accused to explain facts appearing against him. 7 C. W. N. 345 ; 14A. 242=A. W. N. 1892, 83. The object of this section is not to fill up a gap in the evidence of the prosecution, but to enable the prisoner to explain any circumstances appearing in the evidence against him. 26 C. 49. It is not for the purpose of ascertaining what witnesses the accused intends to call, or what evidence he will give, or what his defence is that a Court is justified or authorised in examining an accused under this section. 14 A. 242. By "accused" is meant a person over whom the Magistrate or other Court is exercising jurisdiction. 16 B. 661. A Judge examining a prisoner, under this section ought not to cross-examine him ; the only permissible questions are such as will enable the prisoner to explain any circumstances appearing in the evidence against him. 10 C. 140=13 C. Where accused states that his statement is same as that of co-accused and co-accused has made two contradictory statements, the accused should get benefit of statement beneficial to him. 34 Cr. L. J. 161=A. I. R. 1932 Sind. 165. Accused cannot defeat the ends of justice by merely refusing to answer. Court may draw reasonable inferences from such refusal as provided by s. 342. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 178=32 Cr. L. J. 684=131 Ind. Cas. 277.

Object of examination.—Examination of accused is intended to be for enabling him to explain any circumstances appearing in the evidence against him. 11 Pat. L. T. 70; see also 126 Ind. Cas. 449=A. I. R. 1930 Sind. 225; A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 424. Questions in the nature of cross-examination or filling gaps in prosecution should be avoided. Ibid. General questions of asking him what he has to say in explanation of evidence against him is insufficient. Obscene documents must be specifically asked to be explained. 7 Rang. 821=31 Cr. L. J. 387=A. I. R. 1930 Rang. 114. Before asking for explanation Magistrate should warn accused that he is not obliged to make statements, unless he desires to do so and that, if he does, his statement will be used against him during trial. 23 M. Trial is not vitiated by deviations from provisions of the section unless accused is thereby prejudiced. 4 Pat. 488=6 P. L. T. 154=86 Ind. Cas. 459. Section is not only for benefit of accused but part of a system for enabling the Court to discover truth. 29 C. W. N. 231=26 Cr. L. J. 631=52 C. 522. Section 342 does not purport to be only in the interest of accused persons. 35 Cr. L. J. 879=1934 A. L. J. 753=A. I. R. 1934 All. 693; but see 40 L. W. 803=1934 M. W. N. 1136=67 M. L. J. 800.

Oath or affirmation.—Indian law of evidence does not permit accused to give evidence in support of his defence. 30 Cr. L. J. 646=11 P. L. T. 45=A. I. R. 1929 Pat. 145 (F. B.)=116 Ind. Cas. 756. A party to proceedings under s. 368 of the Calcutta Municipal Act is not an accused person and as such is not exempted from administration of oath under s. 342. 31 C. W. N. 505=45 C. L. J. 469=28 Cr. Procedure.—In recording accused's examination under s. 342, s. 364 must be complied with. 2 P. L. T. 288=6 P. L. J. 147=22 Cr. L. J. 417=61 Ind. Cas.

705. Proper method of applying s. 342 is to bring specific evidence against him to his notice. General question is not enough. 26 Cr. L. J. 572=85 Ind. Cas. 716. If the accused is defended by counsel, no lengthy examination should be entered into. If he is undefended, incriminating evidence against him must be pointed out. 3 Pat. L. T. 649=23 Cr. L. J. 233=66 Ind. Cas. 73. Question to accused should not be to entrap him or fill gaps in prosecution evidence. But his answers to legitimate questions can be taken into account. 1930 Cr. C. 926=A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 498. Accused should be examined after re-examination of the prosecution witnesses. He cannot be examined before close of prosecution evidence, or after close of his defence evidence. A discussion with counsel for accused as to nature and number of witnesses for defence is not what section requires. 24 Cr. L. J. 248=A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 470=71 Ind. Cas. 792; see also 19 S. L. R. 104=25 Cr. L. J. 662=81 Ind. Cas. 150. Re-examining the accused after recall of prosecution witnesses is not obligatory. Where the accused does not appreciate circumstances in evidence against him, Court must ask specific questions. General questions is not enough. 6 P. L. T. 33=86 Ind. Cas. 156; see also 86 Ind. Cas. 58=6 P. L. T. 39. Where accused refuses to answer questions and files written statement, the Magistrate is not bound to go on questioning him. 4 Pat. 231=6 P. L. T. 73=A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 378=86 Ind. Cas. 996.

Summons case.—This section is not applicable to summons cases. Accused files written statement after close of prosecution and before defence. It is not essential for Magistrate to question him generally. 9 L. L. J. 109=28 P. L. R. 228=28 Cr. L. J. 480=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 268; see also A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 244 (F. In a summary trial the mere fact that statement of accused has not been recorded is not fatal. A. I. R. 1935 All. 217.

Privileged occasion.—Defamatory statement by accused while answering questions under s. 342 is not punishable, if relevant to the matter in issue. 25 A. L. J. 855=A. I. R. 1927 All. 707.

Power of Court.—In case of absence of sufficient evidence for conviction statement of accused cannot be used to supplement prosecution evidence. 26 A. L. J. 1334=51 A. 313=30 Cr. L. J. 101=A. I. R. 1929 All. 1=113 Ind. Cas. 213. Non-compliance—acquittal.—Section 342 is imperative. Failure to examine accused after prosecution witnesses, is not proper even if accused is acquitted. 27 Cr. L. J. 1364=A. I. 343. Except as provided in sections 337 and 338, no influence by means of any promise or threat or otherwise, shall be used to an accused person to induce him to disclose or withhold any matter within his knowledge.

Notes.—Court must not use pressure on accused to bring in his absconding co-accused. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 953. postpone or adjourn the same on such terms as it thinks fit, for such time as it considers reasonable, and may by a warrant remand the accused if in custody :

Provided that no Magistrate shall remand an accused person to custody under this section for a term exceeding fifteen days at a time.

Remand.

(2) Every order made under this section by a Court other than a High Court shall be in writing signed by the presiding Judge or Magistrate.

Explanation—If sufficient evidence has been obtained to raise a suspicion that the accused may have committed an offence, and it appears likely that further evidence may be obtained by a remand, this is a reasonable cause for a remand.

Notes.—This section relates to proceeding in inquires and trials and has nothing to do with police investigation, and it contemplates a remand to jail and not to police custody. Cr. Rg. 55 of 1897. 346. (1) If, in the course of an inquiry or a trial before a Magistrate in any district outside the presidency towns, the evidence appears to him to warrant a presumption that the case is one which should be tried or committed for trial by some other Magistrate in such district, he shall stay proceedings and submit the case, with a brief report explaining its nature, to any Magistrate, to whom he is subordinate or to such other Magistrate, having jurisdiction, as the District Magistrate directs.

(2) The Magistrate to whom the case is submitted may, if so empowered either try the case himself, or refer it to any Magistrate subordinate to him having jurisdiction, or commit the accused for trial.

 - (b) the High Court or, in cases tried by Magistrate subordinate to the District Magistrate, the District Magistrate may, whether there be an appeal or not, set aside any conviction passed on evidence not wholly recorded by the Magistrate before whom the conviction was held, if such Court or District Magistrate is of opinion that the accused has been materially prejudiced thereby, and may order a new inquiry or trial.

There is no distinction so far as the applicability of the section is concerned between cases where there has been a change of Magistrate in the course of the enquiry and where the enquiry has been closed by one Magistrate in the original Court by an order of discharge and then re-opened by the Sessions Judge when another Magistrate has succeeded. In both the cases the enquiry is the same. The right of the accused under the proviso of re-summoning witnesses is confined to trials and does not extend to inquiries. 1931 M. W. N. 179=33 M. L. Where the witnesses are not summoned at the instance of the accused for cross-examination, but are summoned for examination in a de novo trial, the order in which these witnesses are to be examined in chief rests at the discretion of the prosecution. A. I. R. 1934 Nag. 209=1934 Cr. C. 980. The wording of the principal clause of section 350 is very different from that in proviso (a). In the main body reference is made to an enquiry or trial. Proviso (a) is limited to trial and also makes reference to an accused, a word which does not appear in the preceding part of the section. The intention of the legislature was to limit the application of proviso (a) to criminal trial and not to extend the proviso to enquiries such as a proceeding under s. 145 Cr. Pro. Code which are also covered by the first portion of the section. The right of re-examining witnesses is confined to trials and not to enquiries under s. 145 Cr. Pro. Code. 37 C. L. J. 128=24 Cr. L. 351. (1) Any person attending a Criminal Court, although not under arrest or upon a summons, may be detained by such Court for the purpose of inquiry into or trial of any offence of which, such Court can take cognizance and which, from the evidence, may appear to have been committed, and may be proceeded against as though he had been arrested or summoned.

(2) When the detention takes place in the course of an inquiry under Chapter XVIII or after a trial has been begun, the proceedings in respect of such person shall be commenced afresh, and the witnesses reheard.

Notes.—This section applies to investigations preliminary to commitment for a subsequent trial and not to cases where the trial is actually being preceded with. 14 W. R. Cr. 20. The Court cannot proceed under this section where the accused is not in attendance in his Court. 12 Cr. L. J. 92=9 Ind. Cas. 429=5 S. L. R. 1. This section is self-contained and complete in itself and quite independent of the provisions of s. 190 and necessarily of s. 191 of the Code. 2 N. L. R. 113=3 Ind. Cas. 661=10 Cr. L. J. 303. A Magistrate taking cognizance of an offence against a witness in a case, disclosed by the evidence of another witness, does so under s. 191 clause C, and not under s. 351 Cr. Pro. Code. 1 C. W. This section empowers a Court to join as a co-accused any person attending his Court, who seems to him to be implicated in the case under trial. 4 S. L. R. 258=11 Ind. Cas. 583.

352. The place in which any Criminal Court is held for the purpose of inquiring into or trying any offence shall be deemed an open Court, to which the public generally may have access, so far as the same can conveniently contain them:

Provided that the presiding Judge or Magistrate may, if he thinks fit, order at any stage of any inquiry into, trial of, any particular case, that the public generally, or any particular person, shall not have access to, or be or remain in the room or building used by the Court.

Notes.—Trial in jail is not invalid. 1917 P. W. R. 21. As regards exclusion of police officers, vide 26 Cr. L. J. 1130; 1885 A. W. N. 221.

CHAPTER XXV.

OF THE MODE OF TAKING AND RECORDING EVIDENCE IN INQUIRIES AND TRIALS.

353. Except as otherwise expressly provided, all evidence taken under Chapter XVIII, XX, XXI, XXII, and XXIII shall be taken in the presence of the accused, or when his personal attendance is dispensed with, in presence of his pleader.

Notes.—Recording evidence behind the back of a party is illegal. 5 Cr. R. 132. The evidence must be recorded in the presence of the accused. Rat. Un. Cr. C. 24; see also 2 N. W. P. 49; 14 Cr. L. J. 287; A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 691; 28 Cr. L. J. 771; 29 Cr. L. J. 521=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 34; 30 Cr. L. J. 736=A. I. R. 1928 Rang. 284; 28 Cr. L. J. 756; 46 M. 117. It is irregular to import into a case the evidence given in another case by merely reading over a deposition to a witness and asking him if it was correct. L. B. R. (1872-1892) 299. When personal attendance is dispensed with all the evidence must be taken in the presence of the accused's pleader. 14 Cr. L. J. 287. The Sessions Judge may dispense with the attendance of the accused in a Sessions trial. 42 M. L. J. 337=45 M. 359. An order is wholly illegal if it is based on evidence which is recorded when the party was not a party to the proceedings at all. 25 Cr. L. J. 1289=A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 457=98 Ind. Cas. 153; see also 43 M. L. J. 629=23 Cr. L. J. 748.

354. In inquiries and trials (other than summary trials) under this Code by or before a Magistrate (other than a Presidency Magistrate) or Sessions Judge, the evidence of the witnesses shall be recorded in the following manner.

355. (1) In summons-cases tried before a Magistrate other than a Presidency Magistrate, and in cases of the offences mentioned in sub-section (1) of section 260 clauses (b) to (m), both inclusive, when tried by a Magistrate of the first or second class, and in all proceedings under section 514 (if not in the course of a trial), the Magistrate shall make a memorandum of the substance of the evidence of each witness as the examination of the witness proceeds.

(2) Such memorandum shall be written and signed by the Magistrate with his own hand, and shall form part of the record.

(3) If the Magistrate is prevented from making a memorandum as above required, he shall record the reason of his inability to do so, and shall cause such memorandum to be made in writing from his dictation in open Court, and shall sign the same, and such memorandum shall form part of the record.

Notes.—This section merely prescribes a brief record in summons cases and other cases, which may be tried summarily, when they are as a matter of fact tried regularly. 3 L. B. R. 3=2 Cr. L. J. 375. There is no provision of law which renders it illegal for a native second class Magistrate to record the memorandum of the substance of evidence of each witness mentioned in s. 355 in English. 19 M. 269=2 Weir. 433. In a case of theft combined with a charge of previous conviction the Magistrate should not record the evidence in the form of a memorandum, as such offence is not triable summarily. 2 Weir 432. In summary cases the recording of evidence is governed by ss. 263 and 264 and s. 355 has no application at all to summary cases. 58 B. 298=A. I. R. 1934 Bom. 157=86 Bom. L. R. 212=35 Cr. L. J. 841. Section 355 does not apply to offences coming under s. 261 cl. (b). 28 Cr. L. J. 537=A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 426=102 Ind. Cas. 345. In a case of theft in which the value of property stolen does not exceed Rs. 50, the procedure at the trial is regulated by section 355 and not section 356. 21 A. L. J. 276=A. I. R. 1923 All. 432. In appealable summary cases and in non-appealable case, the Magistrate is perfectly free to take such notes as he pleases. 25 A. L. J. 143=28 Cr. L. J. 97=A. I. R. 1927 All. 124=99 Ind. Cas. 225. Where the substance of the evidence taken by the Magistrate was not signed the error vitiated the trial. 3 Pat. L. T. 322=23 Cr. L. J. 114. The evidence of witnesses need not be read over to them in a case triable summarily. 65 Ind. Cas. 552.

356. (1) In all other trials before Courts of Session and Magistrates (other than Presidency Magistrates), and in all inquiries under Chapters XII and XVIII, the evidence of each witness shall be taken down in writing in the language of the Court by the Magistrate or Sessions Judge, or in his presence and hearing and under his personal direction and superintendence and shall be signed by the Magistrate or Sessions Judge.

(2) When the evidence of such witness is given in English, the Magistrate or Sessions Judge may take it down in that language with his own hand, and, unless the accused is familiar with English, or language of the Court is English an authenticated translation of such evidence in the language of the Court shall form part of the record.

* [(2A) When the evidence of such witness is given in any other language, not being English, than the language of the Court, the Magistrate or Sessions Judge may take it down in that language with his own hand, or cause it to be taken down in that language in his presence, and hearing and under his personal direction and superintendence, and an authenticated translation of such evidence in the language of the Court or in English shall form part of the record.]

The principle underlying s. 360 clause (1) should be made applicable to the substance of the examination of the complainant on oath, particularly when it is to be utilized as a basis for a possible perjury charge in future. 26 Cr. L. J. 1401=A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 141=89 Ind. Cas. 713. This section has no application to proceedings under Chapter 12 and in such proceedings it is not obligatory on the Court to read over the depositions to witnesses. 41 C. L. J. 337=29 C. W. N. 475=26 Cr. L. J. 915=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 1040=86 Ind. Cas. 979. The provisions of s. 360 Cr. P. Code are applicable to proceedings when a person is called upon to show cause why he should not furnish security for good behaviour and failure to comply with the provisions of that section would vitiate the enquiry or trial. There is considerable doubt whether s. 360 Cr. P. Code applies to proceedings under Chapter VIII of that code. 41 C. L. J. 352=26 Cr. L. J. 1240=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 720=88 Ind. Cas. 856. The word "accused" in section 360 subsection (1) means a person over whom a Cr. Court is exercising jurisdiction. S. 360 Cr. P. Code is applicable to enquiries held under Chapter XII. 52 C. 437=29 C. The sole object of this provision of the law seems to be to ensure the accuracy of the record. Failure to strictly comply with the provision of s. 360 will not under all circumstances vitiate a trial. Failure to strictly comply with the provisions 360 should be considered as a mere irregularity curable by s. 537, if no prejudice is caused. 4 Bur. L. J. 213=27 Cr. L. J. 669=A. I. R. 1926 Rang. 53=94 Ind. Cas. 717. The rule prescribed by s. 360 Cr. Pro. Objection—Deposition is not read to witness in accordance with the requirements of the law. It cannot be used against him on a charge of perjury. 29 P. L. R. 14=29 Cr. L. J. 212=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 125=107 Ind. Cas. 100; see also 15 Lah. 407. OF THE JUDGMENT.

366. (1) The judgment in every trial in Mode of delivering judgment. any Criminal Court of original jurisdiction shall be pronounced, or the substance of such judgment shall be explained,—

(a) in open Court either immediately after the termination of the trial or at some subsequent time of which notice shall be given to the parties or their pleaders, and

(b) in the language of the Court, or in some other language which the accused or his pleader understands :

Provided that the whole judgment shall be read out by the presiding Judge, if he is requested so to do either by the prosecution or the defence.

(2) The accused shall, if in custody, be brought up, or, if not in custody, be required by the Court to attend to hear judgment delivered, except where his personal attendance during the trial has been dispensed with and the sentence is one of fine only or he is acquitted, in either of which cases it may be delivered in the presence of his pleader.

Presidency Magistrate's judgment. 370. Instead of recording a judgment in manner herein-before provided, a Presidency Magistrate shall record the following particulars :—

- (a) the serial number of the case ;
- (b) the date of the commission of the offence ;
- (c) the name of the complainant (if any) ;
- (d) the name of the accused person, and (except in the case of an European British subject) his parentage and residence ;
- (e) the offence complained of or proved ;
- (f) the plea of the accused and his examination (if any) ;
- (g) the final order ;
- (h) the date of such order ; and
- (i) in all cases in which the Magistrate inflicts imprisonment, or fine exceeding two hundred rupees, or both, a brief statement of the reasons for the conviction.

Notes.—Although s. 370 allows a Presidency Magistrate to record merely the reasons for a conviction, instead of recording a judgment, this must be done in such a manner that the High Court, in revision, may be in a position to judge whether there were sufficient materials, before him to support the conviction. 8 C. CHAPTER XXVIII.

OF EXECUTION.

381. When a sentence of death passed by a Court of Session is submitted to the High Court for confirmation, such Court of Session shall, on receiving the order of confirmation or other order of the High Court thereon, cause such order to be carried into effect by issuing warrant* taking such other steps as may be necessary.

382. If a woman sentenced to death is found to be pregnant, the High Court shall order the execution of the sentence to be postponed, and may, if it thinks fit, commute † the sentence to transportation for life.

Notes.—The High Court is the only Court in which the law has vested the power of postponing the execution of a sentence of death passed and confirmed on a woman found to be pregnant. 2 Weir. 441; see also 34 P. R. 1878 Cr.

383. Where the accused is sentenced to transportation or imprisonment in cases other than those provided for by section 381, the Court passing the sentence shall forthwith forward a warrant to the jail in which he is, or is to be confined, and unless the accused is already confined in such jail, shall forward him to such jail, with the warrant.

* See Sch. V. Froms XXXV and XXXVI, infra.

† See Sch. V. From XXXVI, infra.

Notes.—A Magistrate has no power to sentence an accused to suffer imprisonment in a police lock-up. - (a) issue a warrant for the levy of the amount by attachment and sale of any movable property belonging to the offender ;
- (b) issue a warrant to the Collector of the District authorising him to realise the amount by execution according to civil process against the movable or immovable property, or both, of the defaulter ;

Provided that, if the sentence directs that in default of payment of the fine the offender shall be imprisoned, and if such offender has undergone the whole of such imprisonment in default, no Court shall issue such warrant unless for special reasons to be recorded in writing it considers its necessary to do so.

(2) The Local Government may make rules regulating the manner in which warrants under sub-section (1), clause (a), are to be executed, and for the summary determination of any claims made by any person other than the offender in respect of any property attached in execution of such warrant.

(3) Where the Courts issue a warrant to the Collector under sub-section (1), clause (b), such warrant shall be deemed to be a decree, and the Collector to be the decree-holder, within the meaning of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, and the nearest Civil Court by which any decree for a like amount could be executed shall, for the purposes of the said Code, be deemed to be the Court which passed the decree, and all the provisions of that Code as to execution of decrees shall apply accordingly.

Provided that no such warrant shall be executed by the arrest or detention in prison of the offender.†

Notes.—The immovable property of an agriculturist can be attached and sold in execution of an order passed under s. 386, and the mere fact that the warrant is executable as if it were a decree does not make the provisions of s. 22 of the Deccan Agriculturists Relief Act applicable to such warrant. 28 Bom. Execution of sentence of whipping, in addition to imprisonment.

391. (1) When the accused—

*(a) is sentenced to whipping only and furnishes bail to the satisfaction of the Court for his appearance at such time and place as the Court may direct, or

(b) is sentenced to whipping in addition to imprisonment, the whipping shall not be inflicted until fifteen days from the date of the sentence, or if an appeal is made within that time, until the sentence, is confirmed by the Appellate Court, but the whipping shall be inflicted as soon as practicable after the expiry of the fifteen days, or, in case of an appeal, as soon as practicable after the receipt of the order of the Appellate Court confirming the sentence.

(2) The whipping shall be inflicted in the presence of the officer-in-charge of the jail, unless the Judge or Magistrate orders it to be inflicted in his own presence.

(3) No accused person shall be sentenced to whipping in addition to imprisonment, when the term of imprisonment to which he is sentenced is less than three months.

Notes—Where the punishment of whipping is not awarded in addition to imprisonment but is a separate sentence for a separate offence, the immediate execution of it would not be illegal. 2 weir. 446. Under clause (3) a sentence of whipping cannot be passed in addition to imprisonment when the term of imprisonment is less than three months. 2 Bom. L. R. 54. so much of the sentence of whipping as was not executed, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding twelve months* [or to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees] which may be in addition to any other punishment to which he may have been sentenced for the the same offence.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to authorize any Court to inflict imprisonment for a term * [or a fine of an amount] exceeding that to which the accused is liable by law, or that which the said Court is competent to inflict.

Notes—In the absence of the Magistrate who passed the original sentence, the District Magistrate is "the Court which passed the the sentence," within the meaning of this section. 20 P. L. R. 1904=33 P. R. 1901 Cr. This section only gives authority to remit altogether a sentence of whipping or so much of it as has not been executed, or to impose a sentence imprisonment for a term not exceeding 12 months in lieu of it. U. B. R. (1892—1896) Vol. I, 45. The word "imprisonment" in this section, means a substantive sentence of imprisonment and not imprisonment in default of payment of fine. Where a sentence of whipping cannot be carried out, the only course open to the Court is to remit the sentence of whipping or to order imprisonment in lieu of it. A. W. N. 1889, 93.

396. (1) When sentence is passed under this Code on an escaped convict, such sentence, if of death, fine or whipping, shall, Execution of sentences on escaped convicts. subject to the provisions hereinbefore contained, take effect immediately, and, if of imprisonment, penal servitude or transportation shall take effect according to the following rules that is to say—

(2) If the new sentence is severer in its kind than the sentence which such convict was undergoing when he escaped, the new sentence shall take effect immediately.

(3) When the new sentence is not severer in its kind than the sentence the convict was undergoing when he escaped, the new sentence shall take effect after he has suffered imprisonment, penal servitude or transportation, as the case may be, for a further period equal to that which, at the time of his escape, remained unexpired of his former sentence.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section—

- (a) a sentence of transportation or penal servitude shall be deemed severer than a sentence of imprisonment;
- (b) a sentence of imprisonment with solitary confinement shall be deemed severer than a sentence of the same description of imprisonment without solitary confinement; and
- (c) a sentence of rigorous imprisonment shall be deemed severer than a sentence of simple imprisonment with or without solitary confinement.

Notes—When an accused was released by mistake and the mistake was discovered, five days after the release, the Magistrate directed the sentence to begin on the day on which he was re-arrested. U. B. R. (1897—1901) Vol. I, 89.

397. When a person already undergoing a sentence of imprisonment, penal servitude or transportation, is sentenced to imprisonment, penal servitude or transportation, such imprisonment, penal servitude or transportation shall commence at the expiration† of the imprisonment, penal servitude or transportation to which he has been previously sentenced, [‡ unless the Court directs that the subsequent sentence shall run concurrently with such previous sentence.]

The Sessions Judge, a month afterwards, sentenced him in another case to three years' rigorous imprisonment, which, he under s. 317, Criminal Procedure Code, directed, should begin to take effect on the expiration of the sentence passed by the magistrate. On appeal the conviction and sentence passed by the Magistrate were reversed. Held, that the sentence passed by the Sessions Judge must be deemed to have commenced from the time it was ordered to commence, viz, from the expiration of the sentence passed by the Magistrate whether by reversal or by completion of the punishment. 398. (1) Nothing in section 395 or section 397 shall be held to excuse any person from any part of the punishment to which he is liable upon his former or subsequent conviction.

Savings as to sections 396 and 397.

* This proviso was added by ibid.

(2) When an award of imprisonment in default of payment of a fine is annexed to a substantive sentence of imprisonment, or to a sentence of transportation or penal servitude for an offence punishable with imprisonment, and the person undergoing the sentence is after its execution to undergo a further substantive sentence, or further substantive sentences, of imprisonment, transportation or penal servitude, effect shall not be given to the award of imprisonment in default of payment of the fine until the person has undergone the further sentence or sentences.

Notes.—Section 398 provides that nothing in section 397 shall be held to excuse any person from any part of the punishment to which he is liable upon his former or subsequent conviction. 2 Weir. 453.

399. When any person under the age of fifteen years is sentenced by any Criminal Court to imprisonment for any offence, the Court may direct such person, instead of being imprisoned in a criminal jail, shall be confined in any reformatory established by the Local Government as a fit place for confinement, in which there are means of suitable discipline and of training in some branch of useful industry or which is kept by a person willing to obey such rules as the Local Government prescribes with regard to the discipline and training of persons confined therein.

(2) All persons confined under this section shall be subject to the rules so prescribed.

(3) This section shall not apply to any place in which the Reformatory Schools Act, 1897* is for the time being in force.

Notes.—A Judge or Magistrate is not at liberty in estimating the proper sentence to be passed on juvenile offenders to consider the fact that there is no Reformatory. He is bound to pass a sentence of punishment adequate to offence. 2 Weir. 453. Reformatory Schools Act, 1897 having been extended to the Punjab, s. 399 Cr. P. 400. When a sentence has been fully executed, the officer executing it shall return the warrant to the Court from which it issued with an endorsement under his hand certifying the manner in which the sentences has been executed.

Notes.—Where in respect of the offence under s. 411 an accused is convicted by the Courts of a Native State, he cannot again be convicted on the same facts in British India. 73 Ind. Cas. 939=24 Cr. L. J. 715.

CHAPTER XXIX.

OF SUSPENSIONS, REMISSIONS AND COMMUTATIONS OF SENTENCES.

401. (1) When any person has been sentenced to punishment for an offence, the Governor-General in Council or the Local Government may, at any time, without conditions or upon any conditions which the person sentenced accepts, suspend the execution of his sentence or remit the whole or any part of the punishment to which he has been sentenced.

(2) Whenever an application is made to the Governor-General in Council or the Local Government for the suspension or remission of a sentence, the Governor-General in Council or the Local Government, as the case may be, may require the presiding Judge of the Court before or by which the conviction was had or confirmed to state his opinion as to whether the application, should be granted or refused, together with his reasons for such opinion * [and also to forward with the statement of such opinion a certified copy of the record of the trial or of such record thereof as exists.]

(3) If any condition on which a sentence has been suspended or remitted is, in the opinion of the Governor-General in Council or of the Local Government, as the case may be, not fulfilled, the Governor-General in Council of the Local Government may cancel the suspension or remission, and thereupon the person in whose favour the sentence has been suspended or remitted may if, at large, be arrested by any police-officer without warrant and remanded to undergo the unexpired portion of the sentence.

(4) The condition on which a sentence is suspended or remitted under this section, may be one to be fulfilled by the person in whose favour the sentence is suspended or remitted, or one independent of his will.

†(4A) The provisions of the above sub-sections shall also apply to any order passed by a Criminal Court under any section of this Code or of any other law, which restricts the liberty of any person or imposes any liability upon him or his property.]

(5) Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to interfere with the right of ‡ [His Majesty, or of the Governor-General in Council when such right is delegated to him] to grant pardons, reprieves, respites or remissions of punishment.

‡ [(5A) Where a conditional pardon is granted by His Majesty, or, in virtue of any powers delegated to him, by the Governor-General, any condition thereby imposed, of whatever nature shall be deemed to have been imposed by a sentence of a competent Court under this Code and shall be enforceable accordingly.]

(6) The Governor-General in Council and the Local Government may, by general rules or special orders, give directions as to the suspension of sentences and the conditions on which petitions should be presented and dealt with.

Notes—In a case, where it was held that the accused committed murder without any apparent sane motive and that the accused was at the time suffering from mental derangement of some sort, the High Court holding that the accused was not entitled to be acquitted under s. 84, Penal Code recommended the case to the Local Government, under this section, to be dealt with in such manner as it thought fit. 23 C. 604. This section has application only to persons punished with imprisonment. 11 A. 79. CHAPTEE XXX.

OF PREVIOUS ACQUITTALS OR CONVICTIONS.

403. (1) A person who has once been tried by a Court of competent jurisdiction for an offence and convicted or acquitted of such offence shall, while such conviction or acquittal remains in force, not be liable to be tried again for the same offence, nor on the same facts for any other offence for which a different charge from the one made against him might have been made under section 236, or for which he might have been convicted under section 237.

(2) A person acquitted or convicted of any offence may be afterwards tried for any distinct offence for which a separate charge might have been made against him on the former trial under section 235, sub-section (1).

(3) A person convicted of any offence constituted by any act causing consequences which, together with such act, constituted a different offence from that of which he was convicted, may be afterwards tried for such last-mentioned offence, if the consequences had not happened, or were not known to the Court to have happened, at the time when he was convicted.

(4) A person acquitted or convicted of any offence constituted by any acts may, notwithstanding such acquittal or conviction be subsequently charged with, and tried for, any other offence constituted by the same acts which he may have committed if the Court by which he was first tried was not competent to try the offence with which he is subsequently charged.

(5) Nothing in this section shall affect the provisions of section 26 of the General Clauses Act, 1897,† or section 188 of this Code.

Explanation—The dismissal of a complaint, the stopping of proceedings under section 249, the discharge of the accused, or any entry made upon a charge under section 273, is not an acquittal for the purposes of this section.

Illustrations,

(a) A is tried upon a charge of theft as a servant and acquitted. He cannot afterwards, while the acquittal remains in force, be charged with theft as a servant, or upon the same facts with theft simply, or with criminal breach of trust.

(b) A is tried upon a charge of murder and acquitted. There is no charge of robbery; but it appears from the facts that A committed robbery at the time when the murder was committed; he may afterwards be charged with, and tried for, robbery.

(c) A is tried for causing grievous hurt and convicted. The person injured afterwards dies. A may be tried again for culpable homicide.

(d) A is charged before the Court of Session and convicted of the culpable homicide of B. A may not afterwards be tried on the same facts for the murder of B.

(e) A is charged by a Magistrate of the first class with, and convicted by him of, voluntarily causing hurt to B. A may not afterwards be tried for voluntarily causing grievous hurt to B on the same facts, unless the case comes within paragraph 3 of the section.

‡ X of 1897.

(f) A is charged by a Magistrate of the second class with and convicted by him of theft of property from the person of B. A may be subsequently charged with, and tried for robbery on the same facts.

(g) A, B and C are charged by a Magistrate of the first class with, and convicted by him of, robbing D. A, B and C, may afterwards be charged with, and tried for, dacoity on the same facts.

Scope—This section amplifies the well known maxim Nemo dabit bis vexari. This section embodies the well established rule of common law that a man may not be put twice in peril for the same offence. 29 M. 126 (F. B). So in the case of an acquittal, the acquittal is conclusive. 38 C. 559. The wording of this section is very wide and jurisdiction of the Court does not merely refer to the character and status of the Court to try the offence, but also refers to want of jurisdiction on the grounds as shown by illustrations (f) and (g) of the section. 7 Pat. L. T. 383=27 Cr. L. J. 849=A. I. R. 1926, P. 302. The omission to frame a charge under a section does not amount to an acquittal of the accused of an offence under that section. 27 Cr. L. J. 615=94 Ind. Cas. 359=7 P. L. R. 115 (Cr.) Trial of second complaint after order of discharge on first complaint is not barred. A. I. R. 1935 All. 60; see also A. I. R. 1935 All. 59. Where after notice to remove encroachment, accused was prosecuted but was acquitted, he is not liable to be tried again simply because another notice by same authority relating to same encroachment was issued. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 56. Where ground that proceedings are barred under s. 403 (1) was not taken in revision petition, High Court can take notice of it suo motu. A. I. R. 1935 Nag. 23. The rule of resjudicata does not bar any proceedings by general principle but only by special enactment, as contained in s. 13 of C. P. Code and s. 403 of the Criminal Procedure Code. 14 Bom. L. R. 259=4 L. B. R. 337=9 Cr. L. J. 21. The word "tried" in this section does not necessarily mean any decision of the case on the merits. 99 Ind. Cas. 855=28 Cr. L. J. 183. The trial of a case, commences if not from the moment the accused is served with a summons, certainly from the moment he appears in Court on the case being called. 29 Ind. Cas. 855=28 Cr. L. J. 183. Sub-section (4) refers to the character and status of tribunal when it refers to competency to try the offence, as shown by illustrations (f) and (g). 24 M. L. J. 463=10 Ind. Cas. 340=36 M. 308. An acquittal by a Magistrate having no jurisdiction is simply void under s. 530. 8 B. 307. A second trial is barred if it falls under the terms of the section. 22 C. 377; 23 C. 975; 27 C. 173. A subsequent trial is not barred when the facts are different. 31 C. 1007; 12 Bom. L. R. 226; 2 A. L. J. 673. When the Appellate Court acquits the accused on the ground that the conviction was recorded without the sanction necessary under section 195, and that therefore the Magistrate had no jurisdiction, the provisions of s. 403 will not bar a second prosecution. A. I. R. 1929 All. 940. The Doctrine of autre fois acquit does not apply to refusal by Magistrate under s. 476 to file complaint against accused. 1930 Cr. C. 1147=A. I. R. 1930 Sind. 315. See also the principle of autre fois acquit is not applicable when the section is same in both trials, but facts are wholly and completely different. Previous acquittal under s. 498 I. P. Code is no bar to subsequent proceedings on a charge of subsequent detention. 29 P. L. R. 52=29 Cr. L. J. 3=106 Ind. Cas. 339. Test is whether the evidence is the same in both cases. 29 Cr. L. J. 760=10 P. L. T. 446=A. I. R. 1928 Pat. 577=110 Ind. Cas. 722. Section 236 does not contemplate a series of acts constituting more than one offence, so section 403 (1) has no application where more than one offence has been committed by same transaction. 30 Cr. L. J. 806 9 Pat. 585=11 P. L. T. 722=A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 26=117 Ind. Cas. 625. The true test is not so much whether facts are same in both trials, as whether acquittal on first charge necessarily involves an acquittal on second charge. 48 C. 78. So when an accused was once tried for misappropriation of particular sums of money on certain dates is again tried for misappropriation of different sum of money on date falling within same interval, second trial is not illegal. 1930 M. W. N. 1097=A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 978=129 Ind. Cas. 75. Section 403 (1) forbids retrial only where person has been convicted or acquitted and such conviction or acquittal remains in force. 1929 Cr. C. 294=A. I. R. 1929 All. 710=121 Ind. Cas. 248. Section 403 (2) limits or rather explains the common law rule as meaning that acquittal or conviction for offence constituted by acts A, B. and C. will not for subsequent trial in respect of offence constituted by acts B, C and D. This sub-section has no application to a case in which entire series or acts constituted both offences. 11 P. L. T. 720=30 Cr. L. J. 806=9 Pat. 585=A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 26=117 Ind. Cas. 625; see also A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 1055=129 Ind. Cas.

224. In case of two distinct acts of omission, acquittal for one act of omission does not debar trial for other act of omission. A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 670. When the accused is guilty of three distinct offences, he can be tried for two of the offences although acquitted in respect of the third. 33 Cr. L. J. 41=25 S. L. R. 9=A. I. R. 1931 Sind. 116. Mistaken order of acquittal in previous case when discharge alone was possible is no bar to subsequent trial. 36 M. L. W. 641=34 Cr. L. J. 12=A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 98. Previous acquittal in respect of gross sum between specified dates does not bar second trial. 1931 A. L. J. 98=32 Cr. L. J. 376=53 A. 411=A. I. R. 1931 All. 209. Acquittal on charge of murder is bar to trial on charge of culpable homicide not amounting to murder. 33 Bom. L. R. 349=55 B. 520=33 Cr. L. J. 62=A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 309. Previous order of release but not of acquittal is no bar to subsequent trial. 60 C. 149=34 Cr. L. J. 181=36 C. W. N. 1038=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 871. Prosecution should not be re-started on same facts when once accused has been discharged. 34 P. L. R. 833. Section 403 does not prevent court from doing what in essence seems at first sight to limit provisions of the section. 35 C. W. N. 1182=33 Cr. L. J. 434=18 A. I. Cr. R. 107=A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 291. Section 403 has no application where the decision of appeal by convict and appeal by Government is continuation of original trial. 28 N. L. R. 233=33 Cr. L. J. 849=A. I. R. 1932 Nag. 121 (F. B.). Where accused has been acquitted of certain charge in appeal he cannot be convicted in respect of same matter in subsequent appeal. A. I. R. 1933. Oudh. 470=1933 Cr. C. 1393. Magistrate ordering case reported under s. 173 to be struck off can re-open case by calling for charge sheet under s. 190 (1) (c). 14 P. L. T. 162=12 Pat. 234=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 242. Where sentence for offence under s. 307 I. P. Code is still in force it does not bar trial and conviction under s. 302. A. I. R. 1935 Pesh. 18.

Principle.—Section 403 contains with certain limitations common law rule that no man may be punished twice for same offence. 30 Cr. L. J. 806=9 Pat. 585=A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 26=11 P. L. T. 722=117 Ind. Cas. 625; see also 30 Cr. L. J. 444=115 Ind. Cas. 309. Whether there has been previous acquittal is to be determined after hearing the evidence and ascertaining what the facts are in this case and what were the facts found in the previous case. 20 Cr. L. J. 572=23 C. W. N. 599=52 Ind. Cas. 60. A decision that a prosecution is barred under s. 403 of the Code should be arrived at only after an enquiry into the facts put by the complainant. 22 Cr. L. J. 67=23 C. W. N. 543=59 Ind. Cas. 323. Only identity of charges is looked to and not identity of parties. 21 S. L. R. 1=27 Cr. L. J. 1105=A. I. R. 1927 Sind. 10=97 Ind. Cas. 417. Section 403 is only a bar in respect of a previous trial by a Court of competent jurisdiction. A. I. R. 1934 Pat. 411=15 P. L. T. 554=35 Cr. L. J. 686; see also 19 Cr. L. J. 296=46 Ind. Cas. 716.

Court of competent jurisdiction.—The words "competent to try" in s. 403 refer to the character and status of the Court which had decided the case. 23 Cr. L. J. 305=66 Ind. Cas. 657. Where acquittal is for want of sanction, second prosecution is not barred. 30 Cr. L. J. 1153=1930 A. L. J. 218=A. I. R. 1929 All. 940=120 Ind. Cas. 121; see also 40 B. 97=16 Cr. L. J. 761=17 Bom. L. R. 881=31 Ind. Cas. 361; 39 A. 293=18 Cr. L. J. 546=39 Ind. Cas. 690. Where Court trying first case is not competent to try subsequent case, second trial is not barred. 26 Cr. L. J. 1087=48 M. L. J. 490=A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 701=88 Ind. Cas. 31; see also 23 C. W. N. 518=20 Cr. L. J. 112=29 C. L. J. 30; 20 Cr. L. J. 533=51 Ind. Cas. 773; 29 Cr. L. J. 760=10 P. L. T. 446=A. I. I. R. 1934 Mad. 716. But illegal conviction is not conviction by incompetent court. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 199=131 Ind. Cas. 373. Where absence of complaint under s. 195. renders first trial infructuous, second trial is not barred. 21 S. L. R. 1=27 Cr. L. J. 1105=A. I. R. 1927 Sind. 10=97 Ind. Cas. 417; see also A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 1055=129 Ind. Cas. 224. But in case of acquittal by Court wanting in territorial jurisdiction, accused can plead autre fois acquit unless failure of justice is caused. 1933 M. W. N. 713=65 M. L. J. 529=38 M. L. W. 562=A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 765 (F.B.). Accused must show on second occasion that former Court was competent to try and acquit or convict him. Words "competent to try" mean Court is in a legal position to have tried and acquitted or convicted. They refer narrowly to the legal position of Court at time of former trial in relation to particular offence committed by accused and not broadly to the jurisdiction of Court with regard to the class of offence in general. 30 Cr. L. J. 806=9 Pat. 585=A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 26=11 P. L. T. 722=117 Ind. Cas. 625.

Appeal from order requiring security for keeping the peace or for good behaviour. [406. Any person who has been ordered under section 118 to give security for keeping the peace or for good behaviour may appeal against such order—

- (a) if made by a Presidency Magistrate, to the High Court ;
- (b) if made by any other Magistrate, to the Court of Session ;

Provided that the Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, direct that in any District specified in the notification, appeals from such orders made by a Magistrate other than the District Magistrate or a Presidency Magistrate shall lie to the District Magistrate and not to the Court of Session ;

Provided, further, that nothing in this section shall apply to persons the proceedings against whom are laid before a Sessions Judge in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (2) or sub-section (3A) of section 123.]

Notes—In an appeal from an order under s. 107, the Appellate Court has got power to order a retrial. 48 A. 501=27 Cr. L. J. 945. Appeal from order refusing to accept or rejecting a surety. †[406A. Any person aggrieved by an order refusing to accept or rejecting a surety under section 122 may appeal against such order,—

- (a) if made by a Presidency Magistrate, to the High Court ;
- (b) if made by the District Magistrate to the Court of Session ; or
- (c) if made by a Magistrate other than the District Magistrate, to the District Magistrate].

407. (1) Any person convicted on a trial held by any Magistrate of the second or third class, or any person sentenced under section 349† (or in respect of whom an order has been made or a sentence has been passed by section 380) by a Sub-divisional Magistrate of the second class, may appeal to the District Magistrate.

* Section 406 was substituted by s. 109 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923).

‡ These words and figures were inserted by s. 111, ibid.

(2) The District Magistrate may direct that any appeal under this section or any class of such appeals, shall be heard by any Magistrate of the first class subordinate to him and empowered by the Local Government to hear such appeals, and thereupon such appeal or class of appeals may be presented to such subordinate Magistrate, or, if already presented to the District Magistrate, may be transferred to such subordinate Magistrate. The District Magistrate may withdraw from such Magistrate any appeal or class of appeals so presented or transferred.

Notes.—This section does not entitle a District Magistrate to send appeals under s. 195 to a Magistrate of the first class subordinate to him. That section deals with appeals from convictions. 34 A. 244=14 Ind. Cas. 657=13 Cr. L. J. 273 ; 30 C. 394. A District Magistrate cannot delegate revisional work. 2 Bom. L. R. 536. * 408. Any person convicted on a trial held by an Assistant Sessions Judge, a District Magistrate or other Magistrate of the first class, or any person sentenced under section 349 † [or in respect of whom an order has been made or a sentence has been passed under section 380] by a Magistrate of the first class, may appeal to the Court of Session :

‡(b) when in any case an Assistant Sessions Judge or a Magistrate specially empowered under section 30 passes any sentence of imprisonment for a term exceeding four years, or any sentence of transportation, the appeal § (of all or any of the accused convicted at such trial) shall lie to the High Court ;

(c) When any person is convicted by a Magistrate of an offence under section 124A of the Indian Penal Code, the appeal shall lie to the High Court.

Notes.—Where at a trial some persons were convicted by an Assistant Sessions Judge and sentenced to over 4 years' imprisonment and others sentenced to less than 4 years' imprisonment, the appeal of the latter also lay to the High Court. 13 A. L. J. 272=16 Cr. L. J. 353=28 Ind. Cas. 737. When a Sessions Judge has confirmed the sentences passed by an Assistant Sessions Judge on some of the accused persons, he has no jurisdiction to hear the appeals preferred by any of the prisoners in the same case, as such appeals lie to the High Court under proviso (a) Rat. * [Provided that an Additional Sessions Judge shall hear only such appeals as the Local Government may, by general or special order, direct or as the Sessions Judge of the division may make over to him.]

Notes—This section distinctly lays down that any person convicted on a trial held by a Magistrate of the first class may appeal to a Court of Session. 33 A. 510=8 A. L. J. 524. An appeal can be transferred to the Additional Sessions Judge by the Sessions Judge. 37 A. 286. 413. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, there shall be no appeal by a convicted person in cases in which a Court of Session * passes a sentence of imprisonment not exceeding one month only or † [in which a Court of Session or District Magistrate or other Magistrate of the first class passes a sentence] of fine not exceeding fifty rupees only.‡

Explanation—There is no appeal from a sentence of imprisonment passed by such Court of Magistrate in default of payment of fine when no substantive sentence of imprisonment has also been passed.

Notes—No appeal lies to the Sessions Court against a sentence of fine of Rs. 50 passed by a first class Magistrate. 9 Ind. Cas. 340=9 M. L. T. 322=12 Cr. L. J. 63. This section must be construed strictly. If so construed, it will apply only to cases in which either imprisonment or fine has been awarded by the sentence to the extent specified in the section, and it will not apply to a case in which both punishments are awarded. In the latter case, the right of appeal is not barred. 1 N. W. P. 302. A Magistrate trying a case passed at first a non-appealable sentence on the accused; but shortly afterwards, at the request of the accused, added to the sentence passed so as to make it appealable. On appeal, the Sessions Judge struck out the added sentence, which being done he declined to go into the merits of the case, on ground that the original sentence passed was not open to appeal. Held, (1) that, when a Magistrate once passed a sentence exceeding one month, an appeal lay to the Sessions Court under s. 413 of the Criminal Pro. Code independently of the question whether the sentence was passed legally or illegally, (2) that the Sessions Judge being once seized of the appeal the whole appeal becomes open to his Court, and he ought, therefore, to have heard the appeal on the merits also. 13 Bom. 415. An appeal may be brought against any sentence referred to in section 413 or section 414 by which any two or more of the punishments therein mentioned are combined but no sentence which would not otherwise be liable to appeal shall be appealable merely on the ground that the person convicted is ordered to find security to keep the peace.

C.) Lord Russel of Killowon this laid down the law: "There is in their opinion no foundation for the view, apparently supported by the judgments of some Courts in India that, the High Court has no power or jurisdiction to reverse an order of acquittal on a matter of fact, except in cases in which the lower Court has obstinately blundered or has 'though incompetence, stupidity or perversity' reached such 'distorted conclusions as to produce a positive miscarriage of justice' or has in some way so conducted itself as to produce a glaring miscarriage of justice, or has been tricked by the defence so as to produce a similar result.

Sections 417, 418 and 423 of the Code has given to the High Court full power to review at large the evidence upon which the order of acquittal was founded, and to reach the conclusion that upon that evidence the order of acquittal should be reversed. No limitation should be placed upon that power, unless it be found expressly stated in the Code. But in exercising the power conferred by the Code and before reaching its conclusions upon fact, the High Court should and will always give proper weight and consideration to such matters as (1) the views of the trial Judge as to the credibility of the witnesses; (2) the presumption of innocence in favour of the accused, a presumption certainly not weakened by the fact that he has been acquitted at his trial; (3) the right of the accused to the benefit of any doubt; and (4) the slowness of an Appellate Court in disturbing a finding of fact arrived at by a Judge who had the advantage of seeing the witnesses. To state this however is only to say that the High Court in its conduct of the appeal should and will act in accordance with rules and principles well known and recognized in the administration of justice. 423. (1) The Appellate Court shall then send for the record of the case, if such record is not already in Court. After Powers of Appellate Court in perusing such record, and hearing the appellant disposing of appeal. or his pleader, if he appears, and the Public Prosecutor, if he appears, and, in case of an appeal under section 417, the accused if he appears, the Court may, if it considers that there is no sufficient ground for interfering, dismiss the appeal, or may—

(a) in an appeal from an order of acquittal, reverse such order and direct that further inquiry be made, or that the accused be retried or committed for trial, as the case may be, or find him guilty and pass sentence on him according to law.

(b) in an appeal from a conviction, (1) reverse the finding and sentence, and acquit or discharge the accused, or order him to be retried by a Court of competent jurisdiction subordinate to such Appellate Court or committed for trial or, (2) alter the finding, maintaining the sentence, or with or without altering the finding, reduce the sentence, or (3), with or without such reduction and with or without altering the finding, alter the nature of the sentence, but, subject to the provisions of section 105, sub-section (3), not so as to enhance the same;

(c) in an appeal from any other order, alter or reverse such order;

(d) make any amendment or any consequential or incidental order that may be just or proper.

(2) Nothing herein contained shall authorize the Court to alter or reverse the verdict of a jury, unless it is of opinion that such verdict is erroneous owing to a misdirection by the Judge, or to a misunderstanding on the part of the jury of the law as laid down by him.

Scope.—This section does not authorize an Appellate Court to order the re-trial of an appellant with reference to a matter extraneous to the proceedings before him as an Appellate Court. Col. Dig. Cr. 26 of 1875. The words "Court of competent jurisdiction subordinate to such Appellate Court" in this section do not appear to exclude the power of such latter Court to order a new trial before itself. 2 Weir 281. Under this section, the Appellate Court can, in an appeal from conviction, alter the finding of the lower Court and find the appellant guilty of any offence of which he may have been acquitted by that Court, but not enhance it. 23 C. 975. The addition of a sentence of whipping by the Appellate Court, although the sentence of imprisonment is reduced, amounts to an enhancement of the sentence. 2 Weir, 487. The Appellate Court has power under this section to alter the conviction from one under s. 333 I. P. C. to one under s. 183. 1912 M. W. N. 1110=19 Ind. Cas. 335=14 Cr. L. J. 239. Clause (d) empowers the High Court as a Court of appeal to exercise the powers conferred by s. 562 24 A. 306. Sub-section (2) only applies if it becomes necessary to consider whether the verdict of the jury was erroneous owing to the misdirection by the Judge. It does not narrow down s. 418 which allows an appeal in a jury trial on a question of law. 95 Ind. Cas. 393=27 Cr. L. J. 793=A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 193. A Sessions Judge who sets aside a verdict of the jury and orders a re-trial must not direct the re-trial before himself, for it is contrary to the provisions of s. 423 (8) (b). 24 A. L. 425. (1) Whenever a case is decided on appeal by the High Court under this Chapter, it shall certify its judgment or order to the Court by which the finding, sentence or order appealed against was recorded or passed.

Order by High Court on appeal to be certified to lower Court.

If the finding, sentence or order was recorded or passed by a Magistrate other than the District Magistrate, the certificate, shall be sent through the District Magistrate.

(2) The Court to which the High Court certifies its judgment or orders shall thereupon make such orders as are conformable to the judgment or order of the High Court; and, if necessary, the record shall be amended in accordance therewith.

426. (1) Pending any appeal by a convicted person, the Appellate Court may, for reasons to be recorded by it in writing, order that the execution of the sentence or order appealed against be suspended and, also, if he is in confinement, that he be released on bail or on his own bond.
Suspension of sentence pending appeal. Release of appellant on bail.

(2) The power conferred by this section on an Appellate Court may be exercised also by the High Court in the case of any appeal by a convicted person to a Court subordinate thereto.

(3) When the appellant is ultimately sentenced to imprisonment, penal servitude or transportation, the time during which he is so released shall be excluded in computing the term for which he is so sentenced.

Notes.—The only Courts which have power to suspend the execution of a sentence or order, are the Court to which an appeal has and the High Court. 2 Weir 536. Mere previous respectability of a man is per se no sufficient ground for granting bail when he has been convicted of an offence. 427. When an appeal is presented under section 417, the High Court may issue a warrant directing that the accused be arrested and brought before it or any subordinate Court, and the Court before which he is brought may commit him to prison pending the disposal of the appeal, or admit him to bail.

428. (1) In dealing with any appeal under this chapter, the Appellate Court, if it thinks additional evidence to be necessary, shall record its reason, and may either take such evidence itself, or direct it to be taken by a Magistrate, or, when the Appellate Court is a High Court, by a Court of Session or a Magistrate.

(2) When the additional evidence is taken by the Court of Session or the Magistrate, it or he shall certify such evidence to the Appellate Court, and such Court shall thereupon proceed to dispose of the appeal.

(3) Unless the Appellate Court otherwise directs, the accused or his pleader shall be present when the additional evidence is taken; but such evidence shall not be taken in the presence of jurors or assessors.

(4) The taking of evidence under this section shall be subjected to the provisions of Chapter XXV, as if it were an inquiry.

Notes.—A Court of criminal appeal can take additional evidence at any time, only it must record its reason for so doing. 8 M. L. T. 418=8 Ind. Cas. 145=1910 M. W. N. 419. CHAPTER XXXII.

OF REFERENCE AND REVISION.

432. A Presidency Magistrate may, if he thinks fit, refer for the opinion of the High Court any question of law which arises in the hearing of any case pending before him, or may give judgment in any such case subject to the decision of the High Court on such reference, and pending such decision may either commit the accused to jail or release him on bail to appear for judgment when called upon.

Notes.—A reference is to be made by a Presidency Magistrate. 1 Bom. L. R. 52. The reference must be on a point of law only. 33 C. 103. Rat. Un. Cr. C. 539 ; 838. The High Court should not express any opinion except on reference. 9 Cr. L. J. 248 ; 1 S. L. R. Cr. 4. In reference the sentence can be enhanced. 93 Ind. Cas. 1053 ; 27 Cr. L. J. 537. Orders passed on reference are conclusive. 1890 A. W. N. 225. A District Magistrate has no power to refer a case to High Court. A. I. R. 1928 Sind. 69=22 S. L. R. 201. Reference by Presidency Magistrate under this section is confined to question of law necessary to dispose of cases before him. 50 C. L. J. 408=34 C. W. N. 13 (F. B.) Presidency Magistrate cannot refer a point of law which is covered by authority. 31 Bom. L. R. 1349=54 B. 146=31 Cr. L. J. 633.

433. (1) When a question has been so referred, the High Court shall pass such order thereon as it thinks fit, and shall cause a copy of such order to be sent to the Magistrate by whom the reference was made, who shall dispose of the case conformably to the said order.

Disposal of case according to decision of High Court.

(2) The High Court may direct by whom the costs of such reference shall be paid.

434. (1) When any person has, in a trial before a High Court consisting of more Judges than one and acting in the exercise of its original criminal jurisdiction, been convicted of an offence, the Judge, if he thinks fit, may reserve and refer for the decision of a Court consisting of two or more Judges of such Court any question of law which has arisen in the course of the trial of such person, and the determination of which would affect the event of the trial.

(2) If the Judge reserves any such question, the person convicted shall, pending the decision thereon, be remanded to jail, or, if the Judge thinks fit, be admitted to bail ; and the High Court shall have power to review the case or such part of it as may be necessary, and finally determine such question, and thereupon to alter the sentence passed by the Court of original jurisdiction, and to pass such judgment or order as the High Court thinks fit.

Notes.—The power which the High Court exercises under this section is that of review, and the Court is a Court of reference and revision. 8 B. 200. The High Court can review the whole case, vide 9 B. H. C. R. 358 ; 1 C. 207 ; 4 C. W. N. 433. A reference is allowable only on a point of law. 28 C. 211. The Counsel of the accused cannot ask the Court to reserve points. 22 B. 112. It is discretionary with the Judge. 10 B. H. C. R. 75. The power of a single Judge is controlled by this section. 9 C. L. J. 306 ; 9 Cr. L. J. 378. A High Court can refer under this section while trying a sessions case. 28 Cr. L. J. 213=99 Ind. Cas. 1013. But the point of law must arise in the course of the trial. 28 C. 111.

435. (1) The High Court or any Sessions Judge or District Magistrate or any Sub-divisional Magistrate empowered by the Local Government in this behalf, may call for and may examine the record of any proceeding, Power to call for records of inferior Courts, before any inferior Criminal Court situate within the local limits of its or his jurisdiction for the purpose of satisfying itself or himself as to the correctness, legality or propriety of any finding, sentence or order recorded or passed, and as to the regularity of any proceedings of such inferior Court,* [and may, when calling for such record, direct that the execution of any sentence be suspended and, if the accused is in confinement, that he be released on bail or on his own bond pending the examination of the record.]

† [Explanation—All Magistrates whether exercising original or appellate jurisdiction, shall be deemed to be inferior to the Sessions Judge for the purposes of this sub-section and of section 437.]

(2) If any Sub-divisional Magistrate acting under sub-section (1) considers that any such finding, sentence or order is illegal or improper or that any such proceedings are irregular, he shall forward the record, with such remarks thereon as he thinks fit, to the District Magistrate. ‡

(4) If an application under this section has been made either to the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate, no further application shall be entertained by the either of them.

Scope of the section—The wordings of this section are very general. So the High Court can interfere under this section with any order passed without jurisdiction, even where there is no provision for appeal or revision. Vide, 15 C. 608; 20 B. 543; 10 Cr. L. J. 233; 2 S. L. R. 20; 31 M. 133. Such examination is allowable in cases of finding of facts as well as finding of law. 10 B. 131; 12 B. 377; 14 B. 331; 28 B. 479; A. W. N. 1899, 135. Power to order inquiry. High Court or the Sessions Judge may direct the District Magistrate by himself or by any of the Magistrate subordinate to him to make, and the District Magistrate may himself make or direct any Subordinate Magistrate to make further enquiry into any complaint which has been dismissed under section 203 or subsection (3) of section 204, or into the case of any †[person accused of an offence] who has been discharged.

‡ [Provided that no Court shall make any direction under this section for inquiry into the case of any person who has been discharged unless such person has had an opportunity of showing cause why such direction should not be made.]

Scope.—This section contemplates a case where a Superior Court thinks that a further enquiry should be made into any complaint which has been dismissed, or into the case of an accused person who has been discharged. 1 C. W. N. 65. Under this section the Sessions Judge has no power to order re-opening of the proceedings merely because in his opinion the Subordinate Magistrate failed rightly to appreciate the credit due to the witnesses. 12 C. 522. The section is the only law which authorizes a Magistrate to re-open the proceedings in which a person has been released. 6 C. W. N. 163. It is competent to the High Court under this section to direct a further enquiry into a complaint which has been dismissed under s. 203, 14 P. R. 1891 Cr. Before setting aside an order of discharge notice should ordinarily be given to the accused to show cause why the order should not be set aside. 101 P. I. R. 1902; see also 17 P. Where the Sessions Judge passed order under this section, the District Magistrate will not be justified in passing orders of an exactly opposite kind in the same matter. 12 A. 434=A. W. N. 1890, 99. Where a complaint has been summarily dismissed without notice to the party complained against there is no discharge within the meaning of this section and further inquiry can be ordered without giving notice to him. 47 A. 722. The present section contains the words "any person accused of an offence" instead of "any accused person" and hence does not include persons against whom proceedings were taken under Chapter VIII. 2 Bur. Section 436, Cr. Pr. Code does not limit at all grounds on which further enquiry is to be ordered. Discharge whether upon or after hearing all prosecution evidence is not an acquittal so as to bar further trial, for the same offence under s. 403 and 436 empowers the Magistrate to order further enquiry when he thinks that a prima facie case has been made out against the accused. An order of discharge should only be set aside very sparingly and wrongly when it can be said either to be perverse or prima facie incorrect when there is a suggestion that any further evidence may be both coming. A. I. R. 1934 All. 944=1934 Cr. C. 1256. In order directing further enquiry, Judge ought to give reasons for such order. A. I. R. 1934 All. 51=56 A. 285=35 Cr. L. J. 418=1934 A. L. J. 69=A. L. *[437]. When, on examining the record of any case under section 435 or otherwise, the Session Judge or District Magistrate considers that such case is triable exclusively by the Court of Session and that an accused person has been improperly discharged by the inferior Court, the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate may cause him to be arrested, and may thereupon, instead of directing a fresh inquiry, order him to be committed for trial upon the matter of which he has been, in the opinion of the Sessions Judge or District Magistrate, improperly discharged :

Provided as follows :—

- (a) that the accused has had an opportunity of showing cause to such Judge or Magistrate why the commitment should not be made ;
- (b) that, if such Judge or Magistrate thinks that the evidence shows that some other offence has been committed by the accused, such Judge or Magistrate may direct the inferior Court to inquire into such offence.

Scope.—This section gives the fullest discretion to a District Magistrate or a Sessions Judge to order a commitment where he considers that an accused person has been improperly discharged. 26 A. 564=A. W. N. 1904, 125=1 A. L. J. 292=1 Cr. L. J. 510. Both the Sessions Judge and the District Magistrate can order a commitment under this section. 28 C. 397 ; Rat. Un. Cr. C. 837. A case does not come within the purview of this section merely because in the opinion of the District Magistrate the offence alleged to have been committed could not be adequately punished by a Magistrate. A. W. N. 1908, 89=8 Cr. L. J. 47. It is an essential condition precedent to a valid order under this section that the accused should have an opportunity of showing cause against his commitment. A. W. N. 1888, 236. The discretion given to the Sessions Judge under this section is very wide, and when in the exercise of that discretion, he commits the accused to the Sessions, the High Court should be slow to interfere. 13 A. L. J. 111=16 Cr. L. J. 139=27 Ind. Cas. 203.

The High Court can revise an order of commitment on points of fact as well as on questions of law. 81 Ind. Cas. 913=25 Cr. L. J. 1089. The High Court has to weigh both the opinions and consider the entire evidence on the record just as it would consider in any criminal matter coming before it for decision. 25 Cr. L. J. 785=1924 Oudh. 314. The High Court can interfere in revision with wrong inference, even of fact, from proved facts. 25 Cr. L. J. 1073=81 Ind. Cas. 897=1925 Nag. 123. Under this section the Sessions Judge has jurisdiction to commit an accused for trial in the Sessions Court if he is of opinion that the case against the accused is triable exclusively by the Court of Session, or it is intimately connected with a charge exclusively triable by the Sessions Court and forms part of the same transaction. 53 C. 645=97 Ind. Cas. 659=27 Cr. L. J. 1139. An order of the Sessions Judge in the exercise of his revisional jurisdiction under this section cannot form the subject-matter of a reference to the High Court at the instance of the Magistrate whose order has been interfered with. 49 A. 443=25 A. L. J. 191=28 Cr. L. J. 281. Competency of trial Court to try a case does not affect powers of Sessions Judge under s. 423. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 128=34 Cr. L. J. 640=1933 Cr. C. 242.

Grounds of interference.—Discharge cannot be set aside unless it is perverse and not merely wrong. 6 P. L. T. 570=26 Cr. L. J. 886=86 Ind. Cas. 822 ; see also 22 Cr. L. J. 199=3 Lah. L. J. 97=60 Ind. Cas. 55.

Notice.—Notice to show cause should be given before order to the prejudice of accused is passed. 15 P. L. J. 627 ; see also 17 P. L. R. 1919 ; 49 M. L. J. 155=48 M. 874=26 Cr. L. J. 1573=90 Ind. Cas. 609 ; 19 Cr. L. J. 399=44 Ind. Cas. 751.

Order of discharge.—“Discharged” means also partially discharged e.g., not charged with offence exclusively triable by Sessions. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 164=13 Lah. 138=P. L. R. 1934 Lah. 513. When an accused is discharged after framing of charge it virtually tantamounts to an acquittal. 150 Ind. Cas. 852=35 Cr. L. J. 1151=A. I. R. 1934 Oudh. 327. The District Magistrate has no jurisdiction to take action under this section when no irregularity or illegality has been committed by the discharging Magistrate. Ibid. Proceedings under this section can be taken against implied order of discharge by Magistrate. A. I. R. 1934 All. 141=1934 P. L. J. 478=35 Cr. L. J. 865=56 A. 529. In case of commitment order passed by District Magistrate under s. 437, High Court will not interfere if there is some evidence to go to the jury. A. I. R. 1934 Sind. 27=35 Cr. L. J. 884=1934 Cr. C. 225. An offence under section 304A I. P. Code is an offence triable by a Court of Session as well as by a Magistrate of the first class, as such the District Magistrate has no jurisdiction to order a further enquiry under s. 437. 35 Cr. L. J. 1151=11 O. W. N. 818=A. I. R. 1934 Oudh. 327. Order of discharge should not be lightly set aside in revision. 35 Bom. L. R. 245=34 Cr. L. J. 564=57 B. 430=A. I. R. 1933 Bom. 158; see also A. I. R. 1933 All. 482=1933 A. L. R. 1931 Lah. 185. Where accused is charged under s. 366, Penal Code and prosecution evidence discloses offence under s. 376 and the application to amend discharge is rejected, the order amounts to a discharge under s. 376 and can be revised. 137 Ind. Cas. 904=15 N. L. J. 26=33 Cr. L. J. 558=A. I. R. 1932 Nag. 85. Where person was committed to Sessions Court for offence under s. 201 I. P. Code but on subsequent examination of witnesses under s. 219, Cr. Pro. Code by committing Magistrate, Sessions Judge, added charge under s. 302 I. P. Code, on the basis of such evidence, such charge must be quashed. 34 Cr. L. J. 278=65 M. L. J. 6=A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 247. In case of discharge of accused by Magistrate, Sessions Judge's power to set aside discharge order is not limited to cases where order is perverse or manifestly contrary to evidence, but he can do so even on ground that he disagrees with appreciation of evidence by Magistrate. A. I. R. 1935 Bom. 137 (F. B.)=37 Bom. L. R. 16; see also A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 52.

438. (1) The Sessions Judge or District Magistrate may, if he thinks fit on examining under section 435 or otherwise the Report to High Court. record of any proceeding, report for the orders of the High Court the result of such examination, and, when such report contains a recommendation that a sentence be reversed or altered, may order that the execution of such sentence be suspended, and, if the accused is in confinement, that he be released on bail or on his own bond.

(2) An Additional Sessions Judge shall have and may exercise all the powers of a Sessions Judge under this Chapter in respect of any case which may be transferred to him* (by or under any general or special order of the Sessions Judge.)

Notes—This section enables a District Magistrate to report to the High Court for orders the proceedings of any inferior Criminal Court whose records he has examined under s. 435; but the law gives him no power to criticise or refer the proceedings of a Court superior to his own, e. g., the Sessions Court. 2 Weir; 565 Weir. 500; Rat. (1) In the case of any proceeding the record of which has been called for by itself or which has been reported for orders, or which otherwise comes to its knowledge, the High Court may, in its discretion, exercise any of the powers conferred on a Court of Appeal by sections*†, 423, 426, 427, 428 and or on a Court by section 338, and may enhance the sentence; and when the Judges composing the Court of Revision are equally divided in opinion, the case shall be disposed of in manner provided by section 429.

(2) No order under this section shall be made to the prejudice of the accused unless he has had an opportunity of being heard either personally or by pleader in his own defence.

(3) Where the sentence dealt with under this section has been passed by a Magistrate acting otherwise than under section 34, the Court shall not inflict a greater punishment for the offence which, in the opinion of such Court the accused has committed, than might have been inflicted for such offence by a Presidency Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class.

(4) Nothing in this section applies to an entry made under section 273, or shall be deemed to authorize a High Court to convert a finding of acquittal into one of conviction.

(5) Where under this Code an appeal lies and no appeal is brought, no proceedings by way of revision shall be entertained at the instance of the party who could have appealed.

[(6) Notwithstanding anything contained in this section, any convicted person to whom an opportunity has been given under sub-section (2) of showing cause why his sentence should not be enhanced shall, in showing cause, be entitled also to show cause against his conviction.]

Powers of High Court.—The revisional powers though wide are purely discretionary and must be exercised to further ends of justice. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 145=1931 Cr. C. 257=131 Ind. Cas. 353. High Court is to satisfy itself as to correctness, legality or property of order of lower Court and to pass such orders as may be necessary. Defective judgment.—Judgment vitiated by confusion and wrong view of facts cannot be upheld. 30 Cr. L. J. 1160=A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 443=120 Ind. Cas. 69. Where there were several accused charged with different offences and sufficient materials were wanting in the judgment to enable the High Court to decide as to the correctness of the sentence, as against each accused the judgment was set-aside. 18 Cr. L. J. 294=20 C. W. N. 1296=38 Ind. Cas. 326. As the High Court in revision depends on the lower Appellate Court for findings of fact those Courts must give full analysis of evidence and clear findings. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 1051=120 Ind. Cas. 276.

Conviction.—The High Court in revision can set-aside conviction after consideration of the evidence on the record. 17 Cr. L. J. 460=36 Ind. Cas. 140. Where there has been a conviction and a substantial punishment, the High Court does not usually interfere in revision. 6 Ber L. J. 81=28 Cr. L. J. 757=A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 240=103 Ind. Cas. 837. It is not fair in revision to alter conviction under one Act to one under another Act. A. I. R. 1931 All. 17=1930 A. L. J. 1467=1931 Cr. C. 33=130 Ind. Cas. 626. The High Court in its revisional power can alter the finding under s. 323 I. P. Code to one under s. 325 of the same Code. 21 Cr. L. J. 647=57 Ind. Cas. 663. Loss of record cannot be a ground for acquitting the accused in revision and a retrial can be ordered. 18 Cr. L. J. 737=40 Ind. Cas. 737. A conviction though not technically correct, should not be interfered with if it does substantial justice. 30 P. W. R. Cr. 1916=17 Cr. L. J. 474=37 P. L. R. 1917=36 Ind. Cas. 154. Revision does not lie where an appeal could have been preferred. A. I. R. 1930. Oudh. 497=1930 Cr. C. 1161=120 Ind. Cas. 221. Conviction recorded under repealed Act is not a vital error if accused is guilty of an Act in force. 10 O. L. J. 208=25 Cr. L. J. 336=A. I. R. 1924 Oudh. 32=77 Ind. Cas. 192. Before an order of discharge or acquittal can be set aside, it must be proved that it is clearly wrong. 29 Cr. L. J. 895=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 178=111 Ind. Cas. 575. When an order of discharge was challenged on the ground that s. 539 B. was not complied with, but it has really obeyed, the High Court declined to interfere. 28 Cr. L. J. 280=A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 397=89 Ind. Cas. 852. When offence committed was found to be technical one, no further enquiry was ordered. A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 434=1933 Cr. C. 662=146 Ind. Cas. 195. Order of discharge though incorrect cannot be set aside by complainant on revision. A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 323=34 Cr. L. J. 718=34 P. L. R. 860.

Enhancement of sentence.—The High Court will not proprio motu more in the matter of enhancement. 18 N. L. R. 901=A. I. R. 1922 Nag. 65=64 Ind. Cas. 277. High Court will not ordinarily enhance sentence save when it is manifestly inadequate. That it would itself pass a heavier sentence is no sufficient ground for enhancement. 12 O. L. J. 421=2 O. W. The mere fact that the High Court itself would, if it had tried the case, have passed a heavier sentence than that passed by the trial Court is no reason for enhancement. 35 P. L. R. 527=A. I. Reduction of sentence.—In reducing sentence the High Court should be satisfied that sentence is so unreasonable and so excessive as to require a reduction before it can interfere in revision. A. I. R. 1930 Sind. 58=31 Cr. L. J. 763=125 Ind. Cas. 46; see also 1929 P. L. J. 385=30 Cr. L. J. 670=A. I. R. 1929 All. 220; 2 Luck. 673=A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 596=103 Ind. Cas. 401; A. I. Limitation.—Article 182, has no application to revision application to High Court. 7 O. W. N. 663=31 Cr. L. J. 1012=126 Ind. Cas. 395. High Court can in a proper case interfere with revision application though presented after more than two months. 1933 Cr. L. 1363=A. I. R. 1933 Pat. 601; see also A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 264=35 Cr. L. Application for criminal revision according to the practice of the Calcutta High Court should be made within 60 days plus the period of obtaining copies. It can be extended in special circumstances. 43 C. 1029=17 Cr. L. J. 419=20 C. W. N. 1170=35 Ind. Cas. 979; see also 18 Cr. L. J. 694=25 L. L. J. 564=40 Ind. Cas. 694; 54 C. 394=28 Cr. L. J. 639=A. According to the practice of Oudh Chief Court admission or non-admission of revision application is entirely discretionary, but Court should not as a matter of practice admit them unless they are made with a reasonable time which would appear to be time granted by statute for admitting appeals, 7 O. W. N. 663=A. I. R. 1930 Oudh. 401=21 Cr. L. J. 1012=126 Ind. Cas. 395; see also 49 A. 228=25 A. L. J. 44=A. I. R. 1926 All. 767.

Notice.—Under s. 439 no order can be made against the accused without giving him an opportunity of being heard and the fact that hearing was given before making reference is not sufficient compliance with s. 439. 19 Cr. L. J. 70=22 C. W. N. 168=36 Ind. Cas. 157; see also A. I. R. 1933 Lah. 433=1933 Cr. C. 674=34 Cr. L. J. 371; 47 M. 428=26 Cr. L. J. 370=A. I. R. 1924 Mad. 640=46 M. L. J. 456=84 Ind. Cas. 850. Cas. 113.

Optional with Court to hear parties.

440. No party has any right to be heard either personally or by pleader before any Court when exercising its powers of revision:

Provided that the Court may, if it thinks fit, when exercising such powers, hear any party either personally or by pleader, and that nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect section 439, sub-section (2).

Notes.—No party has any right to be heard. 26 Cr. L. J. 527; 10 C. L. J. 80; 85 I. C. 367; 23 M. L. J. 371. Calcutta and Allahabad High Courts hear counsel generally. 19 C. 380; 11 C. W. N. 316; 25 A. L. J. 1010. But the Madras High Court does not. 14 M. 363. No party has right to be heard in revision under this section. 26 Cr. L. J. 527=A. I. R. 1925 Oudh. 558=85 Ind. Cas. 367; see also 31 Bom. L. R. 1144=A. I. R. 1929 Bom. 543.

441. When the record of any proceeding of any Presidency Magistrate is called for by the High Court under section 435, the Magistrate may submit with the record a statement setting forth the grounds of his decision or order and any facts which he thinks material to the issue, and the Court shall consider such statement before overruling or setting aside the said decision or order.

Notes.—This section is not intended to enable Presidency Magistrate to give fresh reasons contradictory to their original reasons but to give reasons where there were no reasons at all. 1929 M. W. N. 893=31 Cr. L. J. 466=A. I. R. 1930 Mad. 225=122 Ind. Cas. 800.

442. When a case is revised under this Chapter by the High Court, it shall, in manner hereinbefore provided by section 425, certify its decision or order to the Court by which the finding, sentence or order revised was recorded or passed, and the Court or Magistrate to which the decision or order is so certified shall thereupon make such orders as are conformable to the decision so certified; and, if necessary, the record shall be amended in accordance therewith.

Application of the section.—Vide, 4 P. R. 1909.

Notes.—Although the High Court has power to interfere in revision, with an original or appellate judgment of acquittal, it will not ordinarily do so. 27 A. 359=A. W. N. 1904, 278; 15 B. 349. The power under this section ought to be exercised with great care, and with regard to pending trials, only in most exceptional cases. 2 A. L. J. 673=A. W. N. 1905; 238=2 Cr. L. J. 790. Under this section, the High Court is not incompetent to interfere in revision as well as to interfere on appeal. 2 Weir. 573. The High Court, in revision, has power of ordering a re-trial, though it may not convert a finding of acquittal into one of conviction. L. B. R. (1893—1900), 41. Although the High Court does not ordinarily interfere with orders of acquittal in revision, yet it cannot be expected that it would hesitate to do so where the acquittal is based, not upon an appreciation of doubtful evidence, but upon a manifest error in law appearing on the face of the judgment. 9 Bom. L. R. 156=5 Cr. L. J. 171. Under this section the High Court is empowered to exercise any of the powers given to a Court of appeal under section 423 (c). 2 Weir 575 (F. B.)=2 Weir. 634.

Under this section, although it is not usual for the High Court to interfere with the decision of the lower Court, when the decision is based upon a consideration of the evidence, yet, if the lower Court has not valued the testimony of accomplices as it ought to be, and has admitted improperly hearsay evidence on important points, the High Court is justified in going into the facts of the case in exercise of its revisional powers. 2 C. W. N. 672. The High Court has no power under this section to interfere with an order made by a Civil Court under s. 476 Cr. Procedure Code. 17 M. L. T. 268=16 Cr. L. J. 232=27 Ind. Cas. 904; 14 Cr. L. J. 466=20 Ind. Cas. 752=7 L. B. R. 76; 26 M. 98; 31 A. 38; 9 Cr. L. J. 24; 40 C. 477; 16 Cr. L. J. 232; contra 27 Cr. L. J. 1021; 92 Ind. Cas. 454; 14 Cr. L. J. 496; 5 P. R. 1908; 23 A. 249; 20 Ind. Cas. 752.

On hearing a revision the High Court could hear a private complaint in the case of an offence under ss. 500 and 501, I. P. Code. 50 C. 159=71 Ind. Cas. 670. The High Court's power of interference in revision with findings of fact is one that should be sparingly used. 1923 Oudh. 8. Ordinarily the High Court would, in revision, go behind the concurrent findings on the Courts below on a question of fact. 72 Ind. Cas. 892.

This section does not authorise the High Court to direct a subordinate Court to refrain from trying an accused against whom process has been issued by such Court. 2 Pat. 257=74 Ind. Cas. 713=24 Cr. L. J. 809.

The High Court has power under this section to interfere with an order of acquittal, but in practice it is largely restricted to cases which have not been tried out ordinarily. It can interfere only in cases where it is urgently demanded in the interests of public justice. 25 Cr. L. J. 1266=82 Ind. Cas. 274; 1924 Mad. 837. As a matter of practice the High Court will not entertain a revision application for enhancement of a sentence at the instance of a private complainant. 48 B. 358=26 Bom. L. R. 165 Cr. Clause (b) is intended to give a person who has been brought to the bar of the High Court to show cause against enhancement of sentence, the right of showing by argument a fortiori not only that the sentence should not be enhanced but that the conviction should be set aside. 86 Ind. Cas. 469=29 Cr. L. J. 821.

PART VIII.

SPECIAL PROCEEDINGS.

*[CHAPTER XXXIII.]

SPECIAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO CASES IN WHICH EUROPEAN AND INDIAN BRITISH SUBJECTS ARE CONCERNED.

443. (1) Where, in the course of the trial outside a Presidency-town of any offence punishable with imprisonment, the accused person, at any time before he is committed for trial under section 213 or is asked to show cause under section 242 or enters on his defence under section 256, as the case may be, claims that the case ought to be tried under the provisions of this Chapter, the Magistrate inquiring into or trying the case after making such inquiry as he thinks necessary and after allowing the accused person reasonable time within which to adduce evidence in support of his claim, shall, if he is satisfied—

- (a) that the complainant and the accused person of any of them are respectively European and Indian British subjects or Indian and European British subjects, or
- (b) that in view of the connection with the case of both an European British subject or an Indian British subject, it is expedient for ends of justice that the case should be tried under the provisions of this chapter, record a finding that the case is a case which ought to be tried under the provisions of this Chapter or, if he is not so satisfied, record a finding that it is not such a case.

(2) Where the Magistrate rejects the claim, the person by whom it was made may appeal to the Sessions Judge, and the decision of the Sessions Judge thereon shall be final and shall not be questioned in any Court in appeal or revision.

(3) Where the Magistrate rejects the claim, he shall stay the proceedings until the expiration of the period allowed for the presentation of the appeal or, if an appeal is presented, until it has been decided.

A claim to be dealt with as an European British subject or an Indian British subject or an European not being an European British subject or an American, which is dealt with in Chapter XLIVA of the Criminal Procedure Code, the claimant has to prove his own status. If the claim is based on section 443 (1) (a), the claimant will have to prove that complainant and the accused persons or any of them are respectively European and Indian British subject or Indian and European British subjects. 40 C. 444. For the purposes of section 443, "complainant" means any person making a complaint or, in relation to any case of which cognizance is taken under clause (b) of section 190, sub-section (1) any person who has given information relating to the commission of the offence within the meaning of section 154 :

Provided that a Public prosecutor, a public servant, a member, officer or servant of any local authority, a railway servant as defined in section 3 of the India Railways Act, 1890,* or an officer or servant of any company, association or other body to which the Local Government may, by general or special order published in the local official Gazette, declare the provisions of this section to apply, shall not, by reason only of the fact that he has made a complaint of, or, given information of, an offence in his capacity as such Public Prosecutor, public servant, railway servant, member, officer or servant, be deemed to be so a complainant within the meaning of this section nor shall a police officer be deemed by reason only of the fact that a report under section 173, relating to a case has been made by or through him.

Notes—Clause (1) lays down as a general proposition as to who is a complainant and the proviso is intended to exclude generally from the application of the definition public prosecutors, public servants, etc., who make complaints or lodge information before the Police in their official capacity as such public prosecutors or public servants, etc., irrespective of whether or not they have personal knowledge of the facts or a personal interest in the case. 27 Cr. (1) Where a Magistrate or a Sessions Judge decides under section 443 that a case ought to be tried under the Procedure in summons cases. provisions of this Chapter and the case is a summons-case, the Magistrate trying the same, shall direct that the case be referred to a Bench of two Magistrates and shall send a copy of such order to the District Magistrate who shall forthwith provide for the constitution of a Bench of two Magistrates of the first class, of whom one shall be an European and other an Indian, for the trial of the case.

(2) Where the Magistrate constituting the Bench by which a case is tried under this section differ in opinion, the case, together with their opinions thereon, shall be laid before Sessions Judge, who may examine any party or re-call and examine any witness who has already given evidence in the case, and may call for and take any further evidence, and shall thereafter pass such judgment, sentence or order in the case as he thinks fit and is as according to law.

(3) Any person convicted by a Bench under this section shall have the same right of appeal as if he had been convicted by a Magistrate of the first class, and any person convicted by a Sessions Judge under sub-section (2) shall have the same right of appeal to the High Court as if he had been convicted by the Sessions Judge at a trial held by the Sessions Judge under this Code.

(4) In any case in which it is impracticable to constitute a Bench in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1) in any district, the District Magistrate shall transfer the case for trial by a like Bench to such other district as the High Court may, by general or special order, direct.

(5) Notwithstanding anything contained in this section, the Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, direct that all summons-cases tried under the provisions of this Chapter in any district specified in the notification shall be tried as if they were warrant cases in accordance with the provisions hereafter in this Chapter laid down for the trial of warrant-cases.

446. (1) Where a Magistrate or a Sessions Judge decides under section 443 that a case ought to be tried under the Procedure in warrant-cases. provisions of this Chapter and the case is a warrant-case, the Magistrate inquiring into or trying the case shall, if he does not discharge the accused under section 209 or section 253, as the case may be, commit the case for trial to the Court of Session whether the case is or is not exclusively triable by that Court.

(2) Where an accused is committed to the Court of Session under sub-section (1), the Court shall proceed to try the case as if the accused had required to be tried in accordance with the provisions of section 275, and the provisions of that section and the other provisions of Chapter XXIII, so far as they are applicable, shall apply accordingly.

Provided that where the trial before the Court of Session would in the ordinary course be with the aid of assessors, and the accused, or all of them jointly, require to be tried in accordance with the provisions of section 284A, the trial shall be held with the aid of assessors all of whom shall, in the case of European British subjects, be persons who are Europeans or Americans or, in the case of Indian British subjects, be Indians.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

LUNATICS.

464. (1) When a Magistrate holding an inquiry or a trial has reason to believe that the accused is of unsound mind and consequently incapable of making his defence, the Magistrate shall inquire into the fact of such unsoundness, and shall cause such person, to be examined by the Civil Surgeon of the district or such other medical officer as the Local Government directs, and thereupon shall examine such Surgeon or other officer as a witness, and shall reduce the examination to writing.

†[(1A) Pending such examination and inquiry, the Magistrate may deal with the accused in accordance with the provisions of section 465.]

(2) If such Magistrate is of opinion that the accused is of unsound mind and consequently incapable of making his defence, he ‡[shall record a finding to that effect and] shall postpone further proceedings in the case.

Notes.—Where the Magistrate is of opinion that the accused is of unsound mind and therefore incapable of making his defence he cannot legally acquit him. But he is bound to postpone further proceedings in the case and either release him on bail or report the case to Government. 2 Weir, 581; see also A. W. N. 1900. 47; U. B. R. (1892—96) 150; 15 A. L. 465. (1) If any person committed for trial before a Court of Session or a High Court appears to the Court at his trial to be of unsound mind and consequently incapable of making his defence, the jury or the Court with the aid of assessors, shall, in the first instance, try the fact of such unsoundness and incapacity,* [and if the jury or Court, as the case may be, is satisfied of the fact, the Judge shall record a finding to that effect, and shall postpone further proceedings in the case and the jury, if any, shall be discharged.]

(2) The trial of the fact of the unsoundness of mind and incapacity of the accused shall be deemed to be part of his trial before the Court.

Notes.—The provisions of this section are mandatory and the fact that the committing Magistrate acted correctly under s. 464 does not absolve the Sessions Judge from following the procedure laid down by this section when his mind is not free from doubt as to the accused's mental state, 7 Lah. 315=27 P. 466. (1) Whenever an accused person is found to be of unsound mind and incapable of making his defence, the Magistrate or Court, as the case may be,† [whether the case is one in which bail may be taken or not], may release him on sufficient security being given that he shall be properly taken care of and shall be prevented from doing injury to himself or to any other person, and for his appearance when required before the Magistrate or Court or such officer as the Magistrate or Court appoints in this behalf.

‡[(2) If the case is one in which, in the opinion of the Magistrate or Court, bail should not be taken, or if sufficient security is not given, the Magistrate or Court, as the case may be, shall order the accused to be detained in safe custody in such place and manner as he or it may think fit, and shall report the action taken to the Local Government :

Provided that no order for the detention of the accused in a lunatic asylum shall be made otherwise than in accordance with such rules as the Local Government may have made under the Indian Lunacy Act, 1912.‡

order such person to be delivered to such relative or friend.

(2) If the person so delivered is accused of any offence the trial of which has been postponed by reason of his being of unsound mind and incapable of making his defence, and the inspecting officer referred to in sub-section (1), clause (b), certifies at any time to the Magistrate or Court that such person is capable of making his defence, such Magistrate or Court shall call upon the relative or friend to whom such accused was delivered to produce him before the Magistrate or Court; and, upon such production, the Magistrate or Court shall proceed in accordance with the provisions of section 468, and the certificate of the inspecting officer shall be receivable as evidence.]

CHAPTER XXXV.

PROCEEDINGS IN CASE OF CERTAIN OFFENCES AFFECTING THE ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE.

§[476. (1) When any Civil, Revenue or Criminal Court is, whether on application made to it in this behalf or otherwise, of opinion that it is expedient in the interests of justice that an inquiry should be made into any offence referred to in section 195, sub-section (1), clause (b) or clause (c), which appears to have been committed in or in relation to a proceeding in that Court, such Court may, after such preliminary inquiry, if any, as it thinks necessary, record a finding to that effect and make a complaint thereof in writing signed by the presiding officer of the Court, and shall forward the same to a Magistrate of the first class having jurisdiction, and may take sufficient security for the appearance of the accused before such Magistrate or, if the alleged offence is non-bailable, may, if it thinks necessary so to do, send the accused in custody to such Magistrate, and may bind over any person to appear and give evidence before such Magistrate :

*[Provided that, where the Court making the complaint is a High Court, the complaint may be signed by such officer of the Court as the Court may appoint.]

For the purposes of this sub-section, a † Presidency Magistrate shall be deemed to be a Magistrate of the first class.

(2) Such Magistrate shall thereupon proceed according to law and as if upon complaint made under section 200.

(3) Where it is brought to the notice of such Magistrate, or of any other Magistrate to whom the case may have been transferred, that an appeal is pending against the decision arrived at the judicial proceeding out of which the matter has arisen, he may, if he thinks fit, at any stage adjourn the hearing of the case until such appeal is decided.

Scope.—This section has application only by judicial proceedings. 26 Cr. L. J. 1044=87 Ind. Cas. 964. Section 476 is not cancelled by s. 339. 23 N. L. R. 35=28 Cr. L. J. 646=A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 189=103 Ind. Cas. 101. An order under s. 476, Cr. Pro. Code is not a complaint. The provisions of s. 195 (5) of the Cr. Pro. Code cannot apply to a case sent to a Magistrate under s. 476 Cr. Pro. Code for an order under the latter section is not a sanction. 20 Cr. L. J. 770=53 Ind. Cas. 610. Offence must be one which appears to have been committed in or in relation to a proceeding in the Court, which passes the order under s. 476. 22 A. L. J. 772=46 A. 851=25 Cr. L. J. 1277=A. I. Preliminary inquiry.—The enquiry is to be made by the Court itself. It must be compatible with the ordinary procedure of the Court in question. The judge can look at documents and take evidence but he cannot base his order on the police report. 35 C. W. N. 98=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 438=132 Ind. Cas. 241. It is true that under the provisions of s. 476 a preliminary inquiry is not legally necessary. Yet in common prudence, it should be held by every Court before it passes an order under s. 476. 51 C. Judicial proceeding.—Under the amended section, it is not essential that the proceeding in respect of which action is taken should be of a judicial character. 4 Pat. 24=6 P. L. T. 225=26 Cr. L. J. 170=A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 330=83 Ind. Cas. 730. As regards what proceedings are judicial, vide 31 C. W. N. 828=78 Cr. L. J. 783; 49 C. L. J. 193=30 Cr. L. J. 656=A. I. R. 1929 Cal. 203=116 Ind. Cas. 632. Since 1923 proceedings under this section are taken only by Court and not by private person. Private person may move the Court but it is Court that should decide for action. 31 P. L. R. 840=1930 Cr. C. 917=A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 873=127 Ind. Cas. 152. The power conferred by s. 476 can be exercised by the Court only in the course of the judicial proceeding or at its conclusion or so shortly thereafter as to make it really the continuation of the same proceedings in the course of which the offence was committed. 35 Cr. L. J. 908=11 O. W. N. 683=A. I. R. 1934 Oudh. 272.

Finding of expediency.—Express finding that in the interest of justice inquiry should be made into offence is essential. A. I. R. 1933 Cal. 147=1933 Cr. C. 224=144 Ind. Cas. 88; see also 58 C. 1117=53 C. L. J. 177=35 C. W. N. 400=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 190; A. I. R. 1933 Mad. 67=56 M. 157=33 Cr. L. J. 960=63 M. L. J. 670; A. I. R. 1933 Sind. 412. It is unnecessary that words "expedient in the interest of justice" should appear in the order under this section. It is sufficient if the Court is of such opinion. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 345=127 Ind. Cas. 859; see also 32 L. W. 513=59 M. L. J. 850; A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 190=53 C. L. J. 177=35 C. W. N. 400; 55 C. 1312=A. I. R. 1928 Cal. 862=30 Cr. L. J. 221=113 Ind. Cas. 142; but see A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 176=61 Ind. Cas. 842. Notice of the alleged offence place and time must be given to accused. If not, order will be set aside. 18 A. L. J. 381; 21 Cr. L. J. 400=55 Ind. Cas. 1008. Where a Court after a very careful consideration arrive at the conclusion that an order under s. 476 Cr. Pro. Code is called for, the omission to have a preliminary inquiry is a mere irregularity under s. 537 of the Code. 21 Cr. L. J. 276=55 Ind. Cas. 292. Where a plaintiff is called upon to show cause, he should be afforded every opportunity of adducing evidence in support of his claim and remove any doubt in the mind of the Court as to the falsity of the case. 21 Cr. L. J. 158 (Pat.)=54 Ind. Cas. 686. Court is not bound to issue notice before taking action under s. 476 though desirable to give it. A. I. R. 1935 Oudh 113.

Order against strangers.—A person who is not a party gets no protection from clause (c) of sub-section (1) of s. 195 and is not within the purview of s. 476 in respect of offences mentioned in clause (c). S. 476 can apply only to cases where by reason of a provision in the code, the Magistrate requires a complaint by a Court in order that he may take cognizance of the charge. 35 C. 98=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 438=132 Ind. Cas. 241. Section 476 is not restricted to the party making the complaint or actually before the Court, but is wide enough to include any person, who appears to have committed an offence mentioned in s. 195 (1) (b). It does not speak of a party to the proceeding. A. I. R. 1930 Cal. 515=31 Cr. L. J. 1055=126 Ind. Cas. 553; see also 29 Cr. L. J. 652=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 510. Order under s. 476 need not be set aside on ground of delay in all cases. A. I. R. 1935 Oudh. 113.

Expert evidence.—It is not always safe to order prosecutions when there is no other testimony than that of an expert. 26 Cr. L. J. 796=A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 358=86 Ind. Cas. 428; see also 21 A. L. J. 390=24 Cr. L. J. 900=A. I. R. 1923 All. 601=75 Ind. Cas. 148.

Pending proceedings.—A Court need not wait till the completion of the main case, to pass an order under s. 476. 21 S. L. R. 43=27 Cr. L. J. 1249=A. I. R. 1927 Sind. 89=98 Ind. Cas. 97; 31 M. L. J. 440=17 Cr. L. J. 515=36 Ind. Cas. 483. Proceedings for perjury against a witness should not be started till after the conclusion of the case in which the witness gives evidence. 26 Cr. L. Probability of conviction.—An order under section 476 should not be passed unless there is probability of conviction. 24 Cr. L. J. 823=A. I. R. 1924 Pat. 436=74 Ind. Cas. 855. Under the amended Code, it is no longer the duty of the Court to see that there is a reasonable probability of the prosecution, ending in a conviction, though it should not act capriciously or without proper ground. 27 Cr. L. J. 280=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 238=92 Ind. Cas. 456. Suspicion is insufficient for starting prosecution. 29 Cr. L. J. 539=109 Ind. Cas. 358; see also 30 Cr. L. J. 221=55 C. 1312; 30 Cr. L. J. 407=115 Ind. Cas. 174.

Stay of proceedings.—Pendency of appeal is no bar to a speedy trial under s. 476. 23 Cr. L. J. 84=65 Ind. Cas. 436; but see 18 Cr. L. J. 125=20 C. W. N. 1116=37 Ind. Cas. 477. Where civil suit is pending regarding the document in question, if balance of convenience is not in favour of stay of criminal proceedings, Magistrate should not be asked to pass final orders till disposal of appeal. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 49=130 Ind. Cas. 651=32 P. L. R. 303; but see A. I. R. 1931 Pat. 411=12 P. L. T. 671=33 Cr. L. J. 147.

Rights of accused.—Where the accused under s. 476 was no party to the previous proceedings he should be given an opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses. 19 A. L. J. 56=22 Cr. L. J. 143=59 Ind. Cas. 655; see also 2 P. L. T. 552=6 P. L. J. 146=22 Cr. L. J. 458=A. I. R. 1921 Pat. 121=61 Ind. Cas. 842. Omission to inform accused of his right to be tried by another Magistrate, vitiates the trial when it is initiated and carried on by same Magistrate. 11 O. L. J. 532=25 Cr. L. J. 1224=28 O. C. 1=82 Ind. Cas. 152.

Abetment.—Complaint by Court is unnecessary under this section in respect of abettors of offence. 10 Lah. 442=30 P. L. R. 517=30 Cr. L. J. 485=115 Ind. Cas. 529.

Witness.—If the alleged false statement of a witness is not material to the case and nothing turns on it, then it is not a fit case for making a complaint. 28 Cr. L. J. 310=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 515=100 Ind. Cas. 534. Sanction against witness for offence under section 465 I. P. Code can be granted. 23 Cr. L. J. 228=24 O. C. 367=A. I. R. 1922 Oudh. 220=66 Ind. Cas. 68. There is nothing in s. 476 to prevent a Court from making a complaint under the ordinary law in respect of an offence under s. 471 I. P. Code, if it is found to have been committed before it either by party or witness. 24 A. L. J. 122=26 Cr. L. J. 1506=A. I. R. 1926 All. 21=90 Ind. Cas. 290. When the offence committed by witness is not covered by s. 195 (1) (c), complaint by Court is not necessary. 35 C. W. N. 98=58 C. 727=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 438. Where a witness corrects himself before leaving witness box, criminal proceedings should not be taken. A. I. R. 1933 Sind. 412.

Jurisdiction.—Village Panchayat acting in Civil case is subordinate to the District Judge and as such report of offence by Panchayat to Collector and complaint by him is without jurisdiction. 1930 A. L. J. 1520=32 Cr. L. J. 558=A. I. R. 1933 All. 141. Where statement in committing Magistrate's Court contradicts that in Sessions Court, Sessions Judge can direct prosecution. A. I. Magistrate declining under s. 476 to file a complaint is not functus officio complaint subsequently filed by him, confers jurisdiction to deal with person complained against. Refusal by Magistrate to file a complaint does not attract the doctrine of autre fois acquit. A. I. R. 1930 Sind. 315. Magistrate has no jurisdiction under s. 476 to direct prosecution in respect of a statement, entirely unconnected with the judicial proceeding before him. 22 Cr. L. J. 653=3 Lah. L. J. 535=63 Ind. Cas. 413. Complaint cannot be called in question in appeal from conviction. A. I. R. 1932 Cal. 545=34 Cr. L. J. 39.

Powers of Court.—A Court cannot make a complaint of perjury when the alleged false statement is literally and strictly speaking true. 7 L. L. J. 621=27 Cr. L. J. 330=92 Ind. Cas. 746. Where an order has been passed under s. 476 the District Magistrate has no power to alter it. 24 Cr. L. J. 658=A. I. R. 1923 All. 597=73 Ind. Cas. 690. Under s. 476, a Court has authority to make an enquiry and record a finding only in cases coming under s. 195 Sub-section 1 (b) and (c) and not in cases coming under clause (a) 4 O. W. N. 640=28 Cr. L. J. 681=A. I. R. 1927 Oudh. 326=103 Ind. Cas. 409. Where alleged false evidence was given before Chief Presidency Magistrate and he preferred a complaint in his own Court and transferred it for trial to another Court, it was held that there was nothing illegal in the procedure. 53 C. 350=30 C. CHAPTER XXXVI.

OF THE MAINTENANCE OF WIVES AND CHILDREN.

488. (1) If any person having sufficient means neglects or refuses to maintain his wife or his legitimate or illegitimate child unable to maintain itself, the District Magistrate, a Presidency Magistrate, a Sub-divisional Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class may, upon proof of such neglect or refusal, order such person to make a monthly allowance for the maintenance of his wife or such child, at such monthly rate, not exceeding *[one hundred] rupees in the whole as such Magistrate thinks fit, and to pay the same to such person as the Magistrate from time to time directs.

(2) Such allowance shall be payable from the date of the order, or if so ordered, from the date of the application for maintenance.

(3) If any person so ordered +[fails without sufficient cause]† to comply with the order, any such Magistrate may, for every breach of the order issue a warrant + for levying the amount due in manner hereinbefore provided for levying fines,§ and may sentence || such person, for the whole or any part of each month's allowance remaining unpaid after the execution of the warrant, to imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month or until payment if sooner made :

Provided that, if such person offers to maintain his wife on condition of her living with him, and she refuses to live with him, such Magistrate may consider any grounds of refusal stated by her, and may make an order under this section notwithstanding such offer, if he is satisfied that there is just ground for so doing :

¶[Provided, further, that no warrant shall be issued for the recovery of any amount due under this section unless application be made to the Court to levy such amount within a period of one year from the date on which it became due.]

(4) No wife shall be entitled to receive an allowance from her husband under this section if she is living in adultery, or if, without any sufficient

(5) On proof that any wife in whose favour an order has been made under this section is living in adultery, or that without sufficient reason she refuses to live with her husband or that they are living separately by mutual consent, the Magistrate shall cancel the order.

(6) All evidence under this Chapter shall be taken in the presence of the husband or father, as the case may be, or, when his personal attendance is dispensed with, in the presence of his pleader, and shall be recorded in the manner prescribed in the case of summons-cases :

Provided that if the Magistrate is satisfied that he is wilfully avoiding service, or wilfully neglects to attend the Court, the Magistrate may proceed to hear and determine the case ex parte. Any orders so made may be set aside for good cause shown on application made within three months from the date thereof.*

I. R. 1926 Sind. 270=96 Ind. Cas. 124. Where the wife has been turned out or ill-treated and the breach between husband and wife is irremediable so that re-union would only lead to fresh bitterness and trouble, the wife should be given maintenance, whether the parties are Hindus or Mahomedans. A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 139=105 Ind. Cas. 169. The husband's second marriage is no just ground for refusal to live with him. But if the first wife has been turned out after a course of ill-treatment she need not respond to the half-hearted attempts of the husband to re-take her and is entitled to maintenance. 27 Cr. L. J. 507=A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 353=23 Ind. Cas. 971; see also 25 Cr. L. J. 453=A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 297=77 Ind. Cas. 805. Husband agreeing to maintain wife suitably but refusing to co-habit with her is no ground for a Court to feel compelled to order maintenance to the wife. 42 M. L. J. 566=23 Cr. L. J. 336=A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 209=66 Ind. Cas. 832; see also 29 Cr. L. J. 909=111 Ind. Cas. 669. Admission by a Muhammadan husband that he has married another woman and would not divorce the first wife would not by itself justify action for maintenance. 29 Cr. L. J. 895=A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 56=111 Ind. Cas. 575. Among Burmese Buddhists husband's taking a second wife is a good reason for wife refusing to live with him in a separate house. But if he marries again because the first wife lived apart and would not return when asked, she would not be entitled to maintenance. 19 Cr. L. J. 966=11 Bur. L. T. 105=47 Ind. Cas. 866. Among Burmese Buddhists, a wife refusing to live with her husband without sufficient reason or living apart by mutual consent is not entitled to maintenance. But a husband cannot avoid liability by declaring that marriage is dissolved by reason of the wife's absence from him. 9 L. B. R. 44=18 Cr. L. J. 767=10 Bur. L. T. 212=91 Ind. Cas. 143. Wife is not disentitled to decree for maintenance merely because decree for restitution of conjugal rights is subsisting in favour of husband. 33 Cr. L. J. 748=33 P. R. 554=139 Ind. Cas. 123; see also A. I. R. 1231 Lah. 561=32 Cr. L. J. 1251=32 P. L. R. 619; but see A. I. R. 1931 Nag. 111=133 Ind. Cas. 96. Where she is ill treated refusal to live with husband will not disentitle her of maintenance. A. I. R. 1933 Nag. 183=34 Cr. L. J. 123.

Adultery—Adultery prior to application will disqualify one to the right to maintenance. 13 O. L. J. 802=27 Cr. L. J. 1190=A. I. R. 1926 Oudh. 604=97 Ind. Cas. 950. Desertion by wife without sufficient cause will only suspend the right of maintenance. The wife can at any time claim to be maintained after she returns. 20 Cr. L. J. 98=12 S. L. R. 90=48 Ind. Cas. 978. Order of maintenance in favour of wife will not forfeited or payment cannot be discontinued by a single act of adultery. 30 Cr. L. J. 403=1929 Cr. C. 262=A. I. R. 1929 Nag. 238=115 Ind. Cas. 161; see also 30 Bom. L. R. 79=52 B. 100=29 Cr. L. J. 314=A. I. R. 1928 Bom. 59=1008 Ind. Cas. 24. Single act of adultery cannot constitute "living in adultery." In spite of the existence of an illegitimate child, it was held that it was open to the court to find that petitioner was living in adultery. 29 C. W. N. 647=26 Cr. L. J. 1184=A. I. R. 1925 Cal. 794=88 Ind. Cas. 608. An order cancelling maintenance on the ground of adultery cannot retrospectively operate so as to bar the recovery of arrears already accused prior to cancellation order. 30 Cr. L. J. 719=A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 99=117 Ind. Cas. 67.

Application under s. 488.—An application under s. 488, though verified can be neither a substitute for or supplement to the applicant's examination on oath in the presence of her husband nor is it legal evidence against the husband. 25 Cr. L. J. 302=23 O. C. 237=76 Ind. Cas. 974. A prior application dismissed for default is no bar at all. 5 Rang. 697=6 Bur. L. J. 200=28 Cr. L. J. 912=A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 958=105 Ind. Cas. 240. An application under s. 488, Cr. Pro. Code, cannot be regarded as a proceeding of a civil nature within section 12 of Chin Hill Regulation although the failure to maintain a child is not a criminal offence. 25 Cr. L. J. 111=A. I. C. 1925 Rang. 140=76 Ind. Cas. 111.

Conditional order.—A condition is an order of maintenance that the wife must reside at the place to which her husband belongs is illegal. 30 Cr. L. J. 51=113 Ind. Cas. 67; see also 18 Cr. L. J. 528=39 Ind. Cas. 496. Maintenance order in case the husband did not fail to maintain wife is illegal. 7 Lah. 313=27 P. L. R. 462=27 Cr. L. J. 556=A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 480=93 Ind. Cas. 1052. Proviso in maintenance order that if the husband lived with the first wife the complainant, the latter would not be entitled to maintenance, is vague and illegal. 29 Cr. L. J. 895=A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 56=111 Ind. Cas. 575.

Compromise.—If parties have compromised, Court should simply dismiss petition leaving the parties to enforce it in Civil Court. It is a bar to an application under s. 489. A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 524=127 Ind. Cas. 13; see also 27 Cr. L. J. 779=A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 469. A compromise after an order for maintenance will only make the lady forfeit her claim to past maintenance up to the date of compromise. 37 C. L. J. 180=24 Cr. L. J. 945=A. I. R. 1923 Cal. 456=75 Ind. Cas. 529. Magistrate can pass absolute order under s. 488, based on compromise between parties refusing only to amount fixed as maintenance and nothing else. A. I. R. 1632 Lah. 349=33 P. L. DIRECTIONS OF THE NATURE OF A HABEAS CORPUS.

491. *(1) [Any High Court] may, when Powers to issue directions of the nature of a habeas corpus. ever it thinks fit, direct,—

- (a) that a person within the limits of its + appellate criminal jurisdiction] be brought up before the Court to be dealt with according to law ;
- (b) that person illegally or improperly detained in public or private custody within such limits be set at liberty ;
- (c) that a prisoner detained in any jail situate within such limits be brought before the Court to be there examined as a witness in any matter pending or to be inquired into in such Court ;
- (d) that a prisoner detained as aforesaid be brought before a Court-martial or any Commissioners acting under the authority of any commission from the Governor-General in Council for trial or to be examined touching any matter pending before such Court-martial or Commissioners respectively ;
- (e) that a prisoner within such limits be removed from one custody to another for the purpose of trial ; and
- (f) that the body of a defendant within such limits be brought in on the Sheriff's return of cepi corpus to a writ of attachment.

* These words were substituted for the words "Any of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William, Madras and Bombay" by s. 30 of the Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1923 (XII of 1923).

† These words were substituted for the words "ordinary original civil jurisdiction" by ibid.

(2) * [The High Court] may, from time to time, frame rules to regulate the procedure in cases under this section.

(3). Nothing in this section applies to persons detained under the Bengal State Prisoners Regulation, 1881, Madras Regulation II of 1819, or Bombay Regulation XXV of 1827, or the State Prisoners Act, 1850,† or the State Prisoners Act, 1858.‡

Scope.—The proceedings by way of habeas corpus are proceedings calling upon a person having custody of a prisoner to produce him and demonstrate under what authority he holds him in custody. If the authority be a legitimate authority binding on the officer complying with it, he is bound to obey the order of that authority and the Court cannot interfere. All that the High Court can do is to see that there is no patent defect visible in the authority by which the person having custody claims any person. 27 Cr. L. J. 37=91 Ind. Cas. 69=A. I. R. 1926 Sind. 126. The High Court can exercise the powers of habeas corpus on an application by a father for custody of his child from one with whom it was entrusted, unless it was found, that it was, in the interest of the child that it should remain with the opposite party. 4 Bur. L. J. 269=95 Ind. Cas. 65=27 Cr. L. J. 737. The Bombay High Court has got jurisdiction for the production of children who are outside British India provided it is satisfied that they are in the custody or control of persons within its jurisdiction. 27 Cr. L. J. 721=50 B. 616. The investment of the extraordinary powers of habeas corpus in a High Court does not take away from litigants the ordinary rights which they previously had under the Civil Law. 95 Ind. Cas. 65=27 Cr. L. J. 737. The Commissioner of Police acting under a warrant issued by the Secretary to Local Government under s. 4, Goondas Act is not acting under the Criminal Procedure Code. The Secretary to the Government in such a case is not in the position of a Court subordinate or inferior to the High Court. 30 C. W. N. 791. After the recent amendment of s. 491 the Criminal Appellate Bench of the High Court has power to dispose of applications under s. 491. 29 C. W. N. 98=40 C. L. J. 489=1925 Cal. 270=52 C. 519. No application for the issue of a writ of habeas corpus can be maintained apart from the Code of Criminal Procedure. The provisions of the Bengal Criminal Amendment (Supplementary). OF BAIL.

496. When any person other than a person accused of a non-bailable offence is arrested or detained without warrant by an officer in charge of a police-station, or appears or is brought before a Court, and is prepared at any time while in the custody of such officer, or at any stage of the proceedings before such Court to give bail such person shall be released on bail: Provided that such officer or Court, if he or it thinks fit, may instead of taking bail from such person, discharge him on his executing a bond † without sureties for his appearance as hereinafter provided, ‡[Provided, further, that nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect the provisions of section 107, sub-section (4), or section 117, sub-section (3)].

Notes.—The provision in s. 107 Cl. (4) of the Criminal Procedure Code, that a Magistrate before whom a person is sent under that section "may arrest or in his discretion detain such person in custody until completion of inquiry" is not subject to or controlled by this section. 1912 M. Notes.—The rule laid down in this section, for the guidance of Courts other than the High Court is a rule founded upon justice and equity and one which should be followed by the High Court as well as by every other Court unless anything appears to the contrary. 42 C. 25=16 Cr. L. J. 215=27 Ind. cas. 839. This section does not warrant the proposition that unless there is evidence to raise a strong presumption of the guilt of the accused, he must be admitted to bail and cannot be remanded. 6 M. 63=2 Weir. 409. 500. (1) As soon as the bond has been executed, the person for whose appearance it has been executed shall be released ; and, when he is in jail, the Court admitting him to bail shall issue an order of release* to the officer in charge of the jail, and such officer on receipt on the order shall release him.

(2) Nothing in this section, section 496 or section 497 shall be deemed to require the release of any person liable to be detained for some matter other than that in respect of which the bond was executed.

501. If, through mistake, fraud or otherwise, insufficient sureties have been accepted, or if they afterwards become insufficient, the Court may issue a warrant of arrest directing that the person released on bail be brought before it and may order him to find sufficient sureties, and, on his failing so to do, may commit him to jail.

CHAPTER XL.

OF COMMISSIONS FOR THE EXAMINATION OF WITNESSES.

503. (1) Whenever, in the course of an inquiry, a trial or any other proceeding under this Code, it appears to a Presidency Magistrate, a District Magistrate, a Court of Session or the High Court that the examination of witness is necessary for the ends of justice; and that the attendance of such witness cannot be procured without an amount of delay, expense or inconvenience which, under the circumstance of the case, would be unreasonable, such Magistrate or Court may dispense with such attendance and may issue a commission to any District Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class, within the local limits of whose jurisdiction such witness resides, to take the evidence of such witness.

(2) When the witness resides in the territories of any Prince or Chief in India in which there is an officer representing the British Indian Government, the commission may be issued to such officer.

(3) The Magistrate or officer to whom the commission is issued, or, if he is the District Magistrate, he, or such Magistrate of the first class as he appoints in this behalf, shall proceed to the place where the witness is or shall summon the witness before him, and shall take down his evidence in the same manner, and may for this purpose exercise the same powers, as in trials of warrant-cases under this Code.

(4) Where the commission is issued to such officer as is mentioned in sub-section (2), he may delegate his powers and duties under the commission to any officer subordinate to him whose powers are not less than those of a Magistrate of the first class in British India.

Notes.—In granting commissions to purdah women the customs and habits of the people should be taken into consideration. 15 C. 775. 505. (1) The parties to any proceeding under this Code in which a commission is issued, may respectively forward any interrogatories in writing which the Magistrate or Court directing the commission may think relevant to the issue, and the Magistrate or officer to whom the commission is directed, §[or to whom the duty of executing such commission has been delegated] shall examine the witness upon such interrogatories.

(2) Any such party may appear before such Magistrate or officer by pleader, or if not in custody, in person, and may examine, cross-examine and re-examine (as the case may be) the said witness.

506. Whenever, in the course of an inquiry or a trial or any other proceeding under this Code before any Magistrate other than a Presidency Magistrate, or District Magistrate, it appears that a commission ought to be issued for the examination of a witness whose evidence is necessary for the ends of justice, and that the attendance of such witness cannot be procured without an amount of delay, expense or inconvenience which, under the circumstances of the case, would be unreasonable, such Magistrate shall apply to the District Magistrate, stating the reasons for the application; and the District Magistrate may either issue a commission in the manner hereinbefore provided or reject the application.

Notes.—Examination of witnesses by commission is not a satisfactory mode of procedure either in civil or criminal cases. 91 Ind. Cas. 393. An issue of commission by the District Magistrate, in a case pending before a subordinate Magistrate, without referring to him is improper 2 S. L. R. 8. (2) Any deposition so taken, if it satisfies the conditions prescribed by section 33 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872,* may also be received in evidence at any subsequent stage of the case before another Court.

there is no immediate prospect of arresting him, the Court competent to try or commit for trial, such person for the offence complained of, may, in his absence, examine the witnesses (if any) produced on behalf of the prosecution, and record their depositions. Any such deposition may, on the arrest of such person, be given in evidence against him on the inquiry into, or trial for, the offence with which he is charged, if the deponent is dead or incapable of giving evidence or his attendance cannot be procured without an amount of delay, expense or inconvenience which, under the circumstances of the case, would be unreasonable.

(2) If it appears that an offence punishable with death or transportation has been committed by some person or persons unknown, the High Court may direct that any Magistrate of the first class shall hold an inquiry and examine any witnesses who can give evidence concerning the offence. Any depositions so taken may be given in evidence against any person who is subsequently accused of the offence, if the deponent is dead or incapable of giving evidence or beyond the limits of British India.

Notes—It is not open to a Magistrate to decline to call for the documents desired by the complainant or to record any evidence on his behalf, on the ground that the accused has absconded and no enquiry was being then conducted; he is bound in such a case by the provisions of s. 512. 2 Bom. L. R. 707. Before a deposition recorded under this section can be admitted in evidence it must be proved that the deponent is dead, or incapable of giving evidence, or that his attendance cannot be procured without an amount of delay, expense or inconvenience, which under the circumstances of the case, would be unreasonable. U. B. R. (1897-1901) Vol. I, 114; 10 C. 1097; 157 P. L. R. 1911=10 Ind. Cas. 119=12 Cr. L. 7. 214. To satisfy the requirements of section 512 all that is necessary is proof that the accused absconded and not a finding by the Court to that effect. 6 Lah. 489. Evidence taken in his absence cannot be admitted unless it is proved and found that the accused had absconded at the time. 13 A. L. J. 1043=16 Cr. L. J. 801=38 A. 29=31 Ind. Cas. 817. Convicting and sentencing absent accused is wholly illegal and liable to be set aside. 26 P. L. R. 239=28 Cr. L. J. 971=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 870=105 Ind. Cas. 683. J. 902=48 Ind. Cas. 481. Generally a certificate granted by a qualified doctor is sufficient evidence of accused's inability to attend unless the certificate is to be disregarded for any reason. 25 Cr. L. J. 631=A. I. R. 1925 Lah. 101=81 Ind. Cas. 126. Evidence recorded in a different case in which another accused was charged with the same offence cannot be read unless the provisions of s. 33 of the Evidence Act are complied with. 24 Cr. L. J. 828=25 O. C. 142=A. I. R. 1923 Oudh. 254=74 Ind. Cas. 860. A deposition recorded under s. 512 can be read only if deponent is dead, incapable of giving evidence or his attendance would cause unreasonable delay, expense or inconvenience. That he cannot remember the details is no sufficient reason. 76 Ind. Cas. 31=25 Cr. L. J. 95=A. I. R. 1924 Lah. 605; see also 46 B. 120=23 Bom. L. R. 839=22 Cr. L. J. 620=63 Ind. Cas. 156.

PROVISIONS AS TO BONDS.

513. When any person is required by any Court or officer to execute, a bond, with or without sureties, such Court or officer may, except in the case of a bond for good behaviour, permit him to deposit a sum of money or Government promissory notes to such amount as the Court or officer may fix, in lieu of executing such bond.

Notes.—The Court cannot require deposit in addition to bond. Rat. Un. Cr. C. 671. The deposit money should be returned, on the accused's appearance. 11 O. L. J. 296; 19 A. L. J. 887. Where surety executes bond for regular attendance of accused and accused absconds but surety amount was realized from property of accused, the surety is not relieved of his liability. A. I. R. 1933 Sind. 320=1933 Cr. C. 1074. Surety must have personal stake in seeing that accused carries out his obligations. A. I. R. 1935 Pat. 195.

514. (1) Whenever it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court by which a bond under this Code has been taken, or of the Court of a or when, the bond is for appearance before a Court, to the satisfaction of such Court, that such bond has been forfeited, the Court shall record the grounds of such proof, and may call upon any person bound by such bond to pay the penalty thereof, or to show cause why it should not be paid.*

(2) If sufficient cause is not shown and the penalty is not paid, the Court may proceed to recover the same by issuing a warrant + for the attachment and sale of the movable property, belonging to such person or his estate if he be dead.

(3) Such warrant may be executed within the Local limits of the jurisdiction of the court which issued it: and it shall authorize the [attachment] and sale of any movable property belonging to such person without such limits, when endorsed by the District Magistrate or Chief Presidency Magistrate within the Local limits of whose jurisdiction such property is found.

(4) If such penalty is not paid and cannot be recovered by such attachment and sale, the person so bound shall be liable, by order of the Court which issued the warrant, to imprisonment in the civil jail for a term which may extend to six months.

(5) The Court may, at its discretion, remit any portion of the penalty mentioned and enforce payment in part only.

(6) Where a surety to a bond dies before the bond is forfeited, his estate shall be discharged from all liability in respect of the bond.†

§ (7) When any person who has furnished security under section 106 or section 118 or section 562 is convicted of an offence the commission of which constitutes a breach of the conditions of his bond, or of a bond executed in lieu of his bond under section 514 B, a certified copy of the judgment of the Court by which he was convicted of such offence may be used as evidence in proceedings under this section against his surety or sureties, and, if such certified copy is so used, the Court shall presume that such offence was committed by him unless the contrary is proved.

Notes.—An order forfeiting a surety bond or bond for good behaviour need not be passed at the same time as the conviction of the person for whom the bond is executed. 27 Cr. L. J. 326=92 Ind. Cas. 742. Under this section a surety is bound to produce the accused at the trial of the case on penalty of his security bond being enforced. 97 Ind. Cas. 672. It is the duty of the surety to see that the accused does not run away but where a surety had failed to produce the accused by reason of an illegal order passed by a Magistrate which the surety was not bound to carry out and where there is no connivance and no negligence it cannot be said that the surety had acted irresponsibly so as to be penalised. 49 A. 525=25 A. Notes.—“It is proposed to add to the Chapter a new section to enable the Court to pass order for the custody or disposal of property during an inquiry”.—Statement of Objects and Reasons. Under section 516 A, Court has to make order for proper custody of property in order to preserve it as evidence. 35 L. W. N. 198=32 Cr. L. J. 983=A. I. R. 1931 Cal. 455. A Motor car cannot be said to have been used by accused for offence under s. 338, and cannot be detained pending conclusion of trial. 33 P. L. R. 386=33 Cr. L. J. 347=A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 565.

517. (1) When an inquiry or a trial in any Criminal Court is concluded, the Court may make such order as it thinks fit for the disposal§ by destruction, confiscation, or delivery to any person claiming to be entitled to possession thereof or otherwise of any property or document produced before it or in its custody or regarding which any offence appears to have been committed, or which has been used for the commission of any offence.

* Section 514B was inserted by s. 140 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923.)

† Section 515 has been declared to apply to the security required by s. 31A of the Rangoon Police Act, 1899 (Bur. Act IV of 1899.)

(2) When a High Court or a Court of Session makes such order and cannot through its own officers conveniently deliver the property to the person entitled thereto, such Court may direct that the order be carried into effect by the District Magistrate.

*[(3) When an order is made under this section such order shall not, except where the property is livestock or subject to speedy and natural decay, and save as provided by sub-section (4), be carried out for one month, or, when an appeal is presented, until such appeal has been disposed of].

†[(4) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit any Court from delivering any property under the provisions of sub-section (1) any person claiming to be entitled to the possession thereof, on his executing a bond with or without sureties to the satisfaction of the Court, engaging to restore such property to the Court if the order made under this section is modified or set aside on appeal.]

‡ Explanation.—In this section the term “property” includes, in the case of property regarding which an offence appears to have been committed, not only such property as has been originally in the possession or under the control of any party, but also any property into or for which the same may have been converted or exchanged, and anything acquired by such conversion or exchange, whether immediately or otherwise.

Notes.—Where a Magistrate finds the accused not guilty of the offence of cheating and acquits him, he cannot order that the property in respect of which the offence was alleged to be committed and which is in possession of the accused should be restored to the complainant. 27 Cr. L. J. 853=95 Ind. Cas. 933=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 1048. The High Court has power to order restitution but a third party before he can be prejudiced by such an order should have notice of the intended order. 105 Ind. Cas. 452. Cash is not, strictly speaking, property within the meaning of section 517, except in so far as it is capable of being possessed and identified in specie. 89 Ind. Cas. 259=26 Cr. L. J. 1315. “Property” includes any property in respect of possession of which whatever offence is committed. 51 M. 606=29 Cr. L. J. 322=54 M. L. J. 312=A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 194=108 Ind. Cas. 65. 518. In lieu of itself passing an order under section 517, the Court may direct the property to be delivered to the Order may take form of District Magistrate or to a Sub-divisional Magistrate reference to District or Sub-divisional Magistrate. Magistrate who shall in such cases deal with it as if it had been seized by the police and the seizure had been reported to him in the manner hereinafter mentioned.

Notes.—In a case under Chapter 39, the Magistrate is bound to base his order upon the finding of the jury. An order under this section should be passed only in special and urgent circumstances. 1 J. G. 11.

519. When any person is convicted of any offence which includes, or amounts to, theft or receiving stolen property, and it is proved that any other person has brought the stolen property from him without knowing or having reason to believe, that the same was stolen, and that any money has on his arrest been taken out of the possession of the convicted person, the Court may, on the application of such purchaser and on the restitution of the stolen property to the person entitled to the possession thereof, order that out of such money a sum not exceeding the price paid by such purchaser be delivered to him.

Notes.—This section only authorises payment to a purchaser of stolen property who buys in ignorance of theft, of compensation out of any money found in possession of the party guilty of theft. 2 Weir. 607; A. W. N. 1886, 291. An order for compensation cannot be made in favour of the pledgee of a stolen property, as the theft does not cause any injury to the pledgee or give him a right of action. 2 Weir. 672. - (a) that a fair and impartial inquiry or trial cannot be had in any Criminal Court subordinate thereto, or
- (b) that some question of law of unusual difficulty is likely to arise, or
- (c) that a view of the place in or near which any offence has been committed may be required for the satisfactory inquiry into or trial of the same, or
- (d) that an order under this section will tend to the general convenience of the parties or witnesses, or
- (e) that such an order is expedient for the ends of justice, or is required by any provisions of this Code ; it may order—
 - (i) that any offence be inquired into or tried by any Court not empowered under sections 177 to 184 (both inclusive), but in other respects competent to inquire into or try such offence ;
 - (ii) that any particular* case of appeal, or class of cases or appeals, be transferred from a Criminal Court subordinate to its authority to any other such Criminal Court of equal or superior jurisdiction ;
 - (iii) that any particular † case or appeal be transferred to and tried before itself ; or
 - (iv) that an accused person be committed for trial to itself or to a Court of Session.

(2) When the High Court withdraws for trial before itself any case from any Court other than the Court of a Presidency Magistrate, it shall, except as provided in section 257, observe in such trial the same procedure which that Court would have observed if the case had not been so withdrawn.

(3) The High Court may act either on the report of the lower Court, or on the application of a party interested, or on its own initiative.

(4) Every application for the exercise of the power conferred by this section shall be made by motion, which shall except when the applicant is the Advocate General, be supported by affidavit or affirmation.

(5) When an accused person makes an application under this section, the High Court may direct him to execute a bond with or without sureties, conditioned that he will if ‡[so ordered] pay § [any amount which the High Court "may under this section award by way of compensation" || to the person opposing the application,]

(6) Every accused person making any such application shall give to the Public Prosecutor notice in writing of the application, together with a copy of the grounds on which it is made ; and no order shall be made on the merits of the application unless at least twenty-four hours have elapsed between the giving of such notice and the hearing of the application.

*[(6A) Where any application for the exercise of the power conferred by this section is dismissed, the High Court may, if it is of opinion that the application was frivolous or vexatious, order the applicant to pay by way of "compensation"† to any person who has opposed the application "such sum not exceeding two hundred and fifty rupees as it may consider proper in the circumstances of the case"]†

(7) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect any order made under section 197.

‡(8) If in any inquiry under Chapter VIII or Chapter XVII or in any trial any party interested intimates to the Court at any stage before the defence closes its case that he intends to make an application under the section, the Court shall upon his executing, if so required, a bond without sureties, of an amount not exceeding two hundred rupees, that he will make such an application within a reasonable time to be fixed by the Court, adjourns the case for such a period as will afford sufficient time for the application to be made and an order to be obtained thereon :

Provided that nothing herein contained shall require the Court to adjourn the case upon a second or subsequent intimation from the same party, or, where an adjournment under this sub-section has already been obtained by one of several accused, upon a subsequent intimation by any other accused.

§[(9) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, a Judge presiding in a Court of Session shall not be required to adjourn a trial under sub-section (8) if he is of opinion that the person notifying his intention of making an application under this section has had a reasonable opportunity of making such an application and has failed without sufficient cause to take advantage of it.]

“(10) If, before the argument (if any) for the admission of an appeal begins, or, in the case of an appeal admitted, before the argument for the appellant begins any party interested intimates to the Court that he intends to make an application under this section, the Court shall, upon such party executing, if so required, a bond without sureties of an amount not exceeding two hundred rupees that he will make such application within a reasonable time to be fixed by the Court, postpone the appeal for such a period as will afford sufficient time for the application to be made and an order to be obtained thereon.”||

Effect of amendment by Act 21 of 1932—“Sub-section (8) of section 526 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, as it stood prior to its amendment in 1923, provided that in any criminal case or appeal, before the commencement of the hearing, the Public Prosecutor, the complainant or the accused notified to the Court before which the case or appeal was pending his intention to make an application to the High Court for transfer of the case or appeal, the Court should exercise the powers of postponement or adjournment given by section 344 in such a manner as would afford a reasonable time for the application being made and an order being obtained thereon, before the accused was called on for this defence, or, in the case of an appeal, before the hearing of the appeal. Act XVIII of 1923 amended this sub-section so as to provide that if an application for transfer is made at any time in the course of any inquiry or trial, or before the commencement of the hearing of any appeal, “the court shall adjourn the case or postpone the appeal.” It also added sub-section (9) empowering a Sessions Court to refuse to adjourn a trial if it is of opinion that the application has been unreasonably delayed. The practical working of this new procedure has been carefully observed by Government over a considerable period, and they have come to the conclusion that it lends itself to grave abuse and is calculated to defeat the ends of justice. This view was recently endorsed in a judgment of Lort Williams, J. in the case of Neamut Sha v. Emperor, 59 C. 482, in which he recommended the amendment of the section. He remarks: "The position created by s. 526 (8) is truly amazing, one effect being that no accused person can be convicted except with his own consent. No discretion is given to the Court by the section. If the accused notifies his intention to make an application to the High Court for transfer, the trial must be adjourned immediately. There is no limit to the number of such notifications which may be given during the course of any trial. The abuse of process which sub-section (8) makes possible obviously may be aggravated to almost any extent, where there is a joint trial, and each accused, person is represented by a different pleader." There is indeed a general consensus of opinion among judicial authorities that these provisions are in urgent need of amendment. The Bill proposes to restore the position as it stood before 1923, but in restoring the provisions that then existed, it recasts, them so as to eliminate certain ambiguities that had shown themselves.

"Sub-section (6A) was inserted in the section by the same Amending Act XVIII of 1293. The safeguard provided by this sub-section has been characterised by Lort Williams J. in the judgment of the High Court referred to above as "wholly illusory," one reason given being that applications in the High Court are opposed usually by or on behalf of the Legal Remembrancer, who is paid by salary and not by fees, which makes it difficult to assess his reasonable expenses incurred in opposing the application. The amendments in sub-sections (5) and (6A) proposed by the Bill are aimed at meeting this criticism."—Statement of Objects and Reasons.

"Clause 2 (a) and (b)—While we are of opinion that the provisions here made for payment of compensation are advisable as a further check on the making of frivolous applications for transfer, we consider that maximum limit should be fixed in the Act to the amount of compensation that may be awarded.

"(c) We consider that the power to obtain an adjournment on notifying to the Court an intention to apply for transfer should not be confined to cases in which the notification is made before the enquiry or trial begins. The party may not be aware of the circumstances giving rise to an apprehension that he will not receive an impartial hearing until after the hearing has commenced: those circumstances may arise only in the course of the trial. We recognize the necessity of greater safeguards against the abuse of the section than those now existing. We think that provision should be made for a compulsory adjournment, if a party notifies his intention to move for a transfer at any time before the arguments begin, that is to say at any time before the defence close its case. At the same time we recognise that the power at present enjoyed of paralysing the action of the Court by repeatedly notifying the intention to make an application, sometimes without any intention of following up the notification with an application, must be checked. We have accordingly provided that when once a party has secured an adjournment the Court shall not be bound to adjourn on any subsequent intimation of an intention to apply for a transfer made by that same party, and that where there are more than one accused, it shall not be possible for different accused by a series of successive intimations to secure a series of adjournments.

"We noted that the inherent power of the Court under section 344 to adjourn a case is not affected, but we have inserted an explanation after sub-section (9) of section 526 of the Act to make this absolutely clear.

"Our alternations in the new sub-section (8) have made it necessary for us to retain sub-section (9) of the section in the Act."—Statement of Objects and Reasons.

Applicability—This section applies to proceedings pending in subordinate Courts. Panchayat Court is not Court subordinate to High Court. 21 P. L. J. 925 = 46 A. 167 = A. I. R. 1924 All. 265 = 83 Ind. 59. Section 526 (8) applies when applicant notifies his intention to apply for transfer. Onus is on the applicant to show information was given to Magistrate. 1930 A. L. J. 1320=A. I. R. 1930 All. 835 Except in exceptional cases, preventive proceeding in one district should not be transferred to another district. A. I. R. 1933 Rang. 165=1933 Cr. C. 764. Application must be without delay. A. I. R. 1933 Sind. 17=1933 Cr. C. 17=33 Cr. L. J. 908. Application for transfer suppressing fact of dismissal of prior application and based on unfounded allegations should not be allowed. A. I. R. 1933 Sind. 361=1933 Cr. C. 1337. Apprehension—Where Court uses strong language, party may apprehend unfairness. 47 A. 218=23 A. L. J. 133=26 Cr. L. J. 538=A. I. R. 1925 All. 283=85 Ind. Cas. 78. Question is not whether belief of accused is reasonable or not but whether he believes that justice could not be done. Test is whether a reasonable man would believe so. 38 Cr. L. J. 188=A. I. But quarrel or unpleasantness between judge and counsel is no ground for transfer. 18 Cr. L. J. 670=40 Ind. Cas. 311. The apprehension of the accused must be reasonable in the opinion of the Court. 11 Cr. L. J. 644=10 S. L. R. 183=40 Ind. Cas. 292. Transfer cannot be granted unless Magistrate has by some personal conduct rendered himself unfit to give accused a fair trial. 28 Cr. L. J. 73=A. I. R. 1927 All. 184=89 Ind. Cas. 105. Magistrate receiving hospitality of complainant's son though he might not have been aware of the fact is sufficient to create apprehension in mind of accused. 27 Cr. L. J. 565=A. I. Question to be decided is not whether Judge had any real bias but whether the Judge's remarks had created reasonable apprehension of an unfair trial. 10 Lah. 778=30 Cr. L. J. 129=A. I. It is not necessary to establish actual bias in the mind of Magistrate. The question is whether sufficient grounds are made out to be inferred from facts. 26 A. L. J. 1250=29 Cr. L. J. 750=A. I. Petitioner need not establish that the Magistrate is actually prejudiced. Reasonable apprehension is sufficient. 29 Cr. L. J. 620=109 Ind. Cas. 812. R. 1928 Lah. 334=107 Ind. Cas. 779. The criterion for a transfer is that the High Court must be of opinion that the applicant will not receive a fair and impartial trial in the Court below. Absolutely unreasonable belief is not sufficient. 10 N. L. J. 184=28 Cr. L. J. 898=A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 21. Fear of Deputy Magistrate being influenced by his opinion of the District Magistrate in his extra-judicial enquiry is not sufficient ground. 2 O. W. N. 847=27 Cr. L. J. 551=A. I. Grounds of communal feeling—Transfer on grounds of communal feeling should be granted with considerable hesitation. But in a proper case it may be a good ground of transfer. A. I. Where Magistrate acts as mouth piece of public prosecutor the conducting examination of accused under s. 342, it is a valid ground for transfer. 31 Cr. L. J. 560=A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 106=123 Ind. Cas. 570.

Grounds of friendship.—Magistrate being personal friend of complainant is no ground for transfer. A. I. R. 1931 Bom. 309=33 Bom. L. R. 311=131 Ind. Cas. 891; see also 30 Cr. L. J. 522=1929 A. L. When Magistrate expresses opinion adverse to petitioner before hearing evidence, case should be transferred. A. I. R. 1931 Rang. 87=8 Rang. 654=1931 Cr. C. 375. Application for transfer should be granted when conduct of Magistrate indicates that both parties will not be treated with equal fairness. A. I. R. 1931 Lah. 46=129 Ind. Cas. 193. But in the absence of bias or prejudice, transfer cannot be granted. 30 Cr. L. J. 728=1929 Cr. C. 47=A. I. R. 1929 Cr. C. 47=A. I. R. 1929 Nag. 172=172 Ind. Cas. 213.

Opinion formed.—Where the Court has already formed a very strong opinion of conduct of the accused, transfer should be ordered. 22 A. L. J. 430=26 Cr. L. J. 139=A. I. R. 1924 All. 533=83 Ind. Expression of opinion in miscellaneous proceeding does not justify transfer of main case. 11 O. L. J. 54=25 Cr. L. J. 433=A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 338=77 Ind. Cas. 721; see also 29 Cr. L. J. 589=A. I. R. 1928 Nag. 217=109 Ind. Cas. 605. The mere fact that a District Magistrate has come to the conclusion that there is a prima facie case against the accused, is no ground for transfer unless it can be shown that he is influencing its results. 28 Cr. L. J. 120=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 164=99 Ind. Cas. 862. Where a Magistrate in framing the charges against the accused observed that offence had been proved, the case should be transferred. 23 Cr. L. J. 168=65 Ind. Cas. 632 ; see also 25 Cr. L. J. 194 =A. I. R. 1923 Oudh. 161=76 Ind. Cas. 562 ; 29 C. W. N. 316=26 Cr. L. J. 852=A. I. R. 1925 Cal 480=86 Ind. Cas. 708 ; 2 O. W. N. 688=26 Cr. L. J. 1525=A. I. R. 1925 Oudh. 690=90 Ind. Cas. 309.

Improper procedure—The refusal to give reasonable opportunity to an accused to apply for a transfer of a case, is an illegality which vitiates the whole proceeding. 32 Cr. L. J. 717 (Lah.)=63 Ind. Cas. 877. The refusal to grant an adjournment, thereby depriving the accused of quite a full opportunity of putting forward defence is a ground for transfer. 22 Cr. L. J. 708=2 Pat. L. T. 297=63 Ind. * CHAPTER XLIVA.

SUPPLEMENTARY PROVISIONS RELATING TO EUROPEAN AND INDIAN BRITISH SUBJECTS AND OTHERS.

528A. (1) Where, in any case to which the provisions of Chapter XXXIII

Procedure of claim of a person to be dealt with as European or Indian British subject, or as European or American.

do not apply, any person claims to be dealt with as an European or Indian British subject, or where any person claims to be dealt with as an European (other than an European British subject) or an American, he shall state the grounds of such claim to the Magistrate before whom he is brought for the purpose of the inquiry or trial; and such Magistrate shall inquire into the truth of such statement and allow the person making it a reasonable time within which to prove that it is true, and shall then decide whether he is or is not an European British subject or an Indian British subject or an European or an American, as the case may be, and shall deal with him accordingly.

(2) When any such claim is rejected by the Magistrate and the person by whom it was made is committed by the Magistrate for trial before the Court of Session, and such person repeats the claim before such Court, such Court shall, after such further inquiry, if any, as it thinks fit, decide the claim, and shall deal with such person accordingly.

(3) When any Court before which any person is tried rejects any such claim as aforesaid the decision shall form a ground of appeal from the sentence or order passed in such trial.

Notes.—Before commitment such claim can be made at any time. 51 C. 980. Accused must assert his right to be tried as a person of a particular nationality before the trial Magistrate. If not, he cannot claim it at any subsequent stage of the case under s. 528 B. 22 S. L. R. 472=29 Cr. L. J. 721=A. I. R. 1929 Sind. 28; see also 54 C. 1041=29 Cr. L. J. 245=A. I. 528D. (1) Unless there is something repugnant in the context, all enactments made by the Governor-General in Council or the Indian Legislature which confer on Magistrates or on the Court of Session jurisdiction over offences shall be deemed to apply to European subjects although such persons are not expressly referred to therein.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to authorise any Court to exceed the limits prescribed by this Code as to the amount of punishment which it may inflict on an European British subject or to confer jurisdiction on any Magistrate of the second or third class for the trial of such subjects.

CHAPTER XLV.

OF IRREGULAR PROCEEDINGS.

529. If any Magistrate not empowered by law to do any of the following things, namely :—

- (a) to issue a search warrant under section 98 ;
- (b) to order, under section 155, the police to investigate an offence ;
- (c) to hold an inquest under section 176 ;
- (d) to issue process, under section 186, for the apprehension of a person within the local limits of his jurisdiction who has committed an offence outside such limits ;

- (e) to take cognizance of an offence under section 190, sub-section (1), clause (a) or clause (b) ;
- (f) to transfer a case under section 192 ;
- (g) to tender a pardon under section 337 or section 338 ;
- (h) to sell property under section 524 or section 525 ; or
- (i) to withdraw a case and try it himself under section 528 ; erroneously in good faith does that thing, his proceedings shall not be set aside merely on the ground of his not being so empowered.

Notes.—This section comes into operation in cases of erroneous transfer. 5 C. W. N. 636 ; 35 C. 243 ; 2 C. L. J. 614 ; 4 C. W. N. 821 ; 36 C. 370. Irregularities which vitiate proceedings.

530. If any Magistrate, not being empowered by law in this behalf, does any of the following things namely :—

- (a) attaches and sells property under section 88 ;
 - (b) issues a search-warrant for a letter, parcel of other thing in the Post Office, or a telegram in the Telegraph Department ;
 - (c) demands security to keep the peace ;
 - (d) demands security for good behaviour ;
 - (e) discharges a person lawfully bound to be of good behaviour ;
 - (f) cancels a bond to keep the peace ;
 - (g) makes an order under section 133 as to a local nuisance ;
 - (h) prohibits under section 143, the repetition or continuance of a public nuisance ;
 - (i) issues an order under section 144 ;
 - (j) makes an order under Chapter XII ;
 - (k) takes cognizance, under section 190, sub-section (1) clause (c), of an offence ;
 - (l) passes a sentence, under section 349, on proceedings recorded by another Magistrate ;
 - (m) calls under section 435, for proceedings ;
 - (n) makes an order for maintenance ;
 - (o) revises, under section 515, an order passed under section 514 ;
 - (p) tries an offender ;
 - (q) tries an offender summarily ; or
 - (r) decides an appeal ;
- his proceedings shall be void.

531. No finding, sentence or order of any Criminal Court shall be set aside merely on the ground that the inquiry, Proceedings in wrong place. trial or other proceeding in the course of which it was arrived at or passed, took place in a wrong sessions division, district, sub-division or other local area, unless it appears that such error has in fact occasioned a failure of justice.

Notes.—This section applies to a case where the Magistrate has authority to commit, but has not territorial jurisdiction over the place where the offence is alleged to have been committed. 26 M. 640=2 Weir, 708. Trying a case in a district where the Court has no jurisdiction, is not a defect of jurisdiction but only of revenue, and is curable under this section. 2 P. R. 1902 Cr.=9 P. L. 532. (1) If any Magistrate or other authority purporting to exercise powers duly conferred, which were not so conferred, When irregular commitments may be validated. commits an accused person for trial before a Court of Sessions or High Court, the Court to which the commitment is made may, after perusal of the proceedings accept the commitment if it considers that the accused has not been injured thereby unless during the injury and before the order of commitment, objection was made on behalf either of the accused or of the prosecution to the jurisdiction of such Magistrate or other authority.

(2) If such Court considers that the accused was injured, or if such objection was so made, it shall quash the commitment and direct a fresh inquiry by a competent Magistrate.

533. (1) If the Court, before which a confession or other statement of an accused person recorded or purporting to be recorded under section 164 or section 364 is Non-compliance with provisions of section 164 or 364. tendered or has been received in evidence, finds that any of the provisions of either of such section have not been complied with by the Magistrate recording the statement, it shall take evidence that such person duly made the statement recorded; and, notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Evidence Act, 1872* section 91, such statement shall be admitted if the error has not injured the accused as to his defence on the merits.

(2) The provisions of this section apply to Courts of Appeal, Reference and Revision.

Notes.—This section is intended to apply to all cases in which the directions of the law have not been complied with, without any distinction between omissions to comply with the law and infractions of it; 23 B. 221; 31 Bom. Trial by jury of offence triable with assessors.

536. (1) If an offence triable with the aid of assessors is tried by a jury, that trial shall not on that ground only be invalid.

(2) If an offence triable by a jury is tried with the aid of assessors, the trial shall not on that ground only be invalid, unless the objection is taken before the Court records its finding.

Trial with assessors of offence triable by jury.

Notes.—When a case was triable by jury, but was tried with the aid of assessors and no objection was taken at the trial, held that the mere fact that the assessors found the accused guilty but the judge differing from their opinion had convicted them would not make the trial invalid, in as much as no objection was taken at the trial. 23 M. 682=2 Weir. 391; see also 99 Ind. Finding or sentence when reversible by reason of error or omission in charge or other proceedings.

- (a) of any error, omission or irregularity in the complaint, summons, warrant, charge, proclamation, order, judgment or other proceedings before or during trial or in any inquiry or other proceedings under this Code, or†
- (c) of the omission to revise any list of jurors or assessors in accordance with section 324, or
- (d) of any misdirection in any charge to a jury, unless such error, omission, irregularity,‡ or misdirection has in fact occasioned a failure of justice.

Explanation.—In determining whether any error, omission or irregularity in any proceeding under this Code has occasioned a failure of justice, the Court shall have regard to the fact whether the objection could and should have been raised at an earlier stage in the proceedings §

When trial is vitiated.—Every infringement of a mandatory provision does not vitiate trial. Mandatory provisions affecting jurisdiction of Court are different from those relating to the procedure to be followed. Infringements of the former vitiate the whole trial. Section 537 cures only infringement of the latter kind. 26 Cr. L. J. 1336=3 Rang. 139=A. I. R. 1925 Rang. 258=89 Ind. Cas. 312; see also 4 Bur. L. J. 213=27 Cr. L. J. 669=A. I. 541. (1) Unless when otherwise provided by any law for the time being in force, the Local Government may direct in what place * any person liable to be imprisoned or committed to custody under this Code shall be confined.

Removal to criminal jail of accused or convicted persons who are in confinement in civil jail, and their return to the civil jail.

(2) If any person liable to be imprisoned or committed to custody under this code is in confinement in a civil jail, the Court or Magistrate ordering the imprisonment or committal may direct that the person be removed to a criminal jail.

(3) When a person is removed to a criminal jail under "sub-section (1)"† he shall, on being released therefrom, be sent back to the civil jail, unless either—

(a) three years have elapsed since he was removed to the criminal jail, in which case he shall be deemed to have been discharged from the civil jail under section 342 of the Code of Civil Procedure; ‡ or

(b) the Court which ordered his imprisonment in the civil jail has certified to the officer in charge of the criminal jail that he is entitled to be discharged under section 341 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

553. (1) Whenever any person causes a police-officer to arrest another person in a presidency-town, if it appears to the Magistrates by whom the case is heard that there was no sufficient ground for causing such arrest, the Magistrate may award such compensation, not exceeding fifty rupees, to be paid by the person so causing the arrest to the person so arrested, for his loss of time and expenses in the matter, as the Magistrate thinks fit.

(2) In such cases, if more persons than one are arrested, the Magistrate may, in like manner, award to each of them such compensation, not exceeding fifty rupees, as such Magistrate thinks fit.

(3) All compensation awarded under this section may be recovered as if it were a fine, and, if it cannot be so recovered the person by whom it is payable shall be sentenced to simple imprisonment for such term not exceeding thirty days as the Magistrate directs, unless such sum is sooner paid.

554. (1) With the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the High Court at Fort William, and, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, any other High Court established by Royal Charter, may, from time to time, make rules for the inspection of the records of subordinate Courts.

Power of Chartered High Courts to make rules for inspection of records of subordinate Courts.

(2) Every High Court not established by Royal Charter may, from time to time, and with the previous sanction of the Local Government,—

- Power of other High Courts to make rules for other purposes.
- (a) make rules for keeping all books, entries and accounts to be kept in all Criminal Courts subordinate to it, and for the preparation and transmission of any returns or statements to be prepared and submitted by such Courts;
 - (b) frame forms for every proceeding in the said Courts for which it thinks that a form should be provided;
 - (c) make rules for regulating its own practice and proceedings and the practice and proceedings of all Criminal Courts subordinate to it; and
 - (d) make rules for regulating the execution of warrant issued under this Code for the levy of fines:

Provided that the rules and forms made and framed under this section shall not be inconsistent with this Code or any other law in force for the time being.

(3) All rules made under this section shall be published in the local official Gazette.

Special provisions with respect to offence of rape by a husband.

561. (1) Notwithstanding anything in this Code, no Magistrate except a Chief Presidency Magistrate or District Magistrate shall—

- (a) take cognizance of the offence of rape where the sexual intercourse was by a man with his wife, or
- (b) commit the man for trial for the offence.

* Section 559 was substituted by s. 155 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1923 (XVIII of 1923).

(2) And, notwithstanding anything in this Code, if a Chief Presidency Magistrate or District Magistrate deems it necessary to direct an investigation by a police-officer, with respect to such an offence as is referred to in sub-section (1) no police-officer of a rank below that of police-inspector shall be employed either to make, or to take part in, the investigation.

*[561A. Nothing in this Code shall be deemed to limit or affect the inherent power of the High Court to make such orders as may be necessary to give effect to any order under this Code, or to prevent abuse of the process of any Court or otherwise to secure the ends of justice.]

Notes.—This section is in no way limited or governed by s. 369 Criminal Procedure Code, and the High Court has power to reconsider the question of sentence when the ends of justice require it. 9 Lah. L. J. 42=99 Ind. Cas. 1039=28 Cr. L. J. 230 ; see also 5 O. W. N. 641=29 Cr. L. J. 893=3 Luck. 680=A. I. R. 1928 Oudh. 402 ; 9 L. L. J. 42=28 Cr. L. J. 239=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 139=99 Ind. Cas. 1039. Section 561A merely declares that inherent powers shall not be limited or affected by anything in the Code. But the inherent powers are as much controlled by principle and precedent as are its express powers by a statute. 10 Lah. 1=29 Cr. L. J. 669=30 P. L. R. 247=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 462=110 Ind. Cas. 221. Section 561A does not modify s. 369 nor clothe Court with any fresh power. A. I. R. 1935 All. 466. Mere institution of civil suit is not sufficient to drop proceedings under s. 145. Proceedings can be dropped by use of inherent power under s. 561 A. A. I. R. 1935 Oudh. 255. Inherent power may be exercised only by High Court. A. I. R. 1935 Sind. 84 (F. B.). The High Court as the Supreme Court of revision must be deemed to have power to see that Courts below do not usually and without any lawful excuse take away the character of a party or of a witness or of a counsel before it. Thus under this section it has an inherent power to delete objectionable remarks against witnesses or accused persons. 25 A. L. J. 100=49 A. 254=27 Cr. L. J. 140. Where the subject matter of both a Criminal case and a Civil suit pending in another Court is the same, the Criminal case should be stayed. 97 Ind. Cas. 426=27 Cr. L. J. 1114. L. J. 97. This section recognises the inherent power of the High Court to make such orders as may be necessary to prevent the abuse of process of Court. But the power to expunge a portion of judgment delivered by a competent Court is reserved for case of exceptional circumstances and should be exercised sparingly. 27 Cr. L. J. 510=93 Ind. Cas. 974=A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 332. Where the Police deny the accused a right of interviewing his legal adviser the High Court can interfere under s. 568A and direct that the accused person shall have reasonable access to his legal advisers from the moment of arrest. Such interference is justified as being necessary to prevent an abuse of the process of Court or as conducing to the "ends of justice". 28 Bom. L. R. 1043=50 B. 741. Under this section the High Court is at liberty to interfere with an order granting bail passed by a Sessions Judge. A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 228. *[562. (1) When any person not under twenty-one years of age is convicted of an offence punishable with imprisonment for not more than seven years, or when any person under twenty-one years of age or any woman is convicted of an offence not punishable with death or transportation for life and no previous conviction is proved against the offender, if it appears to the Court before which he is convicted, regard being had to the age, character or antecedents of the offender, and to the circumstances in which the offence was committed, that it is expedient that the offender should be released on probation of good conduct, the Court may, instead of sentencing him at once to any punishment, direct that he be released on his entering into a bond, with or without sureties, to appear and receive sentence when called upon during such period (not exceeding three years) as the Court may direct, and in the meantime to keep the peace and be of good behaviour :

Provided that, where any first offender is convicted by a Magistrate of the third class, or a Magistrate of the second class not specially empowered by the Local Government in this behalf and the Magistrate is of opinion that the powers conferred by this section should be exercised, he shall record his opinion to that effect, and submit the proceedings to a Magistrate of the first class or Sub-divisional Magistrate, forwarding the accused to, or taking bail for his appearance before, such Magistrate, who shall dispose of the case in manner provided by section 380.

Release after admonition for offence of house-breaking is illegal. A. I. R. 1935 Mad. 157.

Powers when to be exercised.—The mere fact that the accused comes of a respectable family cannot be a justification for imposing a lighter sentence. 31 Cr. L. J. 874=A. I. R. 1930 Pat. 216=125 Ind. Cas. 572. Where accused deliberately commits perjury he cannot be dealt with under s. 562. 29 Cr. L. J. 219=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 296=107 Ind. Cas. 707. It is not applicable where a juvenile offender has shown criminally rather than thoughtlessly and also crafts and deceit. 18 S. L. R. 61=25 Cr. L. J. 1224=A. I. R. 1925 Sind. 75=82 Ind. Cas. 152. An offence punishable with fine only but which becomes punishable with imprisonment in default of payment of the fine is not covered by the section. 28 Bom. L. R. 1031=27 Cr. L. J. 1158=A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 544=97 Ind. Cas. 742. This section cannot be invoked by a person convicted of an offence which not only implies previous preparation but often escapes detection. 7 Lah. 32=27 Cr. L. J. 56=27 P. L. R. 221=A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 166=24 Ind. Cas. 129. In case of rape of a reprehensible nature on a helpless infant, offender though a lad of 17 should not be released under s. 562. 29 Cr. L. J. 1093=A. I. R. 1929 Lah. 198=112 Ind. Cas. 680. But in the case of enticing away widow of 16 years for honourably marrying her, the accused may be treated under this section. 331 Cr. L. J. 25=A. I. R. 1929 All. 930=120 Ind. Cas. 257. Section 562 is not enacted with the intention of letting off every juvenile offender. Magistrates should carefully consider the attendant circumstances, along with age, character and antecedents of the offender. 31 P. L. R. 115=10 Lah. 876=31 Cr. L. J. 348=1930 Cr. L. J. 291=A. I. Compensation and fine.—The order directing the convicts released under s. 562 to pay compensation to the complainant is illegal. 29 Cr. L. J. 88=A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 134=106 Ind. Cas. 454. Fine cannot be imposed when an order under s. 562 had been passed. 10 Lah. 722=30 P. L. R. 702=30 Cr. L. J. 46=A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 56=112 Ind. Cas. 910.

Second offence.—When two cases against the same accused are tried consecutively and the accused in both is convicted, s. 562 will not apply at the time when second judgement is written. 27 Cr. L. J. 1016=A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 651=96 Ind. Cas. 872. Where an accused is already under probation on an earlier conviction, a sentence again placing him under probation for a subsequent offence is illegal. 31 Cr. L. J. 926=32 Bom. L. R. 356=A. I. R. 1930 Bom. 176=125 Ind. Cas. 712. But in a fit case an offender committing a second offence can be dealt with under the section. 31 Cr. L. J. 653=31 P. L. R. 334=A. I. R. 1930 Lah. 92=124 Ind. Cas. 315.

Security.—Accused is liable to punishment, in case of failure to furnish security. 26 Cr. L. J. 683=A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 496=86 Ind. Cas. 59. The Magistrate should satisfy himself that security can be given before passing the order. But if the person fails to furnish security, the Magistrate is to pass sentence according to law. 26 Cr. L. 563. (1) If the Court which convicted the offender, or a Court which could have dealt with the offender in respect of his original offence, is satisfied that the offender has failed to observe any of the conditions of his recognizance, it may issue a warrant for his apprehension.

(2) An offender, when apprehended on any such warrant, shall be brought forthwith before the Court issuing the warrant, and such Court may either demand him in custody until the case is heard or admit him to bail with a sufficient surety condition on his appearing for sentence. Such Court may, after hearing the case, pass sentence.

564. (1) The Court, before directing the release of an offender under section 562 *"sub-section 1" shall be satisfied Conditions as to abode of offender. that the offender or his surety (if any) has a fixed place of abode or regular occupation in the place for which the Court acts or in which the offender is likely to live during the period named for the observance of the conditions.

(2) Nothing in this section or in sections 562 and 563 shall affect the provisions of section 31 of the Reformatory Schools Act, 1897.†

of the Indian Penal Code * or of any offence punishable under Chapter XII or Chapter XVII of that Code, with imprisonment or either description for a term of three years or upwards, or

- (b) by a Court or Tribunal in the territories of any Prince or State in India acting under the general or special authority of the Governor-General in Council, or of any Local Government, of any offence which would if committed in British India, have been punishable under any of the aforesaid sections or Chapters of the Indian Penal Code* with like imprisonment for a like term, is again convicted, of any offence punishable under any of those sections or Chapters with imprisonment for a term of three years or upwards by a High Court, Court of Session, Presidency Magistrate, District Magistrate, Sub-divisional Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class, such Court or Magistrate may, if it or he thinks fit, at the time of passing sentence of transportation or imprisonment on such person, also order that his residence and any change of or absence from such residence after release be notified as hereinafter provided for a term not exceeding five years from the date of the expiration of such sentence.

(2) If such conviction is set aside on appeal or otherwise, such order shall become void.

(3) The Local Government may make rules to carry out the provisions of this section relating to the notification of residence or change of or absence from residence by released convicts.

(4) An order under this section may also be made by an Appellate Court or by the High Court when exercising its powers of revision.

(5) Any person against whom an order has been made under this section and who refuses or neglects to comply with any rule so made shall be deemed within the meaning of section 176 of the Indian Penal Code to have omitted to give a notice required for the purpose of preventing the commission of an offence.

(6) Any person charged with a breach of any such rule may be tried by a Magistrate of competent jurisdiction in the district in which the place last notified by him as his place of residence is situated.]

Notes.—Magistrate is not entitled to use an order which had been set aside, as proof that the accused was an old offender, on the ground that the previous order was set aside either in appeal or revision on technical grounds. 3 Rang. 156=89 Ind. Cas. 320=26 Cr. L. J. 1344=A. I. R. 1923 Rang. 277. An order to remain under police surveillance is not proper where the accused is not an old convict. A. I. R. 1934 Lah. 675=35 P. L. R. 615=1934 Cr. C. 1001. A convict who after release was bound to notify his change of residence to the police, absented himself for one night leaving his effects and family in the place in which he was residing. Held, that this was no change of residence to necessitate a notification to the police and a conviction for not notifying the same is bad. 18 Cr.
